Second Ward Democratic Club.
The Democratic voters of the Second Ward met at the Court House Saturday evening for the purpose of reorganizing the Second Ward Democratic Club for the approaching campaign.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Jno. C. James, as President of the Club, who stated the object of the meeting as above.

On motion, the election of officers was declared in order.

Col. Wm. L. Smith nominated Mr. Jno. C. James, stating in a few very appropriate remarks, the efficient manner in which he had presided for the last two years. Mr. James declined, stating that as he had held the office for two years, he thought he should be excused and some one else elected. He was again nominated by Mr. Junius Davis, and again declined. Dr. Carr then said he proposed that Mr. James be elected by acclamation, saying he thought the Second Ward was satisfied with those in office. Col. Smith seconded the motion and put it to the house and it was carried without a dissenting voice, except the chair.

The following were elected:
President—Jno. C. James.
First Vice President—Junius Davis.
Second Vice President—Sol. Bear.
Secretary—J. H. Boatwright.
Treasurer—Col. Wm. L. Smith.

A committee of three (A. T. Leddon, Esq., Genl. M. P. Taylor and Dr. T. B. Carr), was then appointed to nominate five members from the Second Ward, to compose the executive committee.

The following list of gentlemen were elected:
Executive committee—Dr. George G. Thomas, and Messrs. G. G. Boney, P. Glavin, J. C. Munds and Jno. T. Rankin.

On motion, the meeting then adjourned, subject to the call of the President.
J. H. BOATWRIGHT, Secretary.

The Cantata To-night.

The beautiful floral cantata of the Flower Queen will be rendered to-night at the Opera House, and those of our readers who have not seats secured will do well to call at Heinsberger's and register although, without this precaution, no doubt plenty of good seats can be had at the box. From the indications the entertainment will prove one of the most successful ever given in our city, both financially and musically.

We learn that to-morrow night Miss Sallie M. Thompson, a distinguished vocalist and teacher, will assume the role of the Rose.

Run Over by a Dray.

This morning during the alarm of fire a little colored boy about 10 years of age was run over by a dray at the intersection of Front and Market streets. The dray was drawn by the horse belonging to the Hook and Ladder Company and the animal was making all possible speed to get to the truck house at the time of the accident. Mr. Edward Griffith, the driver, saw the boy when too late to stop his horse but shouted for him to get out of the way. No blame can be attached to any one. The child was carried to the office of Dr. W. J. Love who after a hasty examination thinks there are no internal injuries or bones broken. A wound near the little boy's hip, caused by the tire of the wheel, was dressed and the child sent home to its mother who resides on Market, between Eighth and Ninth streets.

City Court.

Mayor Fishplate had an interesting session of the City Court this morning, there being no less than six cases before this tribunal for trial.

The first case called was that of Mary Radcliffe, colored, who was arraigned for disorderly conduct in Brooklyn on Saturday night. In this case there were as many as six witnesses pro and con.

The Mayor after hearing all the evidence, decided to stand by the testimony of the State witness, Officer G. W. Davis, who made the arrest and pronounced sentence of $5 and costs. From this decision the defendant took an appeal to the Criminal Court and gave a justified bond in the sum of $50 for her appearance at that time.

Alice Beatty, a colored damsel, was the next case on docket, charged with behaving disorderly on the streets. There being some mitigating circumstances connected with this woman's conduct, the Mayor told her she might go in peace this time.

C. Fuller, a white sailor boy of some eighteen summers belonging on the Br. Barque George Davis, was arraigned for being drunk and down on the street. The policeman who made the arrest testified that the defendant gave no trouble until he reached the Guard House, when he resisted being put in the cell and also tried to prevent their taking his sheath knife from him. The Mayor fined him $5 or five days in the City Prison.

Scipio H., colored, a poor, unfortunate fellow who has too much of a weakness for the ardent, was brought before the Mayor, charged with having too heavy a load on, which caused him to fall asleep in the street on Saturday night. When asked by the court if he hadn't been there before, Scip., with true frankness, said, "yes sir, but not in a long time." In consideration of which His Honor gave him only two days in the city prison to cool off on. We could have wished that the Mayor had been a little more indulgent to Scip., inasmuch as he is such a quiet, inoffensive creature, and this being the first time he has transgressed in so long a time. But still, Scip. said "Thank you sir," seeming to think that he got off pretty light, which caused the audience to smile quite audibly and the court likewise, if we mistake not.

But the occasion for merriment, which required all the exertions of the officers of the court to keep down, was when the Clerk called the name of Pompey Sneed. In response to this call a live looking being clad in woman's attire, with a white sheet wrapped around its waist, with two long, black bare feet protruding from under its skirts, a white head-handkerchief around its head to hide the color of its wool where the "hair ought to grow," its face whitened all over with flour, except here and there where the flour had dropped off and the black skin was visible, presented itself at the bar of the court.

Officer G. W. W. Davis being sworn, testified as follows: On Sunday night, between 10 and 11 o'clock, between Castle and Church streets, in the neighborhood of what is known as the Long House, something passed and repassed him two or three times which looked like a woman, and that the third time that he was passed by this object, he discovered as he looked back over his shoulder that the creature was dressed in woman's clothes with his face whitened with flour; and supposing it to be a man in a woman's garb he made the arrest and brought the culprit to the guard house. The Court then addressed the object at the bar and asked what it had to say. Immediately its lips parted and it talked almost like a human in response to the Mayor's question, except that it said "Nuttin," meaning, we suppose, nothing. The Mayor then had his say, and he said $50 fine or 30 days in prison.

The next case called was a young white lad, 14 or 15 years of age, arrested for being drunk and down. His defense was that some doctor gave him some Scheidam Snapps on Sunday, which made him sick 'o his stomach and caused his head to swim so bad that he fell asleep in the street. His Honor permitted him to depart this time without punishment, but warned him not to appear there again in like circumstance.

This finished the business of the Court for the day.

Commencement Exercises.

The commencement exercises at the University of North Carolina will take place on Wednesday and Thursday, the 5th and 6th of June next, on which occasion a ball, complimentary to the class of 1878, will be given. We tender our thanks to the committees for an invitation to attend both.

Easter Day.

The Easter services held in the Roman Catholic, Episcopal and Evangelical Lutheran Churches yesterday and last evening were very largely attended. The day was as bright and beautiful as the gladdest heart in the many glad bosoms in this city could have desired. The sun shown in a clear sky and the atmosphere was balmy and odorless with the thousands of flowers which adorn the many beautiful gardens in our handsome little city.

At St. James' early in the morning the children ushered in the day by an Easter Carol, sung from the top of the bell tower of the church. Their sweet young voices rang far and wide and a large number of persons collected in the street below to hear and enjoy the happy sounds. In the forenoon, at this church, the regular services were held and in the afternoon there was a children's service; when every available seat in the church was filled. The church, as is usual there on such occasions, was beautifully adorned with a profusion of flowers arranged by the fair hands of the ladies of the congregation.

At St. John's the first general service was held at 11 o'clock, followed by a choral service arranged expressly for the Sunday School children of the parish in the afternoon and regular evening services at night. The floral adornments in St. John's were very handsome, the altar, chancel, choir, pulpit, reading desk and lectern glowing beneath a wealth of beauty and fragrance. The services in the afternoon, for the children, were specially interesting, and on this occasion the various classes carried up their Easter offerings and placed them in the hands of the Superintendent, Mr. T. C. DeRosset, who announced the various amounts as they were received. Each class also carried up a floral letter which Mr. DeRosset placed, one by one, on wires suspended for the purpose, the whole forming the sentence "Jesus Lives! Alleluia!" As in St. James' the offerings received from the children aggregated a handsome sum. The fact is the more appreciable when it is understood that these offerings were the result of the savings and self-denials practised by the little ones during the long Lenten feast.

At St. Thomas' Church, there were also handsome decorations, the services for this occasion, in the Roman Catholic Church the most joyful in the whole calendar, having been of a beautiful character, and rendered with the fervor and impressiveness suitable to the occasion. The congregations at all of the services were very large.

St. Paul's (Lutheran) Church was also beautifully adorned with flowers and evergreens in the chancels and windows. The altar was untouched but behind it there was displayed a large and beautiful cross and crown made of evergreens. Dr. Bernheim preached in the forenoon in English and at night in German.

St. Paul's, the modest little Episcopal Church on the corner of Orange and Fourth streets, was also filled with large and devout congregations, both at morning and evening services. The fair hands of the ladies of the congregation had added their share to the occasion as was witnessed by the profusion of floral decorations everywhere.

The colored Episcopalians in the city, their neat little church, St. Marks, corner of Sixth and Mulberry streets, rendered all honor to the day. The church was handsomely adorned and the services, conducted by the minister, Rev. C. O. Brady, were beautiful and impressive and attended by full congregations.

We have thus endeavored to give some accounts of the Easter services in this city yesterday and our report is made without the desire or intention of disparaging any. We have been compelled to write merely from our own personal knowledge of the facts and this is why some portions of the account are fuller than others.

Accidentally Shot.

Yesterday afternoon, in the Southwestern part of the city, two or three young men were engaged in examining a pistol, when it was accidentally discharged and the ball lodged in the right arm of a young man whose name we could not learn, who was one of the crowd. The wound was not considered dangerous, though it is quite painful, but the moral it conveys is a pointed one. Don't fool with pistols on Sunday or any other day.

The Fire This Morning.

The alarm of fire this morning was caused by the ignition, from a spark, of the shed of the old frame building corner of Third and Princess streets, owned by Dr. A. J. DeRosset and occupied by Capt. T. J. Southerland as a blacksmith shop for work required at his livery stables. The engines and hook and ladder truck were soon at the scene, the first stream having been thrown by the Little Giant, and the flames were soon suppressed. This is the fifth time, we are told, that this building has taken fire since Friday last.

Fifth Street Church.

Rev. L. S. Burkhead, D. D., Presiding Elder of this district who has been holding the second quarterly meeting in the above church, preached there yesterday morning and last night to very large and attentive congregations. His sermons might be called a series, he having preached in the morning on the birth and divinity of Christ and at night on His death and resurrection. They were two of the most powerful and convincing discourses ever delivered in this city and those who heard him were profoundly impressed.

In the morning, the rite of baptism was administered and at night the sacrament was partaken of. A series of meetings, which it is hoped may result in a glorious revival, was also begun last night, and two penitents were at the altar. Services will be held there again this evening, when Dr. Burkhead is expected to be present.

A Ghost.

The City Court Room was crowded to its fullest capacity this morning by the colored population, with an occasional sprinkling of white people, who had all assembled there for the purpose of seeing a "live ghost, or a true and true ghost" as some called it.

A darkey was arrested last night by the police while he was perambulating the streets in the lower part of the city dressed in women's clothes with a white cloth thrown around his shoulders and a white cloth tied over the top of his head, while on his face he had as much flour besmeared as would stick. The curiosity of the colored people was intense and immense this morning as soon as the fact became noised around that there was a ghost at the City Hall. A great many would come cautiously to the door of the Court Room, and with eyes as big as saucers peer inside of the door, until their optics rested on the pretended representative from the other world and then with mouth and eyes both wide open, they would stand and gaze; pretty soon they would leave to tell "udders of the brederen" what they had seen and then the "udder brederen" would come and look for themselves until finally the court room became so crowded that no more could get in. The individual who was the cause of all this excitement says he went to sleep, in a place called the Long House, in the lower part of the city last night, and that one Mary Bawls dressed him up in this way while he was asleep. The ghost hails from Brunswick county, but the Mayor is going to make him a thirty day resident of Wilmington. Look out, Mr. Mayor, you may have another Republican voter domiciled here if you don't mind.

Fifth Ward Democratic Club.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Democratic voters of the Fifth Ward (there being about one hundred and fifty present), took place last Saturday night at the Bucket Company's Hall pursuant to a call from the former President of the Club.

The meeting was called to order and its object stated, and nominations for permanent officers declared in order, when the following permanent officers were elected:
President—F. H. Darby.
Secretary—H. O. Rankin.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted.
Resolved, That we hail with pleasure the announcement that that true and tried soldier, scholarly gentleman, and friend of the laboring man, Major Charles M. Stedman is, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Third Congressional District, and we, the Democratic citizens of the Fifth Ward of the city of Wilmington, do hereby heartily endorse him and will support him to a man for the nomination.

Resolved, further, That we have no sympathy for that class of Democrats who ignored the nominations for Magistrates, made by us, the Democratic citizens of the Fifth Ward, and appointed colored Republicans in their places.

Resolved, That The Morning Star, Evening Review and Wilmington Democrat are hereby requested to publish these proceedings.

On motion, the meeting then adjourned.
F. H. DARBY, President.
H. O. RANKIN, Secretary.
