MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1877.

A HERO OF THE WAR. Captain James J. Waddell, who commanded the famous Confederate Cruiser Shenandoah, which played such sad havoc with Yankes shipping in the Pacific Ocean during the late war, arrived in this city by Saturday evening's train from Ealtimore, on route for his old home in Hills-

Capt. Waddell is a genuine North Caroliniat of whom the old North State has just cause to be proud for the valuable service be rendered the cause which she espensed in the times that tried men's souls.

The exploits performed by this gallant son of North Carolina, while in command of this dauntless ship, has become a matter of history, which we hope will not soon be forgotten.

GETTING BETTER.

We are glad to learn of the improve entent in our neighbor of the Star. He is getting both polite and considerate as well as politic. Not a word in a week about the "Bourbons" and the "Democratic Democrats," and no laudation of layes in three issues. We have always thought that our neighbor sobers side would eventually come uppermost and that he would be led to see the error of his ways. We hope that the change is a permanent one we had something to do with bringing about this better state of affairs. It is well for him to remember always, as Postmaster General Kev did, that

The liberalest liberal may return, To the bosom of the "Democratic Democrats."

BANK.

In the review of the history of the late Freedman's Bank, the New York Journal of Commerce states that during the first ten months of its existence the institution received deposits amounting to $305,167. For the year ending March 1, 1867, the deposits were |$1,624,853,33; for 1868 $3,582,378,36; for 1869, $7,257,798,53 for 1870, $12,605,781,95; and for 1871, $19,852,647,36. When the bank was forced into liquidation in 1874 the total amount of deposits had reached in round numbers $56,000,000, and the amoun paid out to depositors $53,000,000, leaving balance due depositors at the time of the failure, $3,000,000, and of this amount $2,992,033,55 were due to colored

THE DEBT STATEMENT.

The debt statement for the 1st of September shows a decrease of the debt during the previous month of $3,863,538.75, which is considerably more than for the preceeding month, and it is due in part to the increased receipts from import duties. The coin in the Treasury is set down at $106,904,836, but how much of this is silver is not stated. The called bonds and unpaid interest amounts to $27,411,187, and the coin certificates to $38,525,400, leaving $40,908,349 of coin at the Government's disposal. This accumulation of specie, in connection with the fact of a steady decline in the price ot gold, has been referred to, and with reason, by Mr. Sherman as extremely encouraging. The outstanding legal tenders on the 1st were $358,040,096, which includes the old demand notes. The national bank notes were $315,260,928.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

An election is being held in Maine today for a Governor, members of the Legislature and county officers. Selden Conner, of Augusta, is the candidate of the Republicans for Governor and Joseph II. Williams, also of Augusta, of the Democrats, while Rev. H. C. Munson, of Showhegan, is the nominee of the greenbackers.

We do not look for a Democratic success in Maine; the odds are too heavy and, besides, the Republicans have a strong ally | tinue until further notice, as follows: in the Liberal wing of the Democratic party who, in pursuit of their own selfish aims, are doing more injury to themselves than to the opposition. The last Legis- spection. lature of the State stood 29 Republicans to 2 Democrats in the Senate and 120 Republicancs to 31 Democrats in the House, During the past three years the vote of the State stands as follows:

Year, Office, 1876 President 1876 Governor Rep. 66,300 75,612 57,085 Dem. ' Scat. 49,914 60,652 53,213 1,662

It will thus be seen that the chances are too fatally against the Democratic party in Maine for them to expect a success -scarcely to aspire to one. But Maine is wedded to her idols and we of the South need care but little if the union is made perpetual. We can do without Maine as readily as we can without Blaine for the next fifty years, and we can rule her

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 8, 1877. The action of the Administration in coupling other cases with that of Naval Officer Cornell, and postponing his remov-al until the meeting of Congress, excites wide and unfavorable comment. People had begun to look upon Mr. Hayes' order prohibiting office-holders from taking any active part in politics as a deal of a sham, designed not so much to benefit the civil service as to create a little cheap popularity, but people generally believed he would enforce it impartially. But Mr. Corncll treated the order with contempt and his conspicuous position in office and one. Assigning another reason for the

The Commisioner of Indian Affairs is to be removed. Those who read the monthly statements of Secretary Sherman, showing reductions THE FREEDMAN'S SAVING'S of the "public debt" of from three to four BOOK AND JOB PRINTER. millions, must not take them literally. They are not literally true. They are deceptive and are meant to be deceptive. The bonded and greenback debt, the re- and lowest in prices. ported debt, is deceased, but the unreported debt increases under this Administration, and the fact is concealed. Congress, at various times from the foundation of the Government until now, has passed various laws by which money was appropriated for various purposes.

Under these laws parties have become and are continually becoming entitled to money from the government. Heretofore they have been paid as their claims were presented and completed, but under Hayes and Sherman they are not paid. The millions yearly paid out in this way are retained in the Treasury. This portion of the "public debt" is exactly as legal as any -- is supported by explicit act of Congress and goes on increasing from day to day as claims are presented and completed. Sherman's last statement showed a reduction of four millions in the recorded debt. To be full it should have shown a large increase in the unrecorded debt.

As a means of checking complaints which, if allowed to proceed, finally disorder the entire system, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a medicine the use of which cannot be too strongly urged upon the sick and feeble. The physical functions are regulated by it, it insures the acquisition of vigor by the debilitated. and it substitutes a cheerful condition of mind for gloom and despondency. Dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint and kidney and bladder troubles yield to its remedial influence; it counteracts a tendency to gout, and rheumatism, and invigorates the nerves Moreover, it is derived from purely botanical sources, and in this, as in every other re-spect, is superior to the mineral remedies of

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

AA UNRIVALED ILLUSTRATED MAGAZINE

When Scribner Issued its famous Midsum mer Holiday Number in July, a friendly critic said of it: "We are not sure but that Scribner has touched high-water mark. We do not see what worlds are left to it to con-quer." But the publishers do not consider that they have reached the ultima thule of excellence-they believe "there are other worlds to conquer, and they propose to conquer them."

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"Foreign Travel,"

Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shop-keepers," "Ha'penny a Week for the Child,"

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of Household and Home Decoration will have a prominent place, whilst the latest productions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Wel-The pages of the magazine will be open, as heretofore, so far as limited space will permit, to the discussion of all themes affecting the social and religious life of the world, and specially to the freshest thought of the Christian thinkers and scholars of this country.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

APPLETON'S AMERICAL EXCLOPEDIA

NEW REVISED EDITION.

Entirely rewritten by the ablest writers on every subject. Printed from new type, ond illustrated with Several Thousand

The work originally published under the title of THE NEW AMERICAN CYLCOPAE DIA was completed in 1878, since which time the wide circulation which it has attained in all parts of the United States and the signal developments which have taken the signal developments which have taken place in every brance of science, literattre, and art, have induced the editor and publisher to submit it to an exact and thorough revision, and to issue a new edition entitled THE AMERICAN CYCLOPÆDIA.

Within the last ten years the progress of discovery in every department of knowledge has made a new work of reference an im-

The movement of political affairs have kept pace with the discoveries of science and their fruitful application to the industrial and useful arts and the convenience and rethement of social life. Great wars, and consequent revolutions have occurred, involving national changes of peculiar moment. The civil war of our country, which was at its height when the last volume of the old work appeared, has happily ended, and a new course of commercial and industrial activity has been commenced.

Large accessions to our geographical knowledge have been made by the indefatigable explorer of Africa.

The great political revolutions of the last decade, with the natural result of the lapse of time, have brought into public view a multitude of new men, whose names are in multitude of new men, whose names are in every one's mouth, and of whose lives every one is curious to know the particulars Great battles have been fought and important sieges maintained; of which the details are as yet preserved only in the newspapers or in the trasient publications of the day, and which ought now to take their place in permanent and authentic history.

In preparing the present edition for the press, it has accordingly been the aim of the editors to bring down the information to the lowest possible rates, and to furnish an accurate account f the most recent discoveries in science, of every frehs production in literaure, and of the newest inventions in the practical arts, as well as to give a succinct and original record of the progress political and historical events. The work asbeen begun after long and careful preliminary labor, and with the most ample resources for carrying it on to a suc-

c ssful temination.

None of the original stereotype plates have been used, but every page has been printed on new type, forming, in fact, a new Cyclopædia, with the same plan and compass as its predesessor, but with a fargreater pecun-ledge.

The illustrations which are introduced for the first time in the present edition have been added not for the sake of pictorial effect, but to give greater lucidity and force to the explanations in the text. They embrace all branches of science and natural history and depict the most famous and remarkable leatures of scenery, architecture and art, as well as the various processes of mechanics and manufactures. Although intended for instruction rather than embellishment, no pains have been spared to insure their artistic excellence; the cost of their execution is enormous, and it is believed they will find a welcome reception as an admirable feature of the Cyclopædia, and worthy of its high character.

This work is sold to subscribers only, payable on delivery of each volume. It will be completed in sixteen large octavo volumes, each containing about 800 pages, fully illustrated in the containing about 800 pages. wated with several thousand Wood Engrav ings, and with numerous colored Lithograp-
