Hot enough this morning "to scorch the tail of a brass monkey."
Spanish sch'r Hiron, Puig, from this port arrived at Barcelona on the 15 inst.

Brig Nellie Husted, Brewster, cleared from New York for this port last Tuesday.
The Raleigh News says: Rev. J. B. Taylor, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Wilmington, is here on a visit. He is the guest of Col. J. M. Hock.

The water in the river is again getting low and apprehensions are felt of that stage when steamboatmen run all night and cuss all day.
Last night was the sultriest and uncomfortablest known in this latitude for many days. There was not wind enough to stir, ever so gently, the leaves on the trees and poor humanity sweltered and suffered.

We are pleased to learn of the very gratifying success which resulted from the excursion given for the benefit of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, about $110 having been realized as the net profits of the occasion.

The advertisement of Mr. John Werner, the front street barber, appears in this issue. He charges only 10 cents for a first-class shave and 25 cents for hair cutting and uses none but the purest materials. Give him a call.

The Thermometer.
From the United States Signal Office at this place we obtain the following report of the thermometer, as taken this morning at 7:31 o'clock:
Augusta, 82; Charleston, 82; Corsicana 76; Galveston, 82; Indianapolis, 85; Jacksonville, 83; Key West, 82; Mobile, 81; Montgomery, 79; New Orleans, 80; Norfolk, 76; Punta Rasa 82; Savannah, 87; St. Marks, 80; Wilmington, 81.

A Talk About Mosquitoes.
Mosquitoes lay their eggs upon the surface of water. The water must be stagnant, and rain water is a prime requisite for successful propagation. Five or six drops of kerosene oil will diffuse itself over the entire surface of a cistern, and will impart neither taste nor smell to water. Not evaporating it will remain all the summer. Mosquitoes will not lay their eggs upon it, nor would they hatch if laid. Try it, and rid yourself and neighbors of these terrible pests.

Good Luck.
Some men talk about luck. Good luck is to get up at six o'clock in the morning; good luck, if you have only a shilling a week, is to live upon eleven pence and save one penny; good luck is to trouble your head with your own business and let your neighbors' alone; good luck is to fulfill the commandments, and to do unto other people as we wish them to do unto us. They must not only plod but persevere. Hence must be taken care of by cause the seed of guineas. To get on in the world, they must take care of home, sweep their own doorways, try and help other people, avoid temptations, and have faith in truth.

Captured and Abandoned Property.

We call attention to the advertisement of the sale to be made by Gen. Manning, Sheriff of the county, to-morrow morning, in front of the Court House, the said sale being, the household effects left behind him by the late lamented departed W. H. Harrison.

The New Commissioner.
His Excellency, the Governor, yesterday appointed David S. Sanders, Esq., of Cape Fear township, a Commissioner for New Hanover county, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Delaware Nixon. All will concur in regarding this as an excellent appointment.

Your Poll.
Those who have not any property generally have a poll and this, it must be remembered, is taxable and a failure to list it is by a recent law a misdemeanor, when the party shall afterwards have voted, a fact which all would do well to remember. It is said that more poll taxes have already been given in this year than ever before.

Knights of Pythias.
The regular meeting of Germania Lodge No. 4, K. of P., will be held this evening when the report of the Representative to the Grand Lodge will be made. At the same time there will be a nomination of officers for the ensuing year. The election for these officers will take place next Thursday night and the installation on the first Thursday in July.

Directors Appointed.
His Excellency Gov. Vance on yesterday caused to be issued commissions to the following gentlemen as Directors of the State Colored Insane Asylum, Dr. J. W. Vick, Johnston; Theo. Edwards, Greene; E. B. Borden, Wayne; Dr. M. Moore, Duplin; O. G. Parsley, Jr., New Hanover; E. R. Liles, Anson; and M. M. Katz, New Hanover. All splendid appointments.

A Candidate for the Pen.
Hamp Gray, col., was before Justice Gardner, this morning, charged with cheating by false tokens. Gray was arrested on Tuesday morning for raising an order given by a man named Godbold, on Mr. Thos. Beck, from 25 cents to $1.50. He was required to give a justified bond of $200 for his appearance at the next term of Criminal Court, failing in which he was sent to jail.

Return of an Old Citizen.
Antoine Rush, a resident of this city for many years, but originally from Portugal, took a trip across the water about thirteen months ago to visit the land where he first saw the light. But after the lapse of the time above mentioned, he found his thirst for a drink from the old Rock Spring too much for him, so he yielded to the desire and again finds himself in Wilmington. Antoine thinks he no longer has any more.

Power of Police Officers to Arrest and Imprison Offenders.
The following, which we clip from the Statesville Landmark, will be found of peculiar interest to the authorities and citizens of Wilmington:
The decision of Judge Shenck in the case of the State vs. James H. McLoughlin, settles the vexed question that has so long agitated our municipal circles—the power of a police officer to arrest and imprison for a violation of a town ordinance without due process of law. The defendant was indicted in two cases: one for false imprisonment, one for assault and battery. In the first case Mr. Hussey, defendant's counsel, conceded that the act of the Legislature of 1868-69, conferring upon a public officer the power to imprison offenders without a mittimus, was unconstitutional. On the indictment for assault and battery, His Honor decided that there was excessive violence. The facts in the case are: defendant notified Woods, the prosecutor; that his team was hitched across a sidewalk in violation of a town ordinance. Woods refused to remove the team. In resisting the enforcement of the ordinance he was knocked down by the defendant with his "billy." By consent the question of fact was submitted to his Honor. In announcing the decision his Honor said that police officers, constables, &c., could only use such violent expedients in suppressing riots, preserving the public peace—where the offenders were in flagrant delicto. In this case it was the duty of the defendant to obtain a warrant, arrest the defendant and bring him before the Mayor. In response to Mr. Hussey's interrogatory: "What was the remedy for removing the obstruction from the sidewalk?" His Honor said that the town had its remedy by indicting the offender:
1. That a person cannot be imprisoned with a mittimus "due process of law."
2. That a person cannot be arrested without warrant, unless it is necessary to preserve the public peace, he being in flagrant delicto—engaged in the riot or breach of the peace.

Report of the Grand Jury.

The following is the report of the Grand Jury at the recent term of Criminal Court, on the County Poor House, Work House, Jail, etc., submitted through their Foreman, Capt. H. B. Willis:
GRAND JURY ROOM,
JUNE TERM CRIMINAL COURT,
New Hanover Co., N. C.
To His Honor, Judge Meares:

The Grand Jurors, for the above Term, having brought their labors to a close, respectfully submit the following report: They have had submitted for their action 125 bills, of which number 118 have been returned to Court as "true bills" and 12 have been returned as "not true bills." They have also made during the same time 17 "presentments." Embraced among that number are several for perjury, (a crime becoming of frequent occurrence) the remainder were for crimes of a less criminal nature.

The Jurors call the especial attention of this Court to presentments made against the Carolina Central Railway in regard to the unlawful and dangerous condition of the bridge across that road on Fourth street, and also to the unlawful condition of the crossings on the Wilmington & Weldon and Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta railroads on Nutt street between Red Cross and Campbells streets in the city of Wilmington. Both of these public thoroughfares have been complained of by a number of our very best citizens and their protests are entitled to an early examination by this Court. We therefore, thus publicly direct your Honor's attention to the matter.

The Jurors visited the Jail and found incarcerated therein, thirty-seven (37) prisoners, of whom 3 were white and 34 were colored; 4 females and 33 males. The sexes are kept separate and evidences of good discipline was apparent among them. There was no complaint made in regard to either treatment or food. They all stated that the rations furnished were abundant and wholesome. The general appearance of the cells and corridors were neat, the floors being very clean and the walls nicely whitewashed. The Jurors are unanimously of the opinion that Sheriff Manning and Daniel Howard, his Jailor, are entitled to praise for the manner in which the County Jail is now being kept.

From the Jail they visited the County Poor House. Going there unexpectedly, they found neither the Superintendent or Contractor on the premises, they were, however, shown through the different wards, which contained, in the aggregate, 30 persons, 12 of whom were insane—3 males and 9 females; 3 white and 9 colored. There were 18 indigent poor—8 males and 10 females; 5 white and 13 colored. The sexes and color are kept separate. The general cleanliness of this institution was not such as should be desired, but upon inquiry we found that the present contractor has only been in possession since the 1st of the present month (June) and finding everything in a bad condition has not had time to place the institution in that order that it is his purpose to keep it. We questioned all of the inmates capable of giving an intelligent answer, and they all seemed satisfied and contented and made no complaints. The Jurors learned that the dispensary was well stocked with medicine for general use, and that the physician's requisitions are always promptly filled by the Superintendent and that material for new clothing had been purchased, was being made up and would soon be issued. In connection with the Poor House, the Jurors submit the following received from Dr. W. J. Love, physician in charge. He says: "Understanding that the privilege of cutting wood from the county land between the Poor House and Smith's Creek, has been given to the Superintendent of the Work House, I would suggest to the Grand Jury that in all probability the said clearing would render malarial fevers very much more prevalent among the inmates of the Poor House than it has formerly been."

The Grand Jurors are of the opinion that the above referred to contract should be revoked and so recommend. The Jurors visited the Work House building and found no work going on and no prisoners there, save two prisoners at work near there who seemed little inclined to be interviewed and made no complaint. The Work House building, if of any value to the county, should have some repairs, as it is being badly damaged by the rains beating in through the roof near the gable ends. The main body of the Work House prisoners were said to be at work in the City. The Jurors know nothing of the contract of the Superintendent with the County Commissioners and can therefore make no intelligent report in regard to that institution.

HARRY B. WILLIS,
Foreman.

Repairs.
The Front Street Methodist Church, under the supervision of Capt. R. S. Radcliffe, architect, has recently been subjected to a general overhauling which has resulted in the improvement of its outside appearance.

The members of the Church have expended a nice little sum to give their sanctuary a better look and have gone to the expense also of putting down a nice brick walk from Front to Second streets, extending the entire length of the square from the Church to the parsonage.

Pretty Quick.

Steamship Benefactor, Capt. Jones, sailed to-day for New York with a full cargo. She arrived here yesterday at 10 a. m. and sailed to-day at 11 a. m., having discharged and reloaded in 18 hours, no work having been done at night. This might be called quick work but that's a way they have of doing things here.

Saponaceous.
A parapatetic soap peddler, from somewhere "down East" was in town this morning with a wagon load of soap which he distributed gratuitously, as a way of advertising the thing. Whether or not it was successful as an advertising dodge we don't know but certain it is that the fellow was a public benefactor, as some people will wash now who never washed before, and those who always washed will wash the more.

Scribner for July.
Opens with an illustrated paper on "Bow Shooting," by Maurice Thompson, who deals with his subject not in an archaeological, but in a practical, vein. "The Battle of Bunkerloo," a remarkable engagement not hitherto reported, is described by William Henry Bishop, with illustrations of the opening of the battle, and sketches of the participants, among whom were Lord Nelson, Benedict Arnold, Judas Maccabeus, "The Veiled Prophet of Khorassan," and the "Gallant Six Hundred." A special feature of the number is a story of twenty-five pages by the Russian novelist, Tourgueneff, entitled "The Nobleman of the Steppe." In an illustrated paper on "The Last Indian Council on the Genesee," David Gray, of the "Buffalo Courier," describes the remarkable meeting in 1872 of the grandchildren of Red Jacket, Joseph Brant, and Cornplanter, and descendants of other celebrated chiefs: "Richmond since the War," is the title of an illustrated paper by R. W. Wright, in which the pluck and prosperity of the Virginia metropolis are spoken of with enthusiasm. Miss Jane Stuart has a paper of "Anecdotes" of her father, Gilbert Stuart, the painter, which is said to be so much more interesting than her former article, which attracted so much attention. Charles Barnard writes of "Plate Locks and Palsley Shaws." There are many other timely papers and Paul H. Hayne, the Southern poet, contribute a gem. The editors expect that "The Midsummer Holiday" (August) Number will surpass the attractions which made its predecessor of last year such a success.
