VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

The Herald thinks it "not at all improbable that New York, New Jeresey, Pennsylvania, and even Ohio will give Democratic majorities this Fall."

Since the first of June 2,500 hogsheads of Southern Kentucky tobacco have been shipped to England via Norfolk, and shipments averaging 125 hogsheads daily contipue to be made.

Senator Anthony, like Senator Conkling, is going to disport himself in Europe this summer, and the pastport issued for him at the State Department requires all persons to treat him with the consideration due to his office.

Tirnova, that ancient capital of Bulfifty miles from Sistova.

Theodore Tilton and his daughter (Alice) have been lately seen promenading in Brooklyn streets. The two have just returned from a tour of twenty-five thousand miles, embracing every State, in the Union except three. The trip was partly for lecturing purposes, but mainly for pleasure.

Marie Seebach, the German actress who made a professional visit to the United States about six years ago, has been requested by the Dresden Conservatory to employ her leisure time in giving instruction in the dramatic art to the pupils ofr the higher classes.

The movements in relation to the new Administration paper at Washington are attracting attention. The parties interested represent, it is said, $350,000 of capital, but no name is mentioned except that of ex-Congressman Lynch. It conceded that the establishment of the newspaper will be a heavy blow-to the National Republican, and eventually lead to its suspending publication.

Longfellow as a boy was, according to the late J. S. C. Abbott, the pattern of the man Longfellow-very handsome, always well dressed, with no taste for any but refined pleasure. Frank Pierce was the most popular youth in college. Calvin Stower was the wag of Bowdon. Hawthorne never uttered a loud word or langh while in college; he was pensive, thoughtful, and a constant reader.

Matthews is not a Federal office-holder, to the amount was made up promptly-or be sure, but he is a United States senator, the recusant was guillotined on the spot. and is permitted by the President to The recent civil service order of Mr. Hayes violate both the Cincinnati platform and cuts off this source of supplies, and renders the letter of acceptance. Mr. Matthews was rather green in the management of the political machine when he was elacted be concocted, the fight will virtually be senator, but he is running the machine lost by them in advance. One thing seems with a very sturdy grip now.

The Queen of Holland on her deathbed wrote to a kinswoman in Paris: "The Revolutionists d'en haut are the most dangerous. Dying people are of a prophetic vision. I wish I did not feel that they have I foresee disastrous calamities in France, and in this little state to which I have become so attached. You will never see another Queen of Holland, and a republic the Senate be the first gun of the sweepwill not take my place."

The World says that Mrs. Marion Adams, a sister of the late Mrs. Andrew Jackson, and wife of President Jackson's adopted son, died at the "Hermitage," (her famous brother's Tennessee home) on Thursday morning from the effects of a fall which fractured her thigh about a month ago. Her remains will be interred in the Hermitage Burying-Ground today. She was was seventy-five years of

Among the queer things of commerce is the fact that beef, copper, and so many other commodities which are sent by the United States to England, sell for lower prices in England than they do here. The facts in regard to copper are peculiar. The exportation now amounts to 16,-000,000 pounds annually, and the product sells in London from 21 to 5 cents a pound cheaper than here. If this can be done, there is no need of maintaining the duty of five cents a pound on copper, for this industry is evidently able to take care of itself. To maintain the duty is to abuse the protection.

Captain John A. Webster, the hero of the Six-Gun battery (which played an important part in the defense of Batlimore against the British in 1814), has been spending a few days at Belair, Harford County, Md. He bears his age, 90 years, remarkably well, and is still erect as an Indian warrior. The battery commanded by Captain Webster in 1814 was known as the City or Babcock, battery, and was one of the two batteries intended to aid in protecting the city from assaults in the rear. It was believed at the time that his gallant conduct saved Fort McHenry and Baltimore.

THE OHIO CANVASS.

All accounts from Ohio, says the Rich mond Enquirer, agree in representing that the Democrats have a fine and encouraging chance of carrying the State in the election for Governor and State officers, as we'll as for members of the Legislature, which comes off this Fall. One circumstance full of significance in connection with this election is the indisposition of leading Radicals to be made the gubernatorial candidate. We take that to be pretty sure indication that the party of "great moral ideas" has not much hope of victory in the coming contest. Nor is the rule by any means confined to the Republicans of Ohio. It is not in human nature to desire the leadership of forlorn hopes which promise neither gain nor glory. Thus we find Mr. Taft, an inveterate office-hunter, declining the nomination for Governor by the Republican Convention of Ohio. Another statement is to the effect that Murat Halstead will probably be made the standard-bearer of the Radicals. Halstead's selection would be congaria, which the Russians are said to clusive proof that his party had no expechave occupied with their Cossack caval- tation of success. He would probably be ry, is about midway between the Danube put up with the distinct view of being and the Balkan range, and forty-five to beaten and finally removed from the arena of politics. A much keener interest than belongs to the gubernatorial succession centres in the choice of delegates to the Legislature. The secret of this unusual concern, which is not limited to the people of Ohio, is that the next Legislature will be called on under the law to elect a successor to Mr. John Sherman in the Senate of the United States. Stanley Matthews, as is known, was only elected to fill out Mr. Sherman's unexpired term. He has but a short tenure of official power. It is believed that the use he has made of his influence with President Hayes has rendered him very unpopular not only in Ohio, but generally among Republicans hardly be sent back to the Senate, even if the Republicans should carry the Legislature. There is every evidence of division and desertion, among the Republicans, affording good ground of hope that our Democratic friends will carry the day, and substract one more-from the narrow margin by which the Republicans hold the United States Senate. It is a consummation devontly to be desired. Mr. Matthews is a decided improvement upon Mr. Sherman. Any Democrat would be an equally welcome improvement, even on a Republican believed to be so moderate THROUGH FREIGHT TRAIN (Daily, ex and reasonable as Mr. Matthews.

One great difficulty which the Radicals complain of as attending their canvass is that of raising money. They used to assess the office-holders and office-seekers in whatever sums the managers thought Says the Philadelphia Times: Stanley should be severally borne by them, and the Republican camp-chest as bare as a bald head. Unless some new device can pretty certain: that a Radical compaign without the free use of money and adminlike the play of Hamlet with the Prince omitted. If the Ohio Republicans cannot raise any money, and have no aid from the government, they might as well surrender now; and let General Ewing's or some other good Democrat's election to ing Démocratic conquest which will be consummated by 1880.

A SEVERE TRUTH.

Senator Whyte, of Maryland, says that Hayes' late civil service order is, in his opinion, all bosh; that it cannot be carried out, if so intended, but that it is not intended to be. The Senator calls it an attempt to create a "silk-stocking party." He says: "The idea of the Republican wire-pullers and workers re maining out of conventions and committees is simply to give my side an easy victory. We do not intend to disbaul sions; no discounts. These Pianos made one our party, and if Hayes keeps all the of the finest displays at the Centennial Exhioffice-holders off, and prevents their money being used for election purposes why, then, it is about all we can ask of him; but, rely upon it, the rules laid down in the letter referred to will never in America. Dont fail to write for Illustrabe carried out." The Senator alluded to the Federal office-holders in Baltimore. remarking that if they were withdrawn from active participation in politics, why, then, there would be no Republican party left in his State.

BAD FOR HAYES.

The Tribune says "it is useless for th friends of the President to try to hide from themselves the unwelcome truth disclosed at Des Moines. The Republican party in Iowa is not pleased with Mr. Hayes, and the discussion of his policy by the convention has been exceedingly acrimonious, a large majoity of the delegates manifesting their hostility to the administration in the most open and we might almost say, con-temptuious manner." And a Washington special to the same paper states that a Great care is given to small jobs. prominent Pennsylvania politician predicts that the Radical convention of that State | SUBSCIRBE TO THE will closely imitate the course of the one just held in Iowa so far as its attitude to Hayes is concerned. The Camerons will have full control of it, and have resolved to permit no approval of the administration, and will give it the cold shoulder in a manner not to be mistaken. It looks as if Hayes is going to catch it hot all along the whole line.

Newport has not always received Presidents so ceremoniously as she did Mr. Hayes last week. When President Monroe first set foot there, a good old Quaker advanced, and with no ceremony whatever held out his hand with the greeting, "How does thee do, James? We are glad to see thee." And Mr. Monroe responded quite as simply.

A Superb Blood Depurent. Upon the action of the kidneys, bladde and bowels depends the depuration of the blood. It is by promoting the activity of these organs that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters ensures purity to the circulation. In its passage through the kidneys, impurities which beget rheumatism, gout and gravel are strained from the blood, but when those small but all important organs grow inactive, these impurities of course remain, and inevitably produce the diseases mentioned. Hostetter's Bitters rouse the kidneys' to renewed activity, by which means the blood is depurated. It likewise purifies the blood when contaminated with bile by promoting a gentle but effectual action of the bowels, and has the further effect of regulating the action of the liver, thus counteracting a tendency to billiousness. Dyspepsia, malarial fevers and urinary complaints are also conquered by it.

A UNBIVALED TLLUSTRATED MAGAZINE

When Scribner Issued its famous Midsummer Holiday Number in July, a friendly critic said of it: "We are not sure but that Scribner has touched high-water mark. We do not see what worlds are left to it to conquer." But the publishers do not consider that they have reached the ultima thule of excellence-they believe "there are other worlds to conquer, and they propose to conquer them.">

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit.
Under the head of

"Foreign Travel,"

we have "A winter on the Nile," by Gen. Mc-Clellan : "Saunterings About Constantino ple," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuy-ler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

Nicholas Minturn.

By Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Sevenoaks" gave the highes satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly. The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,-to drift on the current of life, -with a fortune, but with- their fruitful application to the industrial out a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's, ' by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burhett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been

NEW REVISED LDITION.

Entirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new type; ond illustrated with Several Thousand Engravings and Maps

The work originally published under the title of THE NEW AMERICAN CYLCOPAE DIA was completed in 1873, since which time the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States and the signal developments which have taken place in every brance of science, literattre, and art, have induced the editor and publisher to submit it to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled

THE AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA. Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an imperative want.

The movement of political affairs have kept pace with the discoveries of science and and useful arts and the convenience and refinement of social life. Great wars, and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happily ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced.

Large accessions to onr geographical knowledge have been made by the indefatigable explorer of Africa.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lapse of time have brought into public view a multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars Great battles have been fought and important sieges maintained; of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the trasient publications of the day and which ought now to take their place in permanent and authentic history.

In preparing the present edition for the press, it has accordingly been the aim of the editors to bring down the information to the curate account f the most recent discoveries in science, of every frehs production in literaure, and of the newest inventions in the practical arts, as well as to give a succinct and original record of the progress political and historical events.

The work has been begun after long and careful preliminary labor, and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a succ ssful temination.

None of the original stereotype plates have been used, but every page has been printed on new type, forming, in fact, a new Cyclopædia, with the same plan and compass as its predesessor, but with a fargreater pecunlary expenditure, and with such improvement in its composition as have been suggestedby longer experiencea nd enlarged know-

The illustrations which are introduced for the first time in the present edition have been added not for the sake of pictorial effect, but to give greater lucidity and force to the explanations in the text. They embrace all branches of science and natural history. and depict the most famous and remarkable features of scenery, architecture and art, as well as the various processes of mechanics, and manufactures. Although intended for instruction rather than embellishment, no pains have been spared to insure their artistic excellence; the cost of their execution is enormous, and it is believed they will find a welcome reception as an admirable feature of the Cyclopædia, and worthy of its high
