The water in the river is again very low. The fish market has been very poorly supplied of late, a consequence of the easterly winds.

Corn is ripening, cucumbers are departing and watermelons and canteloupes are coming.

One advantage of these long days is that they give a man more time to mind his own business.

The first of the new cotton crop from Georgia is expected to pass through Wilmington in a very few weeks.

Why don't you go and register at once? Don't you want to vote? or are you fond of being elbowed by a large crowd during the last days?

The grand excursion to the mountains, advertised for to-day, will not take place, the projectors, Kneeland & Co., having suddenly disappeared leaving numerous unsettled accounts.

The arrival of Messrs. E. J. Lilly, Jr., Jno. W. Bolles and R. N. Sweet this morning on the Steamship Regulator from New York was announced by the booming of cannon from Capt. Cazaux's wharf as the steamer touched the Dock.

We hazard the prediction that the phrase "Mamma says I mustn't and Papa says I mustn't," will be immensely popular in this city for a while to come, by those who heard Mr. Welsh's humorous sayings and songs with the banjo accompaniments at the Opera House last night.

C. F. M. A.
By notice published elsewhere it will be seen that the Fall term of the Cape Fear Military Academy will begin on the 23d of next September. Prof. J. C. Horner is announced as Associate Principal and Capt. Washington Catlett as Assistant.

To be Launched.
The new yacht belonging to young gentlemen at Hart, Bailey & Co's, shops will be launched this afternoon at the Market Dock. Her sails, rigging, spars and mast are ready for her and will be placed in position as soon as she is launched. Her name has not been made known as yet, the idea of the young men being not to tell her name until she is ready for use.

POP OVERS.—Two large cups of flour, one and a half teaspoonfuls DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER, one pint sweet milk, or half milk and half cream, three eggs beaten separately, and a little salt. Bake in muffin tins. They are delicious for tea.

Correction.
Our reporter was in error yesterday in locating a disturbance on Saturday night at Mrs. Dahmer's coffee house, on Third street. The difficulty occurred between two white women, on the corner of Sixth and Brunswick, and the women were before a magistrate yesterday. We regret having done Mrs. Dahmer this unintentional injustice.

Good Samaritans
At the annual meeting of Mt. Zion Lodge, No. 9, I. O. G. S. and D. of S., held last evening, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year, viz: Moses Jones, Jr., W. C.; Guilford Taylor, W. V. C.; Edward Neal, W. R.; Edward Cardel, W. F.; Frank McKay, W. T.; Edward S. Gause, W. P. R.; Joseph Douglass, W. C. D.; Richard Ferguson, W. I.; Ransom Cobb, W. O. S.

G. F. Walker, Esq.
The Star contains a report this morning that Geo. Fennell Walker, Esq., of Pender county, a defeated candidate for the nomination for Sheriff in that county, will run as an independent candidate. We doubted the fact from the very first moment we saw the statement, as we have always had a high opinion of Mr. Walker's fealty to the party and his own innate good sense, and we are glad to hear from a gentleman who was at Burgaw yesterday, and who knows Mr. Walker well, that he does not think there is any truth whatever in the report.

The Concert Last Night.

Prof. A. B. Chase richly deserves credit for his efforts in developing and bringing to public notice the musical talent with which our good city abounds, and last night a large and refined audience testified to their appreciation by their presence at the Opera House. And well they repaid for the time and expense, for it is very seldom, indeed, that such a rich musical feast is offered to us. We have not space to make an extended notice, but we can say that the concert in its entirety was a complete success. All the pieces, both vocal and instrumental, were exceedingly well rendered, a fact well attested by the hearty applause of a delighted audience. All tastes were gratified—

"From grave to gay, from lively to severe," and every piece on the programme, save one, was given. The different vocalists were so often persistently recalled to the footlights that much time was consumed, and, as a consequence, the "duet," "Larbard Watch," which was one of the finest pieces on the programme, had to be omitted. In this connection we think that the habit, too frequently indulged in, of compelling, by persistent demonstration, the reappearing at the footlights of a popular or favorite performer or singer is reprehensible. A singer has rights as well as other people, and it is often very annoying to feel compelled to come before the audience for the second or third time. An audience has no more right to demand two or three songs when only one is advertised and paid for, than a person has to demand two or three dollars when only one was due. There was a fair and open contract between the singers and the public, so many pieces of music for twenty-five cents, and everything extra was a trespass upon the good nature and forbearance of the singers. Merited applause is an appreciated compliment and it was certainly well bestowed last night. The programme was excellent and was rendered with exquisite taste throughout, and the result plainly evidences the fact that the good old songs which everybody knows and loves, well rendered, are more calculated to please an average audience than airs from unknown operas, flights of instrumentalism and tremendous thumpings on a piano in which high notes and low notes, B flats and C sharps mingle in an almost inextricable confusion to the uncultivated ear.

How to Avoid Sun-Stroke.
The following practical directions as to how to avoid sun-stroke, and how to treat a patient suffering with it, will be found of use during the heated term:
"Sun-stroke is caused by excessive heat and especially if the weather is 'muggy.' It is more apt to occur on the second, third, or fourth day of a heated term than on the first. Loss of sleep, worry, excitement, close sleeping-rooms, debility, abuse of stimulants predispose to it. It is more apt to attack those working in the sun and especially between the hours of 12 o'clock in the morning and 4 o'clock in the afternoon. On hot days wear thin clothing. Have as cool sleeping-rooms as possible. Avoid loss of sleep and all unnecessary fatigue. If working indoors, and where there is artificial heat—laundries, &c.—see that the room is well ventilated. If working in the sun, wear a light hat; (not black, as it absorbs heat,) straw, &c., and put inside of it on the head a wet cloth on a large green leaf; frequently lift the hat from the head and see that the cloth is wet. Do not check perspiration, but drink what water you need to keep it up, as perspiration prevents the body from being overheated. Have, whenever possible, an additional shade, as a thin umbrella, when walking; a canvass or board cover when working in the sun. When much fatigued do not go to work, but be excused from work, especially after 11 o'clock in the morning" on very hot days, if the work is in the sun. If a feeling of fatigue, dizziness, headache or exhaustion occurs, cease work immediately, lie down in a shady and cool place; apply cold cloths to and pour cold water over head and neck. If any one is overcome by the heat, send immediately for the nearest good physician. While waiting for the physician, give the person cool drinks of water or cold black tea, or cold coffee, if able to swallow. If the skin is hot and dry, sponge with, or pour, cold water over the body and limbs, and apply to the head pounded ice wrapped in a towel or other cloth. If there is no ice at hand, keep a cold cloth on the head, and pour cold water on it as well as on the body. If the person is pale, very faint, and pulse feeble, let him inhale ammonia for a few seconds, or give him a teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in two tablespoonfuls of water with a little sugar.

Full particulars in regard to the moonlight excursion, on the Passport on Friday evening, will be found in this issue.

Shameful Conduct!

For young men who pretend to be gentlemen, we think that the conduct of the crowd of them sitting immediately in rear of the parquette seats at the Opera House last night was the worst that we have ever seen anywhere. Such conduct as was indulged in by these young men would not have been tolerated, we imagine, in the peanut gallery of a common variety show in New York. No respect was shown to the ladies who had kindly consented to participate in this parlor entertainment, during their appearance on the stage, neither was there any consideration exhibited by the rude conduct of these young men for the ladies in the audience. Sticks and clubs were freely used upon the benches, while others of these young gentlemen occupied the backs of the seats and stamped with all their might and main upon the seats, while others still rapped upon the back of the bench in the parquette that was occupied by ladies. Polite requests were made of the young men to cease their noise, as it was exceedingly annoying to the ladies in front, but about as much heed was given to the requests as could be expected from a mad bull if asked to stop his roaring. Some of the party on the first bench immediately in rear of the parquette imposed themselves very comfortably, to the great annoyance of the ladies and gentlemen in front, by putting their feet up against the backs of the seats. Taken altogether, we think that the behavior of these young gentlemen exceeded anything in the way of a first-class annoyance that has ever occurred in the Opera House at Wilmington. As usual there were no policemen around.

Alarm of Fire.
The alarm of fire between 1 and 2 o'clock this morning was caused by the burning of a one-story frame building, on the corner of Ninth and Castle streets, occupied by Mr. Henry Ehrbeck, who kept a small grocery store in one end of the building, and resided in the other part. The flames, we are told, were first seen coming through the roof of the store, but the origin of the fire we hear is unknown. The building was the property of Mr. J. H. Bornemann, who keeps store at 48 Market street, and was valued at $850, but was only insured for $600 in the Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Atkinson & Manning, agents. Mr. Ehrbeck's stock was insured with Col. Wm. L. Smith, in the German-American Fire of New York, for $400. We have not been able to learn whether the stock, which was all lost, was fully insured or not. Mr. Ehrbeck, we believe, saved the most of his household furniture, which was insured in the same company as his stock of goods, for $500. The fire engines arrived at the scene of the conflagration as speedily as possible, the Adrian throwing the first stream. The Fifth Ward Bucket rendered admirable service before the arrival of the engines, but no possible efforts were sufficient to save the building at the time the fire was first discovered.

The Glen Alpine Springs.
Mr. Spencer LeGrand, of this city, has secured a position with Messrs. Walton & Pearson, of the Glen Alpine (Lithia Alum) Springs, near Morganton N. C., and will probably spend a portion of the season in canvassing for these Springs. The Glen Alpine Springs are situated eight miles from the station of the same name on the Western N. C. R. and will be open for the reception of visitors on the 17th inst. It is in one of the most delightful spots in our beautiful West and presents numerous marked advantages for both the invalid and pleasure seeker. Let those who are thinking of a trip to Western Virginia or to the North look well into the advantages offered them in their own State.

The Pender Ticket.
We announced yesterday the nomination, on the second ballot, for Sheriff of Pender county, of Mr. A. H. Paddison, present incumbent, in the Democratic convention held at Burgaw yesterday and to-day we give the following ticket:
For Sheriff—A. H. Paddison.
For Clerk of Superior Court—W. W. Bannerman.
For Register of Deeds—Lewis Howard.
For House of Representatives—Thos J. Armstrong.
For Coroner—R. H. Murphy.
For Surveyor—P. D. Brown.

Midshipman Anderson is on a short visit to his family and friends in this city.

North Carolinians in Paris.

John London, Esq., of this city, was registered at the Grand Hotel, in Paris, on Saturday last; also J. C. Powell, of North Carolina, at the Hotel de Rohan; J. F. Wood and Frank Wood, of North Carolina, at No. 75 Rue de Provence, and E. B. Engelhard, son of Maj. Engelhard, Secretary of State, also at 75 Rue de Provence.

Juvenile Operetta.
We understand, that at the request of the Wilmington Light Infantry, Misses Burr & James have consented to a repetition of the Juvenile Operetta—Spring Holiday, by their school children at the Opera House.

An admission of fifty cents will be charged and the Light Infantry boys are to reap a benefit, we are told, from some of the funds thus created.

District Conference.
The following are the delegates and alternates from Front Street M. E. Church to the District Conference, which convenes in Whiteville on Thursday next:
Delegates—J. H. Hallard, W. M. Parker, H. M. Bowden and R. W. Chadwick.
Alternates—C. L. Grafflin and S. D. Wallace.

Runaway Accidents.
Several runaways have occurred in this vicinity lately; now, we do not mean runaway matches between young men and women, but mean to be understood as having reference to horses running away with buggies and rockaways attached. We understand that Messrs. Geo. A. Peck and Jno. K. McIlhenny, on the way to the Sound last Saturday, had the horse which they were driving to runaway with them and that one or both of them were thrown from the buggy and somewhat bruised.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Jas. A. Willard was driving to the Sound with a young lady and one of his children in his rockaway with him, and when about two miles from town, owing to some disarrangement about the harness or shafts, the horse took fright and dashed off, throwing the occupants all out at different places along the road and bruising the whole party quite severely, though not seriously. We understand also that Mr. Sam. Bear, of the firm of Sol. Bear & Bros., while driving on Princess street yesterday, with his little son in the buggy with him, was thrown from the buggy by his horse running away and somewhat bruised. Mr. Bear's son, we believe, was thrown out also a short time after, but escaped with slight injuries. This, we think, will do for a chapter of accidents in a city the size of Wilmington for one day.

Scalding of the Engineer of the Waccamaw.
We regret to have to record quite a serious accident which befell Mr. John Cortghann, engineer of the steamer Waccamaw, on Saturday last, by which Mr. Cortghann had both legs and feet from his knees down so badly scalded that when his clothing was removed the skin peeled off with them. The steamer it seems was lying at Smithville at the time and Mr. Cortghann discovering the condenser pretty hot, went to the pump which furnishes cold water for the boiler as well as for the balance of the ship to turn the cold water on the condenser when he found that by some disarrangement of the pipe the hot water which had previously been left in the boiler had entered into pipe of the pump and on attempting to unscrew some portion of the pipe to ascertain the cause, the hot steam blew off the cap and the hot water and steam together poured out upon his legs and feet. Medical assistance was promptly rendered we learn from the hospital of the garrison, and the sufferer rendered as comfortable as circumstances would permit. The next day the steamer came to town and Mr. Cortghann was put under treatment of Dr. Wm. J. Love, whom we are happy to say promises soon to have his patient ready for duty again.
