THE OLD NORTH STATE.

For the gratification of many of our readers who wish to obtain a correct copy of the words of this famous old song, the production of that eminent jurist and distinguished son of the Old North State, Judge William Gaston, we publish it here to-day:
Carolina! Carolina! Heaven's blessings attend her,
While we live we will cherish, protect and defend her;
Tho' the scorners may sneer at, and writing defame her,
Yet our hearts swell with gladness, whenever we name her.
Chorus.
Hurrah! hurrah! The Old North State forever,
Hurrah! hurrah! For the Good Old North State.
Tho' she envies not others their merited glory,
Say whose name stands the foremost in Liberty's story;
Tho' too true to herself'er to crouch to oppression,
Who can yield to just rule a more loyal submission.
Chorus.—Hurrah! hurrah! &c.
Plain and artless her sons, but whose doors open faster,
To the knock of the stranger or tale of disaster;
How like to the rudeness of their dear native mountains,
With rich ore in their bosoms and life in their fountains.
Chorus.—Hurrah! hurrah! &c.
And her daughters—the queen of the forest resembling,
So graceful, so constant, to gentlest breath trembling;
And true lightwood at heart, let the match be applied them,
How they kindle in flame—Oh! none know but who've tried them.
Chorus.—Hurrah! hurrah! &c.
Then let all who love us, love the land that we live in,
As happy a region as on this side of heaven,
Where plenty and freedom, love and peace smile before us,
Raise aloft, raise together the heart thrilling chorus.
Chorus.—Hurrah! hurrah! &c.

Fried Chickens.

Cut a cold chicken into small joints, and put them in a deep dish, covering them with some fine chopped parsley, onion, salt, pepper, a little good salad oil, and squeeze over all the juice of a lemon; let the chicken remain in this for three or four hours, turning the pieces every now and then; then take them out, dredge each piece with flour, and fry them. Pile high on a dish, and pour a good gravy sauce, seasoned, and flavored with sweet herbs, round.

Information Wanted.

The City Marshal has received a communication from the office of Superintendent Walling, in New York, requesting the authorities here to keep a look-out for a young man by the name of Oscar Wolf, who has been missing since the 5th inst. He has committed no offense and is therefore not to be arrested, the object seeming to be simply to find him. Said Wolf is 20 years old, 5 feet 7 inches high, of a dark complexion and with a small mustache. He is said to be considerable of a billiard player and speaks German and English.

Fireman's Badge of Merit.

For three consecutive years Mr. L. S. F. Brown has won the prize offered by the Hook & Ladder Co. The Badge which will be presented to him at an early date, is now on exhibition at the jewelry establishment of Messrs. T. W. Brown & Sons. It is a very pretty design and is handsomely gotten up. From a cross bar, on which his name is engraved, is an oval shaped pendant bearing the words "Prize of the Hook & Ladder Co., Wilmington, N. C.," and behind the engraving is a scroll bearing the date of May, 1877; the in the center of the pendant is the crossed hooks, ladders, axe and cap.

We Don't Understand It.

The Monroe papers, issued and dated on Monday 21st, arrived here last night, and were delivered this morning, 48 hours after date of publication, presuming that Monday means Monday morning. Last night the Raleigh papers of yesterday's date arrived and in the Observer we found an article which was clipped from the Monroe Express of the same date as that received by us this morning. Yet Monroe is on a direct route from Wilmington, some 80 miles from us, while Raleigh is distant 181 miles over two roads. We call the attention of the Postoffice officials, as well as the publishers of the Monroe papers, to this remarkable and disagreeable fact.

Phenomenon in the Clouds.

Up to 15 minutes of 11 o'clock last night, the moon shown beautifully and clear without a cloud to obscure her brightness, when suddenly the trees were terribly stirred by the rushing of the wind from the quarter a little west of North, forcing in its course along black clouds, which when veiling the moon appeared to be about 30 yards in width, spreading from the western to the eastern horizon. The wind, after blowing a few minutes, suddenly ceased, when the southeastern heavens were lit up with a firelike glow which reached to the zenith. It had the appearance of a tremendous fire in the outskirts of the city. In a few minutes the moon again shone clear, the fire light had disappeared and all was serene as before.

Sam is Dead.

Departed this life sometime between the hours of closing Messrs. Adrian & Voller's store, corner of Front and Dock streets, on Saturday night, and the opening of the same on Monday morning last, a favorite hound dog belonging to Messrs. E. E. Burruss, Preston Cumming, R. H. Grant and other gentlemen of this city who indulge in the jolly pastime of fox hunting. Sam was locked up by accident on Saturday night in the store above mentioned, and it is supposed must have suffocated for the lack of fresh air.

Sam was a favorite dog with his owners and possessed many good qualities. He was always foremost in the chase, never lagging, never straggling, always in the front, first in at the death and the last to quit a trail. Sam was of good blood, too; his pedigree was the best and from some of the famous stock of bounds owned by Hon. Walter L. Steele, of Richmond county. The death of this noble animal calls to mind Byron's epitaph on his favorite Newfoundland dog, a few lines of which we copy here and tender as a piece of condolence to the mourning friends of the departed Sam-u-el, and suggest a like epitaph over the dead hunter:

"Near this spot
Are deposited the remains of one
Who possessed Beauty without Vanity,
Strength without Insolence,
Courage without Ferocity,
And all the Virtues of man, without his Vices!"

Messrs. Burruss, Preston Cumming, W. P. Oldham and Dr. Jno. H. Freeman mounted their favorite chasers on Monday evening at 6 o'clock with a fox tail in each of their caps, and with Sam's late companions accompanying them and yelping a doleful whine, proceeded to Hilton, and there had all that was left of poor Sammy put out of sight forever.

Scribner for June

Is more cosmopolitan than usual, containing sketches of life in France, Spain, Turkey, Syria, Russia, Great Britain and America. Among the so-called "timely" papers may be mentioned a descriptive "criticism of the statue of Liberty Enlightening the World," also "Damascus by Diligence," "How it was Done in Great Britain," "A State Ball in Constantinople," "Village Sanitary Work," the third of Col. Waring's papers of practical suggestions. There is also a precisely illustrated paper on "Croton Water." The current discussion of the merits of the Russian novelist, Tourgueneff, receives an accession in a biographical sketch by Boyesen, with portrait. Charles Dudley Warner has a study of character in his obituary notice of the hero of "My Summer in a Garden," Calvin, the cat. Other papers are "Benjamin Disraeli," "The Traditional Music of the Spanish Pyrenees," "Tond Life," "The Immortality of the Soul," and an illustrated paper on Horses. Dr. Holland's "Nicholas Minturn" is continued, and Nicholas plans for dealing with dead-beats are put into practice. Mrs. Burnett, the author of "That Lass o' Lowrie's" has a short story of Franco-American life in Paris, entitled "Le Monsieur de la Petite Dame." The poetry of the number is contributed by Mrs. Thaxter, Mrs. Piatt, Mrs. Elizabeth Akers Allen, Charles T. Dazey, "The Old Cabinet" and "Bric-a-Brac," the latter department containing among the humorous verse a dainty little poem entitled "The War of the Roses." Dr. Holland discusses in his "Topics of the Time," "The Future of New York," "Houses and Things," and "The Changes in Preaching," and pays a high tribute to the late Edward Seymour of the Scribner firm.

Purity, strength and reliability stamp the character of DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER as being par excellence the best of all preparations used to perfect and facilitate the process of baking. Less than two-thirds ordinary quantity suffices. So strong and pure is this admirable article the most skillful housekeepers have learned to discard all others.

Robbery.

A few nights ago thieves entered the house of Ambrose Moore, opposite Kline's Gardens, and stole $250 in money and about $100 in clothing and watches. A person was arrested on suspicion and discharged but since then the officers have ascertained who were the thieves and are now on the war path after them.

Repaired and Sailed.

Schr. Delhi, Emerson, which collided at sea April 14th, with an unknown vessel, carrying away sails and rigging, and which put into this port April 17th, cleared for her original destination to-day, having received the necessary repairs here. She was from Portland, Me., bound to Savannah, with 29 tons hay and 30 barrels potatoes. The damages sustained amounted to $2,000.

The Thermometer.

From the United States Signal Office at this place we obtain the following report of the thermometer, as taken this morning at 7:31 o'clock:

Augusta, 81; Charleston, 77; Corsicana, 69; Galveston, 74; Indianola, 79; Jacksonville, 80; Key West, 81; Mobile, 75; Montgomery, 74; New Orleans, 78; Norfolk, 66; Punta Rasa, 79; Savannah, 81; St. Marks, 75; Wilmington, 74.

Hail and Crops.

We understand that there was hail last Monday morning in the Fayetteville section. Some of the stones were as large as a marble, yet it is stated that there has been very little damage, if any, to the growing crops. We are glad to learn that the farming prospects between this city and Fayetteville are very fine and that with good seasons there will be an abundant yield of almost everything.

Deposed From the Priesthood.

We learn that Rev. Wm. T. Helm, formerly of this State, but now of Nashville, Tenn., has been formally deposed from the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church. Mr. Helm, although he had removed to another State, was still a clergyman of this Diocese and the act we have recorded above was taken at St. James' Church in this city, on Monday last, by a Council composed of the Bishop and two Priests. The deposition was made because of a refusal to conform to the rituals of the church. Mr. Helm, was a Priest and was for some years Rector of the church at Beaufort.

Notwithstanding the advanced season it is undeniable that retail trade has improved very much during the past week or ten days.

EDITOR OF REVIEW.

MY DEAR SIR—To prevent any error in the future please correct the statement in your paper of the 21st, to the effect that the flag borne in the ranks of the "Mexican Veterans" in the procession on that day was "the property of Col. Jno. L. Cantwell, and was the first American flag to float in the city of Mexico." The first flag inside the gates of the City of Mexico was the regimental colors of the Palmetto Regiment, S. C. Volunteers, Quitman's division. (See report of Mr. Weller of California, Chairman of the U. S. Senate Committee on Military Affairs, March 6th 1856) and has never been in this city to my knowledge. Yours truly,
J. L. CANTWELL.
