The Steamer Dixie left for New York this morning at half past ten o'clock. We understand that she is to run this summer on the Hudson river as a pleasure yacht.

Technically speaking, to-day is the last of Winter, and to-morrow the first of Spring. But some very bad winter weather may yet be held in reserve for the gentle spring time.

We refer to advertisement of a practical printer in want of a position on a country paper and we can endorse him as being a capital printer and an honest, upright, capable and reliable man.

Miss Kate Claxton, who is to personate the blind girl in "The Two Orphans" at the Academy of Music, Petersburg, on the 8th of March, is said to be one of the most beautiful women of the American stage.

The brick with which the sidewalk at the corner of Third and Chestnut is to be paved has arrived and the long needed repairs will be made to-morrow, much to the satisfaction of the owners of the property and persons who have to pass that way daily.

Personal.
Frank H. Darby, Esq., formerly of this city, but now of Florida, arrived in the city this morning on a short stay, accompanied by his father, Mr. James Darby, who has been South for the benefit of his health.

At Work.
A party of coast surveyors under command of Mr. C. T. Iardella, Assistant Coast Surveyor, were surveying the river at foot of Market street—also Market and Front streets, this morning. Since their arrival in our waters they have surveyed the rice fields, and run as far as the Hilton Bridge and will in a few days proceed up the river.

A Poor Man for Children.
The poor family in the southern portion of the city, spoken of by us yesterday, have been supplied by the Ladies Benevolent Society, in so far as their means permitted. The father of the family is partially paralyzed and the mother has recently given birth to a child, the nineteenth, in regard to which the old paralytic expressed himself as being as proud and happy on the occasion as he was on the advent of his first.

Shameful and Disgraceful.

North Front street was exercised last night over a sensation which has excited so much of indignant comment from all who were cognizant of the matter as to almost overtop the interest felt in the proceedings of the National Returning Board at Washington City. It was caused by what was, according to the testimony of eye witnesses, a gross and unprovoked assault on the person of a man who was so unfortunate as to fall under the influence of drink and who was naturally averse to arrest. The man in question is a white man, a soldier, belonging to Col. Pennington's command at Fort Johnson. He was in the city yesterday where he had been summoned to testify in a case before U. S. Commissioner Cassidy. At night he was under the influence of liquor and in this condition was passing along North Front street, near the Purcell House, when he was arrested by officers Anthony Maultsby and Sam Starling, both colored, two new recruits on the police force, who attempted to take him to the guard house. The man, it is said, attempted to escape from them, when Maultsby dealt him several heavy blows in repeated succession on the head with his club, felling him to the ground, where he lay as one dead with the blood flowing copiously from the wounds on his head. An eye witness states that the man made no resistance to the officers but simply attempted to escape from them. A gentleman who was standing at the counter of the Purcell House heard the blows, although the street door was closed, and rushed out to see what was the matter. He found the man lying on the pavement when he stooped down and caught hold of his wrist, but not finding any pulse it was at first thought that the man was dead. Evidences of life were found, however, and the man was therefore taken to the guard house when the janitor, Jacob Wise, colored, it is said refused to allow a physician who had been called in to examine him, but thrust him at once into a cell. A gentleman who was present thereupon notified Mayor Canaday of the facts who promptly ordered that a bed be provided and that every necessary provision be made for attendance.

The evidence of those who were present at the time goes to show that the assault upon the man was a gross outrage. An eye-witness says that McCormick was walking quietly along in the street, staggering as he went, when the first attempt was made to arrest him, and the assault was entirely unprovoked. A gentleman spoke to Maultsby, asking him his name, with the view of reporting the case to the Mayor, and the result is that this morning he has been summoned to appear before the Mayor to-morrow to answer to the charge of "interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty." The gentleman who is thus summoned has subpoenaed some twelve or fifteen witnesses and it will probably be a hard matter for Maultsby to establish his case.

The two policemen, Maultsby and Starling, are both new to the force and have heretofore stood well with the white people of the city, Maultsby having been a porter at a railroad office for several years and Starling having been employed for some time past at a photographic gallery here.

The assault is all the more unprovoked as it is in direct conflict with the instructions issued to the police in regard to arrests. As we understand it drunken men are not to be arrested unless they are nervous or creating a disturbance and if this soldier had given cause for arrest last night and had fought the police officers like a tiger the club, which should be used in the last extremity, was totally unnecessary, as besides the two policemen present on the scene there were two others within easy call, and surely the four between them could have overcome one drunken man, or if they could not they should have been discharged at once and men put in their places. We are fully aware of the "sanctity" which appertains to official action and all that sort of thing and know how necessary it is to sustain the police force in the discharge of their duty but we know, also, that other people have some rights that even policemen must respect. Use of authority is one thing and abuse of it another.

Our report of this affair is based upon statements made to us by eye witnesses and some of them gentlemen who will be called upon to testify in the case to-morrow morning, when we are satisfied that it will have a thorough and impartial handling and that Mayor Canaday's action will be in strict accordance with the evidence and the facts.

An Old Landmark.

The old weeping willow which has been standing in the "old dry pond," opposite the Second Baptist Church, on the corner of Sixth and Church streets, withered and died, and was cut down this morning. It was probably one of the oldest, if not the oldest, tree standing in this city.

Another Concert.

The Front Street M. E. Sunday School are practicing for the purpose of giving a repetition of those delightful concerts we all remember so well. It will take place about the middle of the month, and those who are fond of good music will prepare to hear it then.

Didn't Ketch Him.

A sneak thief was discovered last evening in the residence of Mr. A. Martin, on Market, between Fourth and Fifth streets, in the act of making off with an overcoat which he had taken from the balusters in the hall. On being discovered he dropped the coat and fled and although he was pursued and fired at several times managed to make his escape.

The Receipts.

There has been unintentional delay in reporting the amount received by the Ladies Benevolent Society from the highly appreciated essay of Col. Burr, read before the public last week for the benefit of the Society. Few tickets were sold, because put out too late, but the receipts at the door were good, and the result in their possession is $21.26. Its thanks to the lecturer and to the public.

The Thermometer.

From the United States Signal Office at this place we obtain the following report of the thermometer, as taken this morning at 7:31 o'clock:
Augusta, 37; Charleston, 36; Cincinnati, 32; Jacksonville, 56; Key West, 69; Knoxville, 34; Lynchburg, 31; Memphis, 39; Mobile, 46; Montgomery, 45; Nashville, 34; New Orleans, 49; New York, 35; Norfolk, 35; Pittsburg, 20; Savannah, 45; St. Louis, 34; Washington, 34; Wilmington, 35.

Boiler Exploder.

One of the boilers at the steam saw mill of Messrs. E. Kidder & Sons, in the lower part of the city, exploded yesterday afternoon, blowing out a small piece at the top. Part of the shed over the boiler was shattered and the brick wall was broken and the bricks scattered, but beyond this there was no damage. The only injury was to a colored man, a mill-hand, who was struck by one of the flying bricks, but as it, luckily, took him on the head it did not hurt him much. A new boiler will be put in.

Blockade Goods.

On Thursday last, Deputy U. S. Marshal L. A. Lawson, captured from B. Taylor, about fifteen miles from Shoe Heel, a fire horse and Jersey wagon, a half barrel of apple brandy, some whiskey and several boxes of tobacco. The articles are known as blockade goods, as the tax had not been paid on them. Taylor made his escape, and has not since been heard from. Deputy Marshal Lawson, left Lumberton with the horse, wagon and goods on Monday and arrived here yesterday afternoon. The horse and wagon are at Currie's stables, the liquors and tobacco at the office of the Deputy Collector, Mr. T. M. Smith.

We Don't Understand It.

It would seem by the reports of the Legislative proceedings, that we are to have two Criminal Courts here, one for the county and one for the city. In the Senate, on Saturday, we are told that the bill establishing a Criminal Court for the city of Wilmington passed its third reading in the Senate, and that on Monday, also the bill to establish a Criminal Court for the county of New Hanover passed its several readings. The salary of the Judge in the first instance was placed, by amendments to the bill, at $2,000, and in the second, also by amendment to the original bill, it was placed at $2,500. We suppose that these two—apparently two—must mean one and the same thing, but we confess that we cannot understand why they should be styled differently or why it was necessary for the bill to pass twice through the Senate. It may be that a reconsideration of the bill was had (of which, however, there is no record) but in that case we do not understand why, on the reconsideration, it was found necessary to put it through its several readings, after having been reconsidered on its third reading.

PLEASE NOTICE.

We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest but:
The name of the writer must always be furnished to the Editor.

A Compliment to the Signal Service.

The Treasury Committee of the British Parliament has submitted a report on meteorological observations, in which it suggests the adoption of the American meteorological system. The report sets forth the perfection of the Weather Bureau in the United States, and admits that we are ahead of all the rest of the world in the accuracy of our forecasts.

Charles Southerland Captured.

Information was lodged with Sheriff Manning this morning that Charles Southerland, colored, charged with forgery, who escaped from the officer while being carried to jail in the early part of last month, was at his house on the corner of Eighth and Church streets, and forthwith the jailor, Daniel Howard, was armed with the necessary papers for his capture. The jailor, thus deputized, summoned to his aid some four or five officers and started for Southerland's house where he succeeded in bagging the bird; who is now in jail awaiting trial by due process of law.

In this age of education and general intelligence the household is hardly complete without a Cornish & Co. Piano or Organ. Read the advertisement in another column, and then send for illustrated catalogue and price list. Jan 8.
