Capt. Savage, City Clerk and Treasurer, will proceed to sell at 12 o'clock on Monday next, property on which the taxes for 1876 remain unpaid.

The steamer North East is tied up at the foot of Ann street where her machinery is receiving attention. She is expected to be at work again early next week.

Bishop Atkinson will preach and administer the Rite of Confirmation at St. John's Church to-morrow evening, on which occasion the seats will all be free.

The Oxford Free Lance and the Greenville Express, both good, staunch Democratic papers, come to us this week considerably enlarged and improved. Good luck to both.

We are glad to know that Mr. George Sullivan's condition is much improved, and that Dr. Bellamy, the attending physician, thinks that he is nearly, if not quite out of danger.

Mr. Henry Webb has placed before us some of the first shrimps of the season; they are certainly as fine as we have seen. We are told he has them on sale at his lunch counter at Brock's Exchange.

Laid Up.

The steamer D. Murchison has been laid up at Fayetteville, for a week past, for the purpose of receiving her usual summer dress and for a general overhauling and cleaning up. She will be in the water again in a few days. In the meantime, her place is taken by the Wave, which makes the Murchison's regular semi-weekly trips.

The Rads.

The Republican County Executive Committee met in the Court House today with the object of fixing the time and place for their County Convention, but after a two hours' squabble failed to agree and adjourned over until Monday.

This afternoon there is a grand pow-wow at Castle Hayne, and the faithful are diminished from among the children of men in the city, the Court House protectors having left almost en masse for attendance.

Wine with Cake at Entertainments.

We take pleasure in directing the attention of the public to Speer's celebrated Port Grape Wine, a pure and unadulterated article upon which every one may most implicitly rely. This wine is made at Speer's vineyards, Passaic, New Jersey. It has a rich flavor, mellow juiciness, and brilliant color; and is not only an agreeable beverage, but highly beneficial in all its properties for invalids and aged persons.

Travellers will find the Grand Central Hotel, New York, is one of the most excellent hotels in that city. Those who cannot be suited in price and accommodations there must be very hard to please indeed.

Perfection in Cookery.

The nearest approach to perfection in articles designed for kitchen use is DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. With very little experience the housewife or cook is always sure of delicious, biscuits, rolls, bread, cake, etc., every time.

Personal.

Dr. R. L. Payne, of Lexington, President of the Medical Society of North Carolina, is on a short visit to his brother, Rev. C. M. Payne, in this city, and is en route to the meeting of this distinguished body in Goldsboro on the 14th instant.

Good Samaritans.

We are requested to state that the Grand Lodge of the I. O. G. S. and D. of S., will hold its semi-annual session in this city, on Tuesday next, May 14th, and on Wednesday, the 15th, will parade the principal streets in the city. There will be an address delivered by J. B. Abbott, of Newbern, and a grand festival will be held in the City Hall at night.

A Wilmington Boy.

Mr. Edward A. Brown, a Wilmington boy, is now agent in Columbia for the Southern Express Company, a position which is one of great trust and responsibility. We are glad to learn of the esteem in which he is held in our sister city as also of the confidence which has been expressed in him by the management of the Express Company in the South.

The M. E. Churches.

The pastor being absent in attendance on the General Conference in session at Atlanta, the pulpit of the Front Street Methodist Church will be filled to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. B. R. Hall, and that of the Fifth Street Church by Rev. J. W. Craig. There will be no services at the Front Street Church at night, but the two congregations will hold joint services at the Fifth Street Church at 8 o'clock.

Another Cutting Scrape.

Yesterday morning between 6 and 7 o'clock, near the corner of Sixth and Market, a serious cutting affray occurred which resulted in almost immediate death. The person who inflicted the wound is not known to the authorities and as no one, that we can hear of, saw the murderous assault, we are unable to state with what kind of a knife the assault was made. The wound, which is in the right side, is about two inches in length and is thought to be, by those who saw it, four or five inches deep, resulting in almost instantaneous death. It was a dog who wanted to bite some body, but only "bit the dust."

A Whopper.

Yesterday morning Capt. Henry H. Jackson came into this city and reported through our Custom-House officially, the loss of his brig, W. H. Marshall, off the coast of North Carolina, near Topsail Inlet, about 40 miles north of Cape Fear. The wreck occurred on the 25th day of April last, and was occasioned by the colliding of the brig with an unknown steamer. The brig sunk in about ten minutes after the collision, and was a total loss. She was from Porto Rico, loaded with coffee, and bound for New Haven, Connecticut. The crew consisting of eight men were saved, but lost everything. After reaching the shore they walked to Magnolia, on the Weldon and Wilmington railroad, a distance of 80 miles, and from thence Capt Jackson came to Goldsboro and from there to this city by private conveyance.

Capt. Jackson left for Richmond yesterday, walking the distance, and from thence will go to his home in Westmoreland county. His vessel was insured in the Merchant and Marine Insurance Company in New York, for the sum of $10,500.

The above is from the Petersburg Index-Appeal of yesterday's date. It is quite evident that our inland neighbor has been taken in and that "Capt." Jackson has invented the whole thing for the purpose of conning a few dollars for his own use and benefit. He should be overhauled and brought to the dock with a short light. Here are a few facts in refutation of his statement: Topsail Inlet is not 40 miles from Wilmington, but is much nearer; if the "brig" sunk in ten minutes after the "collision" and all of her crew escaped, it was the most remarkable thing of the kind on record; how "Capt. Jackson" managed to get a cargo of coffee in Porto Rico is not very clear; if he did it was the first cargo of the kind we have ever heard of from that port; and, finally, no such vessel as the brig W. H. Marshall is known in the merchant service of this or any other country.

If the U. S. custom-house officials at Petersburg want a first class item let them overhaul that unfortunate son of Neptune, "Capt. Henry H. Jackson," and force him to prove a few of the peculiar facts he has stated.

The steamer Underhill carried down a good crowd this morning to Smithville on the excursion given complimentary to the delegates to the Diocesan Convention

Distressing Affliction.

The entire community was deeply grieved to learn, late last evening, of the sad affliction which has fallen upon one of its most esteemed members, Captain Thomas C. DeRosset. Just at the close of the ceremonies at the cemetery yesterday afternoon and the moment after issuing some command to his company, the Whiting Rifles, he became unconscious and fell to the ground. It was at first thought that he had been overcome by the heat and had fainted, but after having been driven to his home Dr. Thomas announced that he was suffering under a paralytic attack. Since that time he has remained in almost entirely the same condition, in which he was found at first. He sleeps most of the time but when aroused is sensible. The paralysis extends over a large portion of his left side. He is in a very critical condition, and the physicians seem unwilling to venture any opinion as to the result. This afternoon, however, it is asserted that a slight change is perceptible, and that this is for the better. This change consists in the fact that he is more easily aroused to-day than was the case last night. It is a second attack of a somewhat similar nature, the first, which was much lighter, having occurred about two years ago.

As we have said, Capt. DeRosset's condition is a very critical one, but his many friends will not believe that it can result disastrously. He has everything in his favor, youth, strength, excellent habits and a life of exceeding correctness, and they hope that the attack may succumb to these. God grant that his life and strength may be spared.

The Cross of St. John's.

We understand that the dramatic performance given a short time since by the cadets of the Cape Fear Military Academy, the Cross of St. John's, is to be repeated on Friday evening, the 24th inst., for the benefit of St. John's Church. Full particulars will be made known in a few days.

FOR THE REVIEW.

Major Charles W. McClammy for Congress.

MR. EDITOR:

Your recent complimentary allusions to this working-man's friend and favorite of the people are cordially endorsed by the farmers, mechanics, and laborers. You are correct in saying that his fine abilities, public services, and high character, have given him a distinguished position among his fellow citizens generally. You are right in saying that he is one of our best farmers, a hard laborer upon his farm day in and day out, from year to year, and that his pursuits and his sympathies are with the farmers and laboring classes. His bronzed face and hands show that he is one of those toiling and moping laborers upon the farm, that have been heretofore excluded almost entirely from the halls of Congress. And yet, Major McClammy is one of the best speakers, and one of the ablest men in the State. His hosts of friends in the Third Congressional District will press his nomination for Congress before the Democratic District convention to be held at Clinton on the 31st of May. He has every qualification, moral, intellectual, and political, for the position of a representative in Congress from this district. Years ago he led a forlorn hope, and by his energy, skill, and eloquence as a campaigner, was elected to the Senate from the Republican Senatorial District of New Hanover and Brunswick. It was then and through his influence in the Legislature that the Congressional District in which Wilmington was situated, with an overwhelming radical majority, was changed to its present status. Four years ago, when he was not a candidate for a nomination for Congress, he came very near the nomination at the Magnolia Congressional Convention, as his friends remember. He has always held to the doctrine, so much in accord with his modest nature, that the office should seek the man. Since his return home at the close of the war, which he fought through bravely from the beginning to the end—always in the front where the bullets flew thickest, and the danger was the greatest—he has been mostly in retirement, refusing to honeyfuggle with republicans, and scorning to use any of the fashionable electioneering appliances for position. His friends now bring him forward and will urge his nomination, at Clinton. But as high as are the merits, claims, and qualifications for Congress of this champion of the people's rights and best interests, there is a higher principle than the personal claims and qualifications of Major McClammy, or any other man in the district. It is that growing belief, that increasing sentiment, that necessary principle in political affairs, now arousing the people everywhere, that the farmers, mechanics and laborers, must come to the front, and that lawyers and politicians must retire to the rear, in the distribution of Legislative and Congressional honors. The politician has ruled the farmer long enough. It is now time for the farmers to rule the politicians and to take nominating Conventions in their own hands and manage them, instead of allowing them to be managed, as heretofore, by wire-pulling politicians and lawyers. The voice of history, in Europe and America, unites with the facts of legislation in declaring, and in forwarding farmers, and mechanics and laborers, that relief from unjust burdens and ruinous laws, such as now oppress the people and paralyze industrial pursuits, cannot be obtained by a reliance upon others than themselves. Let the farmers and the industrial class take the reins in their own hands, and command politicians and lawyers to take back seats.

Numerically and politically, in peace or war, the farmers are the power in this Congressional District, and in this State. They are not alone the throne of power, but the power that moves the throne. Let them use it in the selection of representatives of their own class, whether for the Legislature or for Congress. Farmers know the wants of farmers and are in sympathy with them. The burdens and wrongs and oppressions which now weigh them down and clog the advancement of agricultural interests can be best removed by farmers as our representatives. In this District let us, as farmers, elect one of our own number to Congress. There is no farmer in the District more worthy and mere competent to represent the people in Congress than Maj. Charles W. McClammy.

Important Sale of Town Lots!

THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS of Pender County will sell at public auction in Burgaw, the county site of Pender, on Monday, the 3d day of June, 1878, one hundred and fifty (150) building lots in the most desirable part of this new and thriving town.

Terms one fifth cash, the remainder one and two years credit with interest deducted if the whole of purchase money is paid down. Title made to purchasers at the sale, with mortgage reserved until the whole amount is paid.

Burgaw is a healthy and growing town, with fine water and good air, situated upon the Wilmington & Weldon Rail Road, twenty-two miles from Wilmington, and is upon a permanent basis, with a productive and substantial back country to support it and is in the centre of one of the finest and best agricultural countries in the State. Immigration is setting in to the town and it is growing finely. A first class Academy will soon be in operation and new Churches will soon be erected. The project of a rail road from Burgaw down into the rich county of Onslow is in active progress and will doubtless be completed at no distant day. Persons coming to the sale by rail road will take place without reservation and bargains can be had.

R. M. CROOM,
Chairman Board of Commissioners of Pender County.

I. H. BROWN, Clerk,
