HAYES COUNTED IN.
Just before going to press we learn that the count has been completed and that Hayes and Wheeler, the great un-elected, have been counted in as President and Vice President, perforce of the hands of the Electoral Commission. # THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. 2. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, MARCH 2, 1877. NO. 36.

Withdrawn.
We understand that Col. John L. Cantwell, heretofore commercial and marine reporter for the Journal, has withdrawn from that paper. It is no flattery to say that Col. Cantwell gets up the best reports ever made in this city.
Drift Wood.
A raft of wood belonging to a colored man from the country, broke from its moorings this morning at Market Dock and about one-half of the raft was washed away by the tide, which was running up very rapidly. Some three or four cords of the drifting wood was fished out and kept by the wreckers.
Dr. Deems in Augusta.
Rev. C. F. Deems, D. D., who is now in Augusta on a visit, lectures in that city on next Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Hall of the Young Men's Christian Association. The subject for the first evening is "Before Marriage," and for the second, "After Marriage," those being the two lectures recently delivered by him in Petersburg.
Saint's Day.
Yesterday, the first day of March, is dedicated in the Catholic Church calendar to St. David, the patron saint of the Welsh. He was the first bishop of Mevania, now St. David's, Pembrokeshire. Like many others of the saints his origin is veiled in obscurity, but it is known that he was a native of Wales, educated at Rome, and sent back to convert and civilize his wild countrymen. The reason why the leek became the Welsh emblem, as the shamrock is the Irish, is traditional. The story is that the Welsh wore it in their caps in a famous battle they won over the Britons. From the time of the creation of the title of Prince of Wales, it was customary for the British court to wear leeks on St. David's day, as a gentle flattery of the subjugated people. The readers of Shakespeare will recollect the choleric Plutellon, and the poet had plenty of ground for drawing that character, for a writer a century older says the failure of a Welshman to wear the leek on St. David's day was "a sufficient theme for a zealous Welshman to ground a quarrel against him that doth not honor his cap with a like ornament."

New Judicial District.
In a bill now before the Legislature entitled "An Act to Divide the State into Nine Judicial Districts and to Provide for the Election of Three Justices of the Supreme Court, Three Judges of the Superior Court and Nine Solicitors," which will probably pass and which will go into effect after an election to be held on the first Monday in August, 1878, we find the following rather mixed-up appointments for the Third and Fourth Districts, viz:
THIRD JUDICIAL DISTRICT.
Sec. 3. The third judicial district shall be composed of the following counties, and the superior courts thereof shall be held at the following times, to wit:
Nash—First Monday of March and September.
Wilson—Second Monday of March and September.
Pitt—Third Monday of March and September.
Greene—Fourth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Wayne—Fifth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Lenoir—Seventh Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Jones—Eighth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Carteret—Ninth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Onslow—Tenth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Duplin—Eleventh Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Sampson—Twelfth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
New Hanover—Thirteenth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT.
Sec. 4. The fourth judicial district shall be composed of the following counties, and the superior courts thereof shall be held at the following times, to wit:
Pender—First Monday of March and September.
Brunswick—Second Monday of March and September.
Columbus—Third Monday of March and September.
Bladen—Fourth Monday of March and September.
Robeson—Fifth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Cumberland—Sixth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Moore—Eighth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Harnett—Ninth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Johnston—Tenth Monday after first Monday of March and September.
Wake—Eleventh Monday after first Monday of March and September.

Board of Aldermen.
The regular semi-monthly session of the Board of Aldermen was held last evening; present, His Honor, the Mayor, and Aldermen Mitchell, Colville, Katz, Adrian, Atkinson, Gardner, Banks and Holmes.
The Finance committee, who had heretofore been instructed to present the General Tax Ordinance, reported the same, and after due consideration by the Board, each section separately was adopted.
There are several important changes in the items of taxation. For the year 1877 the rate of taxation is one and three-fourths per cent., while last year it was two per cent.
For the current expenses of the city there has been a reduction of 50 per cent.; that is to say, last year it was fifty cents on the $100 of value, while this year it is only twenty-five cents.
Liquor dealers have to pay the same rates, but can sell in quantities less than one quart without paying an extra tax, while last year the limit was three pints.
There is quite a reduction in the tax on wholesale and retail dealers. Where sales are from $500 to $1,000, they pay $4 per month; from $1,000 to $1,500, they pay $5 per month; from $1,500 to $2,000, they pay $6 per month; from $2,000 to $3,000, they pay $7 per month, and from $3,000 to $5,000, the rate is $8 per month, &c.
Drummers are required to pay a license tax of $20 per month or $5 per day.
The license tax of dentists, physicians and surgeons is reduced from $25 to $15 per annum.
Shipping merchants are required to pay $10 per month.
Sash and blind manufacturers pay $5 per month.
Telegraph companies are required to pay a tax of $75 per month.
Lawyers are required to pay a license tax of $25 per annum, and a penalty of $25 is affixed for each month they fail to pay said tax.
The Committee claim that the reductions on business taxes will result in a saving to the merchants of $12,000, as compared with last year, and that on real estate the result will be a reduction of $15,000.
A petition in favor of "Lady Alice," the fortune-teller, praying the Board to reduce the tax for fortune-telling, was tabled.
A petition from the street hands for increase of pay, was referred to the committee on Streets and Wharves.
Applications from John W. Mills, Henry M. Bishop, Jr., Antoine Eifarring, James M. King and William Parks, for positions on the police force, were referred to the committee on Police.
Petitions of sundry citizens for the suppression of certain houses of ill-fame in the vicinity of Fourth and Castle streets, was referred to the committee on Police.
Alderman Holmes again called the attention of the Board to the requirements of the citizens of "Brooklyn" for another bridge across the railroad. Alderman Colville was added to the committee to consult with the railroad officials in reference to the matter.
The following Standing Committees were appointed:
On Finance—The Mayor, Aldermen Myers and Atkinson.
On Police—The Mayor, Aldermen Myers and Mitchell.
On Streets and Wharves—The Mayor, Aldermen Colville and Katz.
On Public Buildings—The Mayor, Aldermen Mitchell and Holmes.
On Fire Department—The Mayor, Aldermen Gardner and Holmes.
On Lights—The Mayor, Aldermen Colville and Adrian.
On Markets and Fees—The Mayor, Aldermen Gardner and Atkinson.
Auditing Committee—Aldermen Myers, Adrian and Colville.
On Ordinances—The Mayor, Aldermen Atkinson and Gardner.
Board of Supervisors—The Mayor, the Marshal and Alderman Banks.
Sanitary Committee—The Mayor, Aldermen Katz and Holmes.
The Board then adjourned.
A Good Education.
Theodore F. White and his wife, or woman, as the case may be, have left the city for the city's good. They were under indictment before the Mayor and also before Justice VanAmringe, but as they were willing to leave the city to return no more forever, the Mayor gave them a free ride to Goldsboro, for which place they left here last night.
Spring goods next in order.

Struck by a Squall.
That was a right sharp squall which struck us this forenoon. Vessels moored in the stream reeled and rocked and those tied up to the wharves threatened to part with their moorings while small boats caught in the river were in danger of being engulfed. Our good friend Capt. Bates, Harbor Master, was on his return from an official visit to a vessel and for some time dare not attempt a landing but was compelled to "stand off" until the blow had passed over.
The Way He HOLLERED.
A married friend says that the squall which struck the city this morning was nothing to that which struck him last night. He was sleeping his sleepest sleep, just in the very small hours, when somebody passed by and gave a shout for Hayes, and the way that baby woke with a squall would have set old Boreas on his mettle. And we remarked to him that we are thankful sometimes for things we don't have as well as those for we do have.
How to Woo.
Woo a woman bravely. If there is anything humiliating to a woman it is to have a lover whom she wishes to honor weak and timid, ever yielding, and half afraid of her. She longs to tell him to "act like a man." The man who conceals or denies his love for fear of being laughed at is a coward. A love that has no element of divinity in it is not love, but passion, which, of itself, has nothing ennobling. That was a beautiful inscription on a wedding ring, "Each for the other, and both for God."
The New Wards.
The bill which is now before the Legislature to amend the charter of the city of Wilmington, re-districts the city as follows:
First Ward begins at the Cape Fear river, running eastwardly along Campbell street to Fourth, southwardly along Fourth to Walnut, eastwardly along Walnut to Fifth, southwardly along Fifth to Mulberry, eastwardly along Mulberry to McRae, eastwardly along McRae to Tenth, southwardly along Tenth to Dock, and eastwardly along Dock to the city limits, all north and east of said line comprising the First Ward.
Second Ward begins at the Cape Fear river, running eastwardly along Campbell street to Fourth, southwardly along Fourth to Dock, westwardly along Dock to the Cape Fear river, including all that portion of the city on the west side of the river.
Third Ward begins at the intersection of Fourth and Walnut, running southwardly along Walnut to Fifth, eastwardly along Fifth to Mulberry, eastwardly along Mulberry to McRae, eastwardly along McRae to Tenth, southwardly along Tenth to Dock, and northwardly along Dock to the beginning.
Fourth Ward begins at the Cape Fear river, running eastwardly along Dock to Seventh, southwardly along Seventh to Church, westwardly along Church to the Cape Fear river, and thence northwardly to the beginning.
Fifth Ward begins at the Cape Fear river, running eastwardly along Church to Seventh, northwardly along Seventh to Dock, and eastwardly along Dock to the city limits, all south and east of said line comprising the Fifth Ward.
EDITOR REVIEW.—Your article in last evening's REVIEW in reference to bleeding at the nose is in the main correct, but compression of the facial arteries upon the one side will not always stop the hemorrhage. Although they do not join at division line of the nose, they anastomose, and in that manner communicate from one side of the face to the other, making it necessary to compress both sides at once to stop the flow of blood completely. Cut this Out—It May Save Your Life.
There is no person living but who suffers more or less with Lung Disease, Coughs, Colds or Consumption, yet some would die rather than pay 75 cents for a bottle of medicine that would cure them. Dr. A. Bosche's German Syrup has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wondrous cures astonish every one that tries it. If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to your Druggist, and get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it, or a regular size for 75 cents.
