Days length 14 hours and 32 minutes. "Shell" trimming is much used on imported costumes.

A scarcity of buttons marks the newly imported dresses. Spiral bracelets now coil up the female arm to the elbow.

Shortish ladies look taller in a train of moderate length. Faceted gold jewelry is brilliant, neat, and very fashionable.

To-morrow is known in the Church Calendar as the Second Sunday after Trinity. Flies' toil not, neither do they spin, yet they have the first taste of all the best gravies in the land.

The sting of bees is said to be a sure cure for rheumatism; fifty in every twenty-four hours will do. A voice from Paris hints that dresses should no longer be clinging but bouffante, what ever that may be.

"Brilliant and impulsive people have black eyes." If they don't have them to begin with, they get them sooner or later. The favorite material now used for travelling costumes is pongee; it does not retain the dust and that is much in its favor.

A number of the employes of the W. & W. R. R. shops went down the river this morning on the Passport to catch blackfish. Rev. George Patterson, D. D., has returned to the city and will conduct the services at St. John's to-morrow morning and evening.

The June term of the Superior Court, Judge Eure presiding, will convene at the Court House in this city on Monday next. For those who wish to take a mouthful of salt air to-morrow the steamer Underhill offers an attractive opportunity. See advertisement elsewhere.

You can't plant cats too early, nor is it possible to get too many in a hill. You may not raise anything else this season where the cat is planted, but in the meantime the cat would not have raised anything either, and that is where the enormous profit comes in. From Capt. Garrison, of the steamer D. Murchison, we learn that the river rose between four and five feet on the shoals on Tuesday and Wednesday but that it had again begun to fall and now there is about five feet good water on the shoals at Fayetteville.

Convict at Large. The Morganton Blade gives the following condensed narrative of the exploits of one of our convict birds: Anderson Drake, colored, a convict from New Hanover county, made his escape from the work on the mountain, last Friday night. He came by and broke into the dwelling of Mr. Salisbury at Old Fort, and supplied himself with citizens' clothing and such other articles as he saw fit to appropriate to his own use, including Mr. Salisbury's keys to the mill house and other buildings. He attended preaching in this place Sunday night, and on Tuesday morning was found in a darkey's house and captured, after an exciting chase by a party of our young men.

Breakfast Muffins. Two well-beaten eggs, with one cup of sugar, a lump of butter the size of an egg; to this add a pint of sweet milk, one quart of flour, with three teaspoons DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. Bake in muffin rings, or gem pans, in a quick oven. Every one speaks well of it, and those who have been there once patronize the place ever afterwards. Is it necessary to add that we refer to the Colonnade Hotel on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.?

Stop that terrible cough, and thus avoid a consumptive's grave, by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. As a cough remedy it is unsurpassed. Sold by druggists. d & w, 14.

Personal.

We were glad to meet this morning with our old (young) friend, Capt. John H. Robinson, of Fayetteville, who is en route to his home in the above named place, after a sojourn in Washington City for several months as Secretary of Hon. A. M. Waddell's Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads. Capt. R. looks the picture of good health, and is as fat and as merry as a butter ball.

Code Duello. Our community was a little startled this morning by a report that a duel was on tapis. The excitement was abated somewhat, however, when it was discovered that the parties to the affaire d'honneur were not Wilmingtonians.

Upon receipt of this telegram the Mayor directed Captain Brock, Chief of Police, to proceed to the depot of the W. & W. C. & A. R. R. and upon the arrival of the northern train at 10:10 a. m. to board the same and arrest the parties named in Mayor Harris' dispatch.

Arrest Henry Burwell and Willie Manson and their seconds, who go to fight a duel. They will be on the train to-day. Answer. [Signed] H. HARRIS, Mayor of Henderson.

Knowing how friendly you are to the cause of education, and knowing too what a hold you have on the people of this section, how every one stands around the office on Friday morning to get his old-time honored JOURNAL, now better than ever, I thought you would like to hear from an exhibition of "Plum Grove" Academy in Rocky Point Township.

To-day Miss Laura Gill examined her students in all the different studies of the session; the examinations were highly creditable to the children, and spoke volumes in praise of Miss Gill as a first class teacher. At 3 P. M. compositions were read and to one not present the men telling of how well they did, would not be believed at all. It does seem to me that some of the compositions read there to-day would have done credit to older and more experienced ladies.

The objective point of the belligerents was Fair Bluff, about sixty-four miles from this city, on the W. C. & A. R. R., and only about two miles from the South Carolina line. This place has long been known as the duelling ground for parties in this section of North Carolina, and also those living near the line in South Carolina.

Mayor Fishblate, immediately after the departure of the train, telegraphed to Col. H. B. Short, at Flemington, thirty-four miles from this city, on the W. C. & A. R. R., to arrest Burwell and Manson and hold them. The Mayor at the same time sent a dispatch to Fair Bluff, at which place the train was due shortly after 1 o'clock, and if the parties were not arrested within two hours, it might be too late.

At three minutes past 12 o'clock this noon, Mayor Fishblate received the following dispatch from Col. Short, at Flemington: FLEMINGTON, June 22.—12:43, p. m. To S. H. Fishblate, Mayor: I have arrested the parties. Answer. [Signed] H. B. SHORT.

The Mayor then immediately sent a telegram to the Mayor of Henderson, notifying him of the arrest, and also to Col. Short, informing him that a dispatch had been sent to the official in Henderson. The very latest in regard to the affair is a dispatch received at 4:48 P. M. to Mayor Fishblate from Col. Short, stating that the parties have given bond and have been released and will return home.

No interments this week in either Oakdale or Bellevue Cemeteries. One adult and six children interred this week in Pine Forest Cemetery.

Round Elsewhere. Col. John McRae, Mr. John Dyer and Mr. David Mitchell, all of this city, left here this morning bound North. Messrs. Dyer and Mitchell have their faces turned to the East, their Meoca being the Paris Exposition. We wish them all sorts of a speedy trip, an enjoyable time and a safe return.

Almost a Serious Accident.

Parties standing on the corner of Front and Market streets this morning were witnesses to a very thrilling scene, which occurred near the intersection of Market and Front streets, and, which, but for the remarkable presence of mind of a little boy might have resulted in a very serious accident. It seems that a couple of gentlemen were driving down the street at a pretty rapid rate with a pair of fine sorrels in a carriage, and the little boy above mentioned was standing in the middle of the street near the corner stated above, not dreaming of the slightest danger, with his back to the direction from which the carriage was approaching. But suddenly the noise of the carriage wheels together with the clatter of the horses' feet on the paved street made the little fellow painfully aware of the close proximity of the danger that he was in, he turned his head too late to escape, for the carriage and horses were almost upon him, but with remarkable presence of mind for one so young, he squatted right down to the ground, and neither the tongue nor axles of the carriage, nor the horses' feet touched him.

The persons who were witnesses to the scene held their breath in fear and trembling, expecting the unfortunate little fellow's brains dashed out, or his body mangled all to pieces, but to their great surprise and joy, as soon as the vehicle had passed, the little rascal jumped up and laughed and then bolted up the street out of sight.

School Exercises. EDITORS REVIEW AND JOURNAL: Knowing how friendly you are to the cause of education, and knowing too what a hold you have on the people of this section, how every one stands around the office on Friday morning to get his old-time honored JOURNAL, now better than ever, I thought you would like to hear from an exhibition of "Plum Grove" Academy in Rocky Point Township.

To-day Miss Laura Gill examined her students in all the different studies of the session; the examinations were highly creditable to the children, and spoke volumes in praise of Miss Gill as a first class teacher. At 3 P. M. compositions were read and to one not present the men telling of how well they did, would not be believed at all. It does seem to me that some of the compositions read there to-day would have done credit to older and more experienced ladies.

The smaller children declaimed short pieces, showing a remarkable retention of memory. Dialogues and singing added greatly to the interest of the occasion. It was really a day long to be remembered by the people of this neighborhood. I would like to specify some of the leading compositions, but where all did so well, it is almost impossible to make a distinction. After the school exercises were over, Miss Gill spread before the vast assemblage of persons "nic-nacs," eatables, lemonade, &c., &c., all of which were enjoyed very much, judging from the great quantities consumed.

Dr. Ennett, by invitation, addressed the children on their duties during vacation as well as the next session. He urged upon them the necessity of keeping good company, guard against light reading, shun the society of nasty talkers as they would a viper—read history—offered to loan them anything he had in his library, and tried to impress upon them the necessity of working hard for an education. He spoke to the patrons of the necessity of preparing their children for usefulness, and to do that they must educate them; told them that education was the basis of civilization, that without it the children would be nothing in this generation would be nobody. He congratulated them on having so good a teacher, and hope they would keep her. He spoke of the teacher in the highest terms, but not more so than she deserves. My daughter is one of the students, and I can truthfully say, from her advancement and progress, Dr. Ennett said not a word amiss in her favor as a teacher and a lady. His address was well received and thought by all to be appropos.

They are so determined to have another and larger school next session, they have resolved here to-day to build a new house, and have already employed Miss Gill to teach; thus we are assured of having one of the very best schools in this section of the country, and if you prefer the country to city life for the children of Wilmington, we will accommodate them with good board, in the very best families, for ten or twelve dollars per month, everything included. The school will commence the 1st of October, and at our next exhibition we expect to invite you, and certainly shall look for a fine address. Hoping that your success in the future will equal, if not excel the past, in keeping up the old Democratic land-mark, (WILMINGTON JOURNAL), I beg to subscribe myself, Yours Respectfully, B. Burgaw, June 21, 1878.

EDITOR REVIEW.

Allow a friend to add whatever of weight he humbly can to the card of "Many Citizens" which appeared in your issue of yesterday. I refer to the Senatorial nomination from Bladen and Brunswick. No better representative, no more faithful friend, no more pure nor polished man, no more competent nor energetic advocate of the rights of the people could be selected from those two counties. Nathan Stedman is popular. He has friends in all the various walks of life, and his geniality and sterling heartiness will make every stranger his warm advocate as soon as he gets within the glow of his twinkling eye and hears the "ring of the true metal" that ever tingles on his truthful tongue. Bladen is now, by an understood rotation, entitled to the nomination in the 13th Senatorial District and if the voice of Bladen is for Stedman, a reciprocal throb will pulsate back from old Brunswick.

The learned and manly management of the Smith trial has made Natham Stedman a man to be admired by all who hear him, and let Brunswick and Bladen do well in selecting so superior a man. BRUNSWICK.

Burwell, North Carolina; John Joys, Milwaukee.

Communion Wine. The Grape Crop of A. Speer's Vineyards, in New Jersey, promises this year to be one third more than any previous year. His Vineyards in New Jersey and the products from the grapes he purchases have enabled him to keep a stock four years ahead. None sold less than four years old. It has become a popular evening wine among the best families in New York, and for communion purposes.

Consumption Cured. An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper, W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers' Block, Rochester, New York. je 18-4w.
