than anything else.

The citizens of Front street still occupy the van in the march of improvements, such as Belgian pavements, fine stores, pretty residences and new buildings. The latest item in the way of a new building on this street that we have noticed is the fine(?) new structure just being erected on Mayor Fishblate's lot on Sunset Hill.

Col. Steele's Speech.

We are indebted to the Hon. Walter L Steele for a copy of his speech entitled "Silver Lunacy," delivered before the House of Representatives on the 21st ult., while the House had under consideration the Senate amendments to the Silver bill-Col. Steele, in this speech, fully sustained his reputation as a fine public speaker and a powerful, clear, sound and logical reasoner. The speech is one marked by ability, shows much thought upon the subject It is not necessary to sit down in a pan of which it treats, and is very interesting to the reader. It will amply repay perusal

A Wilmingtonian Robbed.

We regret to learn that Mr. W. G. Fowler, Jr. who removed a short time since from this city to Mooresville, in Iredell county, suffered last week from the depredations of a burglar. His store was broken into and a sum of money amount not fully known, a watch and chain, and some other articles were carried off. Such a thing as a burglary is a rare occurrence in the quiet little town o Mooresville and as a consequence a vigilant search was at once instituted for the guilty party. As a result of this search a 16 year old boy from Concord was on Tuesday arrested with the stolen articles in his possession and was sent to jail at Statesville.

Explanation.

We have been so fortunate this week as to enter an unusually large number of new subscribers to the WILMINGTON JOURNAL. Some of these were received too late for this week's issue because of the fact that part of the paper was already printed when their names were entered. To such we will send to-day's issue of the REVIEW, but will date their subscriptions from next week's Journal We hope that this explanation will be satisfactory to all.

Almost a Fire.

This morning, about 6 o'clock, Mr. Second round in part of Quarterly Martens, the fireman of Howard Fire Enthe room adjoining where the hose truck of the Company is kept. The straw in the stall of the horse kept there to pull the hose carriage was on fire and the lamp in that room was found to be shattered, the supposition being that it must either have been exploded or else broken by a kick from the horse. The flames were burning right fiercely when first discovered. but a few buckets of water soon suppressed them. The horse was burned slightly about one of his feet but appears to have suffered more from inhaling the dense smoke.

Last Night's Fire. Last night, about 101 o'clock, the residence of Sergeant J. J. Forrest, of the Police Force, corner Fourth and Church streets, was discovered to be on fire. The alarm was quickly sounded and as soon as possible the various members of the fire department were on the ground, and succeeded in saving a portion of the frame work of the building. It was owned by Sergeant Forrest and was insured with Messrs. Jno. W. Gorden & Bro. in the Liverpool, London & Globe Insurance Company, for $1,500 on the house and $75 on the kitchen. A portion of Sergeant Forerst's furniture as well as a part belonging to Mrs. Tracy, who occupied the second story of the building, was lost and on this there was no insurance.

A Dangerous Experiment.

A most remarkable escape from a serious disaster occurred this morning. About 8 o'clock a colored boy in the employ of Dr. Jas. E. Kea, at his Dental rooms, on Market street, undertook to build a fire in the stove in that gentleman's office. As the wood did not burn fast enough the enterprising youth determined to try the effect of kerosene. He did so and poured the oil from the can on the fire. He was probably somewhat disappointed in the result, however, as the fire communicated to the oil in the can, with a startling explosion, tearing the bottom out and forcing the can through an open door into the passage. It did not stop there, however, but soon the floor around the stove was in a blaze and the Kirby, John J Reid, Chicago; George At boy ran out into the street with his clothes on fire. He was caught there and the flames extinguished, the boy escaping, fortunately, with but a few slight burns. A number of persons then rushed up into the office and soon succeeded in putting out the last remnant of the fire. Dr. Kea arrived just in time to assist in the undertaking. The damages were fortunately but sight and Dr. Kea has already had his office restored to its usual neat East India missionary the formula of a

City Court.

The only case on docket for the acting Mayor's consideration this morning was that of the party arrested yesterday afternoon by Capt. Cowan, and committed to the city prison for fortune-telling on the streets. There is a city ordinance passed by the previous administration, which prohibits any such practice upon a heavy penalty unless a license is procured, and the defendant was acting in violation of this ordinance. The prisoner gave his name as Wiley Tinkley. The Mayor pro tem. told him he would let him off with the costs of the court, provided, however, that he agree to leave the city before sunset tomorrow evening. It transpired after the sentence of the court that the poor devil has no money with which to pay the costs, so he is still held id durance vile.
