When will the cow and hog nuisance be put a stop to in this city? Wood is very scarce and is retailing at $3.00 per cord from the wharf. The magistrates are kept busy in adjudicating assault and battery cases. Young folks grow most when in love. It increases their sighs wonderfully.

Acknowledgment. We are indebted to our good friend Mr. C. F. of the Revenue Cutter Colfax, for a very unique present which he calls the "Centennial Match Safe" and which he claims was patented July 4th, 1776. Without giving offence we may say that it is useful in many ways; it seems to serve to remind one of his latter end and can thereby point a moral as well as adorn a tale.

Improved. The photograph gallery built for Mr. C. W. Yates, now being constructed in the rear of his store on Market street is about completed and will be ready for use in a few days. The gallery is a great improvement and adds much to the general appearance of Mr. Yates' book store.

Superior Court. This Court has been occupied for the last two days in the trial of the suit of Kerchner & Calder Bros. against Alexander and J. L. McKee, and the trial is still in progress at this present writing. The plaintiffs' Counsel, not having yet finished addressing the jury. Hon. Geo. Davis and Col. W. Foster French are employed by the plaintiffs and Hon. D. L. Russell and Maj. C. M. Steadman appear for the defence.

Rose and Harry Watkins. Our citizens will be glad to learn that these ever popular artists will appear at the Opera House on this evening and to-morrow night. This is good news for the ladies, who will now have an opportunity of witnessing an intelligent and refined amusement, while the gentlemen need not be ashamed to take their wives, daughters and sweethearts to see anything presented by the Watkins, whose reputation, won through years of service before Southern audiences, is a guarantee of a performance first-class in every respect. They played at Raleigh all Fair week. We clip the following from the Raleigh News: "The crowd at the Theatre last evening was as large as the dimensions of the building would permit, for the numbers anxious to see these popular artists, but who found it impossible to gain admittance, were sufficient to fill the theatre twice over."
