NEWS SUMMARY.

It is now stated that there have been no proceedings, as yet, in regard to a suit by Gov. Tilden against Mr. Hayes for the Presidency. The report that Prince Bismarck has signed the Chancellorship of the Empire is incorrect; he has only applied for and been granted leave of absence. Gold is set at 104 1/4 @ 104 1/2 in New York. The troops are to be withdrawn from the State House in Columbia at noon of Tuesday next. The two members of the Packard House, who have recently deserted, give the Nicholls House 53 Returning Board members. Dougherty Bros. & Co., bankers, of Harrisburg, Pa., have failed. Liabilities $161,000; assets from $180,000 to $150,000. Secretary Thompson is finding much rottenness in Robeson's affairs at the Naval Office. The Unicers reports that Minister Simon, before starting for Italy, ordered the Prefect of Police to declare the Catholic Committee of Paris dissolved. Nevertheless, the sixth congress of the Catholic Committee opened yesterday, but simply under the name of Assembly of Catholics. In the Hartford municipal election on Monday the Democrats elected their candidates for City Clerk, Auditor, and Marshal by an average majority of 700. The Board of Aldermen is a tie. The Republicans have a majority of four in the Council, giving them a majority on joint ballot and the choice of City Attorney, Prosecuting Attorney, and City Surveyor. Charles E. Cawley, member of Parliament for Salford, is dead aged 65 years. It is said that William M. Tweed's offer to compromise has been accepted, and that the prisoner will be at liberty before the end of the week. Mullett has failed again in an attempt to get appointed Supervising Architect. The falling of rain and the melting of snow caused by the warm weather of the past few days, have had the effect of flooding the southwestern part of the city of Chicago.

The Circus is Coming.

An advance agent of Howe's Circus, which is to perform in Weldon to-morrow, was in the city yesterday, making the arrangements for board, stable room, bill-posting, &c. One of the managing agents is looked for here to-day or to-morrow. They expect to perform here next Monday week, the 16th inst., and the silver quarters and halves which have been so carefully hoarded of late will find daylight.

An Old Offender.

Mary Eliza Lively, an exceedingly lively specimen of the colored genus disorderly, was before the Mayor this morning for the thirty-seventh time in the course of the last four years, on the charge of cursing and abusing a colored woman by the name of Eliza Hart and of rocking her house. According to the testimony, it would be hard to imagine an oath or an obscenity in language with which this lively creature is not familiar. She is one of the hardest cases in the city and the Mayor righteously fined her $55; 25 and costs in one case and $30 and costs in the other. As she is unable to pay the fines she will contribute sixty days labor to the city.

The Entertainment To-Night.

We beg to remind our readers of the entertainment which is to be offered them at the Opera House this evening by Miss Manly and Mr. Haywood. There is no doubt of their ability to personate the characters they have assumed to do and we have no hesitation in assuring our friends that all who go will be pleasantly entertained, as evidence of which fact we publish herewith the remarks of the Raleigh News, relative to their appearance in that city on Monday evening:
The dramatic recitations in costume by Miss Manly and Mr. Haywood last night at Tucker Hall was a complete success, and must have proved most gratifying to them, as it certainly was to the large number of their friends in this city who were present to witness the entertainment. They enter into the spirit of the authors presented and interpret them in their recitation, gesture, intonation and articulation, with a facility and ease that would have done credit to those long practiced on the stage. As a specimen of the realness and truthfulness to life of the characters and passions presented, it may be mentioned that, in the parting scene between Jaffier and Belvidera, in Venice Preserved, some were affected even to weeping, and the eyes of many sparkled with moisture.

Blockade Panorama.

It was our good fortune last night to witness a section of seventeen beautiful paintings by our gifted townsman, Mr. Charles E. Burr. This section is about one-third of a prepared panorama illustrative of the many stirring scenes incident to running the blockade of Southern ports during the late war. Commencing from Nassau, as we learned from Mr. Burr, the paintings will portray the many trials and excitements of the trip through the blockade of Wilmington—the chase—capture—burning of steamers, &c. The concluding section will be an attempt to portray upon canvass, the fearful drama enacted at the mouth of Cape Fear river in the bombardment and fall of Fort Fisher.

Judging from the portion we witnessed last evening, this panorama bids fair to be a work of superior merit—the water views being the most natural and life-like we have ever seen upon canvass. The views are stirring, active and all engrossing; passing from one scene to another in quick succession, but not rapidly, the mind is thoroughly engaged and the interest never flags. In addition to the attraction of the subject, the paintings themselves possess merit in a high degree, sufficient to render them a success, being finely executed on canvass twelve or fourteen feet in width, and colored after nature's own model. The following are some few subjects presented to us last night: "Blockade Runner Hansa in a Gale;" "Burning of steamers Sotia and Lee on Wrightsville Beach;" "Steamer Col. Lamb—close chase—throwing cotton overboard to increase speed;" "Loss of sch. Aerial," Capt. Rod. McRae;" "Steamer Stonewall Jackson running the gauntlet by daylight;" "Capture of six schooners in a gale off Fort Fisher."

This work, when completed, is to be exhibited to the public, and we can unhesitatingly promise a delightful treat, and also wish the most abundant success to the talented artist. Taken either separately or together, the work is one of rare artistic merit but one that must be seen to be appreciated as well as enjoyed.

Some Interesting Figures.

Col. John L. Cantwell, Secretary of the Produce Exchange, has completed a comparative statement of the receipts and exports of cotton and naval stores at the port of Wilmington from April 1st, 1876, to April 1st, 1877, and for the corresponding period of the previous year, which we are kindly permitted to publish and which we give below.

This statement, which has been prepared with much care, and which will be found absolutely correct makes a very interesting exhibit. The increase in the receipts of cotton, it will be seen, amounts to 31,708 bales, or nearly 60 per cent. on the previous year while the increase in exports of cotton is 32,797 bales, or nearly 40 per cent.

In spirits the increase of receipts has been but 312 casks, while the exports have fallen off 11,092 casks. In rosin there has been a decrease in receipts of 17,829 barrels, and exports of 85,142 barrels. In tar the increase has been 18,201 barrels in receipts, and 5,662 barrels in exports; while crude turpentine has increased 56,793 barrels, or 33 1/2 per cent, and the exports have fallen off 625 bbls. The following is the statement:

Anniversary Dinner.

The Seventh Anniversary of the St. George & St. Andrew's Society, which fell due some weeks ago, was celebrated last night with that pleasant feature of its recurrence of late years, an Anniversary Dinner given in the dining room of the Grand Central Saloon, on North Front street. The room was tastefully decorated with flags and emblems and the table was spread the entire length of the room. At about 9:30 o'clock the gentlemen of the Society and their invited guests were seated, while a band of musicians, the harpers, discoursed some of the most exquisite music, as a prelude to the enjoyment of the evening. There were few vacant chairs which had been reserved for some to whom invitations had been extended but who had found it impossible to be present, but otherwise the places were all occupied. Mr. Alex Sprunt, the President, occupied the head of the table, Mr. Bery Gleaves, the Vice President, occupied the opposite extremity. The first thing in order after the seats had been taken, was the satisfying of the inner man with something good to eat, and when the table was cleared and the wines were introduced, Mr. President, Sprunt called for attention and read to those present a very interesting address, relative to the condition of the Society, and its labors of benevolence and love during the past year, which was received with the most earnest and respectful attention. Mr. Sprunt closed by announcing the first regular toast, "The Day and all who Honor it," and himself responded, this was followed by the other regular toasts in order as follows:

- 2nd. The Queen of Great Britain.
- Versé of God Save the Queen.
- 3rd. The President of the United States.
- Song by Mr. J. Hopkins.
- 4th. England.
- Responded to by Mr. Bery Gleaves.
- Song by Mr. John Colville.
- 5th. Scotland.
- Responded to by Mr. John Colville.
- 6th. Our sister societies.
- Responded to by Capt. I. B. Grainger, of the Hibernian Association.
- 7th. Our Adopted State.
- Responded to by Mr. J. Alexander.
- A verse of Carolina.
- 8th. The City of Wilmington.
- Responded to by Mr. W. Roddick.
- 9th. The Press.
- Responded to by Mr. J. M. Cronly of the Star.
- Song by Mr. Colville.
- 10th. The Ladies.
- Responded to by Mr. W. E. Hill.
- Song by Mr. Hopkins.

At this point Mr. Sprunt vacated the floor and retired, leaving Mr. Gleaves to preside in his absence. The real fun of the evening then commenced; impromptu toasts were read and responded to, songs were sung, and brilliant repartee flashed and sparkled with the ruby wine from one end of the table to the other, that sturdy old "British-American," Johnny Hopkins, taking a prominent part in promoting the mirth of the assemblage. In addition to those who had previously responded, and in addition to the regular toasts, every gentleman at the table was called upon and responded. The last toast given was to Mr. Remben Jones, under whose superintendence the tables had been spread and prepared. It was 1 o'clock when we left the festive scene and even then a "hot Scotch" was in process of conversion into a night-cap.

The Cape Fear.

Advices from Fayetteville indicate that the recent thirty-foot freshet in the river is now falling off. It is still high water, however, and steamboat men are happy yet.
Planting operations are in full blast. The rich river lands will be extensively cultivated this year and good seasons and not too much water in the river at any one time will ensure an unusually large yield there. Much attention is being paid to preparing the ground for the cereals and cotton is not quite so much of a king now as he "used to be."

There has been cool weather, with frost of late days, but the impression seems to be that the fruit crop is not yet injured to any serious extent.

Sale of a Railroad.

At the auction yesterday afternoon of the street railway track, horse, foot and dragoons and all of the rest ceteras, Mayor Canaday became the purchaser. The iron, road bed, franchise &c., brought $3,000. The cars will, we are pleased to learn, be kept running.

Cut this Out—It May Save Your Life

There is no person living but what suffers more or less with Lung Disease, Coughs, Colds or Consumption, yet some would die rather than pay 75 cents for a bottle of medicine that would cure them. Dr. A. Boschee's German Syrup has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wondrous cures astonish every one that tries it. If you doubt what we say in print, cut this out and take it to your Druggist, and get a sample bottle for 10 cents and try it, or a regular size for 75 cents.
