Why Suffer?

WITH DANDRUFF IN THE HAIR when by calling at the Fashionable and popular Barber Shop in basement of National Bank building you can purchase

I. Furmanski's Celebrated Hair Invigorator

which is by far the best that has ever been used for that purpose, and ENTIRELY FREES the hair from it after a few trials. There is NOT THE SLIGHTEST discoloring of the hair, but it produces a soft and pliable state of the hair. It is made only by the undersigned, and can be had at my Barber Shop under the First National Bank. I beg leave respectfully to refer to the gentlemen named below who have used my invigorator, and have authorized me to do so, as to the truthfulness of my statement, to wit: Gen. M. P. Taylor, Hon. A. H. Van Bokkelen, Capt. D. L. Filgar and Messrs. G. J. Boney, S. H. Fishplate, Geo. A. Peck, A. H. Kelley and many others too numerous to mention. Feb 6

S. JEWETT—"An Open Verdict."

A day of idleness tires more than a week of work.

The Board of Aldermen meet to-morrow evening.

Whoever conquers indolence can conquer most things.

Colored floss embroidery on net is fashionable.

Praying is a very un-kneesy thing to some people.

The Off-Shore Signal is hoisted to-day over the Signal Office.

The book stores present now the usual attractions at this time in the way of valentines.

The annual meeting of the Seamen's Friend Society will be held in the Bethel to-morrow evening.

One trivial arrest by the police on Saturday which was disposed of without the formality of a trial.

Mr. Willis Turlington, who was so seriously injured a few days since, is, we are pleased to see, so far recovered as to be able to appear on the street again.

Mr. J. L. Dolby has refitted and opened the Manning House Saloon. The best brands of whiskey will be kept, as also the best oysters in market.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of New Hanover will be held at their Banking House in this city on the Thursday in next week, the 21st inst., at 11 o'clock a. m.

The Board of Directors of the Bank of New Hanover have declared a semi-annual dividend of four per cent. payable on 12th inst., free of tax, out of the earnings of the Bank for the six months ending on the 31st ult.

A large silver trumpet, the property of the Foreman of the Wilmington Hook & Ladder Company No. 1, was lost on Friday night either on Third, Ann or Front street, south of Market. The finder will be suitably rewarded on leaving it with Capt. R. H. Beery, the Foreman of the Company.

"Dooley's Yeast Powder,"

Said a lady, "has made itself indispensable in our kitchen. Our biscuits, cake, waffles, muffins, and such like things with its aid are always enjoyable and good. We would not be without it in our family. We have used it for over fifteen years, and it has never disappointed us yet."

The Passport.

The handsome little steamer Passport, which is now under the control of Mr. Geo. Myers, who is to place her soon on the line between this city and Smithville, went down the river this afternoon on a little excursion trip; Commodore Chesboro, the owner, being in command. It was a pleasant little party and we doubt not that there was a good time all around, especially as the drum has to be passed both going and returning.

Red Ants.

Wet a sponge with water in which some sugar has been dissolved; squeeze the sponge as dry as possible, saving the sugar water, and set the sponge where the ants infest. It will soon be full of them. Dip it in scalding water, which will kill the ants. Dip it again in the sugar and water and set it. You will soon catch all the ants and destroy them.

Services at the First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Dr. Wilson, Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in this city, preached last night to a large congregation upon the existence of a future punishment. To any one who glanced in upon this large assembly last night it must have been evident that the topic chosen for the evening's discourse was one of deep interest to people of all classes and creeds in this community. Presbyterians were there and Baptists were there, Methodists were there and Episcopalians were there, and Roman Catholics and Israelites; the regular devout church-goer and the semi-occasional, now and then, attendant were there also. There were those who feign to believe there is no hell, no future punishment, and some were there also of whom it is said that they doubt the very existence of a Deity, and others who disbelieve in the Trinity; rich and poor, high and low, the Jew and the Gentile were all assembled together as they will be on the last great day. The reverend gentleman took his text from the 46th verse of the 25th chapter of St. Matthew:

"And these shall go away into everlasting punishment, but the righteous into life eternal."

We would like very much for the benefit of our readers who were not present to furnish a synopsis of the sermon, but without notes we shall not attempt it for fear of doing this learned divine injustice. Suffice it to say, that those who were of the opinion that there is no future state of punishment and went to listen to this profound and scholarly preacher open to conviction—if they were not convinced before leaving the church that there is a place of punishment hereafter, then we undertake to say that their feelings must at least have been decidedly uncomfortable.

Criminal Court.

The Criminal Court of New Hanover county, His Honor, Judge Meares, presiding, convened this morning at 10 o'clock. The following named persons were drawn to serve upon the Grand Jury for this term of the Court, viz:

Jno. H. Allen, Foreman, G. J. Boney, Nathan Noyes, R. B. Freeman, Henry Lemmerman, John Moseley, Primus Aycock, H. A. Burr, Chas. H. Robinson, Thomas Moore, William Moseley, Wm. M. Collins, Henry Nutt, G. M. Altaffer, Edward S. Ennett, Wm. Marsteller, Jas. B. Huggins, Chas. Tietgen.

The Judge then delivered his charge to the Grand Jury, after which several unimportant cases were disposed of, among them one or two cases for assault and battery, which were submitted. A ci fa against the Sheriff of Brunswick county was dismissed at defendant's cost. This constitutes the proceedings for the day up to the time of our going to press.

A Good Idea.

We learn that Messrs. Gregory & Freeman, proprietors of the Humphrey House, in Goldsboro, have decided upon changing the name of that hotel which will hereafter be known as the Gregory House, in compliment to the venerable Richard J. Gregory, the senior of the firm and the oldest hotelier in the State. We think the change a good one as much because of the popularity of Mr. Gregory with travelers as of the unpopularity of Col. Humphrey with the politicians. The house is an excellent one and as long as Mr. Freeman, the junior partner, is at the wheel, it will remain second to none in the State.

A New Chapel.

Christian Chapel, the colored M. E. Church on the corner of Church and Seventh street which was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago, is being rapidly rebuilt. The old church was of wood, but the new structure is to be of brick. The walls are already about eleven feet above the ground and are rapidly getting higher. It promises to be a very handsome little edifice when completed and an ornament to that section of the city. The building committee have thus far shown a very commendable energy and perseverance.

The Up-Country.

MOORESVILLE, Iredell County, N. C., February 7th, 1878.

MR. EDITOR: As some of the readers of your sprightly Review, who know nothing of this section, might wish to hear from our hilly country, I will attempt to give them an idea of Mooreville, though I feel my inability to do so in a comprehensive manner.

It is a pleasant little village, or I might say city, as it has a Mayor and a "Board of Council," situated in Iredell county, on the A. T. & O. R. R., about 31 miles from Charlotte, and 17 from Statesville. Lying directly on the healthy ridge of North Carolina, surrounded on all sides by beautiful hills, rendering it a most picturesque spot, and though it numbers now about seven or eight hundred inhabitants, it is but five years old, there having been in 1873 but one cabin here besides the R. R. warehouses.

The founder, Mr. J. F. Moore, who lived a mile or two West of here, moved here about January, 1873, and was soon followed by others, since which time it has constantly grown, and even now several houses are in course of erection. Near here is a solitary grave, which exhibits the mortality statistics of the place during its existence, and beneath that mound rest the remains of Mr. Moore, the first settler here, who died not long since, as his size will prove, he having died last year, in his 58th year, and weighing just prior to his death 320 pounds. Brain disease did its work, and his noble specimen of manhood was laid low in death. Every day I see and converse with men in appearance 40 or 50 years old, yet who have lived in this belt of country 60 or 70 years, and who to-day can do as good a day's work as any ordinary man of 25 years.

The railroad line through the centre of the place, and the train passes twice a day, breaking the monotony of village life. We have a fine academy where a thorough course of English and the classics are taught and one primary school, in which the young are prepared for entrance into the academy.

Near the centre of the place stands the Presbyterian church, which, by the way, is a handsome building, capable of seating about five hundred persons, which is presided over by Rev. Mr. Perick, an affable, fluent and able Divine. A Methodist church is in course of erection and will be completed by June or July next, and of sufficient dimensions to conveniently accommodate three hundred persons.

Rev. T. L. Triplett is the Methodist shepherd at Mooresville, and is very popular with the people collectively for his ability is only exceeded by his christian humility.

Both congregations now worship in the Presbyterian church, exhibiting a true christian spirit. The atmosphere here is not humid as in Wilmington, but pure, light and volatile, buoyant and strengthening to the lungs, hence is an excellent resort for consumptives. We have a fine hotel and several stores, and all branches of business well represented, except liquor business, to which exception no doubt much of the morality of the place depends. By an act of the Legislature, the sale of spirituous liquors within two miles of here is prohibited. There is also quite a cotton market, there having been upwards of 2,000 bales of cotton sold here during the past year. The people, as a whole, are refined, pious, intelligent and hospitable to a fault. None of the selfishness usually ascribed to Western North Carolina is perceptible here.

If a man so far forgets himself as to be boisterous in profanity or obscenity, he is immediately arrested and jugged for 24 hours in the calaboose, so you see the necessity of holding one's temper and keeping sober.

Just two miles from here is located the justly celebrated Creswell Chalybeate Springs, to which many invalids resort during the summer months. As I hear the whistle of the coming train, I hurriedly close for the present.

Look Into It.

A gentleman who is interested in the subject informs us that the Attorney-General has rendered an opinion to the effect that the law requires the appointment of overseers for public roads to be made now by a Board of Justices of the Peace instead of by the County Commissioners as formerly. It would be well for our Board of Commissioners to look into the matter.

In Distress.

The schooner David V. Streaker, Garrison, bound from Jacksonville, Fla. with a cargo of lumber for Philadelphia, arrived here in a leaking condition this morning, consigned to Harris & Howell. A survey has been ordered, and the schooner will probably have to go on the marine railway for repairs.

Restoring the Color of Lace.

Lace may be restored to its original whiteness by first ironing it slightly, then folding it and sewing it into a clean linen bag, which is placed for twenty-four hours in pure olive oil. Afterwards the bag is to be boiled in a solution of soap and water for fifteen minutes, then well rinsed in lukewarm water, and finally dipped into water containing a slight proportion of starch. The lace is then to be taken from the bag and stretched on pins to dry.

This moderate weather is decidedly discouraging to the wood dealers.

Business seems to be picking up a little here and there.

Fine congregations in all of the churches yesterday.
