City Court.

His Honor the Mayor pro tem., Alderman Flanner, had one case for trial this morning, that of drunkenness. His Honor, taking into consideration the fact that the prisoner had been confined since Saturday night, dismissed the case without further ado. And there being no other cases for trial the Court adjourned.

For What it is Worth.

The report has become current here that the yellow fever has appeared in Charleston and that there were ten cases there on Saturday. We give the report for what it is worth, suggesting to the Board of Health that they take some measures for ascertaining the facts in the case so, that we may be on our guard, should it become necessary.

Astronomical Spectacle.

A peculiarly beautiful picture may be seen each evening now in connection with the planet Jupiter. The planet is visible in the ealry part of the night in the southeastern sky, and to the naked eye is apparently alone. Upon holding a mirror, however, so as to catch its reflection, two stars or satellites are to be seen, one on each side of the planet. The sight is a beantiful one, and well worth seeing.

Criminal Court.

The third term of the Criminal Court for this county convened this morning at 10 o'clock, His Honor Judge Meares, presiding. The names of the Grand Jury were called and the following named persons answered to their names and were duly sworn in for this term of the court, as follows: Clayton Giles, foreman, the shed or filling in with dry sand. As Chas. M. Bradley, T. B. Carney, Alex Moore, Anthony Nixon, Julius Hahn, P. Heinsberger, James M. Galley, Jno. W. Alderman, Henry B. Walker, George Batson, P. P. King, Marsden Holden, John B. Berry, Edward Telfair, M. C. Walton, E. T. Suder, Wm. Martin.

His Honor then delivered his charge, a portion of which we chanced to hear, and which for clearness and conciseness in expounding the law, together with the forcible manner in which the Judge tried to impress upon the Jury the things that they were to take cognizance of as violations of the law, struck our mind as being the ablest of the several charges that we have chanced to hear Judge Meares deliver. There is certainly no loop hole left for a Grand Jury, (if it shoul dbe so inclined) escaping the discharge of its duty for want of knowledge as to what that dnty is, after listening to one of Judge Mearcs'

For the Review.

Is the Health Ordinance a farce? More than a week ago I wrote an article stating that in the rear of a residence on Market street known as the 'Clifford House" was a long wooden shed in which there was a wet muddy floor covered with a green miasmatic slime, and asked that this vile receptacle of putrid disease be obliterated either by removing o'clock, thence to Oakdale Cemetery. The yet nothing has been done and the dangerous nuisance still exists. Serveral of the officers, including the Superintendant, came arround and made a personal observation but as nothing has been done, is it not natural to suppose that they can do nothing? Can it be as has been suggested that as the property belongs to a lawyer he is at liberty to defy the law? Are City Ordinances passed only to be enforced when it is the pleasure of the party to submit? or can an individual challange t while the masses are compelled to obey. These questions we would like to have answered by the parties whose business it is to cleans, purify, and keep the city in a good sanitary condition. We believe they all know that this evil exists and that it is a great detriment to the health of the neighborhood, then let us see some immediate action taken in the matter, for it has been a disagreeable as well as dangerous eyesore already too long. Let the officers compel the owners to put the place in a good sanitary condition. If they have no power to do this, we are ferced to believe the Ordinance a farce.

For the Review. SOUTH WASHINGTON,

Saturday, Aug. 4, 1877. EDITOR REVIEW: - By authority of the County Commissioners, official proclamation has just been made from the door of the Court House here that Burgaw is now and defeat sits upon the countenances of the vanquished, while the radiant beams of joy and success light up the faces of the victorious. The majority for Burgaw over all other candidates combined, viz. Lillington, Rocky Point and South Washington, is handsome and significant Though victory perches upon the banner of Burgaw, its friends bear their hard carned triumph with that magnanimity which always become victors who have achieved an honorable success. Those who took the lead in the formation of Pender county and who have been prominent in placing the county site in the central and convenient location of Burgaw have not been actuated by personal ends or selfish purposes. The high paramount motives of the public good—of the best interests of all parties and colors in Pender have been the inspiring purpose. Time has shown and will show this to be true. In future years when these exthem the state of the citements and premises have passed away | will receive their invitations before the time and these leaders are in their graves, jus- set for the Picnic will have arrived, of which tice will be done then, but not until due notice will be given. then. To Smithville, Bald Head, &c. Already is a narrow gauge railroad talked of from Burgaw down into Onslow.
