

CAROLINA.

Halifax county issued marriage licenses last month for 6 white and 7 colored couples.

Louisburg Courier: The revival is still progressing in the colored Baptist Church, with about 50 or 60 inquirers at the altar.

Monroe Enquirer: A few days ago a mule belonging to Mr. Henry A. Shute, of this place, trotted a mile in three minutes, on a common dirt road.

Concord Sun: A friend from Harrisburg tells us of a remarkably good yield of sorghum, in that vicinity. Wm. Holland, a tenant on Dr. Blair's farm, made 101 gallons of molasses from a patch of 3/4 of an acre of sugar cane.

Concord Sun: Mr. A. Crowell, of Mt. Pleasant, sends us in an item "concerning" of a turtle. He and his brother were in Mr. Dan Miller's mill Tuesday night, grinding, and the machinery suddenly came to a stand still. A careful investigation followed, when the cause of the trouble was found to be a large turtle fastened in the water wheel. Upon being removed from its novel situation and placed on the scales, this turtle weighed just 24 pounds.

Raleigh Observer: A. O. Shields, formerly of Moore county, N. C. was murdered in Hardeman county, Tennessee, on July 22d. His body bore 46 wounds. Alvis Phillips, the son of his wife by a former husband, and William Burrow, the husband of one of his step-daughters, have been arrested and committed to jail, charged with the murder. Mr. Shields was the son of Archibald Shields, and emigrated from Moore to Tennessee in 1860.

Monroe Enquirer: We hear of some extraordinary good corn in Jackson township. Mr. Allison Simpson has an acre that has been carefully estimated and he, we understand, is confident of making 100 to 120 bushels. Messrs Geo. W. and W. J. McCain have about four acres of an island in their mill pond, which, from present prospects, will yield at least 75 bushels per acre. In Mr. Simpson's patch the hills are five feet apart each way, and have five to seven stalks to the hill. Was very heavily manured and subsoiled.

Raleigh Observer: A telegraphic dispatch was received in Fayetteville on Friday announcing the death in Philadelphia of Mr. William Widdifield. Mr. Widdifield was for many years a member of the Fayetteville Independent Company and served in its ranks in the First Regiment, N. C. Troops, during the late civil war. He was a participant in the late celebration (August 23d) of the 84th anniversary of the company, and went north on Monday last. His death, says the dispatch, was of apoplexy. Mr. Widdifield was about 41 years of age. He leaves a wife and four children.

The ministers in attendance were Rev. W. H. Bobbitt, D. D., Presiding Elder; Rev. W. M. Roby, President of Davenport Female College; Rev. A. A. Boshamer, Pastor Tryon street Church, Charlotte; Rev. Boshamer, at 3; and Rev. W. M. Roby, at 8 p. m. The preaching was the best we ever heard on any similar occasion. Considerable feeling was manifested after the sermon at night, and was kept up till the close of the meeting, which took place on Tuesday morning.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

AA UNRIVALED ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE. When Scribner issued its famous Midsummer Holiday Number in July, a friendly critic said of it: "We are not sure but that Scribner has touched high-water mark. We do not see what the world is left to it to conquer." But the publishers do not consider that they have reached the ultima thule of excellence—they believe "there are other worlds to conquer, and they propose to conquer them."

"Foreign Travel."

we have "A winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

Nicholas Minturn.

By Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Sevenoaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly. The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always fitted to a woman's apron strings, but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story began in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original and exquisitely illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

"Home Life and Travel."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Loaf Factory," in the November number, and "Toad Lane, Kochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workmen's Union," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Half-penny a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of "Household and Home Decoration" will have a prominent place, whilst the latest productions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Wellford.

The pages of the magazine will be open, as heretofore, as far as space will permit, to the discussion of all themes affecting the social and religious life of the world, and especially to the freshest thought of the Christian thinkers and scholars of this country.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.
