It is absolutely pure, and always of uniform strength. The genuine is put up in cans. Most all good grocers sell it.

House Furnishing Store.

Messrs. F. M. King & Co., are to open a house furnishing establishment on the 10th inst., in the store on Market street recently vacated by Col. Hedrick. The stock has been ordered and is now on the way here and is expected to be open and ready for exhibition next Saturday. The new firm have our best wishes for their success.

Charged with Infanticide.
 To-day was set for the preliminary examination of the case of Sarah A. Denton, colored, charged with infanticide, before J. C. Hill, J. P.

The defendant is the widow of the late Allen Denton, who was well known to our citizens. The charge against the woman is that she gave birth to a child about one week ago and subsequently destroyed it. She is confined to her bed, hence the examination did not take place this morning, but in order to prevent an escape from the clutches of the law, Sheriff Manning has placed special officer Bryant in charge of the woman at her residence on Market street. Our colored citizens evinced considerable interest in the case and by ten o'clock this morning there were not less than one hundred and fifty women and one third as many men assembled in the Court House to hear the examination. The case was postponed until Thursday next at which time it is thought the woman will be able to come out.

Resolutions.
 At a meeting of the Young Catholic Friends Society held on the 4th inst., the following resolutions offered by Col. B. K. Moore, Messrs. F. W. Kerchner and W. P. Price, the Committee appointed at a previous meeting to draft them, were unanimously adopted:

It continually becomes the Christian's duty to bow in humble submission to the Divine will, and as friend after friend is laid away in the silent tomb, the heart, while it is afflicted with the pang of parting, should be consoled with the knowledge that the separation is in obedience to the decree of a merciful and all-wise Providence.

The Young Catholic Friends Society, in common with the entire Arch Diocese of Baltimore, has learned with profound sorrow of the death of the distinguished prelate who has been for the past five years its spiritual head. In his death we mourn a departed friend, but while we so mourn, we reverently bow to the merciful decree which relieved him from the weighty and responsible duties as an Archbishop of the Church, and placed on his head the crown which is the reward of the faithful.

James Roosevelt Bagley was no ordinary man, nor were his head and heart of ordinary mould.
 He was a grandson of Richard Bagley, of New York, and was born in that city Aug. 23, 1814. He was a graduate of Washington (now Trinity) College, Hartford, and was for some time tutor there. He studied theology with Dr. Samuel Farmer Jarvis, of Middletown, Conn., was ordained a minister of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and preached at Harlem, N. Y., and afterward at Hagerstown, Md. He then joined the Catholic Church, prepared himself for the priesthood, at St. Sulpice in Paris, and was ordained in New York, March 2d, 1842, by Bishop Hughes. He was appointed professor of belles-lettres at St. John's College, Fordham, N. Y., of which he was President in 1845-6; and from 1846 to 1853, was Secretary to Archbishop Hughes. On Oct. 30th, 1852, he was consecrated first bishop of Newark, N. J., which under his administration became one of the most prosperous dioceses in the United States. He founded Seton Hall College and numerous schools, academies, convents, and churches. On July 30th, 1872, he was appointed Archbishop of Baltimore. He has published a "Sketch of the History of the Catholic Church in the Island of New York"; "Memoirs of Simon Gabriel Brute, first Bishop Vincennes"; and "Pastorals for the People." He was the nephew of Mother Seton, (nee Bagley) foundress of the order of Sisters of Charity in America, at Emmetsburg, where the lamented Archbishop's mortal remains, at his own request, found their last resting place, at the side of his beloved and venerated aunt—Mother Seton.

The Young Catholic Friends Society do therefore resolve:
 That in the death of Archbishop Bagley the Arch-Diocese of Baltimore, together with all its dependencies, has sustained a heavy infliction at the hand of Providence, and that we in common with the rest of the faithful under the jurisdiction of the Arch-Diocese, deeply mourn his loss.

That, as a tribute of respect to his memory we will wear black crape on the badge of the Society for the space of thirty days.
 Resolved, That we will attend in a body the Solemn Requiem High Mass on the 7th instant being the Month's Mind of our late Archbishop.

Resolved, That these resolutions be placed on the records of the Society and be sent to the Catholic Union for publication, and the city papers.

Body Recovered.

The body of Nelson Jones, the colored man who was drowned a few days ago near Moore's Inlet was found yesterday a short distance from the place, the boat capsized in crossing the inlet. Coroner Hewlett was notified and went down this morning to the beach to hold an inquest over the body.

Biggest Cotton Day.
 The receipts of cotton to-day at this port foot up 2,386 bales, which makes it the biggest cotton day in the records of this city. Some other large days were Nov. 27, 1875, 1,680 bales; October 23, 1876, 1,789 bales; Nov. 27, 1876, 1,808 bales; December 1, 1876, 1,718 bales.

In Distress.
 Schr. Laura Webb, Capt. Thos. Travers, bound from Porto Bello for Baltimore, 23 days out, put into Smithville this morning in distress, with all hands except the captain, down with the Chagres fever. The schooner experienced heavy weather, lost sails, rigging damaged, and is leaking badly. She will repair here and then proceed to her destination.

Cut With a Knife.
 During a scuffle on Saturday night between two colored men in a grocery store in Brooklyn one was severely cut in the arm with a pocket knife. The wound is not considered dangerous, but is painful. It is said the men were engaged in a friendly scuffle and the cutting was an accident.

The flags on the Custom House and other public buildings were half masted to-day in honor to the memory of Senator Morton.
