A young lady asserts that sugar in drinks makes mustaches starchy. True; but how should she know?
The world is sure to find out an honest man; but it will find him out a great deal quicker if he advertises.
Building operations are being pushed forward in different parts of the city, notwithstanding the dullness.
The flowers are backward this year and there will be a difficulty in getting enough for the Easter decorations.
A good way to rid one's house of roaches is to put them in a box and express it to some friend in a distant city.
Nor. brig Hilding Jorgensen, from this port arrived at Queenstown on the 27th inst.
Farming operations in this section are in full blast now and the "Neberchaduzars" of the farm are having a tough time of it.
The Prince of Wales intends to discard tall hats. Now we can wear our store-pipe without the annoyance of being mistaken for a prince.
His Excellency, Governor Drew, of Florida, passed through this city last night en route for his home after a few days spent in Washington City.
Young man, are you contemplating an April-fool sell? Well, now, just make it practical, will you, by surprising some poor widow with a barrel of flour or a bushel of potatoes.
On Tuesday the commission of H. O. P. Meares, as Judge of the Criminal Court of New Hanover county, was made out at the Executive office at Raleigh and was received here last night.
A friend at Warsaw is thanked for his letter, received last night, containing some particulars in regard to the Clinton fire which had, however, been anticipated by the special dispatch from Goldsboro and published by us in yesterday's issue.

Woodson is in too much of a hurry. Our clever friend is yet but a Captain, although he is to Col-onize in another State next week where he will be promoted. No caps—as yet.

A Treat in Store.
Mr. George Rignold will appear in his favorite character of Henry V. in this city April, 16th and 17th. Mr. Rignold is a tragedium of marked ability and is said to be the handsomest man on the American stage. He has been in this country not more than three years.

New Road to Masonboro.
A contract for the building of the branch of the turnpike was given out yesterday. The branch will commence at a point of the main road about 1 mile above the Downey house and cross Hawlett's Creek near the Mill Dam. By the new road the distance to Masonboro Sound will be lessened at least a mile and a half.

Death of Dr. Evans.
Dr. Julius A. Evans, a well known physician and druggist of Goldsboro, died in that place on Tuesday, and was interred yesterday. He was formerly a resident of this city, the firm of S. B. & J. A. Evans having at one time, some years previous to the war, carried on a large drug business in the store at the northwest intersection of Market and Front streets.

The Thermometer.
From the United States Signal Office at this place we obtain the following report of the thermometer, as taken this morning at 7:31 o'clock:
Augusta, 45; Charleston, 49; Cincinnati, 31; Jacksonville, 57; Knoxville, 35; Lynchburg, 42; Memphis, 44; Mobile, 55; Montgomery, 50; Nashville, 39; New Orleans, 62; New York 30; Norfolk, 42; Pittsburg, 29; Savannah, 53; St. Louis, 33; Washington, 30; Wilmington, 46.

Steel Rails.
We understand that the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. Co. have now under order some 800 tons of steel rails which are to be laid on that road, gradually taking the place of the present iron rails. Some of these new steel rails are already down, at a point just south of Duplin Roads, and the actual poetry of railroad travel is to pass over these rails in a palace car. They make but very little noise and such a slight motion is felt, beyond that of the actual speed of the train, that one can read and write at perfect ease and converse in the ordinary tone of the voice.

Our First Sermon.
Read the beautiful poem on our third page to-day and think on it, ye "Gossip and Scandal Mongers." Weigh well the words as ye read them, store them carefully away in your hearts and then ask yourselves in this solemn season of Lent, this solemn eve before the crucifixion of Our Blessed Lord, if there is not some one you have wronged by repeating what you have heard from an irresponsible source, or by slightly coloring to make it the more interesting; what you have heard confidentially or otherwise from a very responsible source, about Mr. A. or Miss B., or what they said about Miss C. or young Mr. D.? "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor" is a Divine command, and if we add to or take from in repeating what "they say" (and that is the danger in this gossiping business) we violate that Divine commandment. How many who read this article are entirely free from slandering or speaking evil of their neighbor? nay more, are there not some who at one time or another have spoken what they knew to be a deliberate falsehood about another person in an attempt to shield themselves or to justify their own particular or peculiar course of conduct, and still have never yet made reparation for that wrong to the parties who were injured? If such there be, and they are church members, we very much mistake and misunderstand the true tenets of the Church, or the principles of the Christian faith, or the teachings of Holy Writ, if all the Church-going in Lent will ever wipe out their sin, and for a pretence the long prayers they make ever reach beyond the place they are uttered, until they do truly repent by not only exhibiting the candor and honesty to make the acknowledgment to the injured parties, but by likewise going to those whom they deceived when the falsehood was first spoken and rectify the wrong. Until this is done it strikes us that praying and Church-going for such is but bare hypocrisy.

What is a Car-Load?
As shippers frequently obtain special rates on goods shipped by the car-load it is important to know just what a car load is. Nominally a car load is 20,000 pounds. It is also 70 barrels of salt, 60 barrels of lime, 90 barrels of flour, 60 barrels of whiskey, 200 sacks of flour, 6 cords of wood, 18 to 20 head of cattle, 50 to 60 head of hogs, 80 to 100 head of sheep, 9,000 feet of boards, 17,000 feet of siding, 13,000 of flooring, 40,000 shingles, one-half less of hard lumber, one-fourth less of green lumber, one-tenth of joists, 340 bushels of wheat, 400 of corn, 580 of oats, 400 of barley, 360 of flaxseed, 300 of apples, 430 of Irish potatoes, 380 of sweet potatoes, 1,000 of bran.

Got Back Safe.
Our good natured, as well as good-looking friend, Mr. A. Weill, the Market street merchant, returned to his home last evening from the New York and Philadelphia markets, where he made up his list of purchases for the Spring and Summer.

Mr. Weill is hopeful as regards the situation and believes that an early settlement of the political affairs now in dispute will be followed by a steady and hearty reaction in trade.

At Goldsboro.
We ran up the road yesterday on the train which conveyed Gov. Hampton and party to the North, but stopped at Goldsboro, returning here last night. Gov. Hampton's course was a perfect ovation all of the way between this city and Goldsboro, crowds of people, fair men and brave women, crowding around the car at Magnolia, Mt. Olive and Goldsboro. The Governor always appeared and spoke briefly because of the short time allowed and as soon as he finished went into the business of shaking hands with all who came forward to be presented to him. At Goldsboro the assemblage was very large and the cheers and demonstrations particularly gratifying.

Gov. Hampton and party seemed very much pleased with the evidences of appreciation tendered him so freely and especially so with the large demonstration at Wilmington. The Governor remarked to us that this (the W. & W.) was a dangerous road for him travel on as the people seemed determined to capture him at every station at which the train stopped. The party were supplied with a parlor car for their own exclusive use and in this they sat and smoked and talked at their ease. Hon. R. R. Bridgers, President of the W. & W. R. R. was with the party, his destination being Baltimore.

But we started out to talk about Goldsboro, and of Goldsboro we will talk now, as near as it is to our city, yesterday was the first time that we had landed in that town (which ought to be a city now) in several years. The evidences of improvement which had accumulated during the past four years, and since the last big fire with which the place was visited, are as marked as they are handsome. The town boasts of several fine rows of elegant brick stores which compete with those in Wilmington and Raleigh, while there are scores of elegant private residences and a half score of beautiful churches scattered over its expanse. The groves of delightful shade trees to be found in almost every section add greatly to the appearance and perhaps to the good health of the city. As with us, business is depressed yet the people are not at all despondent, but are looking forward to the opening of the Spring trade, which is expected to prove a bonanza to more than one of the enterprising citizens of Goldsboro.

Of course, as soon as we landed in the town we struck a bee-line for Brother Bonitz's newspaper office, where the Messenger has lived and waxed fat of late years. We were glad to find our venerable friend up to his eyes in business and making more money, we believe, than any other paper in the State at this time. And talking of Mr. Bonitz we must not forget the other, which his name is William, and he keeps the Club House where we got yesterday a dinner that would have shamed some big hotels, and not only that but we took a sail—in fact it was the first time we ever saw a schooner full of lager beer. They call them schooners, but we call them men-of-war, inasmuch as a man must use a step-ladder to climb over their sides.

But our pencil has run away with us and things must be cut short. We have not yet had our say and yet necessity compels us to stop and stop we will instanter.

Two of the Press Gang.
Among those who were with Governor Hampton yesterday as he passed through our city were two old acquaintances of ours, Capt. F. W. Dawson of the Charleston News and Courier and Mr. E. Cuthbert, special correspondent of the New-York Herald. It is to this latter gentleman that the South Carolinians are indebted for the able, manly, and truthful letters from Columbia and Charleston published in the Herald during the last campaign and which materially assisted, we must believe, in making up the majority for Hampton.

Capt. Dawson goes to Washington but Mr. Cuthbert was to have stopped in Richmond.
How many smokers know what the brands on the cases of Havana cigars mean? The names Regalia, Londres, Damas and Operas, do not refer to quality, but to sizes. The quality is indicated by superfino, fino, superior, and bueno. Maduro means that the tobacco is very strong, oscuro for that not so strong, Colorado for medium, and claro for mild.

Their Breakfast.
Not until after the train had started yesterday did Gov. Hampton and his staff of friends break their fast. Then was served up to them in the palace car they occupied a feast of good things which the ever-kind and thoughtful Col. Davis, the host of the Purcell House, had prepared and sent to the Depot for them.

The Clinton Fire.
Mr. Reichman, in whose store the fire at Clinton broke out, was insured with Messrs. J. W. Gordon & Bro. of this city, in the City of Richmond for $1,000 and Messrs. Johnson & Carroll were also insured with the same firm for $2,000 in the Lycoming, and for $2,000 in the Pamlico of Tarboro. The entire insurance is thought to have been about $25,000, the most of which was in Virginia and North Carolina companies.

Some Traveling.
We actually traveled yesterday the distance from Goldsboro to Wilmington, 84 miles, inside of three hours. The train was behind 1 hour and 40 minutes when it left Weldon, having waited there for the Petersburg train, which was behind time, and 1 hour and 10 minutes of this loss was made up between Weldon and Wilmington and in a run of less than seven hours on an already very fast schedule. The "winged wind" doesn't often travel as fast as we did yesterday.

Ashore on Main Bar.
British brig Trust, Capt. Masters, and Ger. barque Wilhelm Keiser, Capt. Burmeister, went ashore this morning, in endeavoring to cross the bar while putting out to sea. The former cleared here on the 20th inst. for London, with 473 casks of spirits and 3,950 barrels of resin, and the latter cleared on the 6th. for Hamburg with 4,000 barrels of resin. They are in no immediate danger and are expected to float very soon provided there is no heavy weather, in which case both vessels may become a total loss.

No Paper To-morrow.
The Banks will suspend operation to-morrow and so will the Produce Exchange and so will the REVIEW. The Board of Trade have not yet been heard from but we suppose that they will fall into line. At a meeting held to-day the Exchange agreed to close their doors to-morrow and they have recommended a general suspension of business. We add our recommendation to this and hope that the day will not be observed as a holiday but as a solemn fast, a day of meditation and prayer, by all, God willing, the REVIEW will greet its many readers again on Saturday, "just as though nothing had happened."

Gifted North Carolinians.
A letter received from Raleigh by a gentleman in this city conveys the pleasing intelligence that Miss Manly and Mr. Haywood, the two gifted young elocutionists, will give recitations here some time early in April. They are both native North Carolinians, both are yet very young, one being but 17 and the other 19 years old, and are both, according to the impartial criticisms of those who have heard them and who are able to give an intelligent judgment, gifted with rare histrionic talents. They are cousins, too, in addition to all of this and the romantic facts will themselves guarantee them a hearing wherever they may appear. We think that we are justified in promising them a rare good house whenever they visit Wilmington.

Cut this Out—It May Save Your Life
There is no person living but what suffers more or less with Lung Disease, Coughs, Colds or Consumption, yet some would die rather than pay 75 cents for a bottle of medicine that would cure them. Dr. A. Boschee's German Syrup has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wondrous cures astonish every one that tries it. If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to your Druggist, and get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it, and a regular size for 75 cents.
In this age of education and general intelligence, the household is hardly complete, without a Cornish & Co. Piano or Organ. Read the advertisement in another column and then send for illustrated catalogue and price list.
