LOCAL NEWS.

MUNSON—The Handsomest. P. HEINSBERGER—Hoyt's German Cologne. S. JEWETT—Look.

How do you like it?

Have you registered, if not, why not?

Comfortable breezes to-day and a cold night last night.

Ever so much cooler this morning, "whereof we are glad."

Thanks to Hon. A. S. Merrimon for valuable public documents.

There were a couple of Radical bow wows in the city last evening.

A quantity of beef was condemned in the Brooklyn market yesterday.

The water melon season is at hand. The next will be the chill and fever.

Oh! 'wasn't it delightful last night compared to some others we wot of?

Quite a large lot of beef and fish were condemned and sent out of the downtown market yesterday.

No City Court this morning. Two cases of disorderly conduct were continued until to-morrow.

The clerk of the Market reports a little over four thousand watermelons and canteloupes in market this morning.

Now, pay your dog tax, or else kill that howling cur, that destroyer of sleep. The latter is the best and the cheapest.

The large crowds that are seen on the many excursions by rail and water certainly are not an evidence of hard times.

A married man has invented an india-rubber rolling pin that will roll out the dough very evenly, and yet bends to the head when it strikes.

The crowd at the foot of Market street yesterday to meet the colored excursionists returning from Smithville was estimated to be about 3,000 persons.

The following notice is to be found in a prominent place of business in this city: "Those who expect to rate as gentlemen, will please not expectorate upon the floor."

The colored excursionists, who arrived here from Columbia, S. C. last Sunday morning, took their departure for home on a special train at 9 o'clock this morning.

A Moonlight Romance.

He found his love at the garden gate, Just where he expected to find her, And he found, also, too awful late, That her father was right behind her; And he gave him a "foot" With a Government boot, That shattered his day dreams, kinder.

They Don't Know It.

Some people don't know that they are being swindled every time they buy an inferior, short-weight baking powder. It would be far better to buy and use the old reliable DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER. Every package of the Dooley Powder is warranted absolutely pure, and strictly full weights. Sold by grocers generally.

Healthful.

Working in a garden is highly conducive to health. There is something in the odor of the earth that strengthens the whole system. Let the sedentary man take up a spade or hoe and spend an hour of the dewy morn over an onion bed and thus give tone and vigor to his body and mind for the severe duties of his desk.

C. F. M. A.

Quartermaster Agostini, left for the South this morning in the interest of the Cape Fear Military Academy. We are glad to learn of the success of Major Burgess in securing several boarders from Fayetteville and other points where he has made an effort. The school is an ornament to the city and justly merits the high standard which it has attained.

Quarantine Conference.

The Committee on the Board of Health of New Hanover county, consisting of Drs. Thos. F. Wood, E. A. Anderson and Geo. G. Thomas, who were appointed at a recent meeting of the Board, to visit Smithville and confer with Dr. W. G. Curtis, Quarantine Physician, in reference to a more efficient Quarantine, left for Smithville this morning, accompanied by Mayor Fishplate. They are expected to return this afternoon.

The Princess Yrturbide, daughter of the ex-Emperor of Mexico, while in Philadelphia occupied apartments at the Colonnade Hotel, and paid high compliments to its excellent management and quiet comfort.

Fine Melons.

The largest, finest and most luscious watermelon, we have seen this season was presented to us yesterday by Mr. Garrett Walker. Mr. Walker has plenty more of the same kind and brings them into market fresh every morning. He has brought the majority of fine melons to market this season and is the "boss" melon grower about these parts.

Not Coming as an Organization.

By a private letter received here this morning from the Captain of the Charlotte Grays, we understand that as a very few of the company will be enabled to make the excursion trip so long spoken of from Charlotte to Smithville, that it is thought the Grays will not bring their arms, or come even as an organization on the excursion train to-morrow morning. This, we believe, is very much regretted by the military companies here, and especially the Cape Fear Light Artillery Company, who have been banking after a little revenge on the Charlotte Grays ever since the hospitable treatment the O. F. A. boys received during their trip to Charlotte on the Mecklenburg anniversary.

The artillery company had made arrangements to entertain their friends of the Grays, and are consequently disappointed at the news contained in Captain Hand's letter. The other military companies had intended joining in the escort from the depot, and the W. L. I. boys were getting ready to fix things for the detachment of the Hornets' Nest Riflemen. "But it was ever thus from childhood's hour," &c.

Another Word or So Upon the Same Subject.

Are not the Presidents of the different Democratic Ward clubs in this city a little derelict in regard to the registration of the Democratic voters of their respective wards? Two years ago, in the memorable Tilden and Vance campaign, ward meetings were of more frequent occurrence, and committees in the different wards were appointed to interview each Democratic voter in the ward, to ascertain who had not registered. In addition to this, a complete census of each ward was made of every Republican voter, as well as every Democratic voter; and every voter, whether Democrat or Republican, white or black, was spotted and located in the precise block in which he resided, and even to the very house in that block where he slept. In consideration of the fact that there are a good many candidates in the field who style themselves independents, and are endeavoring to split the Democratic vote, does it not behoove the Democratic party of every city and county to bring out their full strength, and see to it that every man who calls himself a Democrat is registered. The time is getting short, and we hope our appeal will not be in vain.

Lippincott's Magazine.

'Along the Danube,' by Edward King, is the opening paper of Lippincott's Magazine for August, and both text and illustrations are spirited and lively. Edward H. Knight, one of our commissioners to the Paris Exposition, and a member of the jury on machinery, gives an illustrated paper on the Buildings and Grounds, with suggestive comparisons between Paris and Philadelphia. A much livelier article, and one better suited to the present temperature, is 'A Welsh Watering-Place,' by Wirt Sikes; but the gem of the number is 'The British Soldier,' by Henry James, Jr., in which the exquisite irony and delicate powers of the writer are employed on a most attractive theme. 'Sambo: a Man and a Brother,' by S. A. Shields, contains some pictures of negro character from personal observation which cannot fail to be read with interest. Mrs. Hooper sketches the career of the Empress Eugenie with much animation and causticity; and Mrs. Howland gives an account of a new system of Musical Notation. There is a striking story in the number entitled 'A Saxon God,' and the new serial, 'Through Winding Ways,' shows a careful study of life with a geniality of tone that is especially charming. There are other good things in the number, which is almost wholly of a light character, suitable for the month.

Unmailable Letters.

The following is a list of unmailable letters remaining in the city Postoffice, William T. Downs, U. S. Revenue Collector, Philadelphia Penn; George Allen, Newbern N. C; Messrs Cole & Gilpen, 30 Hanover St., Wilmington N. C.

Serious Cutting Affray—Two Men Seriously Wounded—The Desperado at Large.

A serious, and probably a fatal cutting affray took place at Beatty's Bridge in Pender county on Friday last in which two white men John and William Lewis who are brothers, were horribly cut by a negro named Banter Underwood.

A large party of whites were pic-nicing at Beatty's Bridge and more or less liquor was drunk during the day. Several quarrels were the natural result of the repeated "croaking of the elbow" and among others John and William Lewis became involved in an altercation of words with the negro Underwood, but some time before the party commenced to disperse, the men had settled their differences and nothing more was thought of it.

The brothers started off together and had gotten about a hundred feet from the crowd when they heard some one running behind them, which proved to be Underwood with a dirk in his hand, the blade of which was about six inches long. John Lewis ran but his brother William walked quietly along and was embraced from the rear by Underwood, who cut him several times in the side, stomach and back, almost completely disembowelling him.

Underwood then ran after Jno. Lewis, who unfortunately stumbled and fell and before he could regain his feet, Underwood pounced upon his back and literally perforated it with the dirk. The wounded men were carried to a house near by where their wounds were dressed and medical aid rendered them. An attempt was made to arrest the negro who jumped a fence, took a defiant attitude, and dared the crowd to arrest him, yelling to them that at least one of them would die.

There were no officers of the law at hand, and unfortunately no firearms, and the murderer walked quietly off and is now at large. Underwood is a perfect desperado, and says no ten men in the county can or shall arrest him. William Lewis was pronounced in a dying condition on yesterday, and probably ere this, his soul has passed into eternity. John Lewis condition is extremely critical and little or no hope is entertained for his recovery. Our informant was unable to state whether the wounded men have families, but the impression is that William Lewis has a wife and one or two children.

Two O'clock in the Morning.

The "Garrell" faction of the untried men on the war path last night. We believe that the "regular 'pintment'" was held near the Cotton Factory, but before all the political powder had been exploded the heroic First Ward had a "jamboree" at the Brooklyn market house. We heard the "cahooping" which took place, as we are reliably informed, at about two o'clock this morning. We can testify that it was an uproarious meeting, and "furthermore the deponent sayeth not."

Commissioner's Court.

Abraham Henry, colored, of Pender, was brought to this city for trial before U. S. Commissioners McQuigg this morning. Henry is charged with selling liquor without a revenue license and was required to enter into a bond of $100 for his appearance at the October term of the District Court. Henry will return to his home on the steamer North East this afternoon.

The Third.

A Meeting of the Third or National Greenback party is advertised to be held at Point Caswell to-morrow. Members of the Garrell faction and other city orators are to ventilate their oratorical ability. The effect will not be so much in what the "City Orators" say, but in the manner in which they paw the ground and fling their arms.

To Stop Runaway Horses.

The Mexicans have a method of subduing fractious horses and such as are inclined to run away, which might be introduced with profit here. A hood or winker is so arranged that the driver or rider can in an instant draw it directly over the eyes of the animal, effectually blindfolding him. Whenever this is done the horse instantly becomes quiet, and a repetition of the blindfolding two or three times, gradually results in his becoming quiet and docile. Such an arrangement would be a valuable appendage to the head-gear of horses disposed to run away.

Entertainment to the Sumter Military.

The Sumter Light Infantry on their return from Smithville by the steamer Underhill this afternoon will be met at the boat by the officers of the W. L. I. and Mr. F. W. Ketchner, and escorted to the latter named gentleman's residence, where there will be a feast of reason and a flow of soul, prompted by the popping of champagne corks and the gently flowing down of a little spiritus. In other words, Mr. Ketchner will entertain the Sumter military during their short stay in the city previous to their departure on the Southern bound train this evening at 7:25.

Very Low Water.

Navigation is seriously interrupted between here and Fayetteville, owing to the very low stage of the river. The steamer Murchison, due here last Saturday evening arrived this afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock.

The steamer A. P. Lint also put in an appearance to-day. The latter did not reach Fayetteville on her last trip but stopped fourteen miles this side and sent a lighter with the Fayetteville freight the balance of the way. The North State was tied up at Waddell's Ferry last night when the Lint passed there. The Wace is somewhere between here and Fayetteville, but we could not learn her exact locality. We will all have to pray for heavier showers and more frequent ones than we have had lately if we want the river navigable much longer.

FOR THE REVIEW.

Last night the Knights of Honor, and also, the Knights of Pythias, held meetings for the purpose of conferring degrees, when a drum and fagollette commenced playing in front of the City Hall, annoying the Lodges so that they could hardly hear anything said by the officers. Now, this is a great nuisance to the different Lodges which meet opposite the City Hall, and as those parties could as well meet somewhere else, we hope the proper authorities will request the officers of the companies to play their sweet, dulcet strains in some other part of the city.
