No City Court to-day.
The storm-signal is not up to-day.

Days length 10 hours and 35 minutes.
No interment this week in Bellevue Cemetery.

The lay of the last mosquito has not been yet sounded.

But one interment, an adult, in Oakdal Cemetery this week.

Twenty-third Sunday after Trinity tomorrow in the Church Calendar.

"Shingle weddings" are the latest novelty; this takes place when the first born is old enough to spank.

The dress parasol is made of black silk, lined with white silk and edged with a heavy fall of black lace.

There have been seven interments, four children and three adults, in Pine Forest Cemetery this week.

The helmet hat, made of felt, is now to be seen in all directions; they more become the feminine than the masculine biped.

It is universally conceded that the mosquitoes have been this year more ravenous and bloodthirsty than ever before known.

Recent rains have swelled the Cape Fear, the river having risen five feet at Fayetteville from Thursday morning to Friday morning.

The sudden change in the weather by which blankets, overcoats and furs are brought into requisition, is appreciated by all.

Vanity is our dearest weakness, in more senses than one; a man will sacrifice and starve out all inclinations to keep alive that one.

Our good friend Mr. James D. Brooks, of the Statesville Landmark, is in the city to-day and favored us with a call this forenoon.

A maiden's heart is like a hotel bed; you can never discover the previous occupants, but you may be sure that there has been one.

O'Brien's circus seems to be making North, instead of towards the South. They are to perform in Tarboro to-day and in Petersburg on the 9th.

380 lbs. No 2 Bacon, 105 lbs. beef, 20 lbs. mutton and 26 bunches of fish were condemned by order of the Superintendent of Health during the past week.

The Rev. Mr. Payne, of the Second Presbyterian Church being, out of the city, there will be joint services in the two churches tomorrow. See church notices.

Death opens the gate of fame, and shuts the gates of envy after it; it unlooses the chain of the captive, and puts the bondsman's task into another man's hand.

Many an honest man practices upon himself an amount of deceit sufficient, if practiced upon another, and in a little different way, to send him to the state prison.

Thanks to Mr. Wm. M. Hays for some nice pork sausages, made by himself at his meat store, corner Chestnut and Sixth streets. They beat the Richmond sausage "all hollow."

We object to the abbreviation used for us by the Newbern Nut Shell, which is Wm. Rec. It might stand for Willing Revenuer as well as for any thing else, and as we are not exactly that we move an amendment by the Nut Shell.

The North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church South will meet in Salisbury November 28th, Bishop Doggett presiding. The railroads of the State extend the usual courtesies—return tickets for three cents per mile each way.

Elegant Cookery.

It is easy enough to have your breakfast and tea rolls or biscuit, waffles, crullers, muffins, &c., nice, light and nutritious by using DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. Try it.

Mr. Milton Nobles' Troupe.

The matinee performance of the Milton Nobles Troupe was well attended and the performance was one which gave general pleasure and satisfaction. To-night is the last appearance here of the Troupe and on this occasion we bespeak for them a full farewell house.

Not Guilty.

Mr. Robert J. Smith, the defendant in the Bladen county murder case, was acquitted, the jury having brought in a verdict of not guilty about half past 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, after that issue of our paper had gone to press. Mr. Smith and his family and friends left on the steamer Gov. Worth for their homes in Bladen county.

Weldon Beef.

Mr. Geo. F. Tilley has made arrangements by which he has secured a lot of the prize beef cattle exhibited at the Weldon Fair for his customers in this city. Some of this beef is now on his stall in the market house and it is beautiful to behold. He will also be able to offer it for sale next week and the week after and his friends and patrons and the public generally are invited to call and see it and buy it.

Sails and Suspenders Found.

A boat's mast, with sail attached, was picked up on Masonboro beach yesterday, a few miles from the place where Mr. Smith's boat was capsized which resulted in the drowning of Nelson Jones, an account of which appeared in yesterday's Review. It is thought that the mast and sail belonged to the boat.

Late in the day a gentleman fishing from the Masonboro Point hooked out of the water a pair of suspenders which is supposed to have belonged to the deceased man.

Yesterday's Gale.

The gale of wind which blew here yesterday from the South, although rarely terrific in its violence, was but as nothing in comparison with that which prevailed along the North Atlantic Coast. In New York, Brooklyn and Jersey city the streets were almost deserted while the North and East rivers were absolutely bare of shipping, all of which were close-moored to escape the violence of the storm. The ferry boats ran but could scarcely make headway. The wind there blew from the East and a continuance of the gale was expected for to-day.

Answer Your Children's Questions.

Education is erroneously supposed only to be had at school. The most ignorant children often have been constant in their attendance there, and there have been very intelligent ones who never saw the inside of a school room. The child who always asks an explanation of terms or phrases it cannot understand, who is never willing to repeat, parrot like, that which is incomprehensible, will far outstrip in "education" the ordinary routine scholar. "Education" goes on with children at the fireside, in the street, at church, at play—everywhere. Then, do not refuse to answer their proper questions. Do not check that natural intelligence, for which books can never compensate; though you might bestow whole libraries.

Hymenial.

Capt. DeLeon Fillyaw, of this city, and Miss Laura D. Clanton, of Weldon, were married in the last named place on last Wednesday. The Wilson Advance has the following handsome things to say on the occasion:

We congratulate our friend DeLeon upon the golden consummation of his high dream, for we learn that his bride is not only a gem and set a rich casing at that, but that she has charms of head and heart that will make the home circle the nursery of contentment, affection's ministry and peaceful dreams. We do indeed congratulate the happy groom, for with a woman's faith, and a good wife's love, every thought will bathe itself in the endearment of a sweet and happy mystery, transforming the prose of life into the poetry of dreaming. And we congratulate our unknown friend, the bride, upon the trophy she has won, for a more knightly, chivalrous, high-toned, courteous gentleman does not exist than DeLeon Fillyaw, and any woman who can warm in the sunshine of love that burns in the temple of his devotion, will never feel the chill of disappointment.

With this, our bridal benediction, we leave the happy couple to the realization of love's sweetest dream.

Col. W. L. DeRosset is also a member of the Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. His name was accidentally omitted in our yesterday's report.

Opera House--The Phoenix.

The truly "typical American drama" of Mr. Milton Nobles was presented by that gentleman and company to quite a large audience at the Opera House last night. The drama itself is of the modern sensational mould, but thoroughly amusing and thrilling enough in some of its scenes to keep up an unflagging interest. The pathetic and the humorous stand side by side, but mingle in pleasant harmony.

The acting—taking the Company as an entirety—was truly admirable; thus exhibiting a marked contrast to the general quality of travelling companies, when a leading actor or two, with a few poor "supes," make the combination.

Mr. Nobles as Carroll Graves and Jim Dudson was as natural and perfect in his role as it is possible to imagine and fits the character as admirable as life.

The Moses Solomons of Mr. Alonzo Schwartz was as fine a personation as we ever witnessed—thoroughly natural, easy and complete. His conception cannot be excelled.

Mr. Pritchard as Tom Fergus was very good and reflected credit upon his abilities as an actor.

We were less impressed with the Leslie Blackburn of Mr. Maddox than that of any of the more prominent impersonations. He looked the character, but his acting as compared with the others, was rather tame and seemingly wanting in spirit.

The ladies of the troupe sustained their several roles satisfactorily; and altogether it was as pleasant and creditable a performance as one wishes to witness. To-night will be the last performance and we trust that the police will maintain better order among the boys of the audience than was the case last evening. The conduct of some portions of the audience usually in attendance on our theatrical performances is an outrage upon the respectable portion of the community, who, for the time being, are thrown beneath the same roof.

Col. Hedrick.

A very interesting story is given which Col. Hedrick makes in the double-column advertisement published in this issue but, handsome as it is, it is merely introductory to the actual display of goods in the handsome store now occupied by him, corner of Front and Market streets. He has full lines of everything desirable in the way of dress goods, fancy goods and staple goods and his stock has just been replenished by heavy purchases made very recently in the New York markets. He has marked everything down to bottom figures and all that he asks is that the ladies, and others, will examine his stock before making up their purchases.
