MERRY CHRISTMAS!

What to Buy, Where to Buy, and How to Buy.

We resume to-day our rambles around town among the advertisers in the REVIEW. The day is dark and lowering, but not cold, and the streets are thronged with those who are in search for pretty and useful things for the near ones and dear ones at home. The week has been a very. busy one and the pursuit of Xmas gifts seems to have been taken in hand much earlier this year than ever before. The holy rest and calm and quiet of to-morrow will be doubly welcome to those who have sold as well as to those who have bought. We first drop into the old and is favorably known furniture house of

on North Front street, where we find an elegant array of all kinds of useful as well as ornamental things-many things combining the two in one. Here you may find appropriate things for holiday inside copy to a charm. gifts ranging in value from a trifle up to hundreds of dollars. Turning down Front street we come to the where our genial friend, Mr. Jewett, has exhibited much taste in the arrangement of a thousand attractions. He makes a beautiful display and the attraction has been felt, for his counters have been thronged all of the week with eager gift seekers. At the foot of Princes, are Messrs.

BINFORD, LOEB & CO.

and just here we are led to remark that a barrel of flour or of pork or a bag of rice or of coffice or a package of sugar is not only an appropriate but an acceptable gift for the great coat and the reindeers and the m. Confirmation Class at 5 p. m. Seats a hard working relative or a zealous ef.

T. B. CARR & SON;

they guarantee their work and have also some tooth powder of their own manufacture which is highly recommended.

The crylof fire in the dead hours of the night is always alarming and to keep your minds at ease, insure your property. By reference to our columns it will be seen that will furnish you a policy in first class Companies, European and American, so that when you lay your weary head upon your pillow at night you may feel that GEO. F. TILLEY at Stall No. 8, in the Market House, is doing all he can to help the people have a good Xmas. He has a noble display of tresh meats, sausages, &c., and will kill several fat beeves reserved expressly for this season.

For French pattern hats, bonnets, ribbons, laces, &c., &c., go to Miss S. A. Strock's, on Princess street; but the ladies must call there and examine for themselves. If we attempt to talk of such things we will be knee-deep in the mire before we know it. At will find "lots and cords" of pretty things, men Monday at 7 p. m. in the Pastor's wife or an overcoat for yourself, and he is selling at this time, too, we understand, remarkably cheap.

And now, at the close, we beg to impress pon your minds one fact, viz : that life is uncertain and that life insurance is one of the most commendable things this day and generation have produced. If you think as we do, you will go at once to and insure your life for the benefit of those at home. This done you can sleep peacefully and happy on Xmasnight or any other night, knowing that the loved ones are provided for. And now "kind friends, good friends, gentle friends" we will close our rambles with the hope that we have slighted none and pleased all in this sincere endeavor of ours to mete out what was just and right to everyboddy and with a MERRY CHRISTMAS FOR ALL.

The weekly papers in this State as a general rule will suspend publication next week, but the WILMINGTON JOURNAL will prove an exception to this rule, as it will be issued as usual next Friday.

Misdirected letters are advertised and kept for some time, but if not claimed, are sent to the dead-letter office. Postal cards are not advertised and if not claimed in sixty days are burnt.

THE HAIR INVIGORATOR.

We invite attention to the advertisement of Mr. I. Furmanski's hair invigorator, an article manufactured by himself, and as to the merits of which testimony is borne by some of our most prominent citizens.

Be careful and don't drink too much on Xmas morning but if you will take a little "hot-Scotch" or "dry-Irish" or real old Bourbon, you might try it on at Harry Webb's or take a taste of those Turkey Point oysters or try your skill on his billiard tables. In any case he will be glad to see you. On Second street we find the meat store of
