Lola Montez ?

There was no City Court to-day but there are several subjects already awaiting His Honor's attention for to-morrow. Among them is another soiled dove who gave her name as Lola Montez, and who came as she says from New Yrrk City to this place on a steamer recently. The question was asked this morning at the City Hall "is it not possible that this poor unfortunate creature may be the veritable Lola Montez who once was known to fame, and alas, to shame also?' But Chief Harry quickly responded in a deep bass tone: "No, no, too young looking for her." So the point was given up, but the curiosity is not abated, because some think that it is still probable.

A Family Row and Arrest.

John Grady and wife, colored, residents of Brooklyn, were arrested this morning by a policeman under the following circumstances : As officer G. W. Davis was needed, so the party broke up into groups walking his beat near the Brooklyn Market House, his attention was arrested by the report of a gun or pistol which ap- respect we think the "Whiting Rifles" peared to proceed from a house near by showed remarkable proficiency. in which Grady and his wife resided. Upon making enquiry of some of the neighbors the policeman was told that the two, viz. Grady and wife had been quarrelling all the morning and that it was a matter of very frequent occurrence. The policeman felt justified upon this evidence in entering the house which he did at once when he found Grady standing up in the room with the blood flowing freely from a severe wound which he had received in his wrist. The woman, his wife, was stooping down endeavoring to wash the blood stains from the floor. One double-barreled gun was found with one of the barrels discharged.

The parties were arrested and taken to the Guard House. Dr. Wright, the city physician, was sent for, who dressed the wounded man's arm. The woman gave bail and was released on a bond of $50. Grady was locked up. The case will come up for trial before His Honor, to-morrow.

Trouble is easily borrowed.

It seems that a Mr. Lofton Pridgen, who had a boat in a dock near by that he was looking after, thought he saw some one strike a match, and directly after saw a light flickering in the up-stairs of Messrs. Sprunt & Son's building. He immediately notified the policeman on Messrs. Worth & Worth's wharf, and together they proceeded in search of a policeman. The officers above mentioned were soon found and they all then went to the Sprunt building, but found that Mr. Carl M. Brown, of this city, while effected his entrance through the winperambulating along the banks of Col. dow. They of course started for the window also and were thus accosted by the city yesterday afternoon, with his rifle robber: "Gentlemen, I could kill you every one if I wanted to, but I won't do swimming in the water. It afterwards transpired that the fellow made no idle boast when he said he could kill every one of them, for upon his person was found a seven-shooter loaded and capped and ready for action. He also had in his possession some tinkers tools, consisting of a hammer, a file, a cold chisel, 3 bars of sodder and an awl. He also had in his pockets $2.15 in currency and $5 in Confederate money.

SMITHVILLE, N. C., July 18, 1877. DEAR MR. EDITOR :

Wednesday was a great day here. The populace, great and small, turned out to meet the Waccamaw when she arrived with the two military companies and the usual camp followers on board.

The Smithville small boy was in his glory-"gathering the shells by the seahore" for the benefit of the "up country" boys who seemed eager to buy shells of any description to take back home as a sourcnir of their visit to the village by the

It was a study to notice with what supreme innocence the "S. S. B." offered for sale the remarkably searce oyster shell probably, never thinking that he was selling his birthright.

The steamer, after landing most of the passengers, proceeded with the rest to 'Caswell," where she remained over an hour to give the party an opportunity of ooking over the old fort.

Some of our Western friends embarked n the three fast sailing yachts owned by Mr. Manson, of this place, and which contribute so largely to the enjoyment of "summer idlers" here. They seemed to enjoy themselves hugely, if we are to manages to please his passengers, however. At the Academy the Italian string band was in attendance, and the large hall was crowded with dancers who kept up the fun until the callings of nature proclaimed that something besides a handful of a girl's waist was and were soon busily engaged in executing brilliant flank movements on the differedt divisions of baskets. At high water a good many availed themselves of the opportunity and went in bathing. We have heard the wildest kind of an Indian yell, the fiercest kind of an Irish whoop, but for a real "kill-you-amile" blood curdling shriek, give us the average Wilmington boy when he first touches cold water.

But everything must end and here comes the Waccamaw ready for town; such a scramble! Smothered yells as some unfortunate hat was crushed in, &c. The Charlotte Grays looked cool and collected-around a huge tub of lemonade, and the W. R's looked at a table of sandwiches-but said never a word.

The usual ringing of bells, turning of wheels, &c., and the Waccamaw steamed off up the river with the Cornet Concert Club in full blast-and can't they blow? S. S. ZIP. Good bye,

Now it may not be denied that certain ports of minor importance in that 'region do escape an epidemic visitation of yellow fever during some seasons, but there is no evidence at all that they do not contain isolated cases of the disease, perhaps mild in character but withal capable of communicating the most virulent forms of the malady.
