TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1878. VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

The National Printing Company, Chicago, has received an order from Liverpool, England, for 5,000 show bills.

The New York elevated railway carried during 1877 3,292,1601 passengers, an increase of 1,023,2001 over 1876. Fresh flowers are daily placed around the tomb of Napoleon III, at Chiselhurst, by direction of his widow Eugenie. The Democratic House of Representatives in Ohio has passed unanimously a militia laws of the State. Montenegro, in the late Russo-Turkish strife, lost four thousand in killed and seven thousand in wounded, or more than a quarter of its population capable of bearing arms. The California Legislature has passed a law making incendiary language a felony. This has been done to meet the cases of Communistic leaders who are trying to stir up an outbreak in San Francisco.

An English tourist who met Gen. Grant standing by the statue of the Sphinx in Egypt wrote home that he "never saw such a Sphinx-like man before." He should have added that "the only difference between them was a cigar."

The winter of 1829-30 surpassed the present one in mildness. Farmers ploughed every month of the season, and no snow felt until February 2. It was followed, however, by a cold, backward spring, with a snow storm in May which killed the returning swallows.

Sixty-five of the eighty-one lives lost at the Ashtabula disaster have been paid for by the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroad Company at a rate averaging $5,000 apiece. The most expensive life cost the company $9,000 and a newly married couple were appraised at only $3,000.

gentleman often saw a young woman doing excellent work. He learned her history, and finding that she was clever, self-taught, devoted to her art and poor, he offered to send her abroad and assist her to stud; in the best foreign schools. It is by such generous deeds as this that the kindly old banker is making his name one which will long be remembered in the city so fortunate as to be his residence.

Madrid journals now speak of an in tention to remove Martinez Campos, the present captain-general of Cuba, whose arrival in the island was not long ao heralded as portending instant death to the rebellion. He was understood as having 30,000 soldiers to aid him, snd sixty days would have been a long time, to assign for the conquest of Cuba to the distinguished soldier who did so much to suppress the Carlist insurrection. The vitality of the Cuba insurrection is marvellous. No military leadership and no amount of force seem able to crush it.

The influence which the recent numerous failures of life insurance companies have had upon the public confidence, is shown by the fact that even so sound and popular an institution as the Mutual sue is made up. The conflict goes on of New York City reports only 91,553 policies in force on January 1, 1878, against 92,125 in force January 1,1877. The diminution in the amount at risk is from $294,488,000. That the outstanding policies are of a class approaching cussion of the whole country. The result maturity is also shown by the fact that is doubtful. One day in Congress the the reserve to meet them, which a year moneyed aristocracy seem to be in the asago was $77,502,000, is now $90,057,-000. The company is evidently strengthening itself for the possible contingency of a further decline in the number of new policies issued.

THE FINANCIAL WAR.

There is a tremendous conflict going on both in and out of Congress on the great and paramount question of the finances of the country. The war conpressure brought to bear by the almost omnipotent power of Wall Street, the National Banks, the Europeamand American holders of our public securities, aided by the vast and greedy army of contractionists and money oligarchists, has created a storm of unprecedented money distress that sweeps with destructive fury over the whole Republic. These gigantic instrumentalities, created and guided by millionaire men, who care nothing for the people, and nothing for the government except to use it as a cc-pporative force of oppression and of self-aggrandizement, are better organized, more debill to strike the word "white" from the termined, and more efficiently united than at any period in the history of our whole financial system. This vast money power in its dangerous organization and tremendous developments of bonds, banks, loan associations and other adjuncts of financial oppression and despotism, has its seat in the Northern and Eastern States and in Europe.

While the war lasted capital was nnited to crush the South. Its influences now ramify throughout the entire country and hence the suffering and failures and want of prosperity at the North, East and West, as well as at the South. It threatens to overwhelm the country now in rain, and to extinguish constitutional liberty on the American continent. It has subsidized a very large proportion of the press in the Northern and Eastern States, both Republican and Democratic, and now and then a newspaper in the South and West. It has inveded the sanctuary of the Most High, and now may be se n ministers of the glorious gospel of Christ, and religious associations, engaged in the dirty work of party polities, to the extent of denouncing those who offend this moneyed aristoersey, just as these professed followers of our Lord and Saviour fu mina-The Crown Prince of Germany and his ted from Northern pulpits during the wife have not, considering their station, a war, their thunder-bolts of blood and residences, rent free, and the right to give a jolings and flatterings of some leading the charge of the Emperor. In times like these, when thousands of business failures are daily occurring, when poverty and want stalk as never before in the land, and when sore distress meets us at every step, and when the demoralizing influences of the late war still cover the whole face of society with a pall of gloom, the power of money is great, and greater than ever before in the history of this country.

Be not deceived, history is but repeating itself in the strides to power and omnipotence in legislation of the

In opposition to this colossal power of hard money and financial contraction, that thus constitutes the trouble and distress pervading the varied interests of business, stand arrayed in immense magnitude and increasing numbers, the great industries of the land, the active business of Society, the toiling tax-payers and laboring people of the country. The iswith increasing severity and augmenting power in the hails of the national legisjature, in various State legislatures, in the heated columns of papers of each political party, and upon the broad arena of discendant. The next day the cause of the people, the rights of the industrial classes, and of the struggling producers and of the honest, toiling and moiling taxpayers appear to be triumphant there. A Constantinople letter gives an inter- Time alone will decide. The issue is moesting account of the disturbed condition mentous in result. If these financial encroachments upon the rights of the people continue forbearance, so long exhibited by those who are still prostrate and suffering from this legislative cause, will cease to be a virtue. The deep, bitter, murmurings of complaint everywhere heard are solemn warnings to Congress. Relies must be had. 'The usurpations of this financial despotism are not to be borne. May the issue of this severe and protracted financial war result in the relief of our oppressed people! May the wisdom of our ancestors be the guide of those who are now managing these affairs! May the God of mercies and of justice aid our suffering and empoverished people and smile propitiously upon the whole

Reopening a Thoroughfare.

In order to guard against results utterly subversive of health, it is absolutely essential that the grand thoroughfare or avenue of the system, the bowels, should be reopened as speedily as possible when they become obstructed. If they are not, the bile is misdirected into the blood; the liver becomes torpid; viscid billions matter gets into the stomach, and produces indigestion; headaches ensue, and other symptoms are produced, which a prolongation of the exciting cause only tends to aggravate. The aperient properties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters constitute a most useful agent in overcoming constriction of the bowels, and promoting a regular habit of body. It is infinitely superior to the drastic catharties frequently used for the purpose, since it does not, like them, act violently, but produces a natural, painless effect, which does not impair the tone of the evacuatory organs, which it invigorates instead of weakening. The stomach and liver, also, indeed the entire system, is strengthened and regulated by it.
