The man that would be truly rich must not increase his fortune, but re-trench his appetite; for riches are not only superfluous but mean and little more to the possessor than the looker on.

A scientist devoted about half a column to explain "How to Burn Coal." Almost anybody who had been at housekeeping a month could have told him that was the wrong side of the question to discuss.

One of our doctors says that a person with a sore throat shouldn't kiss one whose throat is all right, as the complaint can be communicated. Girls with sore throats should wear a bell. We will have to be particular hereafter.

We notice the arrival of the steamer Gov. Worth, Capt. Albert Worth, from Fayetteville, after an absence of several weeks from her regular trips, with a good cargo of naval stores. The Worth will take the place of the A. P. Hart for a while and the last named steamer will be given a rest.

Ed. Thomas, and Wash Green, the representatives of the rival Aldermanic wings of the republican party in the First Ward were before Justice Gardner this morning to tell all they knew about their little shooting scrape a night or two before the election. A material witness being absent, the case was postponed until to-morrow.

It should be repaired.
One of the most neglected-looking buildings in the city, is the City Hall. The window-panes and sash are broken in some parts of the building, the cornices are nearly all broken, caused by the peckings of pigeons, and the entire building presents anything but a genteel appearance. It certainly does not now reflect much credit on the city.

The Rifle Club.
A very interesting meeting of the Rifle Club was held yesterday afternoon in the office of DuRutz Cutlar, Esq., on Princess street, the result of which was the reorganization of the Club on a summer basis. Various committees were appointed and it was decided to erect a new range on Eagle Island, opposite the city, where some rare sport is anticipated during the coming season.

Just from the North.
Capt. R. M. McIntire returned to the city last night from New York, where he had been for the purpose of purchasing his Spring and Summer stocks. He "laid in" a supply of the newest and prettiest and most stylish goods of the season, which will be here in a few days, and due announcement of their arrival will be made through the columns of the REVIEW.

Off for the Old World.
We said "good-bye" last night to Mr. Eduard Peschan, of this, who city left here this morning for New York, at which port he will take the steamer next Saturday for Bremen. He is bound for Cuxhaven near Hamburg, where his parents reside and where his wife and children are now on a visit, and will return home with his family in August next.

Courts Next Month.
The first term of the new Criminal Court for New Hanover County, His Honor Judge Meares presiding, will convene in this city on Monday next, April 2d, when defendants and witnesses in all cases originating since the last term of the Superior Court will be required to appear. The April Term of Superior Court, at which His Honor, Judge Seymour, will preside, opens on the fourth Monday in April, the 23d proximo.

Fine Geraniums.
We saw this morning at the fruit and confectionery establishment of Capt. James W. Lippitt, a lot of very choice geraniums and fuchsias, received on consignment from a celebrated florist of Petersburg, Va. The plants are decidedly the freshest and healthiest-looking we have seen in some time, and as to the variety, there are some which we think are seldom seen about these parts.

Capt. Lippitt has been "cramming" on botany and has the botanical names at his tongue's end.
Gomez has come and Gomez has shown himself to be—well, say a fraud. Some one or two of his tricks were tolerably good. His "handsome album" turned out to be a little blank book of ordinary white paper covered with gilt paper. Such impostors ought not to be tolerated and the press of the State should pass him around.

How can I tell whether my advertisement will attract or not? Try it.

A Stampede.
Just before the close of the 'humbug' performances at the Opera House last night there was a cry of fire on the streets. It was taken up by some one within the building and in a moment there was a scene of wild confusion. A dash was made for the doors, both in the front and rear, one lad leaping from one of the boxes in the dress circle to the stage. Fortunately no one was hurt. There was no general alarm, but some of the engines were out on a vain search for the fire.

The Thermometer.
From the United States Signal Office at this place we obtain the following report of the thermometer, as taken this morning at 7:31 o'clock:
Augusta, 47; Charleston, 49; Cincinnati, 32; Jacksonville, 54; Knoxville, 38; Lynchburg, 44; Memphis, 44; Mobile, 52; Montgomery, 48; Nashville, 38; New Orleans, 56; New York 49; Norfolk, 44; Pittsburg, 33; Savannah, 50; St. Louis, 36; Washington, 40; Wilmington, 47.

Body Recovered.
The body of Simp Council, colored, drowned from steamer A. P. Hart on the 8th March, was recovered about two miles below the place of the accident, by a colored fisherman last Saturday. An inquest was to be held to-day. The body, when found, was standing in an upright position in the water, just as though he had been "trading water" and in this position it floated. Capt. Worth made the necessary arrangements for its interment about two miles below Indian Wells, the place where it was found.

The New Parasols.
Parasols are coming into use again for the intermediate seasons, for street and for carriage wear, while the larger sun-umbrellas are to be reserved for midsummer. These parasols are chosen, according to the Parisian fashion, to match the dress with which they are worn, and may be made to order of the dress material. They are richly trimmed with ruffles, pleats, frills, fringe, and also with embroidery. This embroidery is sometimes self-colored, and in other cases is of gay contrasting colors; it appears not only on the parasol, but on the ruffle which edges it. Others have ruffles ravelled out on each edge to form fringe, and some have Tom Thumb fringe.

What Gas Costs Cities.
Louisville pays $29 per annum for every street lamp; Baltimore, $33 69 (on outskirts uses oil); Augusta, $80 (has 673 gas and 184 oil lamps, and for latter four barrels of kerosene are required); Richmond, $80; Nashville, $1 42 1/2 per thousand feet; Chattanooga, $80; Atlanta, $37 50; Columbus, $30; Wilmington, $30 (on outskirts oil is used).
In all the above cities except Atlanta, Augusta and Wilmington the gas companies clean and keep the lamps in order. All the cities except Columbus employ lamp-lighters at a round sum. Columbus requires that duty of the policemen.
In Augusta, Columbus and Wilmington gas is not lit in the street lamps on moonlight nights, or those when the moon ought to shine. We know not how it is in other cities.

Consumers are charged per thousand feet in Louisville, $2 70; Baltimore, $2 50, and Richmond, $2 50; Augusta, $5, but 20 per cent. is deducted if monthly bills are paid within ten days after presentation; Columbus, $5; Nashville, $3, and two per cent. off if bill is paid five days after presentation; Chattanooga, $3; Wilmington, $3.

Another Victim of Misplaced Confidence.
A few days ago one of our "cant-fool-me" young men wrote to a Chicago House for a "magic clock" he saw advertised, thinking he would receive a clock by electricity or by the "presto veto run" of a magician's wand; this morning he received by mail a neat little package containing twelve little yellow cards on which was printed "magic clock strikes one" and so on up to "magic clock strikes twelve." The cream of the joke is that the young gentleman prides himself with the belief he was "never taken in by sharpers."

Is it not time for some action to be taken relative to a good walk and drive to the Cemetery? Memorial Day is fast approaching, when nearly all of our citizens make their annual visit of duty and love to the last resting place of the noble dead. Let some one make a move in this direction and give us at least a good walk to the Cemetery.

Yellow jessamine in full bloom hereabouts.

A horse attached to a dray driven by a colored man named Thomas Green, backed this afternoon from the wharf just south of the Market Dock into an empty wood flat which was tied there, but strange to say escaped unhurt.

Information Wanted.
City Marshal Price received to-day a letter from E. T. Stewart, of Bridgeton, Combland county, Maine, making some enquiries relative to his son Eugene H. Stewart, who he last heard from at this place on the 8th of December. Young Stewart was a tailor, and sometimes went by the name of James E. Hatch. He is described as 22 years old, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches high, rather slim, and weighing about 133 pounds. Any information left at the City Marshal's office will be forwarded at once to his parents.

Fire on Topsail Sound.
A pea house, machinery and grist-mill, situated on the Futch homestead on Topsail Sound, the property of Mr. C. B. Futch, was consumed by fire this morning. Capt. E. L. Pearce, who lives within a quarter of a mile of the scene of the conflagration was aroused about one o'clock by the cry of fire, which proceeded from one of his hands, who first discovered the buildings to be in flames, but even at that time the roofs were caving in. Mr. Futch resides about one and a half miles from the ruins and did not know until daylight of his loss. In a shed connected with the pea house about eight hundred bushels of peanuts were stored which were all consumed. The fire is supposed to be either the work of an incendiary or an accidental fire caused by the dropping of fire by some thief in an attempt to carry off some of the peanuts. A track of a barefooted man was followed through a field to and from the pea house. A policy of $500 on the buildings, and $500 on the peas, in a company represented by Maj. Jno. A. Byrne, was all the insurance Mr. Futch was carrying and he estimates his loss to be $1,500 over and above the amount of his policies.

Cut this Out—It May Save Your Life
There is no person living but what suffers more or less with Lung Disease, Coughs, Colds or Consumption, yet some would die rather than pay 75 cents for a bottle of medicine that would cure them. Dr. A. Bosche's German Syrup has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wondrous cures astonish every one that tries it. If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to your Druggist, and get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it, or a regular size for 75 cents.
