It was by drowning, about 10 o'clock to-day, in front of Mr. J. H. Neil's store on South Water street. He boarded a little schooner lying at the wharf there and reclined on the deck for awhile talking in a rambling way to himself. He had been there but a short time, however, when he rose to nies, at lowest current rates, and respectfully ask for patronage." his feet and stepping to the side of the vessel, threw himself into the water, He fell upon his face and then rolled over on his back where it is said he floated like a log, without moving a limb. Those on board took in the situation at a glance and a pole was quickly extended to the man who grasped it and was hauled on board and then without thanking anybody in particular he left for his home and some dry clothes. We could not learn the name of the party but understand that he belongs in the lower section of the city and that he was overheard to express his determination of leaving the world as he had neither money nor work nor any prospect of either.

How to Improve an Old Bureau.

If any of our readers have an old-fashioned bureau, very old and plain, without veneering, such as our great-grandmonthers used, we can tell them what to painted black; have it well done Dec 11. by a competent workman, and let the first coat be rubbed in with sandpaper. Then the second coat of black will look smooth and glossy. When it is thoroughly KEY WEST, IMPREGNABLE, XLNT, dry you can proceed to ornament it with pictures of birds, flowers, butterflies, etc.. carefully gummed on and arranged as at your taste may direct. You will find the pictures generally sold in stationeries under the name of "Scrap Book Pictures" are best for your purpose, and they cost very little. If you take pains with your work you will find it quite Oriental in its Millinery and Fancy Goods effect, and you will wish for more bureaus to ornament. Try one, at any rate. But remember one thing-never use pictures MRS. L. FLANAGAN WISHES TO ANno background but the black paint.
