WADE HAMPTON.

His Reception in Charlotte—The Enthusiasm Unbounded—His Address—His Impressions of Hayes, &c.—Honors that Await Him.

As soon as it was definitely known that Gov. Hampton would certainly arrive in the city last night, preparations were immediately begun for his reception. The military and fire companies of the city were all notified to appear at the depot to meet him. The ladies turned out in full force to decorate the car which is to carry him to Columbia this morning, and beautifully has it been done.

Soon after dark the special train from Columbia arrived bringing a delegation of about sixty prominent citizens of Columbia and many from other points along the line, together with the Columbia Cornet Band.
At 9 o'clock the Hornet's Nest Rite-men and the fire companies met in Independence Square and marched to the depot, headed by the Cornet Band. They were soon joined there by the Cadets of the Carolina Military Institute. The companies were all fully represented, and besides these a perfect multitude of citizens gathered there to greet the Governor of South Carolina.

And when he did arrive the enthusiasm was unbounded. He was met by Col.
Wm. Johnston, Mayor of the city, and others, and escorted to the Hotel amid cheers and huzzas, and such demonstrations as have scarcely been equalled here before. The balconies of the hotel, and all the windows near the square were filled by ladies waving their handkerchiefs.

As soon as he entered the Hotel, the cries of "Hampton! Hampton!" rent the air, and a few moments after Col. Johnston appeared on the balcony and presented the "Governor of South Carolina" to the enthusiastic crowd. As he appeared the light of the torches and bonfires giving a full view of his face, there was another prolonged shout for Hampton and South Carolina.

After thanking the citizens of the "Old North State" for those unexpected demonstrations, and alluding to the deep feeling of gratitude which this and other evidences of esteem which had greeted him along the road, had caused to rise in his heart, he spoke somewhat as follows:

For the first time in ten years I can as a freeman, address you as fellow citizens.
In South Carolina we have not been free; we have been restrained from exercising the privileges of free men, but thanks to the united efforts of all the good citizens of that State without distinction—of the men, women and children—we can now claim that privilege. We made a platform so broad, so liberal that all who were fighting for South Carolina could stand upon it. We proclaimed that we were not contending for party—we asked all good men to rise above party, and they did it white, black and all. I tell you here frankly that but for the votes of good and honest black men, I should not now be called Governor.

I confess that when I went to Washington, I went with a prejudice against the Administration. I went there to tell what we had done, and what we demanded, and I met with sympathy and support. Mr. Hayes, out of respect for the position which he occupies, out of respect for me, never for once made allusion to any compromise, but came forward man-fully, and ordered the withdrawal of the troops from the State House. I left him with the impression that he is sincerely desirous of doing all in his power to promote peace and prosperity throughout the land, and of enforcing the Constitution and the laws. ["That is all you want," said a voice in the crowd.] Yes, that is all we want. I assured him that it should be done in my own State, and so help me God, it shall be done. We pledge ourselves to this, and I can confidently say that we will not fail in its execution.

And now my friends of the "Old North State" let me thank you again for this evidence of your kindness. When I return to South Carolina I shall tell them of the sympathy which her sister State manifested here and elsewhere for her.
It will stimulate her to stronger efforts.
We hope at no distant day to place her again side by side with her sister State of North Carolina. This is our desire, and this the work before us.

The short and pointed address was delivered in a clear and ringing voice, and was received with numerous cheers and expressions of approval, and with a tremendous shout at its close.

Gen. Conner, Butler and others were called for but were not among the party.
Col. McMaster appeared in response to calls and addressed the crowd in a short speech, thanking them for the demonstration in honor of Gov. Hampton.

The crowd then reluctantly dispersed.
The special train will leave here this morning at 9 o'clock. A number of our citizens will go with the Hampton party to Columbia.

We learn that the people along the line of the road are wild with excitement.
The ladies at Rock Hill, Chester and other points are preparing to load the car down with flowers. At Chester a triumphal arch has been erected across the track.
It is thought that the train will not be able to carry half of the people who will want to go to Columbia.

At Danville and other points in Virginia, and at all towns along the line of the road in this State, the Governor was met by large crowds anxious to do him honor. Verily he is the hero of the hour.

A telegram was received from Gov.
Vance, yesterday, regretting his inability to meet Gov. Hampton here. Several attempts have been made to bring the two Governors together, but both have been so taken up with the affairs of their respective States, that it has been an impossibility. We can speak for ourselves, and say that Gov. Vance is approximately looking forward to the time when he shall stand face to face with Hampton, and make the memorable remark of the Governor of North Carolina to the Governor of South Carolina.

Board of Aldermen.
The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held at the City Hall last evening, present His Honor the Mayor, and Aldermen Atkinson, Adrian, Colville, Katz, Mitchell, Holmes, Banks and Gardner.

The General Tax Ordinance was revised and a few alterations made and adopted.

An ordinance in relation to dogs was offered and adopted. It provides that male dogs shall be taxed one dollar and female dogs three dollars. That each dog shall be registered on or before the 1st day of May of each year, and that the owner shall provide a collar with his name and the letters C. W. inscribed thereon.

That no fierce, vicious or dangerous dogs shall be allowed to go at large unless securely muzzled, or tethered.

That any person may be allowed to kill any dog assaulting him outside of the enclosure of its owner or keeper.

Heavy penalties are provided for violations of any of the above.

An ordinance in reference to weighing and selling beef cattle in the city of Wilmington was adopted. It provides that all live beef cattle shall, before being offered for sale, be weighed and examined by the deputy Clerk of the Market, and a certificate given in regulation thereto; that no beef shall be offered for sale until the hide, ears, horns and feet of the animal slain shall have been shown the Clerk of the Market. The Clerk shall be allowed 15 cents for weighing and examining each animal and 10 cents for issuing certificate; the ordinance to go into effect April 15th, 1877.

An ordinance was passed forbidding any train, car or locomotive standing across any street so as to prevent passage. It provides that twenty feet near the centre of the street shall be always kept clear; that where the inclined grade furnishes momentum not more than two cars shall be moved at one time, and not faster than five miles an hour, nor without a brakeman; that all trains or engines shall have a man in front of the locomotive and one on the tender, or near the car; the bell shall be rung while crossing any street. This Ordinance to go into effect April 15th, 1877.

Petition for a lamp on the corner of Fifth and Queen streets was referred to the committee on Lights.

Application of D. E. Bunting, for the position of Tax Receiver, was referred to the committee on Finance.

Applications of W. T. Sanders, Thomas A. Seddons and N. N. King, for positions on police force, were referred to the committee on Police.

Petitions of W. T. Johnson & Co. to erect a wooden shed on Princess street, and Willard Bros., a shed on their wharf, were referred to the committee on Fire Department.

Alderman Atkinson offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, That the Attorney of the city be instructed to take immediate action for the collection of the amount due by the Superior Court Clerk for taxes collected by him from inspectors.

The chairman of the committee appointed to witness the destruction of the composing stones, used in printing certain bonds, reported the destruction of the same.

The Board then adjourned.

Society will take place at the Presbyterian Lecture room, Monday, April 9th, at Unmailable Letters.

ters remaining in the Postoffice in this city: W. T. Armstrong, Rocky Mount, N.
C.; Wm. M. Haynes, Ponce, Porto Rico;
Schr. Ann Dolé, W. I.

Rignold Coming.
It seems that Mr. Rignold, the eminent tragedian, is not to give us the go-by after all. A dispatch was received this morning from Mr. G. W. Middleton, his agent, who will be here to-night for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements for his appearance here. The date for which he is booked now is the 15th, next Saturday evening, on which occasion he will certainly appear in Wilmington, notwithstanding the assertion that Charlotte is the only point in the State at which he will stop.

Disastrous Fire.
We regret to learn that the distillery of Messrs. Dock & Applewhite, situated on the Wil., Col. & Aug. R. R., in Brunswick county, about four miles from Brinkley's, was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday.
The fire caught a little before noon and was occasioned by the boiling over of the charge of turpentine in the still. Besides the distillery works, 30 casks of spirits, 150 barrels of rosin, 400 new spirit casks and a lot of staves and crude turpentine were burned. The loss foots up $3,600, on which there was no insurance.

An Item.
It has been estimated that there is in Wilmington one church to every 500 inhabitants, and that these churches have an average seating capacity of 500 persons. Now, think of it. Suppose that every man, woman and child in Wilmington were to attend divine services to-morrow morning at the same hour there would not be a human being, little or big, white or black, old or young, to be found anywhere outside of those churches. We would like to see it done, but we don't believe that such a religious millennium will dawn anywhere during the next one thousand years.

Table Corn.
It is getting time for families to be looking after seed for table corn—"roasting ears" in common parlance. Plant as soon as you plant any corn, and with ordinary luck you will have roasting ears in May.
Plant Stowell's Evergreen, Eight-rowed Sugar, Mammoth Sugar, and Tuscarora at the same time to give you a succession.
Let the rows be four or five feet apart and the corn thinned to a stand of fourteen inches apart in the row. Keep the corn well suckered. All this runs badly to sucker. Cultivate well.

When your corn begins to tassel, run a furrow between the rows, and plant again.
When you gather corn for the table, cut stalks and all, and give stalk, blades, and husks, to cow, pig, horse or mule, and they will all sing over it. It is the best food in the world for any of them, if not fed in imprudent quantities at first.
In eight or ten days they will stand all they can eat.

By cutting the stalks in this way you will clear the way for your second crop, and unless the season be dry, you will have corn in plenty and late. One acre well managed, with reasonable rains, will easily make, in this way, thirty to sixty bushels of this garden corn for the table, besides green food for the cows.

Sensible Advice.
You are asked every day through the columns of newspapers and by your Druggist to use something for Dyspepsia and Liver complaint that you know nothing about; you get discouraged spending money with but little success. Now to give you satisfactory proof that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER will cure you of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint with all its effects, such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Constipation, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Water brash, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, &c., we ask you to go to your Druggist and get a Sample Bottle of GREEN'S August Flower for 10 cents and try it, or a Regular Size for 75 cents; two doses will relieve you.

What is DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER, do you ask, my friend? It is made from the purest and strongest elements. Among them, cream tartar made from grape acid expressly for these manufacturers. The result is that the biscuit, rolls, waffles, cake, bread and pastry produced, are beyond comparison.
