

Although Tecumseh Sherman has the Government forage for his horses sent to Honest John Sherman's stables, there is no complaint that the latter's animals eat more than their share, because there is always enough to go round.

Virginia and Tennessee last year went far ahead of North Carolina, which has long headed the list as producers of peanuts. The estimated falling off this year in the three States is 552,000 bushels, or more than one third of a good crop.

The chaplain of the Iowa State Senate has been making himself ridiculous again. In a prayer the other day he said: "O Lord, while we think the President insane, we ask you to bless him." The result was that three resolutions were sent to the clerk's desk relating to the chaplain's eccentricities.

Some of the contributors to O'Donovan Rossa's Skirmishing Fund complain because he waits so long before smiting England. They cannot reasonably deny, however, that he has a large amount of warfare on hand. Irish Protestants throw stones at him in Toronto, and Irish Catholic clergymen denounce him and his movement in New York. Altogether, the agitator has cause to be agitated.

The biennial work of counting the gold and silver coin in the Sub-treasury at New York commenced Wednesday, and engages the attention of thirty-one accountants from the Treasury Department at Washington. It will take three weeks to complete the count, as about $100,000,000 in coin are deposited there.

The Governor of Woking convict prison, England, which is situated on a wild heath, has been robbed of $4,000 worth of plate. The plate and clothing of the Chaplain were also taken. The thieves did the work between the Governor's late dinner hour and midnight. The prison is guarded externally by warders with loaded rifles, and with in the prison a patrol of armed warders is maintained.

The Secret Service Bureau reports that counterfeiters are making arrangements to supply facsimiles of the new silver dollar. The peculiarity about these counterfeiters is that they are of silver of equal weight and fineness as the genuine. Counterfeiters can afford to make them of pure material, for the reason that it costs only about ninety one or two cents. The counterfeit is, therefore, in reality intrinsically worth just as much as the genuine.

Cotton-seed oil manufacture is becoming a marked industry in the South. There are now seven large mills in New Orleans, and others at Baton Rouge, Shreveport, Natchez, Vicksburg, Dallas, Memphis, Nashville, and even St. Louis and Chicago. A ton of seed produces twenty gallons of oil, worth $3.50, while the refuse cake, worth $20 per ton, is valuable as feed for domestic animals and fertilizing land.

The State Geologist of Georgia reports that her agricultural, pastoral, and lumber resources are equal, if not superior, to any State on the Pacific Slope, or in the Northwest. She has water power far more valuable and more generously diffused than New England. In gold she is equal to California, in copper to Tennessee, in coal to Pennsylvania, in iron to the most productive country, in pasturage to Kentucky, in soil to Iowa, in lumber to Maine, and in climate she is better and more unchangeable than any of them.

The Italian Government has published some statistics of the working of the law passed last year for compulsory elementary instruction. The law was not of a very stringent character, as it was limited to children between the ages of eight and ten, and imposed upon these only the obligation of attending an elementary day school for two years, and an evening school, where one existed, for a third year. From the figures published, it appears that in a population of 26,801,154, there were 2,635,338 children who came within the limits prescribed by the law, and of these, something less than one-half complied with the obligation imposed upon them.

Mr. Campbell, the landlord of the "Duke of Wellington," Newcastle-on-Tyne, boasts of being the largest subject of Queen Victoria. He was born only in 1856, and measures round the shoulder 96 inches, waist 85 inches, and round the chest 135. He weighs 728 pounds, and might go to a printer, but cannot from his size to give up the occupation. His appetite is nothing extraordinary, and he is a moderate drinker, but smokes a great deal, to which habit a medical correspondent of the Lancet attributes his having rather irregular action of the heart.

THE OLD NORTH STATE.

We are under obligations to Col. Polk, the very efficient Commissioner of Agriculture in this State, for a copy of the latest publication of his department, which is a "Tabulated Statement of the Industries and Resources of North Carolina." It is a very valuable thing and treats of facts and statistics of great interest, not only to actual citizens of the State, but to all those of other States who may be looking out for new homes. Col. Polk premises that the statements, as a rule, were made by those "whose constant employment on the farm gave them but little time to devote to other matters, and when we consider this fact, the reports are creditable and full."

We would like to publish the report entire but it is too lengthy for our column and must therefore content ourselves with a synopsis. There are in all, 4,374 churches in the State, divided among the different denominations as follows: 9 Roman Catholic, 90 Episcopal, 185 Presbyterian, 1,952 Baptist, 1,977 Methodist, 76 Lutheran, 24 Christian, 20 Quaker, 30 German Reform, 3 Union, 8 Dunkers, 5 Campbellites. There are 2,597 white schools and 128 colored; 13 male colleges and high schools, 13 female, and 7 both male and female; this includes both public and private. Of benevolent and charitable institutions there are 18 poor houses, 2 orphan asylums, 3 insane asylums, 1 Bible and tract society, 68 masonic, 27 odd fellow and 31 good temper lodges. Of public bridges there are 1,093, 98 private fish ponds and 61 wind mills.

Mineral springs abound in all parts of that State, there being 214 reported, mostly of sulphur and iron; one in Caswell county containing iron, alum, lithia, lime and magnesia; several counties report many not analyzed. Of mills there are 2,689 for grain, of which 224 are run by steam, 2,465 by water. Of the 1,529 saw mills 228 are steam and 1,301 run by water. There are 18 iron furnaces, 41 iron foundries and 28 lime kilns. In gold mines the State is well supplied, there being 81, while silver and copper seem to be scarce, there being only one of silver and three of copper reported. Under the head of "other minerals" iron, gold, mica, plumbago, are reported from almost every county from Middle and Western Carolina; manganese, asbestos, lead, silver, graphite, kaoline, oil stone, corundum, pyrites, coal, zinc, and saltpetre are reported for one or more counties. Ten counties say they have marble, forty granite, thirty-four sandstone, forty-nine soapstone, thirty-eight millstone, twenty-nine marls; of potteries there are 39, tanneries 296; fisheries 261. The staple crops are cotton, tobacco, corn, wheat, rye, oats, buckwheat, peas, potatoes, peanuts, rice, the grasses and melons. The general surface of the State in the West is mountainous; Middle, hilly and undulating; and in the East level. Apples, peaches, pears, apricots, cherries, grapes, plums, small fruits, and in fact fruits of every description grow with luxuriance and abundance in some parts of the State. Wilmington and Raleigh are the two largest cities in the State; one has 19,000; the other 15,000 inhabitants; the two smallest are Contentment with 20, and Crawford 40.

Among the principal kinds of timber we find hickory, oak, pine, poplar, chestnut, maple, white pine, ash, gum, birch, walnut, sugar maple, cucumber, cypress, juniper, cedar, live oak, beech, cherry, locust, dogwood, holly and linden. Of manufactures there are of carriages and wagons 204, of furniture 97, sash, blind and doors 10, implements and machinery 64, saddlery 2, plows 1, spoke and handle 4, shoe factory 1, shingled factory 1, organs, melodeons, mill fixtures, carding machines 1 each. Of the 53 cotton and woolen mills in the State 46 reported. Of these 6 are operated by steam, 41 by water; 35 reported the amount of capital invested which aggregates $1,547,300. The number of operators in the 44 reported is 1,620, the number of spindles in the 46 cotton factories reported is 99,706, looms 1,592. The 4 woolen factories have 240 spindles. There are 119 carding machines. Only 7 factories report that their operations are ever checked by cold, and then rarely and only for a few days.

The character of the soil varies greatly from a stiff clay all the way to light sand.

Twelve counties are not reported, viz: Chowan, Clay, Iredell, Madison, Martin, Mecklenburg, Moore, New Hanover, Orange, Pender, Wake and Warren. In this list of derelicts will be seen our own county and Pender and to those of our people who visit the Agricultural Museum at Raleigh the naked shelves labelled with the names of these two counties are a standing and a painful reproach. Let us hope that some of our public spirited farming friends will soon remove the cause.

Neighboring Norwegian fishing villages are now connected by telegraph to warn fishermen of the approach of a bank of herrings. Hitherto the fish have frequently got away before hands enough to catch them could be summoned.

ANOTHER.

Our good friend, Dossey Battle, of the Tarboro Southern, has flown the track. He carries the name of Judge Howard for the Supreme Court at the head of his editorial columns and is kind enough to mark it with a red pencil to attract our attention. With no desire to "censorize" anybody in anything we can only add our endorsement to the fact that Judge Howard is the right man for the position as is also Judge Schenck and a hundred and one other good men and true whom we wot of, and then refer our good friend of the Southern to the editorial published by us on Tuesday last in response to a similar suggestion on the part of another good friend of ours, him of the Concord Sun.

ENGLAND IN A HURRY TO FIGHT.

A London correspondent of the New York Times gives an alarming report of the British War preparations. Says he:

The arrangements for fighting are going on with ceaseless vigor. Two army corps of 50,000 each are ready to be dispatched at once to any given point, and I learn from an excellent military authority that their equipment is as perfect as art and money can make it. Lord Napier, of Magdala, has been selected as the commander-in-chief of any expeditionary force that may be sent out, with Sir Garnet Wolesley as chief of the staff. This selection of officers has given great satisfaction, and the other appointments of the Horse Guards are evidently being made on the same principle of placing the best men in the highest positions. An army of forty thousand British and native troops is ready to leave Malta. The Guards have been put on a war footing, and other regiments are being re-equipped up to their full strength. The volunteers are offering their services for garrison duty at home or active service abroad. It is pretty well understood that in the event of war the home barracks and forts would be left in charge of the volunteers and militia, so that all the regular troops could leave the country. The Coast Guard is being strengthened, the local forts are mounted with 38-ton guns, torpedoes and torpedo-boats are distributed at the various stations, and the home defenses are generally being put into condition to meet serious contingencies. The Times, after a careful investigation of the organization and capacity of the army, comes to the conclusion that, "on the whole, the country is, we think, justified in assuming, now that the purchase of additional horses has been energetically commenced, that though chiefly a maritime power, we should yet be able to strike a severe and telling blow with our army."

There is no doubt about it. British soldiers are unsurpassed, but as the Macen Telegraph remarks to move sixty thousand of them two thousand miles from home, and feed them there is heavy work, and when there they would meet twice their number. It is a poor speculation. Nevertheless, it is comfortable to feel strong. Mrs. Partington, when she nailed a new leather hinge on her back door, remarked to Ike: "That, now, for the first time I feel secure and ready to propel any contact."

NORTH CAROLINA POSTOFFICE APPOINTMENTS.

A representative of the Republican met a prominent North Carolina Republican on the street the other day and asked him how political matters were in his State. He said: "When Hayes first started out the Republican party was disposed to be friendly to him, and it did look as though it could be held together and strengthened, notwithstanding the snub the Southern Republicans received by the appointment of Judge Key, a Democrat, to a Cabinet position. Judge Key seems friendly enough to us, and really treats us better than any other member of the Cabinet," "but when we want an appointment of route agent or postmaster we ask for bread and get a stone. Recently Mr. Marshall, who has the appointment of route agent in the South, appointed a red-hot Democrat at the instance of General Vance, Democratic member of Congress, and again made another appointment on the application of Walter L. Steele, Democratic member of Congress. Both men are credited to them. Yet we are told that members of Congress are not allowed to influence appointments. That is probably true where the members are Republicans. Our Republicans are worn out and disgusted. Knowing ones here tell us that Marshall, of the Postoffice Department, is a Democrat, and actually despises Southern Republicans. At any rate, we know that he will not give us any appointments."

The above is from the Washington Republican, and we copy it here merely to say that we do not believe that either General Vance or Colonel Scales has ever preferred any such request to Mr. Hayes. It is a slander upon both of these gentlemen to say that they have ever asked a favor at the hands of the unelected President, and that they have not done so will be one of the brightest gems our Congressmen will wear in their caps when they go before the people on the hustings next Fall.

ADVERTISE IN THE WILMINGTON (Weekly) JOURNAL. Office 12 corner Chestnut and Water sts. up stairs.

A pamphlet entitled "Where are we going to?" is said to be creating a great sensation in Holland. The author, Myneher Speelman, points out that all the hope of Holland rests at this moment on the Prince of Orange. But both the question of the dynasty and that of Dutch national independence are, the writer says, in a critical position. The Dutch royal family is very limited in number, and counts no longer a single female member. The marriage of the Prince of Orange has therefore become a most important question. Holland will and can live only with the house of Orange, Myneher Speelman says, unless she were to become again a republic. The dynastic question is therefore a vital question.

An arrested "Moonshiner" says there are 200 illicit distilleries in Putnam county Tenn., five being in a circuit of one-half mile. Every bushel of corn used produces an average of two and a half gallons of whiskey, and the price of corn in that locality seldom reaches fifty cents a bushel, making the whiskey less than twenty cents a gallon. It is generally sold at from one to three dollars per gallon.

Corn Planting.

The popular time for beginning to plant is about the 20th to the 30th of March. If the weather be cool the grain will be a fortnight or more in shooting its little spears above the surface; and as its real peril from a cold snap is between the 1st and 20th of April, it is probable there is no material risk of planting at that time or afterwards. Corn is not often killed outright by cold, but it frequently gets a feeble and sickly start from that cause.

The most fatal malpractice in respect to corn in this region comes from shallow planting—not shallow covering, but dropping in furrows which are not usually more than three or three and a half inches deep—as you will find by examining them carefully—you will be ready to swear there are six inches deep, until you brush aside the loose soil thrown up by the plough and measure them from the real surface level. Then you will find they are only three inches deep, and when the crop comes to feel the May drought, the heat of the sun soon burns the roots of the plant through the thin covering of porous and sandy soil.

The Stinging Sensation.

In the gutlet called "heartburn," (why, it is impossible to conceive, since the heart has nothing to do with it,) is caused by the acetous fermentation in the stomach of the food contained in it, by an overplus of the gastric juice, which is itself a powerful acid, or by the unnaturally acid quality of that secretion. The ordinary way of treating this symptom, for it is nothing else, is to administer bicarbonate of soda, an alkali, to neutralize the acid. But sour stomach cannot be cured by alkalis, which tend to weaken the digestive apparatus. A far better remedy is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which strengthens the cellular membrane the seat of the difficulty, regulates the flow of the gastric secretion, improves the quality of it, and puts the stomach into good working order. Perfect digestion follows as a natural sequence, and there is no more trouble from heartburn or sour stomach. The liver and bowels are also thoroughly regulated by this sovereign alternative.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outlived all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.

PEAKS FOR ITSELF ROCKPORT, Mass., April 2, '77.

MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 25 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would sniff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package, and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second, nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.

Golden Medical Discovery Is Pectoral.

Golden Medical Discovery Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant

Golden Medical Discovery Is Tonic.

By reason of its Alterative properties cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin as Scrofula, or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers, or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequalled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness. In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.
