How Does Hayes' Southern Policy Differ from Grant's?

[New York Herald.]

It is mortifying enough to be compelled to ask this question after our strong and warm indorsements of the new President's Southern policy given on our faith in his declarations. But it is acts, not words, performance, not mere promises, that must control our judgment of the conduct of a public functionary when he has had time to translate his good words and fine promises into acts and performance. We do not yet despair of President Hayes; and if it shall turn out that he succeeds in accomplishing circumspectly what we should have preferred to see him do directly, we will not withhold a just meed of praise. But the time is past for judging him by his words. We await his acts and hold our judgment in suspense. He cannot very well afford to disregard our opinion and advice. Our columns are to express, and more or less succeed in expressing, the average judgment of the country. We are free from any temptation to indulge in the snarling, captious invectives of the opposition press, and have no motive for chaffing in with the adulation of administration organs. We think we have some skill in estimating and interpreting the drift of public sentiment, following its changes, and judging how far it rests upon reasons which are likely to make it steady. We tell the President, with the frankness of honest friendship, that the first flush of popularity which attended his accession to office will be as transient as the moving cloud and the early dew if he disappoints the expectations raised by his admirable promises and declarations in the inaugural address. This great tide of popularity, these "blushing honors thick upon him," are a tribute paid by an eager country which seeks repose, to the supposed sincerity of his declarations. The people understood him to mean that his Southern policy would be a contrast to that of his predecessors, and their joy at the expected change sprang up like favoring winds to wait him on his projected voyage. But if they find, after all, that he does nothing different from what President Grant would have done had he remained in power, all the flattering applause and marks of encouragement with which the new President has been greeted will give way to a feeling of profound discouragement.

Judged by actual measures and not by mere promises, what is President Hayes doing which would not be equally in character if done by President Grant? He is maintaining the status quo precisely as Grant maintained the status quo. He does it with professions of reluctance, but Grant's professions of regret and reluctance were never wanting. He even falls behind Grant in one respect, for before Grant went out of office he publicly said that State governments which cannot sustain themselves ought to be abandoned, and he continued the troops in New Orleans and Columbia merely not to embarrass his successor or deprive him of the credit of his policy by anticipating it. Why should President Hayes hesitate at a point where President Grant prepared to act? Had Grant remained in office he would have withdrawn the troops before now, for he was not a man to shrink from doing a thing to which he had once made up his mind. What, then, have we gained by the exchange? As yet, nothing. We walk by faith, and not by sight; and our faith, too, exactly corresponds to the description that it is "the substance of things hoped for and the evidence of things not seen." Do let us have some visible evidence that there is a change in Southern policy and that our exuberant rejoicing has not been in vain.

"Ishaw, no ocean for me: it's mere sham," said an impatient woman, discussing the merits of baking powders. Not thus, however, did she talk of DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. The latter has been found to surpass all others in its magic leavening powers, to be indispensable to the well regulated kitchen.

Yesterday was the loveliest day of the new year.

The popular gold ornaments are all in Etruscan styles.

Raleigh is to have street lights from and after April 1st.

There is a hint of Sunday School picnics in the air.

Only the plainest script letters are allowed on visiting cards.

Good time now to plant your Spring advertisements for a harvest of greenbacks.

We are afraid that the peach crop hereabout has been seriously injured by the cold.

Farmers in the interior speak hopefully of crops, and say that the fruit prospect is still good.

Outside pockets are still declared fashionable. They are too convenient to be dispensed with.

Sch. Donna Anna, Capt. Ambrust, from Gardenas, is in below with a cargo of molasses to Messrs. Worth & Worth.

In the Church calendar yesterday was the Feast of the Annunciation as well as Palm Sunday, and Sunday before Easter.

Cardinal noses and navy blue handkerchiefs are not uncommon, owing to the severe colds that are getting too common now.

Heavy easterly winds prevailed yesterday and last night, and it is not unlikely that we may hear of some disasters on the coast.

This morning opened beautifully enough but before noon the sky was overcast and there was a sensible decrease in temperature.

Easter Services.

An Easter Festival of the Sunday School children of St. John's Parish is to take place in the Church next Sunday afternoon. This Festival is to consist of a musical celebration in the shape of choral services by the children. A very interesting programme has been prepared and the celebration will be in every way appropriate to the day.

Robbery of Plants.

Some rascal robbed the plant pit in the garden of a lady residing on Chestnut street, between Second and Third, on last Saturday night. The pit was full of plants and the rascal was evidently posted as he took only the choicest of the plants, some of which had been put there only the day before. Those who leave their plants exposed to the depredation of thieves should have a fierce dog on the premises.

Shifted Her Ground.

Sch. Elta May, from Philadelphia for this port, with coal for Mr. J. A. Springer, which went ashore on the 21st of last month at New Inlet, having proved a total loss, floated a day or two since and now lies stranded at a point about half a mile westward of the point where she was lost. The theory is that the coal must have gone through the bottom and that the frame of the vessel, thus lightened, has floated off. There is nothing about the hull worth wrecking save the iron that is in it.

The Thermometer.

From the United States Signal Office at this place we obtain the following report of the thermometer, as taken this morning at 7:31 o'clock:

Augusta, 43; Charleston, 49; Cincinnati, 34; Jacksonville, 49; Knoxville, 38; Lynchburg, 50; Memphis, 36; Mobile, 42; Montgomery, 42; Nashville, 34; New Orleans, 53; New York 32; Norfolk, 61; Pittsburg, 46; Savannah, 48; St. Louis, 28; Washington, 45; Wilmington, 55.

The Alarm of Fire.

The fire bells were rung last night about 7 o'clock and every body turned out to attend it, but a strict search failed to find any thing of the kind any where in the city limits. The red glow of fire was seen far to the South of the city and evidently some distance below the city limits, and that was all that could be discovered. It is reported to day that an old barn about a mile below the city limits was burned. It was fortunate that the fire was not in the city as a perfect gale of wind was blowing at the time from the East.

Wilmington Municipal Election.

We learn by special telegram from Wilmington that at the municipal election in that place on Thursday, that of the Aldermen elected four were Democrats, four Radicals and two independent Democrats.

The Democratic party in Wilmington must have improved very much recently in strength if it can afford the luxury of electing independent candidates. It speaks very badly for the discipline and organization of the party, knowing as well as we do the high character and eminent qualifications of the regular candidates who were defeated, that independents should have been elected. If this be a sample of the Democracy of Wilmington the outlook for it is bad, very bad.—Raleigh Observer.

Ladies' Spring Styles.

The spring openings of ladies' dress goods and novelties in the Northern cities, indicate that the prevailing trimming is French galloon, a new article of embroidery in all colors, and used in profusion. Dress skirt are narrow, and fit close to the figure, with pull-backs. Bustles have been abandoned and looping dispensed with. Street dresses still are worn with considerable trains. Bunting of linen fabric are fashionable for costumes, trimmed in galloon and fish-scale buttons. Novelties are shown in jackets trimmed in galloon with a triple vest, and dolmans in silk and Sicilian, trimmed with lace and crochet ornaments. Jackets and dolmans will be much worn. Dress goods have a tendency to India cashmere colors, which they imitate as nearly as practicable. Laces, silks, hosiery and the numerous lines of goods suitable for the ladies are in varied designs and colors.

In this age of education and general intelligence, the household is hardly complete, without a Cornish & Co. Piano or Organ. Read the advertisement in another column and then send for illustrated catalogue and price list.

More Fowl Proceeding.

Mr. West, who lives at Sans Souci, had the misfortune of losing all of his chickens on Saturday last. The thieves pulled off the pailings on the back of the coop and got off with their booty without detection.

Mecklenburg Presbytery.

We understand that the Wadesboro Herald will be issued daily during the approaching session of Mecklenburg Presbytery. The entire series will be furnished to subscribers at 25 cents. This will be an excellent opportunity for those who do not attend the meeting to keep fully informed, day by day, of its proceedings.

How to Sleep.

A German physiologist states that the heating of the earth by the sun causes magnetic currents from the equator to each pole. Such being the case, persons suffering from sleeplessness should pay attention to their position at night, and lie in the direction of these currents. Restlessness and want of sleep result from lying across them. The head to the North is the best position—to the West is the worst. Physicians in charge of hospitals attend to the dictions in which the beds are placed, and with the best results.

The Naval Cadetship.

We understand that our young friend, Eddie Anderson, has received the appointment to Annapolis which was awarded last Summer to Master Borden in a competitive examination. The latter having failed to pass the physical examination required has relinquished the appointment, which has been proffered to Eddie Anderson, who was next on the list. He has accepted it and will at once prepare to fill the appointment.

One More Unfortunate.

Maria Hodges, a colored woman who has been laboring under mental aberration for some time past was sent to this city on Saturday morning by the commissioners of Brunswick county to be examined by physicians, with a view of ascertaining her true condition. Drs. W. J. H. Bellamy and T. F. Wood examined the unfortunate woman and pronounced her insane and stated that she was unable to take care of herself and should be provided for by the county. Another evidence of the need of an insane asylum for the colored people in this section of the State.

Puck.

The publication of this humorous and satirical weekly, so long known as a leading political punster in Germany, has begun in this country and in the English language. One of the March numbers is now before us. It is profusely illustrated by the celebrated Keppler and its political hits are excellent. Simon Cameron figuring on the first page as he leaves the Senatorial Chamber for the good of that Chamber. It abounds in fun and humorous applications and contains enough good broad laughs to chase away from anybody the most despondent fit of black. It is a sovereign remedy for hard times and will so be found by all who may read it. It is issued weekly by the Puck Publishing Company, 13 North William street, New York, at $5 a year.

The Board of Audit.

The act authorizing the organization of a Board of Audit for this city, passed by the Legislature at its recent session, will be of no value to us unless the Governor acts upon it soon. By the provisions of the act the Governor has the appointment of the members of the Board of Audit and it requires of him to appoint these members this month. As there are but five days left in the month Governor Vance is respectfully urged to make these appointments at once. The recommendations of the Wards are as follows:

- First Ward—W. D. Mahn.
- Second Ward—Norwood Giles.
- Third Ward—R. J. Jones.
- Fourth Ward—D. G. Worth.
- Fifth Ward—E. G. Barritz.

We understand that Mr. C. H. Robinson, Chairman of the City Executive Committee, has written to the Governor urging upon him to commission the above named gentlemen and we presume that an announcement to that effect will be heard in a day or two.

On Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock, Messrs. Cronly & Morris will sell at the depot of the C. C. R. W. 295 bags of ammoniated dissolved bones, slightly damaged on voyage of importation.

Soaping the hinges rectifies a squeaking door.

Wonderful Success.

It is reported that Boschee's German Syrup has, since its introduction in the United States, reached the immense sale of 40,000 dozen per year. Over 6,000 Druggists have ordered this medicine direct from the Factory, at Woodbury, N. J., and not one has reported a single failure, but every letter speaks of its astonishing success in curing severe Coughs, Colds settled on the Breast, Consumption, of any disease of the Throat and Lungs. We advise any person that has any predisposition to weak Lungs, to go to their Druggists—and get this Medicine, or inquire about it. Regular size, 75 cents. Sample Bottle, 10 cents. Two does will relieve any case. Don't neglect your cough.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE Maryland Medical Journal, BALTIMORE, MD.

ON THE FIRST DAY OF MAY NEXT,

the undersigned will issue, in the city of Baltimore, the first number of THE MARYLAND MEDICAL JOURNAL. It will be a monthly publication, devoted to the advancement of Medicine in all its branches.

Each issue of the Journal will contain original articles, from representative men in the profession. Careful selections from foreign and home journals will be made with a special view to the requirements of the practitioner.

Reports of the progress of Surgery and Medicine in their special, as well as general branches, including Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Diseases of the Nervous System, Diseases peculiar to Women, and Diseases of the Throat and Chest, will be regularly given by men eminent in these several branches. These reports will be an exhibit in abstract form of the progress in each of these special departments during the year.

The proceedings of Medical Societies will be published as often and as fully as their importance justifies.

Prominence will be given to rare and interesting cases in Hospital and Private Practice. New Instruments and Appliances, New Remedies and improved methods of managing disease will be specially treated. New medical publications, as they appear, will be critically and impartially reviewed.

No labor or expense will be spared to render the MARYLAND MEDICAL JOURNAL, a welcome visitor to every physician desirous of keeping pace with the progress of Medical Science as developed both abroad and at home.

Contributions, on subjects of interest to the profession, respectfully invited.

Each number will contain not less than forty pages, printed from new type, on heavy calendered paper of the finest quality.

The subscription price will be $3 per annum, invariably in advance, delivered free of postage.
