A Beautiful Sight.
The conjunction of Venus and the moon, the latter being in its first quarter, which took place on Saturday evening, was witnessed and enjoyed by many. It was a really and a rarely beautiful scene and as there was a clear sky, none of it was lost. It is said that this conjunction occurs every nineteen years and a half.

City Court.
The following cases were disposed of by the Mayor this morning:
George Pittilo, charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was fined $5. This was paid and George was released from limbo.
Delelate Towers and Richard Stone, pugilists, were each fined $5, which amounts were promptly paid.
York Everett, charged with disorderly conduct, was discharged.
Harris Wortham, drunk and disorderly, discharged.

The Lumberton Fire.
Mr. Godwins loss at the Lumberton fire, spoke of by us in Friday's issue, is said to have been about $6,000 with an insurance of $4,000. From the building in which was located St. Alban's Masonic Lodge No. 114 which was also destroyed only the jewels and charter were saved. The Grand Lodge, which was in session at Raleigh at the time, immediately on being notified of the loss, remitted the dues then owing to the Grand Lodge of St. Alban's.

Fire Yesterday.

Yesterday about noon the alarm of fire was sounded, caused by the burning of an old frame building on Surry street, belonging to the estate of Mr. James Darby. The fire when discovered was making rapid headway, but was soon checked by the crew of the revenue cutter Colfax, who, under command of Lieut. Brooks, succeeded in stopping what would otherwise have been a serious conflagration.

The fire was first discovered by Lieut. Brooks, on his way back to the ship from church, and he at once sent an order to Lieut. Rhodes to bring up the Cutter's men. These soon arrived, when the battlements of the house were scaled, its ports opened and the buckets full of water brought from the Cutter (they have plenty of water on hand on the Cutter, although they don't have much use for it there about of the cook's galley when the Cutter men cut her hole in the roof and poured in the water and it was all over.

A Pretty Ballad.
"Tell the Folks I'll Soon be Home" is the title of a very pretty little ballad published by Spear & Deinhoff, of New York, for a copy of which we are indebted to Mr. Chas. T. French, of French's Hotel, New York, by whom the music was composed. It was sung by the celebrated balladist, David S. Wambold, of the San Francisco Minstrels in New York, and received a number of warm plaudits from the press.

Bread is the Staff of Life.
By Bread we mean all the various forms into which it is customary to convert cereal flour. When is Bread good? Bread is good when light, sweet and nutritious, and without deleterious qualities. How are these properties best secured? In no way, we answer, so well and certainly as by the use of DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. Try it thoroughly and convince yourself.

Through Freight.
The steamship Lucille, Capt. Bennett, arrived here this morning from Portsmouth having on board a portion of the Southwest bound Coast Line freight which had accumulated at that point since the destruction of the bridges over the Roanoke at Wehlon. She will be followed by the steamship D. J. Foley, Capt. Price, which will bring on the balance of the Coast Line Freight. The Metropolis, which left Portsmouth for Wilmington last week, was disabled and will not come now at all.

The Immaculate Conception.
On Saturday, in the Catholic Church, was celebrated the feast of the "Immaculate Conception" in memory of the inestimable privilege granted to the Virgin Mother of God, of being conceived in original justice and exempted from all sin. The Blessed Mother being solemnly chosen as the "Patroness of the United States," the day is peculiarly honored by the Catholics of North America. On this day the faithful, in addition to asking individual graces for themselves and families, also beg her intercession before God, that justice, union, peace and prosperity may reign throughout the land with an increase of faith and piety among all other fellow citizens of every denomination.

Barometrical Flowers.
The following paragraph may be of interest to the ladies:
Purchasers of new and curious trinkets have already supplied themselves with the "barometrical flower." It is an artificial flower, of course, and its deep blue tint is caused by chloride of cobalt. When the atmosphere changes at the approach of rain, the blue turns pink. This is the simple explanation of a pretty toy. But the Parisian ladies are utilizing the invention by wearing the blue flowers in their hats. Thus, on the promenades they furnish to each other mutual "precautionary signals." When a lady discovers, by her neighbor's bonnet, that rain is coming, she is put on her guard; while she herself is warning others. This is the latest "mutual protection" device, and its adoption among the votaries of fashion shows that scientific ladies may be more easily known by the tints of the ornaments in their hats than by the cerulean hue of their stockings.

One of these barometrical flowers may be seen at Mr. Honnets jewelry store on Market street. It is a true prophet as regards the weather.

Postal Affairs.
The efforts of the post office department to increase the efficiency of the mail service are always matters of public interest. The latest effort in this direction is a circular from the Postmaster-General, which is displayed in the window of the Postoffice here, stating that postmasters are required to keep a complaint book, in which all letters reported to them as lost are entered; and after making examination in their offices they are required to report the loss, with all particulars without delay. The public are also invited to report promptly all losses or irregularities in their correspondence to the Chief Special Agent, Postoffice Department, Washington, D. C., and investigation will follow.

The circular further adds: "If all losses should be promptly reported it will be the means of correcting the irregularities and the interests of the public, as well as the efficiency of the postal service, will be enhanced in a most important degree. The omission of the county in the address, of letters is one of the great causes of delay and misdirection."

United States Court.

In the Circuit Court of the United States in session at Raleigh, the following cases of interest to this section have been disposed of:

Robert Swenson vs. the City of Wilmington. The case was argued by Merrimon, Fuller & Ashe for the plaintiff, and John London and J. B. Batchelor for the defendant. An agreement was filed that the court should find the fact. Judgment reserved.

The Dawson Bank and Bank of New Hanover, Wilmington, vs. Blocker, collector of internal revenue. The plaintiffs claim the return of certain taxes and penalties, paid on borrowed money, since 1872, on the ground that the statute only taxes "deposits." Judge Cantwell read his brief and concluded his argument for the plaintiffs. Mr. Badger, United States District Attorney, replied for the Government. Decision reserved.

Appointment of Brigadier Generals.
The Raleigh News says: His Excellency, Gov. Vance, on yesterday commissioned Basil C. Manly a Brigadier General of the North Carolina State Guard, and assigned him to the command of the First Military District.

Matthew P. Taylor also received an appointment as Brigadier General, and was assigned to the command of the Second Military District.

The promotion of these officers is fully deserved, by reason of their faithful services in the State Guard, and their merit finds its just reward in this advancement. During the time that they have held positions in the Guard, their unflinching efforts have done much towards building up that organization and making it worthy of our State, and every soldier in the State will appreciate his recognition of their valuable services.

General Manly's connection with the State Guard began in 1874, as Captain of the Raleigh Light Infantry. In April, 1877, he was elected Lieutenant-Colonel of the First Battalion, formed at that time. This position he occupied until he received the above mentioned commission of Brigadier-General.

General Taylor connected himself with the guard in 1875, when he was elected Captain of the Wilmington Light Infantry, occupying this position until April 30th, 1877, when he became Major of the Second Battalion, then organized. Upon the resignation of Lieutenant-Colonel Chas. Haigh of the Second, he was elected to that office and held it until his appointment as Brigadier-General.

The troops in the first military district consist of one full regiment of infantry, (10 companies) white; one battalion of infantry, (four companies) colored, and a battery of light artillery. The troops in the second military district consist of one full regiment of infantry (10 companies) white; one battalion of infantry, (five companies) colored, and a light battery.

Owing to the small number of troops in the Third Military District, no appointment of a Brigadier-General for assignment to that District will yet be made.

Industrial Fair.
The colored people in this city are making extensive preparations for the Fair to be held by them on the 25th and 26th inst., in the Gibben Lodge building, corner of Princess and Eighth streets. A large attendance is expected and the Committee are working earnestly in the matter of making all necessary arrangements. The music for the occasion will be furnished on both days by the Rosebud Band and there will be a Ball on the lower floor of the building each night of the Fair.

(Raleigh Observer.)

Journalistic.
The first number of the Wilmington JOURNAL under the new series and management has been received. As an old friend and acquaintance we give it a hearty welcome. We have reason to believe that under the editorial management and control of Josh James, the JOURNAL will in a short time resume its former popularity in the Cape Fear Section. Mr. James knows well how to conduct it, and if we are not powerfully mistaken in the man he has the energy to do it. Success to the JOURNAL.

"Moral force is never lost," observes a cotemporary. The same can be said a broken-bladed pocket knife.

The man who thinks he will take a little dip in forbidden pleasures, generally ends up by being drowned altogether.

The river steamers from Fayetteville do not reach here now, as a general thing, until midnight. This is caused not by the low water, but by the many stoppages they are obliged to make to take in freight.

The annual meeting of the lot owners of Pine Forest Cemetery will be held at the Court House next Thursday evening, on which occasion a Board of Trustees for the ensuing year will be elected.

The alarm of fire about 12 o'clock Saturday night was caused by the burning of a small house in the Northern part of the city at the bluff just above the Cotton Compress.

Judge Cox was in the city yesterday, and this morning went up to Lumberton where he has been commissioned by the Governor to hold a special term of Robeson Superior Court.
