THE ARMIES IN THE EAST.

The Russian Imperial Guard Marching into Bulgaria.

London, Sept. 20.—A Russian official despatch dated Gorn-Studen, Sept. 19 says: "Yesterday affairs were quiet everywhere. The blockade and bombardment of Plevna continue."

A Belgrade despatch to the Times says: "The news of the repeated Russian disasters has created great uneasiness here, especially as everything was prepared for the crossing of the Danube at Gladova by the Russians, and their reception in Negotin and the Timok villages. Its announcement that the Cabinet have agreed to postpone entering into action, and the troops who were marching to the frontiers have been recalled into towns so near the border, in order to give no umbrage to the Porte."

A Reuter despatch from Constantinople says it is stated in well-informed circles that the Porte will not accept mediation while a single Russian soldier remains on Turkish soil, nor will it consent to an armistice unless the basis of subsequent peace proposals are at the same time demanded. Cevket Pasha, commanding the Turkish force at Orhane, has communicated with Osman Pasha. The revictualizing of Plevna is therefore expected very shortly.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 20.—The Golos publishes a telegram from Igdyr, Asia Minor, which shows that the Turks, on the 18th inst., were cannonading Gen. Kerkassoff's positions there.

London, Sept. 21.—The Times' military correspondent—on Gorn-Studen telegraphs that he has personally inspected the position before Plevna, which he describes as follows:

"The Russo-Romanian army occupied a line extending from Gravitza to Tatchevitz. At Gravitza the Romanians have advanced by sap to within 250 yards of the second redoubt, which will probably fall within a few days."

Further to the left from Gravitza stands Kresden's corps, which has been reinforced since the battle by parts of two divisions from Russia.

Next stands Zoloff's corps, fearfully reduced in numbers, battalions being brought down to 300 men.

On the extreme left, near Tatchevitz, is Lascarsky's detachment, namely, the Second Division of the Fourth Rifle Brigade, the latter diminished from four to two weak battalions.

There are also the remains of Skobloff's detachment. The spirit and temper of the Russian soldiers are admirable.

The Russians have upwards of 320 guns and are constantly firing on the Turkish works which scarcely reply.

THE SALZBURG CONFERENCE

An Interview that May Strengthen Anew the Triple Alliance.

London, Sept. 20.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times, whose information on diplomatic matters is conspicuously accurate and thorough makes the following comments on the conference at Salzburg between Prince Bismarck and Count Andrassy: "Its importance ought not to be underrated, not only as regards Germany and Austria, but touching the Eastern question itself. The triple alliance, about the existence or non-existence of which there has been so much talk, has indeed become a woeful anachronism since Russia stepped out of it and took her own line, but it must not be forgotten that it had another and perhaps deeper meaning, and as regards that, happily not only for the parties concerned but for Europe at large, it still exists, and it may be hoped will be strengthened anew by the Salzburg interview. Except for the apparatus of permanent mediation constantly at work since the Berlin meeting in 1872, which laid the foundation of the triple alliance to smooth down the differences which exist between the interests of Austria and Russia regarding the solution of the Eastern question, probably by this time, instead of a local struggle, Europe would have found itself in the midst of a European war."

A Berlin despatch says: "The meeting of Prince Bismarck and Count Andrassy at Salzburg is to be regarded as a sequel of the recent interview between the Austrian and German Emperors, and as thereby strengthening the views then exchanged between the two sovereigns regarding the continuance of the understanding between the three Imperial courts."

This result is secured by the means of averting European war. This result is secured by the means of averting European war. This result is secured by the means of averting European war.

A Kentucky Duel in which Four were Killed.

Sept. 20.—The Courier-Journal of Richmond, Ky., special says that a year ago Jasper Maupin shot John Maupin at Kingston, Madison county, wounding him. Maupin was indicted, Personal.

Maj. Jno. W. Dunham, Clerk of the Criminal Court for this county, who has been on a visit to the Western part of the State for some little time, has returned to the city looking considerably improved by the little jaunt.

Jewish Fasts and Festivals.

Following the fast of Atonement, comes Tabernacles, the feast of booths, a festival held annually in Judea after the ingathering of the harvest and celebrated with beautiful symbols and joyful demonstrations. The seventh day, known as Hosanna Rahab, and the eighth day, known as the Eighth Day of Solemn Assembly, are also kept with similar observances. These are the only important fasts or festivals until Passover, which comes in early spring.

Excitement in Brooklyn.

Our attention was arrested this morning by a mountain of dry good boxes and trunks just over the bridge on Fourth street. Mr. Julius Hahn, the Brooklyn merchant, returned from the Northern cities last night where he has been for the past weeks in selecting his stock from the Baltimore, Philadelphia, New York and Boston markets. Mr. Hahn's stock is large and well selected. The advertising will appear in a few days.

The Rise in the River.

The freshet in the river is a pretty full one. Up to yesterday morning it was 25 feet on the shoals at Fayetteville and was then rising rapidly. Serious fears are entertained for the safety of the fine crops of corn on the lowlands in Bladen county and if the river was still rising last night they will probably be all overboard. Indeed, some of the farmers are already cutting their corn, green as it is, and hauling it off. If the freshet had held up two weeks longer the crops would all have been saved. As it is the disaster will prove a very severe one.

Sol. Smith Russell.

As we all know, Sol. Smith Russell and his accomplished Concert troupe will appear in this city on next Tuesday evening and as this is their only appearance here this season, everybody and his wife will probably go. They played in Raleigh on Thursday night to a full house, and gave unbounded delight to all who attended as witness the following from yesterday's Observer:

Despite the inclement weather, Tucker Hall was packed last evening to its fullest capacity by an audience eager to see and hear once more the comic eccentricities of the great Southern favorite, Sol Smith Russell. We do not propose to give a critical report of the exhibition; suffice it to say that the varied and versatile programme, consisting of first-class artists, constitutes, as it is one of the most attractive entertainments ever presented to the Raleigh public. We regret that "Sol" could only give us one night.

The Sea Tramp.

The Revenue Cutter Colfax has arrived here for supplies and we thus learn some of the particulars relative to the boarding of the "Sea Tramp" last week of which we have already had much to say. The Cutter overhauled the schooner off Cape Roman, about 90 miles North of Savannah, for which port she was steering. The boarding party was commanded by Lieut. Rhodes. The vessel was in a terrible condition but was able to make her way along the coast.

Her sails, though not as bad as reported, were still unsuited for heavy weather. She was old, weather-beaten and with the grass growing from her sides and the only thing new about her was her gaff-topmasts. Her crew consisted of three white and four colored men and her master was a mulatto, who seemed to know barely enough to get along in fair weather with the wind dead astern and plenty of light on his starboard bow. The crew was regularly mustered by Lieut. Rhodes and her papers brought up and inspected. These (the papers) were the only clean things about the craft, not even excepting the faces and hands of the Captain and his crew. It is probable that the old hulk will arrive safely at Savannah.

Bread is the Staff of Life.

By Bread we mean all the various forms into which it is customary to convert cereal flour. When is Bread good? Bread is good when light, sweet and nutritious, and without deleterious qualities. How are these properties best secured? In no way, we answer, so well and certainly as by the use of DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. Try it thoroughly and convince yourself.

War Relics.

Yesterday a colored man found two large navy revolvers and a cutlows which had been washed from under the sand on the beach at Fort Fisher during the recent blow. The pistols and cutlows were no doubt those used by the naval brigade during their fierce charge on Fisher when the fort passed from the Confederate into the hands of the Federal soldiers. The man describes the beach as being badly washed and states that the bones of those who fell during the charge are now exposed. Musket barrels and portions of their stocks, together with fragments of shell can now be seen on the beach. It is thought that quite a quantity of old iron and material can be gathered from the scene of one of the severest and bloodiest battles on record.

Burglary.

From Mr. Robt. Morrison, we learn that on Friday morning, about 4 o'clock, two burglars entered his residence on Front near the corner of Walnut street and robbed himself and family of several articles of clothing. The entrance was made by prizing open a window from the rear of the house. A few hours previous, we learn from Mr. Morrison that Mr. Winton, living near the railroad depot on Front street, had his dwelling burglarized also, the robber carrying off considerable plunder. No clue as yet to the perpetrators.
