Decidedly cooler to-day.
 The fair sex were out in full force to-day.
 The moonlight was bright enough to read by last night.
 Shad are retailing from 25 to 75 cents per bunch in this market.

Look Out.
 Counterfeit trade dollars have been discovered in circulation at New York, as they have been in Baltimore. Their appearance is said to be good, and it is hard to detect them. The bad pieces are nearly twenty grains lighter than the genuine, and a very little smaller in size. They have been so far chiefly distributed among the small grocery stores.

Bellevue Cemetery.
 Within the past three or four weeks many beautiful improvements have been made in Bellevue Cemetery. Tasty marbles have been erected, magnolia and other beautiful trees have been planted and the young shrubs and evergreens which were planted some months ago are growing nicely. The natural beauties of Bellevue are many and in a few years we expect to see it one of the attractions of the city. The company contemplate building a lodge on the grounds at an early date and will erect little summer houses for the convenience and comfort of visitors.

The Bell Punch
 The Moffett Bell Punch will be exhibited at the Produce Exchange to-morrow at 12 o'clock by Alderman F. W. Foster and those who would like to see how the "old thing works," can do so. As the punch will be the means of abolishing the credit system and be a source of considerable revenue to our tax-burdened community, we hope it will be adopted in this city. By its use the barkeeper will be benefited and a revenue derived for the city which will be collected in dribbets from the consumers and not as some suppose from the dealers.

Southern Industry.
 Some of the finest syrup we have seen was sent to us by Messrs Turrentine & Gardner, merchandise brokers, who are the agents in this city for Messrs Robert Carey & Co., of New Orleans, who are large manufacturers of syrup and molasses. We are glad to know that Messrs Turrentine & Gardner are doing a good business in the sale of the syrup, which is a home industry, and one which will be a source of revenue to the South. Our merchants here have an opportunity to patronize a Southern industry, and it is to be hoped that they will handomely support and encourage the manufacture of the Southern syrup and molasses.

Explanation.
 Some days ago we had occasion to speak of a petition which was sent to Raleigh for signature, praying the Revenue Department to have the revenue cutter Stevens sent back to the waters of Eastern Carolina. The petition originated in Newbern or Washington, N. C., and at the time we wrote we were under the impression that by having the Stevens sent back to the waters of Eastern Carolina the revenue cutter Colfax would be ordered to some other station.

Consumption Cured.
 An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe in German, French, or English, with full directions for preparing and using. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 126 Powers' Block, Rochester, N. Y. 4w

Mothers, Mothers, Mothers.
 Don't fail to procure Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for all diseases of teething in children. It relieves the child from pain, cures wind colic, regulates the bowels, and, by giving relief and health to the child, gives rest to the mother.

After all that has been said about "sweeping reductions," the Grand Central is the only first-class hotel in New York that has made a "sweeping reduction." It offers first-class accommodation for $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

St. George and St. Andrew's.

The grounds of the St. George and St. Andrew's Athletic Society, in the North-eastern portion of the city, are lying idle and the fences around them are going to pieces. Has the Society died a natural death or will the members reorganize for the summer campaign?

Receipts of Corn.
 Seven cargoes of corn, aggregating 17,390 bushels, arrived here yesterday. One cargo of 3,700 bushels was sold for 58 1/2 cts., cash, another of 2,700 at 59 cts., cash, and still another cargo of 3,200 bushels was sold at 59 1/2 cts., cash. Four cargoes, comprising 7,790 bushels, have been taken in store.

Swindlers Exposed.

Elias & Co., who hold forth at the corner of Twenty-first streets and Broadway New York, who have previously been detected in several swindling schemes, have again come to the front as the following clipping from a New York paper will show.
 A week ago Superintendent Walling received the following communication from Mr. H. D. B. Cutler, editor of the Glenwood (Mo.) Criterion:
 March 2, 1878.
 Superintendent of Police, New York.
 Sir: You will find with this one of a number of circulars that have been received in this neighborhood. Will you please investigate Clark & Co. and let me know the result. It may be the means of saving a few dollars to the idiots who send for certificates.
 Truly yours,
 H. D. B. CUTLER.

About the same time a similar letter was received from Mr. H. Brace, Fall River, Mass., accompanied by a circular from the same firm of Clark & Co. referred to in the Missouri editor's communication. The circular is as follows:
 1,267 BROADWAY, NEW YORK,
 22d February, 1878.
 H. Brace, esq.

DEAR SIR: Is this your signature on the enclosed slip of paper? If so, you are entitled to a certificate of gold-mining stock valued at $500. The money you sent in the letter from which the enclosed slip was clipped was invested on the general margin principle, which resulted in lawfully securing for you the certificate of stock referred to above. Now, if you will write to us and return the enclosed slip, so we can compare it with your signature, we shall be sure the proper party will receive the stock. Respectfully,
 CLARK & CO.,
 Superintendent Walling placed the case in the hands of Captain Williams, who visited No. 1,267 Broadway several times, but failed to find any one in the office of Clark & Co. He kept a constant watch on the place however, and was on duty Tuesday as usual. In the time the letter carrier appeared with a bundle of letters for Clark & Co. and knocked at the door. A young man opened it and received the letters, but he was suddenly seized by Captain Williams and arrested. He was taken to Police Headquarters with his letters, and here the swindle was exposed. The young man gave his name as Clinton and represented himself as agent for Clark & Co. After a close examination the police authorities became convinced that Clinton was not aware of the nature of the business carried on by his employers, and was consequently discharged on condition that he would appear as a witness if his services were required.

The firm of Clark & Co. has no existence in fact, but the name is assumed by a number of swindlers. Their plan of operation was as follows: They managed in some way (Captain Williams thinks through the agency of dishonest postmasters) to get the signatures of several persons throughout the country, and sent them circulars similar to the one given above, accompanied by slips evidently cut from letters written by their intended victims. If a person receiving a circular replied saying the signature was his he was sent an artificially got-up certificate of stock in the Silver Mountain Mining Company, accompanied by a bill of charges for commission and expenses. The certificate of course in due time would prove to be worthless and the victims would discover the fraud. The business has been carried on extensively. Tuesday morning fifty-seven letters were received at their office in Broadway, and are now in the hands of Captain Williams. They will be sent to Postmaster James, and any further letters addressed to Clark & Co. received will be sent to the dead-letter office.

Clinton says he was employed by Elias Brothers, auctioneers, doing business at the corner of Twenty-first street and Broadway. The members of that firm are under bail bonds at present in connection with a questionable lottery scheme with which they were recently connected. They have not yet been arrested, because there is no complaint against them from any person within the State of New York. So soon as any one makes a charge against them they will be prosecuted.

Mr. W. S. Hewlett, of this city, now holds one of these bogus certificates. Some two years ago Mr. Hewlett remitted $2 to New York for a ticket in some scheme which he had seen advertised, and last month he received a letter from "Clark & Co., Adjustors of Claims," of which the above is a fac-simile. His signature was also enclosed, and Mr. Hewlett supposes that this was taken from the letter written by him two years ago. In response to the inquiry as to whether he would have the certificate sent here by express or by registered letter, he indicated the latter and thus it came. It is very handsomely gotten up and there is nothing in its appearance to indicate that the concern is a bogus one. It is for five shares of stock, of $100 to the share, in the Silver Mountain Mining Company, the pretended location of the mines being in Carson county, Wyoming Territory. It claims that there are in all 100,000 shares of stock at $100 each—only ten millions. The certificate is dated March 7th, 1878.

Yet, in the face of the fact that the whole thing is an unadulterated swindle, we do not see where Clark & Co.'s profits come in. They certainly made nothing out of Mr. Hewlett, as the package, being a registered letter, was necessarily prepaid in full, and Mr. Hewlett has not as yet paid out one cent for the certificate.
