Pleasant and Spring-like to-day.
Surplice waists are coming in fashion.
Odd coins are the most fashionable bangles.
Full moon this evening at 56 minutes past 6 o'clock.
"Pig pie" is the newest delicacy of the culinary art.
Florida hotels are now serving shad, green peas and tomatoes.
Black velvet button boots are the latest style for ladies walking shoes.
The latest seal skin jackets are in the shape of the English cut-away coats.
Short dresses are slowly but surely gaining ground. The kilt pleated skirt, is the favorite.
Some very fine New River Oysters were offered this morning by the hucksters at $1 a gallon.
Velvet saques are more fashionable this winter than they have been for a number of years.
Mountain beef and the best of pork and sausages can be had at the corner of Sixth and Chestnut streets.
Scarves, with the enameling in very bright colors, and representing Chinese pictures, are in great demand.
It is a common and touching sight to see six full grown men at a time gazing in the window of a candy store.
Great quantities of clothespins are shipped to New Zealand. The natives wear them for winter suits.
Fair and frosty is what Turner's almanac says of the weather to-day and fair it is now and frosty it was this morning.
Dress sleeves are made tighter than ever before and without trimming, the wide linen and lace cuffs taking its place.
An English physician revives the faded faith in blue glass by declaring that it is almost a sure cure for insanity.
Thanks to Mr. Hayes, of the meat store corner of Chestnut and Sixth streets, for some sausages of his own manufacture which we can declare from experience are as good as the best.
We regret to learn that a little boy, about 4 1/2 years old, son of Mr. B. F. Hall, of this city while playing with a hatchet this morning accidentally cut off a part of the two first fingers on his left hand.
Don't forget the Concert to be given this evening by the children of the Brooklyn Sunday School. It will prove a treat, as all know who have attended similar previous entertainments given by them. Let the little ones have a full house.

The Pee Dee Herald.
The Wadesboro Pee Dee Herald comes to us this week greatly enlarged and vastly improved. It is now published as an eight-page paper and we hope that Col. Ed. Liles is happy at last in having a little more elbow room in which to give expressions to his "obnoxious" Bourbonistic sentiments. Right cordially do we congratulate the publisher, Mr. Patrick, on this indication of prosperity. He is entitled to it, as he is hard working and energetic, in every sense of the words.
Good Enough.
Col. Liles, of the Wadesboro Herald, met Gen. Matt Taylor last week for the first time, and it was a case of love at first sight. Hear what he says of our accomplished Brigadier:
We had the pleasure of forming the acquaintance of Gen. Matthew P. Taylor, of Wilmington. He was here attending the election of Field Officers for the Second Regiment N. C. State Guards. The General is a gentleman of prepossessing appearance, and looks to be about forty-five or fifty years old; has a fine, manly form—and if we had had the "picking" of a person to fill the position he holds, we would certainly have "picked" him, and have thought that we had found the handsomest looking military man in the State.

North Carolina Medical Journal.
The first number of this new monthly is before us, and right glad are we to welcome it. It is a very handsome publication, creditable in every respect, and we should judge opens under very favorable auspices. Its contents are divided into various heads, such as Original Communications (and in this department we notice an article entitled "Resection of the Femur," by Dr. W. W. Lane, of this city), Selected Papers, Correspondence, Editorial Reviews, Medical Annotations, Collectanea and Answers to Correspondents, Biographical Notices, Obituary, Books and Periodicals Received. It is published here monthly by Drs. M. J. DeRosset and Thos. F. Wood, at $3 a year, and is printed by Messrs. Jackson & Bell. The enterprise has our most cordial wishes for its success.
For the Ladies.
A pretty model of a capote bonnet is quite seasonable in appearance; it is of bronze felt, trimmed with a wreath of thistles and diminutive fir cones, grasses and moss of every conceivable shades of green, a few loops of satin ribbon at the back, and a double ruche of tulle silk under the border.
Lace will, if possible, be used even more than ever. While it is always desirable to have it real there is not an absolute necessity for it. Those who can afford them still cling to real thread and guipure, but for those to whom the real is unattainable the French is pretty and within reach, and allowable by fashion. The lace used for undergarments is all of one kind, although it is distinguished with a number of names a few of which are Clovis, Mirecourt and Torchon.
For evening dresses a galloon called the "Rose" is much in favor; it represents a garland of bright-hued roses, with the edges cut out, so as to define the shape of the flowers. On silk of a very dark shade this "rose galloon" is most effective, while at the same time it trims very pale evening shades beautifully. Another exquisite garniture for evening toilettes is bands of gauze or India muslin, embroidered in lovely designs, with silk floss. Flowers in natural colors and shaded foliage are the usual patterns.
Woolen stockings come in the long English shape, to drab colors, and are far handsomer in finish this winter than ever before.

Disastrous Fire.
A letter to a gentleman in this city contains the news of the loss by fire of the store of Messrs. Vickers & Dalby, on Neuse river near Fish Dam, in Wake county, on the morning of the 9th inst. Everything, store and contents, proved a total loss. The origin of the fire is unknown. Messrs. Vickers & Dalby were insured in the North Carolina Home for $2,000 and in the Seaboard for the same amount.
Superior Court.
The day has been consumed in arranging the Calendar for the next three weeks. No cases have been brought forward for trial, and there will be none tried until Monday of next week, at which time the Jury has been summoned to appear.
Sudden Death.
A gentleman by the name of Comstock, from Essex, Ct., died very suddenly this morning at the Purcell House. He was a consumptive and had been spending several months at Aiken, S. C., in the hope of finding relief but of late had become so much worse that he determined to return home to die. He arrived here this morning from the South in company with his daughter and son-in-law, and was in such a critical condition that he could go no further. He was taken from the train to the Purcell House in a dying condition and breathed his last about twenty minutes after reaching the hotel. He was about 57 years of age. His remains will be taken to Connecticut for interment and will leave here on the train this evening.

Badly Burned.
A colored man from Whitehall, Bladen county, by the name of Bristol Richardson, who came here on a flat belonging to Mr. Thos. A. Maulsby, fell down in a fit this morning on the flat, which was tied up at Princess street dock, and his left arm falling in the fire, was burned very badly. From the wrist to the elbow it was burned so badly that most of the flesh peeled off. He was taken in charge by the City Physician and received the proper attention. It is not thought that amputation will be necessary.
The Late Chief Justice.
[Wadesboro Herald.]
There is one fact connected with the brilliant legal career of Judge Pearson to which no reference has been made, so far as we have seen, in the several obituary notices published of him. He was the first American Jurist who ever received the distinction of having his opinions and rulings quoted by the Court of the Queen's Bench—the highest tribunal in England. This took place soon after his elevation to our Supreme Court bench, and ever since, he has been looked upon there, as well as here and elsewhere, as one of the very brightest judicial lights of the age.

Carolina.
Good skating last Tuesday in the Statesville section.
Judge Scheuck opens the special term of Halifax Court next Monday.
Several gentlemen in Charlotte are talking of attending the Paris Exposition.
The Tarboro Southerner heads the list of recent law licentiates as "Turned out to starve."
Mr. W. D. Tharpe, of Eagle Mills township, Iredell county, killed on the 1st instant a hog weighing 506 pounds—net.
The Y. M. H. A., of Tarboro, propose giving a grand calico ball in old Odd Fellows' Hall in Tarboro, on the evening of the 23d of January.
All efforts to establish a graded school having failed, the community have determined to open the Goldsboro Free School on Monday, the 28th of January.
Wadesboro Herald: We have in our possession a chicken with two sets of wings; one set is in the usual place and the other set come out at its knee joints and drag on the ground. It is a healthy looking chicken and is now about half grown.
Murfreesboro Enquirer: On Tuesday night a handsome serenade was tendered Mrs. W. N. H. Smith, who is visiting friends in our town, by our young men, complimentary to her husband, a former citizen, having been appointed Chief Justice of North Carolina.
Tarboro Southerner: Col. Mabson of the colored militia, says the New York Times reporter from Raleigh, lied. And now the question is agitating the masses: Whether the average Northern radical would not rather tell a lie on sixty days time, than tell the truth for cash.
Durham Plant: On the 3rd of January Judge Laws sold a number of lots in the town of Durham. The lots are located on Main street, in the extreme western part of town, and some of them sold at the rates of $900 per acre. From the enormous price these lots sold at there is no indication of hard times. The same land fifteen years ago was slow sale on the market at $5 an acre.
Greensboro Patriot: The time for filing claims against the stock-holders of the Bank of Cape Fear, in the suit of Terry et al vs Wilson, assignee et al, expired by limitation on Saturday last. We are informed by Commissioner Staples that the claims filed, including demanded interest, will approximate three hundred thousand dollars. The report of the Commissioner will probably be filed at the April Term of the Circuit Court at this place.
Charlotte Observer: The Commissioner of Patents in Washington has declined the application of W. T. Blackwell & Co., of Durham, for a reopening of the case of McElwee vs. Blackwell, which case involves the title to the brand of the Durham bull. The case had been previously made up and sent to Washington and then upon application reopened for the hearing of further testimony, and the commissioner now declines a second reopening for this purpose. All the testimony is now in the hands of the commissioner and the case will be decided upon its merits. An appeal from the decision which is now pending lies, we believe, to the Supreme Court of the United States.
