THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. 2. WILMINGTON, N. C., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1877. NO. 219

New York Democratic Convention.
ALBANY, October 4.—The committee on contested seats made a report in favor of seating the Corning delegation from Albany, the McLaughlin delegation from Kings, and excluding the anti-Tammany delegation from New York. [Great applause] and in favor of the delegates from Orleans, who were yesterday accepted as regular by the action of the State committee; also in favor of the Murphy or regular delegates from Ren-selaer.
The committee on permanent organization reported Clarkson N. Potter for permanent chairman. Mr. Potter addressed the Convention.
The Convention adopted the following:
The Democracy of New York in convention assembled, send greetings to the Democracy of our sister State, New Jersey, and congratulate the voters of that State on the nomination of the patriot and soldier, Gen. Geo. B. McClellan.

(The Episcopal Convention.
BOSTON, Oct. 4.—The second day opened at 9:30 o'clock with prayer by Rt. Rev.
Bishop Bedell, of Ohio, and Green, of Mississippi. The attendance was much larger than first day as a great many delegates from the southwestern Dioceses have come in since. The roll call showed 188 delegates present. The records of yesterday's session were read and approved. Rev.
Dr. Austin, of New York, was confirmed as Assistant Secretary. The business meeting began at 10 1/2 o'clock. President in the chair. After a protracted discussion concerning the election of vice president, the President read the list of standing committees. A communication was received from the House of Bishops stating that that House organized by the election of Rt. Rev. H. C. Potter as Secretary.
A resolution providing for preaching of the opening sermon was adopted. It was voted to refer the matter of the three amendments to the constitution as suggested by the House last year to the proper committee, with instructions to report upon the first on Friday and upon the others on Monday.
The petition of Bishop White, Prayer Book Secretary, that the hymn book might be bound up with the Prayer Book was referred.
The following order was referred: The subject of voluntary withdrawal from the ministry, other than for immoral conduct, be referred to the Committee on Canons.
Several memorials, reports and petitions were received and referred.
West Virginia asked for a division of her Diocese, which is too large.
It was voted to print a daily House calendar.

Yesterday's tide in the river was one of the largest we have ever seen here. The water came up in the street at the Market Dock.
There was a rush this morning for seats for Prof. Cooke's entertainment to-night and by 10 o'clock there were about as many seats sold as there were people in attendance last night.

Gold has several times been down to 102 1/2 in New York, and yesterday it fell to 102 1/4 which is the lowest. It seems to have a downward tendency now.

The Raleigh papers speak of the very severe rains in the interior of the past few days. The creeks and water courses are overflowed and we may therefore look for a freshet in the Cape Fear, early next week.

Going East.
Mr. A. Shrier, instead of taking Horace Greely's advice to go West, will move in the opposite direction. He had intended to move into the store just west of his present stand, but instead of that will remove into the large and commodious store three doors east, which has been prepared for his reception.

The Agnes.
The steamship Agnes, Capt Smith, of the Clyde Line, arrived here this morning from New York. This is the first time she has ever visited this port and she comes here to take the place of the Benefactor for this trip only. The Benefactor was delayed by rough weather on the last voyage out and will probably be the next boat to arrive here.

Unmaillable Letters.
The following is a list of unmaillable letters remaining in the city postoffice: Miss Frances Walker, No. 11, Kendall st, Boston, Mass; Miss Kate O'Donnell, 329 N. Gay st., Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. F. D.
Godwin, Lumberton, N. C.; J. W. Purdie, White Oak, N. C.

Get Your Bonds.
Mr. Wagner, the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, gives notice in another column that those who hold county scrip must present the same to S.
Van Amringe, Esq., Clerk of the Board, for conversion into bonds, on or before the 22d inst., as no bonds are to be issued after that date.

A Colored Defaulter.
We learn that Chas. Cleapor, a well-known barber of this city, and who for a long time has been Secretary and Treasurer of the Pine Forest Cemetery Company, is a defaulter to the company, but to what amount we cannot ascertain as yet. It is thought that Cleapor took the Northern bound train this morning and will try to get out of the State.

At the Mouth of the River.
The gale at the mouth of the river night before last and early yesterday morning was very severe, but we have not yet learned of any serious damages sustained either on shore or at sea. At 2 1/2 o'clock the wind was traveling at the almost unprecedented rate, for this section of 65 miles an hour. It is hoped that there will be no disasters to report.

Vital Statistics.
From the books of Dr. A. E. Wright, City Physician, we glean the following vital statistics for the month of September:
Among the white residents during the month there were 9 marriages, 19 births, 1 still-birth, 16 deaths; and among the colored people there were 10 marriages, 22 births, 3 still-births and 25 deaths.

Criminal Court.
The following cases have been disposed of in this Court since our yesterday's report: State vs. Deleate Towers, charged with keeping a disorderly house. Defendant found guilty.
State vs. Moses Divine, charged with larceny. Defendant found guilty and sentenced to twelve months in the Work House.
State vs. Laura Jarman, charged with larceny. Defendant found guilty and sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary.
State vs. Willis Edwards, charged with larceny. Defendant found guilty and sentenced to twelve months in the Penitentiary.
State vs. James Harris, charged with larceny. Case on trial.
State vs. Barwell Rodgers and Jeff.
Hudgins, convicted of larceny. Defendants sentenced to six years each in the Penitentiary.
State vs. Curley Porter and John Jackson, convicted of larceny. Defendants sentenced to six years in the Penitentiary.

Delicious Cookery.
The most delicious, light, white and wholesome biscuits, rolls, muffins, waffles, cornbread, cake, etc., are possible to every table by using the celebrated DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. It is absolutely pure, and will go much further in use than other kinds of baking powder. It is impossible to fail with it in baking. Ask your grocer for it, and do not be put off with any other.

Prof. Cooke Last Night.
Seeing is believing, runs the old adage, but the audience assembled at the Opera House last evening to witness Prof.
Cooke's Exposé of Spiritualism saw many things hard to believe, whether from the standpoint of the confirmed Spiritualist or that of the stubborn skeptic. The audience was one of the finest of the season.
After much persuasion on the part of the Professor, a committee was induced to preside upon the stage. The first test performed was that known as the wine and water mystery, as given by Mrs.
Holmes, the Philadelphia Medium. A clean earthen pitcher and glass tumblers were first examined by the committee, who pronounced them just as represented, devoid of all trickery. Professor Cooke then, at will, poured from the same pitcher wine or water, as the committee chose to have it. He then held two tumblers side by side, and in one he poured wine and the other water, often creating a laughter at the expense of the committee.

Then began the real work of the evening. After being securely tied and fastened in the cabinet Prof. Cooke produced all of the tests given by the famous Darvenport Bros., and in a manner that would put those worthies to a blush. The next thing performed was the solid iron ring trick. A solid ring, after being examined, was placed around the arm of one of the committee while holding the Professor's hands.

The most inexplicable test of the evening was the clairvoyance or mind-reading, in which Miss Selome Crawford was introduced to the audience.
Questions written by those on the stage and members of the audience, and retained by them, received explicit and intelligent answers. We never before saw an audience so completely bewildered, and at a loss to account for the same, as last evening, when Miss Crawford answered questions that no one in the house knew save the writer. Next followed the Katie King mystery. Miss Cooke was securely fastened in the cabinet, a rope tied around her neck was drawn on the outside of the cabinet where the committee could see the same, and in a few moments a figure clad in white appeared upon the stage; returning to the cabinet, the doors were thrown open, and there sat Miss Cooke the same as placed by the committee. Upon this evening Prof. Cooke will perform these tests before the footlights, and explain the same. The newspapers from other cities testify that he will do it, and none need fear to be disappointed. Reserved seats are selling rapidly, and those who have not secured them should go early.

Trial of Elijah Keeter.
The trial of Elijah Keeter, charged with the murder of Peter Robinson, which was set for to-day in the Criminal Court, is now in progress. The entire forenoon was exhausted in empanneling the jury.
A special venire of 97 true and lawful men was summoned, and this was nearly exhausted before the jury was found. The following form this jury, viz: Cornelius Jackson, John A. Wilson, George Honnet, Andrew Blackwell, John L. Dudley, Elijah Lane, H. W. Bryant, F. H. Mitchell, G. W. Wiggs, Nicholas
Morris, John G. Norwood, John Mc-Kinney.

The jury having been duly sworn and empaneled the Court took a recess until 3 1/2 o'clock this afternoon and as we go to press the trial is in progress.

The Old Times.
A correspondent of the Raleigh Observer writing from this city, who signs himself D., (is that you, Major?) gives the following very interesting items from the times that have passed and been numbered with a previous era in the history of our city: Efforts were made, it seems, in the olden time to make Raleigh a seaport. The engineer, indeed, "advises against" making Walnut Creek and Rocky Branch navigable," but "Mr. Fulton," the engineer, "sees no difficulty in making Crabtree navigable." Can it be that this is the Hamilton Fulton who had charge of the attempted improvement of the Cape Fear river about the year 1820? If so, he would appear not to have earned a greater fame here than at the head waters of the Neuse. In a letter of our Chamber of Commerce, under date of January 15, 1872, Henry Nutt, Esq., speaking of Mr.
Fulton, in connection with the work on the Cape Fear in 1820, says he "prosecuted the work for several years with little success, not seeming to comprehend the difficulties in the way of restoring the old Eastern channel."

Writing of this old work on our river, "reminds me of a little joke." The late Hinton James, Esq., of Wilmington, had charge as contractor of a large number of laborers on the river works at that time.
For their accommodation and protection, he had built by James Cassidy, Esq., a noted ship builder of those and later days, a covered flat or lighter, which, from its appearance, was called the "Ark." One of its occupants, a negro man who had been baptized in the Episcopal Church, hearing that the Bishop of the Diocese was about to visit the parish of St. James, applied to the then rector, the Rev. Dr.
Empie, to be admitted as a candidate for confirmation. Finding the man was in earnest, and really desirous, Dr. E. began to examine him in the catechism and Biblical history. Among other questions he asked—
"Who built the ark?"
The negro looked confused and made no reply. The question was repeated and there still being no answer the Dr. inquired,
"Don't you know?"
"Yass, Mass' Adam," said the man,
"but yus' making fun of me."
"No," returned the clergyman "who knew nothing of the man's local habitation, somewhat amazed, 'told me who it was.'"
"Mass' Adam," replied the candidate, looking very sheepish, "I believe Mass' Jeems Cassidy built 'um!"

Sensible Advice.
You are asked every day through the columns of newspapers and by your Druggist to use something for Dyspepsia and Liver complaint that you know nothing about; you get discouraged spending money with but little success. Now to give you satisfactory proof that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER will cure you of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint with all its effects, such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Constiveness, Palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Water brash, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, &c., we ask you to go to your Druggist and get a Sample Bottle of GREEN'S AU-GUST FLOWER for 10 cents and try it, or a Regular Size for 75 cents; two doses will relieve you.
