WILMINGTON, N. C.
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1877.
VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

The Baltimore American asserts that there is a crusade against dancing in Baltimore society, and nearly all the young ladies who belong to church are excluding that amusement from the parties this season. The German clubs are also poorly patronized this year.

There has lately been printed in England for private circulation a very curious collection of Jacobite ballads, songs, and satires, which have been dug out of the library at Towneley Hall, Lancashire; the seat of the Townleys of Towneley, one of the half dozen oldest Roman Catholic families in Lancashire.

The King of Sweden and Norway has completed a dramatic poem, entitled "Minne fran Upsala," the scene of which is successively laid in the Cathedral, in Odin's grove, and in Old Upsala. This drama, to which Ivar Hallstrom has written the music, is now under rehearsal, and will be shortly performed.

The greenback insanity is not universal in Pigeon Kelley's State. A memorial is to be signed and sent to Congress by the executive committee of the Philadelphia Board of Trade, asking that legal-tender notes be funded in four per cent. bonds, at the rate of ten million dollars a month, until the process brings coin and greenbacks to a level.

A solemn proclamation has been addressed to officers of the army by General Sherman, setting forth that the President has been greatly grieved at the multiplicity of cases in which he has been asked to revoke sentences of dismissal from the service for drunkenness on duty. The General notifies all concerned that hereafter such sentences will be allowed to stand.

It is not yet known how M. Thiers has disposed of his fine art collection, which is found to be even larger and more valuable than was supposed. Among the original works contained in it are a model in bronze of a Madonna left unfinished by Michael Angelo, an antique statue of a comic actor, an admirable Venus and a Greek bust of Anacreon. The Chinese, Japanese, and other Oriental curiosities are exceedingly interesting. M. Charles Blanc, Member of the Institute, is at present engaged on a book describing the collection.

Mr. August Belmont, the banker, was born in 1816, and speaks and writes four languages with correctness and elegance. He is of middle stature, well built, with small hands and feet, with side whiskers turning gray, and finely moulded, partly bald cranium. His features are handsome and regular, and his complexion fresh for a man of his age. He is an arbitrary but not a quarrelsome man, and he carries a bullet in his hip which he received in defence of the reputation of a lady.

The Pah-Ute Indians (incorrectly written Piute) are a grade above the Diggers, and occupy the western half of Nevada. They belong to the Ute band of the original Shoshone tribe, and, on account of having settled about the lakes, were called "Pah" (water) Utes. The men make good farm hands; the woman are neat and remarkable for their chastity. Unlike the Sioux, they are not being decimated by the encroachments of the white race. They are increasing more rapidly than any other class of people in Nevada, excepting the Chinese. But, whether in the mountains gathering pine nuts—their common article of food—on the farm at work, or in the towns at humble labor, they carry the inevitable pack of cards, and, under the instruction of the whites, gamble away their last dime.

In October, 1876, the German Consul at Leon, Nicaragua, was assaulted by Francisco Leal, a Nicaraguan, who had married his stepdaughter. He lodged a complaint with the authorities, but so he avers, no action was taken by them. Some time afterward he and his brother, also a Consul, were walking in the street with Mrs. Francisco Leal, when he asserts that he was again assaulted by Leal, who was, further, helped by the police to take his wife away. The Consul, finding that he got no reparation, appealed to his Government through the Charge d'Affaires, and the German authorities have in consequence demanded elaborate amends from the Nicaraguans, which include the payment to the Consul of $30,000, as a compensation for insult, and the solemn salute of the consular flag of Germany by a division of the army. The payment of the money to be made on the same day. Failing this, a large indemnity will be exacted and a fleet sent to extract it. The Nicaraguan Minister begs a suspension of action pending explanation, and declines relations with the German Charge, whom he accuses of misrepresentation.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

"It becometh well the just to be thankful," says the psalmist, but he wrote of men and times and circumstances of two centuries and a half ago. If he had lived in this day and generation, and looked abroad over this beautiful land, where peace, plenty and prosperity lift their golden heads among us and where a gracious and merciful God has smiled upon the labors of the husbandman and has sent the clouds to drop their fatness upon his lands, has filled his barns and his warehouses "with all manner of store," and has blessed for him the fruit of the earth, the air and the water, old King David might well have written instead, "It becometh well all men to be thankful."

In looking back over the labors and toils and torments and troubles of the past year, it would require but little intelligence to discern the manifold blessings with which a good God has filled to overflowing the cup of the people of these once more re-United States.

We are at peace, not only with the world, but with ourselves: there are no sectional troubles to hang the head with shame or fill the heart with bitterness for our brethren of old; neither is there war for us with a foreign nation to cause days of anxiety and nights of thought; the bloody shirt no longer waves; the corrupt Administration with its hordes of thieves and political prostitutes which for eight years past has degraded the national honor and oppressed the people of every Southern State, no more sits on high in the place once filled by a Washington, an Adams and a Jefferson; the seasons have been propitious, the dew and the rain and the sun have been liberal in fructifying and ripening the fruits of the land, trade has revived, our garner are filled with food and our business marts with the fruit of the loom and the workshop. Surely then it becometh all men to be thankful.

Let this thankfulness, then, find expression to-morrow there where all good and perfect things should be carried, in the presence of the Giver of all these manifold blessings. Carry it then to-morrow, not where you carry your gold, or your silver, or your greenbacks, but carry it in your heart and thank Him who holdeth the seasons in His hand, and who sendeth the rain on the unjust as well as the just.

WHAT THIS CONGRESS MUST DO.

Thus far the House of Representatives has not fulfilled the expectations formed of it. It has been in session more than six weeks and as yet those great measures of reform which constituted the basis of the campaign by which the members were elected, have received but a small share of attention at their hands. The result in this line may be summed up in a few words: A bill repealing the act

Vance, but we we speak more particularly as regards the corruption of Grant's administration, matters in which the people of our State are as much interested as are those of any other. It is for the Democratic House of Representatives to fulfill the pledges made by them on the hustings last Summer, and it is for them to unearth the corruptions of the late administration, and bring to the bar of justice those who, under the sanction of official procedure, unlawfully appropriated public moneys and wasted the substance of the people.

SILVER IN LONDON.

Silver is accumulating in London. The British Board of Trade returns, just to hand, show that the October imports of that metal exceeded the exports by about $10,000,000. Of this accumulation, about $3,470,000 came from Germany. It is alleged that London dealers have been buying in anticipation of an advance in the price; but it is not intimated on what the expectation of a rise rests; presumably, it may be due to the fact that the German government has resolved not to sell except at a minimum which is supposed to be above the present market quotation. During the first ten months of 1877, England took from Germany £11,614,000 of silver, against £4,100,000 for the same period of 1876; while she sent to that country £8,068,000 of gold. During the ten months ending Oct. 31, England imported £7,382,000 more silver than for the same period of 1876, this increased supply coming entirely from Germany; but, fortunately for the price of the metal, India has been a large taker, the exports thither for the period having exceeded those of 1876 by £6,336,000. These facts indicate that Germany has been disposing of her demoted silver at a very rapid rate during late months.

The paper manufacturers of Holyoke, Mass., except the firm that has the postal card contract, are unanimously of the opinion that the extensive use of the cards by the public is an exhibition of niggardliness. They believe too, that the Government ought to let anybody make the cards, and then require the affixing of ordinary one cent stamps.

The German Chancellor has proposed to the Federal Council the establishment of twelve maritime courts for inquiry into accidents at sea, to sit respectively at Konigsberg, Danzig, Stettin, Stralsund, Rostock, Laback, Flensburg, Toning, Hamburg, Bremerhaven, Brake, and Emden. Each of these courts will have jurisdiction over a certain defined portion of the German coast.

The North German States expend annually on the twenty universities belonging to them more than $2,500,000. The Imperial Government in one year expended $350,000 on the University of Strasburg. The University of Leipzig (Saxony) receives over $250,000 a year from the State. In North Germany there is a university to every two million inhabitants; in Austria, one to every five million; in Switzerland, one in each million; in England, one in seven million.

Crook County, Wyoming territory, named after the Indian fighter, contains 5,625 square miles, and is watered by the large streams Little Missouri, Belle Fourche, Little Powder and South Cheyenne, and their numerous tributaries. It properly ranks among the best cattle grazing counties, as two-thirds of it consists of high, rolling plains and bluff lands carpeted with the best grasses. Its neighbor, Peace county, is larger, embracing 6,300 square miles, and is the county of grand rivers and mountains, of beautiful lakes and fertile valleys, of deep forests and unequalled pastures. This region possesses all the elements of a popular resort—Lake De Smet, the grand canon of the Big Horn, the great coal treasures of the Powder and Tongue rivers, and the glories of Cloud Peak scenery, are among the attractions, aside from the agricultural value of its soil.

The Infirmities of Age

Are harder to bear than the ailments of middle life or youth, since the resistant power in the system has diminished with declining years, and disease and pain have more power over the enfeebled body. It is therefore the more essential that that resistant power should be augmented. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a benign tonic cordial, is admirably adapted for the purpose. It counteracts the infirmities peculiar to age, and succors worn out nature. It vivifies the feeble frame, adds new oil, as it were, to the flickering lamp of life, diffuses fresh warmth through the chilled veins, and gives comfort as well as relief, thus lightening the burden of age and retarding in a measure the progress of decay. Ladies in delicate health, as well as aged persons, derive great benefit from this wholesome stimulative tonic, which is absolutely pure, unobjectionable in flavor, and is recommended by physicians of repute.

The Wilmington Journal.

THE PUBLICATION OF THE WILMINGTON JOURNAL will be resumed in the city of Wilmington, the initial number to be issued on the first Thursday in December.

As has always heretofore been the case with this staunch old weekly, the JOURNAL in politics will represent none but the soundest and truest Democratic principles, faithful to the traditions of that party, steady to its present principles and unforgetful of the great fraud by virtue of which a Republican administration assumes the duties of the position fairly won by the Democratic party.

Our market reports will be a prominent part of the paper and will present the most valuable points of transactions up to the very hour of going to press, while especial care and attention will be paid to the editorial, news and miscellaneous departments.

One of the most prominent features of the paper will be its agricultural department and on this, which will be placed in the hands of a gentleman well qualified to manage it, experience as well as care will be brought to bear.

The WILMINGTON JOURNAL will be published from the office of the DAILY REVIEW, every Thursday afternoon at $1.50 a year.

THE SUN.

1878. NEW YORK. 1878.

As the time approaches for the renewal of subscriptions, THE SUN would remind its friends and well-wishers everywhere, that it is again a candidate for their consideration and support. Upon its record for the past ten years it relies for a continuance of the hearty sympathy and generous co-operation which have hitherto been extended to it from every quarter of the Union.

The Daily Sun is a four-page sheet of 28 columns, price by mail, post-paid, 55 cents a month, or $6.50 per year.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is an eight-page sheet of 56 columns. While giving the news of the day, it also contains a large amount of literary and miscellaneous matter specially prepared for it. THE SUNDAY SUN has met with great success. Post paid $1.20 a year.

The Weekly Sun—Who does not know THE WEEKLY SUN? It circulates throughout the United States, the Canada, and beyond. Ninety thousand families greet its welcome pages weekly, and regard it in the light of guide, counsellor, and friend. Its news, editorial, agricultural, and literary departments make it essentially a journal for the family and fireside. Terms: ONE DOLLAR a year, post paid. This price, quality considered, makes it the cheapest newspaper published. For clubs of ten, with $10 cash, we will send an extra copy free. Address: PUBLISHER OF THE SUN, nov 2 New York City.
