Plenty of dust.
Strawberries coming in.
The warm season is upon us.
Some of the new bonnets are crowdiess.
Straw trimmings will be very fashionable.
White cuffs are to be worn outside the sleeve.
The flowers are beginning to open for Memorial Day.
To-morrow, the 26th of April, is Memorial Day in Georgia.
A place for small change—church collecting plate.
Next to an overdue steamer an overdue note causes most anxiety.
A man's dearest object should be his wife, but sometimes it is his wife's wardrobe.
Summer comes along slowly, and the crop reports from the barber shops are very discouraging.
The hard times have had the effect of making men think that this year they must begin to have gardens.
An author says that one of the uses of adversity is to bring us out. This is true, particularly at the knees and elbows.
Black silk net with little dices of bright colored silk caught in the meshes, is a new trimming for black clip bonnets.
An old restaurant keeper down town says that the way to get up a reputation for tenderloin steak is to keep sharp knives for customers' use.
Cunning little bell ear-rings are to become the style. As the bell tinkles at the slightest touch, engaged young ladies may be careful in wearing them.
Mr. J. H. Allen advertises the largest assortment of spectacles and eye glasses ever offered in this city, ranging from the lowest to highest in quantity, quality and price.
The Lecture previously advertised by Rabbi Ed. D. M. Browne, to take place this evening at the Opera House, has been changed to the Temple of Israel, corner of Fourth and Market streets.

We saw Mr. Jewett test to-day the "Instantaneous Ink Extractor and Obliterator" advertised by him. It was wonderful in its effects, lifting the ink from the paper without leaving a stain anywhere.
The time of year has come when a man's wife asks him to take a length of stovepipe, tenderly through the hall, gently down the front stoop, cooly across the walk, and knock all the soot out of it at one blast without hitting his toes, "confound it!"
Something which will prove of interest to retail liquor dealers will be found in our advertising columns to-day. Squire Wagner, Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, notifies them that their licenses will expire on the 30th inst. and that they must be renewed before the first of May as required by law.

Superior Court.
The following are the only cases of public interest taken up in this Court to-day: State vs. Thomas Weeks, on a peace warrant. Ordered discharged on taking the insolvent debtor's oath.
State vs. Toney Maulsby, for assault and battery. On trial.
The Commissioner.
From the United States Signal Office at this place we obtain the following report of the thermometer taken this morning at 7:31 o'clock: Augusta, 68; Charleston, 68; Galveston, 60; Jacksonville, 72; Mobile, 65; Montgomery, 68; New Orleans, 66; Norfolk, 62; Savannah, 71; Wilmington, 68.

The Cape Fear.
The river at Fayetteville is now quite low again, being at merely good boating water. The late freshets have all gone from the upper sections but there is yet high water in the lower parts of the river.
What is left is rapidly falling off and in a few days, at the present rate, navigation will probably be on a summer basis of low water.

The Fruit Crop.
We are glad to learn that the fruit crop in the interior has not been seriously injured after all by the cold and winds of late days. At Fayetteville we understand it is the opinion of those who know that the peach crop, that most feared for, has not been injured at all, while apples promise to be very plentiful. What is true of Fayetteville may be taken as true of a large section of country of which it is the centre.

Odd Fellows' Anniversary.
In accordance with a long established custom of the Order, the Most Worthy Grand Sire of the Grand Lodge of the United States has issued a proclamation enjoining all grand and subordinate lodges to take due order for the proper observance of the fifty-eighth anniversary of American Odd Fellowship, which occurs on the 26th of April.
The Lodges in this city will celebrate the occasion by meeting at the Odd Fellow's Hall to-morrow night at 8 p. m., when it is expected that several addresses explanatory of the order will be made. The public are invited to attend.

Reminiscence of the War.
The muster rolls of the German Volunteers, Capt. Cornelson; Cape Fear Artillery, Capt. J. J. Hedrick; Wilmington Rifle Guards, Capt. O. P.
Meares; and Rifle Rangers, (Tigers) Capt. E.
D. Hall, have been left at Jewett's book store, for the inspection of any of the old surviving soldiers who belonged to these different companies while they were garrisoning Fort Caswell, and are anxious to see once more their names on the muster roll as it appeared then. The Wilmington Light Infantry, and we think the Cape Fear Riflemen, were members of the garrison at the same time.

Last Night's Ball.
The ball last evening at the Opera House was decidedly one of the grandest ever given in this city. There was by far more beauty, elegant grace and superb costumes than we have ever before seen in a ball room. The ball was tastefully decorated with flags of various nationalities and elegant flowers.
"A thousand hearts beat happily; and when Music arose with its voluptuous swell, Soft eyes look'd love to eyes which spoke truth,
And all went as merry as a marriage bell." Dancing was commenced at a quarter past ten, and the following programme was observed during the evening: Waltz, Quadrille; Waltz, Quadrille, Coquette; Galop, Quadrille, Waltz; Schottische, Quadrille, Canltower; Waltz, Quadrille; Waltz, Lancers; Polka, Quadrille, Belle of America.

At twelve o'clock the doors of the supper room were thrown open and the dancers and guests were seated around tables groaning under the delicacies of the season.
At last a soft and solemn breathing sound rose like a steam of rich distilled perfume, And stole upon the air, that even silence Was broken ere she was ware, and wish'd she might Deny her nature and be never more.
Still to be so displaced.
And soon the dancers were twirling in the mazy waltz.
The occasion will long be remembered and treasured by those in attendance among the realizations of the sweet dreams of youth.

You can save Money.
By using DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER, for less butter, flour, eggs, etc., are required to accomplish satisfactory results. This is not a needless hap-hazard statement, but a fact verified by the experience of many thousand families. Try it and prove the claim.

The Telephone.
For sometime past the Northern papers have been publishing descriptive explanations of this wonderful invention—the Telephone. We are led to believe from conversations had with a number of persons who have read these explanations that the true theory and working of the telephone is not well comprehended. Without claiming, however, to be a scientist, we shall attempt to explain the practical workings and the natural laws that govern the repeating of sound between two distant points without any visible means, save a small wire. It is well known that sound, after having been produced, is carried through the air or other mediums, by vibrations or minute waves called sound waves, with a velocity of 1,120 feet per second. But the telephone repeats a sound made at one place almost instantaneously at another distant point.
The popular belief is that the telephone actually transmits the sound. This is a great mistake. The only thing transmitted is the wavelets of the electric fluid; a dumb messenger only speaking in the presence of its receiver. In a whispering gallery sound can be by reflection concentrated and only heard at a given point, but this is confined to the limits of ordinary sound. While the telephone has repeated the sound of the human voice instantly to the distance of 143 miles, it is not reasonably to suppose that sound waves would pass through a wire for so great a distance, nor does it.

For example, suppose we designate two telephones as Nos. 1 and 2; we place No.
1 in a hall at Wilmington and the other in like manner at Fayetteville, and connect the two by an insulated wire.
In the hall at Wilmington we converse in the ordinary tone; the sound is concentrated in instrument No. 1; as sound it is caught up by a sounding board, and instantly No. 2 in Fayetteville repeats it; yet not one iota of sound has passed between the two places, for the sound in Wilmington was produced by the human voice while that heard in Fayetteville was actually produced by the automatic action of the telephone, an electrical machine so wonderfully constructed; that it repeats the sounds of the human voice, with all of its varied modulations. The telephone is not a transmitter of sound but actually a re-creator of sound, through the agency of electricity. This is caused by connecting two of more instruments, by an electrical circuit, as is done in telegraphy. When sound is produced near any one of the machines, in the circuit, the instrument is so provided with vibrating membranes and tongues of metal, corresponding to tuning forks, whose adjustments are so arranged that the vibration of these metal tongues open and close the circuit. For example, sound A at No. 1 in Wilmington after the sound has passed into the instrument, and it becomes intensified by reflection on the principle of the echo, this puts the vibrating tongues in motion in the telephone, which causes the opening and closing of the circuit, thus producing waves of electricity that pass over the insulated wire from No. 1 to No. 2.
As the sound wave opens and closes the circuit, the electric wave assumes the modulation, form and character of the sound produced, so far as quantity and intensity are concerned.

As you sound A at No. 1, the electric waves passing over the wire reach No.
2 at Fayetteville, and passing through the machine sets the vibrating membranes and metal tongues in motion. No. 1 and 2, being in perfect unison, by the electric wave, No. 2 actually sounds A, as sounded in Wilmington. Or by inversion sound A at No. 2, you will find that No. 1 repeats it.

The number of instruments used on a circuit makes no difference. Select any one you choose, produce one or a thousand sounds near the selected machine, all the other instruments repeat them. We would advise the reader to bear in mind, as we have before stated, that although the first machine receives the sound and intensifies it by the same principal of the echo, the other instrument only receives wavelets of electricity and automatically produces the sounds themselves.

Joseph Henry, 47 years ago, rung a bell by electricity. A few years later Morse transmitted messages by it. Today we converse with a distant friend by the subtle fluid. To-morrow, what?
Hawk tail fins, transmitted with great force, are extensively used by New York hairdressers. They are destined to be quite popular South.

First of May at Long Creek.
LILLINGTON ACADEMY, Pender Co., April 26th, 1877.
Editor Review:—The 1st of May, next Tuesday, will be a gala-day here.
The public at large are hereby invited to attend. Besides a picnic and other social enjoyments there will be a public meeting in honor of the abolition of the liquor traffic at Long Creek, and in the interests of education and morality. This Academy has been reorganized by an act of the Legislature, with a prohibitory liquor clause which goes into effect on the day of this proposed celebration. Come out Mr. Editor and see your many friends in Pender on that occasion. There will be a fine turn out of the people, fine speeches, &c.
The recent burning of the Presbyterian Church at Point Caswell by the enemies of the law that now prevents the sale of liquor there has aroused the true citizens of Pender. Our Board of Trustees are wide awake men in the cause of the new departure of this section for good schools, a fine Academy, and an elevation of public taste and morals. Yours, truly, A. J. McINTIRE,
Sec. Board of Trustees.

The People Want Proof.
There is no medicine prescribed by physicians, or sold by Druggists, that carries such evidence of its success and superior virtue of Rosen's German Syrup for severe Coughs, Colds settled on the breast, Consumption, or any disease of the Throat and Lungs. A proof of that fact is that any person afflicted, can get a Sample Bottle for 10 cents and try its superior effect before buying the regular size at 75 cents. It has lately been introduced in this country from Germany, and its wonderful cures are astonishing every one that use it. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it.
