THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. 2. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1877. NO. 172

NEWS SUMMARY.

The silk weaver's strike at Paterson, N. J., has ended. Three white men and three negroes, Kipatrick, and Bush were arrested Saturday night near Pickensville, N. C. The particulars of the strike have not yet been received. Grant was at Como on Wednesday. The rioting was renewed in some parts of Belfast on Wednesday night. The military was again called out. There was a large greenback demonstration in Paterson, N. J., on Wednesday night, with 1,000 persons present. The choice yet in the Virginia Convention and they seem determined to nominate a platform. Lord Russell, before Parliament separates, will make a statement of the position and policy of Government on the Eastern question. A Daily News' special, from Alexandria, reports that orders have been received at Suez to prepare immediately for service all available steamers. The News' Constantinople dispatch states that regulations concerning a forced loan of 600,000,000 francs and the formation of a civil guard for the capital are published. All of the Ottoman subjects, without distinction, must participate in the loan. Men from twenty to forty years will be enrolled in the civil guard. More trouble at Port Johnson and Berge Point among the coal heavers. The Porte has officially informed the English Embassy that, after two days' hard fighting at Lovatz, the Russians suffered a severe defeat. The Brandywine Woolen Mills, situated three miles east of Schuylkill, New York, and owned by George McClyman, were burned Wednesday. Grant winks a finger in the sea and so, having a plenty for himself, he hopes there will be no remonstration for the benefit of other people. The bond for half a million, given by the Centennial Exposition Commission, was surrendered yesterday, all its nominations having been fulfilled. It will be placed in the archives of the Pennsylvania Historical Society. Ex-President Benjamin of Hayti, died in exile, aged 77. The Minister of the Interior of Canada is in Washington, with a view to the return of Sitting Bull and the Sioux to the United States. John T. Ford's eldest daughter, Mrs. Ann Thornton, is dead. The last stationer at Phillipsburg have returned to Trenton, and have been disarmed. All riotous disposition has been quelled, and everything has been restored to regularity on the New Jersey railroad. The rumored strike of engineers and firemen seems to have no foundation. At the Erie, New York Central, New Jersey Central, and Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad offices, everything is reported working well along their lines. No demand has been made for an increase of wages, and no notice whatever has been received that a strike is contemplated. There are two canal boats tied up by the strikers at Hancock. Troops were sent to open navigation. The lake met yesterday at Augusta, Me., and nominated Seldon Barrow for Governor. Their resolutions rather evade the question of an endorsement of Hayes, Hayti. The Russians attacked Havana yesterday in force, but the result is unknown as yet. The interview between Emperors William and Francis terminated cordially. The official statement, number 9,395. The news at Havana are not included in this summary.

L. M. WILLIAMS—Notice.
THOS. B. CARR & SON—Delays are Dangerous.
There is an unmailable letter in the Postoffice in this city for Miss Jennett Cobb, Berryville, Clark county, Va.
The attention of marketmen is called to the advertisement of L. M. Williams, Esq., Clerk of the Market, as it appears in this issue, relative to a penalty for carts leaving the pavement before the market fees are paid.
Refused to Resign.
In the Criminal Court yesterday Anthony Howe, J. P., was tried on a charge of extortion and a verdict was rendered of not guilty. The Jury, however, thought that the evidence was sufficient to justify them in calling upon the colored Justice, suggesting that he resign. For this purpose a committee, headed by the Foreman, called upon him to-day and presented the demand to him, but he peremptorily refused to resign and that is where the matter stands now. It is understood that the Court endorsed this action of the Jury.
Struck by Lightning.
The vivid lightning and heavy thunder of last evening has been very generally commented upon as being the nearest and most severe we have had in this section for some time. The impression at the time of the heavy crashes was that some building, tree or vessel's mast had been struck by the electric fluid. It was not long afterwards we were informed that the dwelling of Mr. S. F. Walcott, on Front street, between Wooster and Dawson, had been struck by the fluid and that the weather-boarding had been torn off of the South side of the building, and several panes of glass shattered. The family were badly shocked, though none seriously hurt.
What pleasant memories of the past and agreeable associations of the present are involved in the words, buckwheat-cakes, muffins, waffles, biscuits, rolls, pot pies, fruit dumplings, etc. To make these perfect use DODLEY'S YEAST POWDER.

The Colored Insane Asylum.

The Commissioners of the colored Insane Asylum met at Goldsboro on Tuesday for the purpose of determining upon the site for locating the asylum. At the morning meeting little business was done save the election of a Treasurer, which position was given to Mr. H. P. Dortch. For this position there were three candidates, Mr. R. P. Howell, Mr. Chas. Dewey, Jr., and Mr. Dortch. On the last ballot Mr. Dortch received the full vote, except that of Mr. Borden, who did not vote at all, for reasons of a private nature. Col. Liles was not present, owing to sickness in his family. In the afternoon the commissioners visited the several places proposed as sites for the asylum, but did not make any selection. It is proposed to receive propositions in writing and reduce matters to some system before deciding upon any locations. There are any number of applications for the various positions in the gift of the commissioners, but no action was taken on any. There are five applicants for the position of Superintendent, and a number for the position of Assistant Surgeon, Steward, etc. There was a rumor that the Wilmington delegation desired a reconsideration of the vote by which the Asylum was located in Goldsboro but a conversation among the members before the meeting indicated that the motion would not be entertained and hence it was not introduced.

Very Sudden Death.

About 9 o'clock this morning a colored man by the name of David Davids, alias David Smith, appeared at an eating stall in the lower end of the Market House kept by Sylvia Parmer and ordered breakfast but hardly had he begun to partake of his meal when he was summoned before his Maker. Dropping his knife and fork, he reeled and fell backwards from a bench on which he was sitting, the left side of his head striking the brick pavement of the Market House. Those who witnessed the fall of the unfortunate man hurried to his assistance and finding him unable to sit up placed a bag under his head. A physician was summoned, but before his arrival David Davids had breathed his last and his soul was in eternity. The body of the deceased was moved from the Market House to the Guard room in the City Hall building where an inquest was held over it, the verdict of the jury being that "deceased came to his death from natural causes, probably heart disease."
Davids came to this city in September last and placed himself under Dr. M. J. DeKosset, for treatment of his eyes, which were seriously effected, caused by some obscure nervous affection. He returned to his home in Florence, S. C., shortly after an operation was performed on his eyes, and has been making periodical visits to this city since then, to consult Dr. DeKosset about his physical troubles. From one who has known the deceased for the past nine years, we learn that he was a hard working, industrious man, and by his economical habits had become possessed of a nice little farm near Florence, and had recently purchased some town property in that place. He had been employed by the W. C. & A. R. R. at Florence, for the past nine years, and was much thought of by the agent at that place, Samuel Davids, the father of the deceased, died about a year ago as suddenly as did his son this morning. The news of the sudden death was dispatched to his relatives and the remains will be sent to Florence to-day for interment.

Cornet Concert Club.

The following programme has been adopted by the Cornet Concert Club for their Concert to be given by them this evening at the stand on Fifth street, between Market and Dock:
1. Quick March—
2. Andante and Waltz—"Nightingale."
3. Grand March—"Brazilian."
4. Nocturne—"By the Quiet Lake" (by request)
5. Andante and Schottische—"Oriole."
6. Song—"Shells of the Ocean," quartette for four horns.
7. Song—"Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming."
8. Quick Step—"Felix."

The Rain and the River.

There was a heavy rain in the upper Cape Fear section on Wednesday night, but not enough, it is thought, to endanger the fine crops in the river lands in Bladen county.
Capt. Robinson, of the steamer Ware, which arrived here at 2 o'clock this morning, tells us that he did not encounter any of the terrible rain storm which visited this section yesterday afternoon, and the conclusion is, therefore, that it was confined to this immediate section.

Ball at Beaufort.

There is to be a dress ball, at Beaufort on next Thursday, complimentary to Gov. Vance and staff. We notice in the Raleigh Observer in the list of managers the name of Geo. W. Kidder, Esq., and Dr. W. B. Short, and among the honorary managers, Hon. A. A. McCoy of Sampson, Hon. Geo. Davis, Hon. A. M. Waddell, Col. A. Pope, Hon. R. R. Bridgers, and Maj. Graham Daves, of New Hanover.

A Regular Size for 75 cents; two doses will relieve you.

City Court.

The only case before His Honor this morning was that of a white man by the name of Wm. Hedgepeth, charged with disorderly conduct.
Officer Edward Davis, of the night police force, who made the arrest was sworn and testified that he heard cries of murder, help, &c., proceed from a house on the corner of Second and Mulberry streets, and that he proceeded there in company with Sergeant Forrest and entered the house; quite a crowd was in and around the house, drawn together by the same cries which attracted his attention. He could not testify to any disturbance inside of the house though, beyond the fact that the women were crying and screaming. At first he did not see Mr. Hedgepeth, but upon looking around in another room discovered him. He had nothing in his hand, offered no resistance to arrest and went with the police very quietly. When asked by the Mayor what Mrs. Hedgepeth said, the witness stated that she said "take him out of the house; kill him; do anything with him that you want to so that you never let him come back here any more."
Mrs. Hedgepeth was sworn and testified that Mr. Hedgepeth was in the habit of coming home intoxicated; that he was never so drunk that he would fall down, as he had drunk too much liquor for that and could stand it too well; and that furthermore that he was always complaining and finding fault every night when he came home, and that nothing could please him. That last night she determined not to stay in the room with him while he ate his supper; that she put it on the table for him and then went out; that Hedgepeth called her to come back and she and her daughters went in a room and locked the door; that Hedgepeth got an axe and broke the door open; that she and her daughters rushed at him and seized the axe and took it away from him and then screamed. When asked if her husband offered any violence she could not say that he did. His Honor, the Mayor pro tem., then asked Mr. Hedgepeth what he had to say for himself. The old man said well, he suppose he must have been most too forward, probably he did wrong; if so he was willing to confess it. But that he had never thought of harming any of the women; that when he used the axe to break open the door it was the handle that he did it with. Here was a case, as Sam Weller would say, of too much connubial infelicity, and we could not help thinking with old King Lear, that possibly the old man was more "sinned against than sinning." Hedgepeth is a hard working old man, about 72 years of age, a mechanic and engineer by trade and is a shifting engineer up at the Carolina Central depot. It was eight o'clock last night when the old man got off his engine, and it was about half-past nine when the disturbance occurred at his house. There seemed to be no Cordelia among the step-daughters of old Hedgepeth to take sides with him, and the old fellow stated that when there were three against one, why he did not know what to do. Mayor Flanner pronounced a verdict against the defendant in the shape of a fine of ten dollars, and required him to give a bond of $100 to keep the peace for six months.
The Court then adjourned.

More Excursions.

The stmr. North East brought to this city yesterday afternoon quite a number of colored 'excursionists'. They have spent the day looking around and will return this evening.

State vs. Jesse Brown, for larceny. Guilty.

Weather Statistics.

We are indebted to the U. S. Signal officer at this place for some interesting statistics relative to the fall of rain thus far this month and in July. The heavy rain of yesterday do not seem to have extended into the interior, but were general along the Atlantic and Gulf coast from Norfolk to New Orleans. The rainfall here last month was as follows: July 3d, .85; 4th, .02; 11th, 1.26; 19th, .10; 20th, 2.07; 21st, .92; 22d, 3.88; 25th, .25; a total of 9.35 inches for the entire month. Thus far this month it has been as follows: 1st, 1.19; 7th, 1.41; 8th, .32; 9th, 2.84; 10th, .02; a total for the ten days of 5.78 inches. Thus in August, in ten days, we have had about 60 per cent of the fall during the entire month of July.
Yesterday evening two large trees on 2d, between Church and Castle streets, were struck by lightning.
