THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. 2. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1877. NO. 196

Ending The Sioux Indian War.
Chicago, Sept. 5.—The following dispatch was received at military headquarters to-day:
CHEYENNE, Sept. 5.
To Lieut. Gen. Sheridan.
Crazy Horse is now a prisoner, and I have ordered Bradley to send him off where he will be out of harm's way. You can rest assured that everything at the agencies is perfectly quiet, and will remain so.
The advance of the Lame Deer party has already come in, and the balance will be in four or five days, with the exception of four or five lodges that went to hunt up Sitting Bull. I have given the necessary orders about disarming them as they come in. This is the end of all trouble as far as all the Sioux are concerned, outside of Sitting Bull.

Funeral of Admiral Semmes.
The funeral of Admiral Raphael Semmes took place at Mobile on Sunday 1st. The remains were received at the wharf by the military and citizens and escorted to the cathedral. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated, and Father Ryan delivered a eulogy on the character and sterling virtues of the deceased. Right Rev. Bishop Quinlan bestowed the final absolutions. The funeral procession was then formed. It consisted of the First regiment, Alabama state troops; the Catholic clergy of Mobile, in carriages; the Lee Association; city police force in uniform, boards of common council and city officials, members of the Mobile bar, a large number of pall-bearers, selected from the most prominent citizens; friends and citizens on foot and in carriages. The remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery. In the city of Mobile every respect was shown the memory of the dead. From the public and private buildings and shipping in the harbor flags were displayed at half-mast. The cotton exchange and board of trade were closed. Every half-hour from sunrise to sunset cannons were fired. The regret at his death seemed universal, and the testimonial to his memory was participated in by the citizens of Mobile generally.

Massachusetts Greenbackers.
Boston, Sept. 5.—The Independent Greenback party of Massachusetts held a State Convention here to-day. About 100 persons were present. An effort to nominate B. F. Butler for Governor was made, but Wendell Phillips received the nomination by a vote of 45 to 13.
The following nominations for State officers were made: Lieutenant-Governor, Dyer D. Luna of Northampton; Secretary of State, Nathan Clarke, Jr., of Lynn; Auditor, H. M. Beane of Boston; Treasurer, W. F. Whitney of South Ashburnham; Attorney-General, Israel W. Andrews of Danvers.
The resolutions adopted demand the repeal of the specie resumption act, the restoration of the silver dollar as a full legal tender, the abolishment of taxation on mortgaged property, the stoppage of further issue of gold bonds for sale in the foreign markets and the reduction of the public expenditures, and the rapid payment and extinction of all outstanding State and municipal debts. They also recommend that any and all money issued by the Government, whether of gold, silver, or paper, should be a full legal tender, and at all times convertible into Government bonds bearing a low rate of interest.

Trouble in the Coal Regions.
Scranton, Pa., Sept. 5.—Notwithstanding the presence of the troops in this city, outrages are becoming frequent in the suburbs. Last night two pumpmen, named John Finch and Hugh Myers, employed at the Briggs shaft, were followed by a crowd of strikers and seriously assaulted. To-day Capt. Bingham, of the Ninth Pennsylvania Regiment, with a company of soldiers, went to the shaft and captured eight of the intimidators. They were placed under bonds to appear for trial.
The pumps in the Olympian mines of the Delaware and Hudson Company were started to-day for the first time in three weeks, the water having reached an alarming height. The miners of the Pennsylvania Coal Company will hold a meeting at Pittston to-morrow, to again consider the question of accepting the company's terms, it having been charged the former action of these miners was the result of intimidation.

Baltimore, Sept. 5.—The Democratic State Central Committee met to-day and issued a call for a Convention to nominate a candidate for Comptroller of the State Treasury to meet in this city on Sept. 29.
Senator Owen of South Carolina late to-night at the Howard House, from epilepsy produced by intemperance. His wife and father reached here from Columbia this morning, and took possession of his effects, said to be worth in cash and other securities upward of $40,000.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—A rumor is afloat among army officers stationed here that the de facto President intends to place Adjutant Gen. E. D. Townsend on the retired list.
Outbreak in Lower California.
SAN DIEGO, Sept. 5.—The Secretary of La Frontera, Lower California, and Pedro Badillo, who only a few hours ago escaped to this side of the line by hard riding, report the whole frontier in a state of revolution. A party of fifty men, mounted and armed to the teeth, rode to Badillo's ranch, where the Secretary was staying. An Indian boy gave the alarm, and they barely escaped with their lives, coming directly to San Diego.

"Oh!" said the wife, "I've solved the secret by using the greatest thing in the market for baking—DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. Henceforth my kitchen knows no other."

Another Burglary.
Night before last the residence of Mr. W. B. McKoy, on Fifth, between Market and Dock streets, was burglariously entered and clothing to the value of about sixty dollars was carried off. At the time of the burglary Mr. McKoy was at the Sound and was not aware of it until his arrival in town yesterday morning. It is supposed an entrance was effected into the dwelling through the second-story window over the piazza at the back of the house. On entering the house Mr. McKoy discovered a pair of pants with the pockets torn lying on the floor of the parlor, also a vest very near them. Mr. McKoy's name was written on these two articles and the thief evidently left them to avoid detection. The front window was discovered to be raised and the blinds slightly ajar. A survey of the other rooms in the house was made, and the closet in Mr. McKoy's bed room was found to have been ransacked, in fact, every article of clothing which had been placed there had been carried off.

Nothing but the clothing has been missed so far, but no doubt many other articles will be missed from time to time, as the thieves seem to have searched carefully for valuables.

It recommends that Harnett Township, except that portion within two miles of the city limits, be designated as School District No. 5, and that Capt. Lewis Pierce, Jordan Nixon and Daniel C. Rosh-Hashanah, or The Jewish New Year 5638 A. M.
The festival bearing the above name will be ushered in by the Israelites this evening. With the single exception of the Day of Atonement, this is the most solemn of all the holy days in the Jewish calendar, since it has always been and is partly still believed by the adherents of the Mosaic religion that beginning with the first day of each year until after the Day of Atonement, a period of ten days, the Almighty sits in judgment over his creatures, and marks out the destinies of nations as well as of individuals for the ensuing twelve months. Even those of the most radical reformed schools ascribe great importance to this solemn festival, and observe it as a memorial, according to the Scriptural injunction (Leviticus, xxiii, 23, 24) which reads as follows: "The Lord spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, In the seventh month, on the first day of the month, shall you have a rest, a memorial of sounding the cornet, a holy convocation."

It may not, perhaps, be generally known, and therefore is of some interest to the student, that the Jews, in ritualistic affairs, have adopted neither the practice of reckoning the year from the birth of Christ, nor the solar year. Their year is lunar, and their era dates from the creation of the world. Their common year consists of twelve lunar months; but in order to neutralize the difference between the solar and the lunar year, the Jews have seven leap years within a lunar cycle of nineteen years, each of which has an additional month. The coming year is a leap year, and will therefore have thirteen months.

The Jewish practice of reckoning the year from the creation of the world is comparatively modern. Their ancestors seem to have changed the manner of computing time according to circumstances. Whatever starting point their chronology took before the Exodus, it is certain that, after this great event, the Jews began their year with the reverence of the anniversary of their deliverance, while this memorable event lost, in turn, its chronological priority immediately after the erection of Solomon's temple, which incident was preferred to compute the year. After the Babylonian captivity, again, it became the practice of some to keep its memory fresh in their minds by counting the year from that misfortune, while others chose reckoning from the time that Chaldee and Persian kings ascended the throne.

Three hundred and eighty years before the second dispersion through the Romans the Israelites adopted the "Grecian," or more properly, the "Seleucidian" era. The name is derived from Seleucus, one of the four generals of Alexander the Great, among whom the vast Macedonian empire was divided. He treated the Jews, who formed a large population in his dominions, with much consideration; and this pleasing circumstance may have aroused their gratitude to such an extent that to perpetuate his memory they adopted the custom just alluded to. It would be impossible to say with precision when and how that custom lost its almost universality among the Hebrews. Authors, however, seem to agree that a return to the original rule of computing the year from the creation does not date any earlier than the tenth or eleventh centuries of the present era.

Returned.
Mr. A. David has returned here from the Northern markets where he has been for the past three weeks purchasing the large stock of clothing and goods furnishing goods which he is to open next week in the handsome store leased by him, corner of Princess and Front streets. The removal from his present place of business will be made next Monday.

Fire at Burgaw.
The fine two-story building at Burgaw, the new county seat of Pender county, known as the Hotel, was destroyed by fire last night. The building was unoccupied and there is good reason to believe that the fire was the work of incendiaries. There are rumors and reports relative to the suspicions which are entertained, which we forbear to give currency to just at present. We could not learn who owned the property, nor whether it was insured. The building was located near the depot and was about to be thoroughly overhauled and repaired when the torch was applied to it. It is hoped that the diabolical rascals may be detected and punished.

Purcell House.
We understand that this popular house has been rented for the ensuing year by Messrs H. & C. D. N. Cobb, who will continue the business there at the expiration of Col. Davis' lease, which expires October 1st. The new lessees are clever young gentlemen, both good business men, and we heartily wish them success.

The State Fair.
Thanks to Capt. C. B. Denzon, Secretary, for a card of admission to the State Fair, which is to open at Raleigh on the 16th of October and close on the 20th. A letter from Capt. Denzon, which accompanies the card, says:
Our prospects are most brilliant for the best fair ever held in North Carolina. The entries are very large in number. The display by the Agricultural Department of grains, grasses, fruits, &c., will include every county in the State. The grand review of the whole military force of the State will be a striking feature, and the display by the various female schools in competition for the splendid organ, value $300, given, for the best drawing, painting, embroidery and needle work, is another item of much interest. Very fine horses have entered for the races, and we anticipate a delightful time.

The German Volunteers.

The Hamlet Connection.
Who struck Billy Patterson is a question which has for ages stumped the philosophers and sages of the world, and when the railroad connection will be made at Hamlet bids fair to be like unto it. The railroad men have held innumerable meetings and the connection has been frequently made on paper, but still we haven't heard of any passengers going to Raleigh by that route, and the freight which goes from Charlotte to Norfolk goes by the old way.

They do say though, now, that there is a better prospect just ahead for an agreement between the authorities of the two roads than has ever been before. Capt. V. Q. Johnston, superintendent of the Carolina Central Railroad, and F. W. Clark, Esq., general freight agent of the same line, left yesterday evening for Baltimore, where they have an engagement with Col. John M. Robinson, president of the Raleigh & Augusta Railroad, for to-morrow or next day, when it is hoped and believed that their differences will be adjusted. They are now, since their last negotiations, but three points apart, the Carolina Central demanding 31 per cent. as its share of the money received for freight over the two lines.—Charlotte Observer.
