Only two days left in which to register.
Our merchants are looking for big cotton receipts this Fall.
When the thermometer falls, how often on an average does it break?
Last night was as sultry and uncomfortable as any we have had this season.
Don't talk any more to us about hot weather. It is very amusing, and it is too hot to manifest a proper resentment.

A recent extravagance among the fashionable ladies is the use of gold hair pins.
Cure for dyspepsia—give a hungry dog a piece of meat and chase him until he drops it.
A child wishing to describe a snake, said it was "a thing all tail—clear up to the head."

From all the indications we judge that our friends a few miles North and West of us were blessed with several fine showers yesterday.
We were kindly favored with a gentle shower last night, but it has had but little perceptible influence upon the atmosphere thus far.
"What blessings children are," as the parish clerk said when he took fees for christening them.

Young ladies wear for a necklace a band of black velvet, to which are attached tiny tinkling bells.
Among the novelties are earrings of silver, enameled with small shells, a pearl extending from each shell.

A meeting of the Carolina Yacht Club will be held in the Bank of New Hanover Parlor, to-morrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock.
The quarrel of young Wilmingtonians who left here on the last trip out of the Benefactor, will be heard from on the third page of this issue.

Follow the laws of nature, and you will never be poor. Your wants will be but few. Follow the laws of the world, and you will never be rich. You will want more than you can acquire.
Coarse clothes and humble fare honestly earned are not inconsistent with the manhood of men. It is wearing a linen duster all winter and leaning over a free-lunch table that crushes humanity.

Now is the time to be serious about the matter; have you registered, or have you not registered? And do you intend to register, or do you not intend to register? A plain, categorical answer is what we want. No squirming—no evasion.
There will be another eclipse of the sun to-morrow afternoon, commencing at five minutes past 7 o'clock. Get your smoked glass ready, but if it is inconvenient to get the glass, a piece of smoked beef will do just as well.

Rev. A. A. Benton, who was to have served at St. John's yesterday, did not arrive, owing the low stage of water in the river. Rev. Dr. Waston, of St. James', preached there, however, during the afternoon and Mr. Benton is expected hereby Sunday next.

Personal.
Maj. Jos. A. Engelhard, Secretary of State, arrived in the city on Saturday evening on a short visit to Capt. C. D. Myers, at his summer residence on Wrightsville sound.

Hot Times in Pender.
Things are waking worse than warm in Pender county. The Greenbackers met at Burgaw on Friday and on Saturday the same half-dozen were at Caswell where the Democratic candidates spoke. The Independents were on hand but there was no trouble. Sheriff Paddison was interrupted sometimes but came off with flying colors. These facts are furnished by our correspondent at Lillington who closes his letter with the assertion that Sheriff Paddison, the regular Democratic nominee, will certainly be re-elected to the Sheriffship.

Big Ones.

We saw this morning some genuine natted canteloupes, grown by Mr. Garret Walker, near this city, which, for size, beat anything of the kind we ever saw. One weighed twelve pounds, and this found its way to the local table.

New Freight Warehouse.
The new warehouse of the Carolina Central Railway is about completed and will be turned over to the company in a day or two by the contractors, Mr. Jas. F. Post and Capt. W. H. James. It is situated on the company's property near the passenger depot. Its dimensions are 70 x 214 feet and is so arranged as to load nineteen cars at a time. It is a substantial and commodious building and will prove a great convenience.

Look Out.
We learn from a member of the Executive Committee that the various Independent candidates in Pender county have thrown off all disguise and have allied themselves with the Radicals, having made up joint tickets. Look out for these tickets and be careful to vote only the straight out Democratic ticket. If you can't do that then don't vote at all. This is the best advice we have to give.

Sudden Illness of Dr. Wright.
The friends of Dr. A. E. Wright will be pained to learn of his sudden illness while passing down South Water street this morning about 11 o'clock. When near the corner of Dock street he was noticed to be walking very unsteady and soon fell to the sidewalk. Dr. G. G. Thomas was immediately sent for, and members of his family notified of his condition. He was carried in a store close by and made as comfortable as possible until the arrival of the physician, who relieved Dr. Wright of his sufferings, when he was placed in a carriage and carried to his residence. His condition is not at all dangerous and a hope is expressed that he will be out and attending to his professional duties in a few days.

Telephone Line to the Sound.
The wire for the Masonboro telephones is in position and will be ready for use as soon as the instruments arrive and can be attached to the wire. They are much finer and superior to the ones now in use in this city, being Edison's Improved Carbon Telephones. They are in successful operation at the North and can be worked so as to be distinctly heard over 750 miles of wire. These instruments have been ordered and are expected to arrive on Wednesday of this week. They are to be placed in the residences of Capt. A. D. Cazaux, Capt. I. B. Grainger and Mr. W. B. McKoy. An effort is being made to have this line extended to Greenville and Wrightsville Sounds.

Heavy Rains.
We are informed by passengers arriving on the Northern train this morning that the people on the line of the W. & W. Railroad were blessed with copious showers on Saturday and Sunday. We rejoice at this, inasmuch as we have been informed that the crops along the entire length of the line were suffering much for the want of rain, and that unless they had speedy relief by frequent showers, the farmers would hardly be able to realize any returns for their labor. In many sections of the State the crops have been made materially smaller by the continual dry weather, but we hope that, with frequent showers from now until harvest time, a fair return may be secured for the toil and expense incident upon cultivation.

An Infallible Sign by which to Know a Fully Ripened Watermelon.
When the melon begins to change color inside and its seed to turn black, a small black speck, scale or blister begins to appear on the outer cuticle or rind. These are multiplied and enlarged as the fruit matures. A ripe melon will show them thickly sown over the surface; a partial development only indicates half ripened fruit; a full crop of blisters reveals its perfect ripeness. When hundreds of melons are strewed along the sidewalk you will have to look pretty sharply to find one that exhibits a satisfactory "cutcheon," to borrow a term from M. Gneon. But it is unfailing when found, and by following this guide you may walk away with your melon with the most entire confidence. The blister is only to be seen upon a close inspection but is plainly visible when that is given. This is what the Petersburg Index Appeal, man says.

Progressing.

The movement to organize a Temple of Honor in this city is reported as progressing favorably. Another meeting is to be held at Temperance Hall this evening when it is believed that definite action will be taken to secure a charter. The applicants number about thirty-five, and more are expected.

Swift Galloway.
Capt. Swift Galloway spoke on Saturday, at Point Caswell, to a very large crowd. He was well received and enthusiastically cheered and made many new friends. He remained over there on Saturday and this morning was driven to Rocky Point depot, where he took the cars for Goldsboro, where he is booked to speak to-day.

Spiced Tomatoes.
As this delicious vegetable is now abundant in our market and very good housewives may be anxious to try the plan of spicing them, we give the following recipe:
Take two pounds nice, ripe tomatoes, one pound of brown sugar, half a pint of good cider vinegar, one dozen cloves, and two dozen grains of allspice. Put these ingredients into a preserving kettle and stew them over a slow fire. When they have been down sufficiently long to cook the tomatoes pretty well, take them up and place them on a dish to cool, but continue boiling the syrup slowly. When the tomatoes become cool put them back into the syrup and boil them until they are of a dark-red color, and then take them out again, put them on a dish to cool and continue boiling until it is as thick as molasses. When the tomatoes and syrup are both cool put them in jars and tightly seal.

Didn't Want to Go.
A sailor man belonging to the Norwegian barque Success, lying on the opposite side of the river, who has been absent without leave for several days, was arrested this morning and returned to his ship under the following circumstances: Captain Heberg, the commander of the vessel, procured this morning through his Consul, Mr. R. E. Heide, a warrant from Mayor Fishplate for the arrest of the above mentioned individual whom he had cause to suspect was being concealed in some of the sailor boarding houses on the wharf in the city. Officers Turlington and Barclay were entrusted with the execution of the warrant, and after numerous hunts in alley-ways and by-ways they finally treed this coon of a sailor in the lot of a seaman's boarding house on Water street and took him in tow until they reached the foot of Mulberry street where Captain Heberg, with some of his crew, was waiting with his boat for the recreant son of Neptune. The arrested man was turned over to the Captain who immediately turned him into the boat, when like a flash, and in a giddy overboard went the insubordinate Jack Tar. The Captain, however, made his crew shove the boat after him, and as the boat was moved faster than Jack could swim, he was overhauled in about one hundred yards and hauled over into the yawl boat, which was immediately pulled for the ship. What the Captain did with Jack after he got him aboard in order to keep him, we are not informed, but we suppose he has secured both Jack and himself against any further trouble of the kind above mentioned.

A Small Sized Spelling Bee.
There was an impromptu spelling bee among the greybeards at the Produce Exchange this morning. The words given out were "ecstasies," "innuendoes" and "Kamatchatka." Several trials were given and the first two words were finally misspelled by only one or two; some spelled ecstasies with an "x" and others innuendoes with only two "n's." But "Kamatchatka" was not only the jaw-breaker but the spelling book smasher, as nearly everybody would insist on getting in an "s" after the "m," and before the "t."

Words which are oftentimes thought to be easily spelled by those well versed in spelling-book lore are frequently more difficult to master than some of the regular jaw-breakers.

Loaf Cake, with Fruit.
Two large cups of powdered sugar, one and a half cups of butter, stir to a cream, five cups of flour with three teaspoonfuls of DOOLEY YEAST POWDER, one cup of sweet milk, half pound of raisins, two ounces of citron cut in small pieces, one grated nutmeg, one wineglass of wine, one of brandy, eight eggs, add the flour with the milk, sugar, and butter, the beaten yolks of the eggs, and then the whites well beaten, then the wine, spice, and fruit; make this into two loaves; bake slowly one hour.

The Lecture To-Morrow Night.

To those of our citizens who have never been so fortunate as to listen to Col. Duncan K. McRae in a speech or address, we can safely promise a rich treat to-morrow night. Those who have been so fortunate as to hear him, know what they have in store, and cannot be induced, we imagine, to forego the pleasure of listening to his eloquence once more. As we have before stated, we believe Col. McRae one of our North Carolina's most gifted sons and in our judgment her best living orator to-day.

The lecture is to be for the benefit of the Whiting Rifles, a military company named in honor of one of Wilmington's heroic defenders at Fort Fisher—Major General Whiting. This company has struggled hard for an existence, and we trust that as the price of admission is very low—within the reach of almost every one, there will be a large attendance.
Col. McRae, the orator of the occasion, has been a prominent man in North Carolina. He was at one time Consul to Paris under Pierce's administration, and during the war he was the gallant Colonel of the Fifth N. C. Regiment, until after Sharpsburg, when his health, we believe, compelled him to resign. Let there be a full turnout then and a hearty greeting to this gallant son of the Old North State at the Opera House to-morrow evening.
