New Advertisements. S. H. FISHLATE, Mayor—Notice to the Liquor Dealers. J. C. MUNDY—Saratoga Water. GILES & MURCHISON—See Them! MUMSON—Only Think of It. P. HAINSBERRY—Field Croquet, &c. S. JEWETT—Look.

The washerwoman's steed—a clothes-horse. To-morrow is the last day left for registration.

Many ladies get near-sighted by wearing veils. Spoilt fish and meat were sent out of market yesterday.

Loading on corners on Sunday never took a man to Heaven. Dr. A. E. Wright's condition was much improved this morning.

None but those who come of age on election day can register then. No base ball pitcher is now considered an expert unless he can curve a ball into the batter's stomach three times out of every possible five.

Flies make their appearance at 4:45 A. M., and next to a cream jug or milk jar, prefer a bed-room where the sleepers do not cover their faces.

An exchange has the boldness to suggest this: "Cut a plug from a cool watermelon and pour into it a quart of brandy, if you would enjoy something nice."

We understand that Mr. Joseph W. Taylor, in running for the office of Sheriff will be influenced entirely by the advice of his Democratic friends.

We were pleased to receive a call this morning from the younger Mr. Darr, of the Samter True Southron. It gave us much pleasure to make his acquaintance.

When a boy does something funny, and you laugh at it, he will invariably keep doing it twenty or thirty times more, till you have to knock him down with something.

The three-cent piece nuisance is now in a fair way to be abated, postmasters having been ordered to send all money of that description which they may receive at their offices to Washington, in order that its circulation may be stopped.

Our worthy young friend and fellow-citizen, James W. Monroe, clerk of the Produce Exchange, in this city, has just returned from a short trip of recreation in the country. But Jimmy says it's a story; he didn't go to get married; that he only went for a little fun.

A new wheel-tire has recently been invented. It consists in passing around the usual tire a rubber tire, and around this again an iron tire made in sections, so that each section may yield inward as the weight comes upon it. It is said to lessen noise, jarring and wear.

Strictly P. N. T. There was a meeting of the O. B. and G. W. Club in the back parlor of the Purcell House this noon. The meeting was in session about fifteen minutes. A resolution was offered by an O. B. expressing a wish that they (the G. W.) would Joyner again later in the day; and they said they would if somebody else 'Ed set 'em up again.

A Vote Lost to Somebody. Richard S. Martin, a noisy, turbulent Republican voter, who was arrested last night between 11 and 12 o'clock in Paddy's Hollow, has been sentenced by Mayor Fishblate to imprisonment for ten days in the city prison. The sentence of course will not have expired until after the day of election. It would be well enough, therefore, for some of the Executive Democratic Committeemen to make a note of this and see that some other Republican don't vote in Richard S. Martin's name.

We wonder if the Committee will make a note of this and heed this warning, and make a rifle of an effort to prevent any one's voting in Martin's place. We shall see.

True Economy. It has been found that the only true economy is that which stops the little leaks and saves in trifles. For instance one saves in milk, butter, eggs and flour by the use of DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER, which is made from the purest cream-tartrate, derived from grape acid. Good housewives have proved this by experience.

A Freshet Coming.

From private information received here we learn that there have been splendid rains in the interior, on the head waters of the Cape Fear, and we may therefore look for a freshet in the river this week. The rains were on Sunday and yesterday. This will prove good news for the steamboatmen, who are about worn out with their long contest with shoals and sand bars.

Bear in Mind. Cotton planters, owners of gins, buyers and others connected with the trade, should bear in mind the following rule made by the New York Cotton Exchange, June 6th, 1878: "On and after Monday, September 23, 1878, cotton covered with flax tow bagging containing shives (or small pieces of straw) or manufactured from unrotted or imperfectly rotted flax, shall be deemed unmerchantable, and shall not be good delivery in this market."

Dry Times Ahead. By notice published elsewhere it will be seen that all places where liquor is sold are to be closed at 6 o'clock to-morrow afternoon and remain closed until 6 o'clock on Friday morning. Mayor Fishblate is determined to cause the strict enforcement of the law and has therefore given timely warning to all persons interested.

There will therefore be more than one dry ticket in the field on Thursday.

Wilson's Watermelons. Mr. Jas. Wilson, one of the Senatorial aspirants in this district, spoke at the "Grove," in Pender county, a few days ago. As there were only twenty-five colored men and about one hundred white men present, Mr. Wilson made a Democratic speech, treated to a few watermelons, shook hands all around, and now thinks he will walk off with the one hundred Democrats in his vest pocket. Thursday will tell who has the Democrats, and to Mr. Wilson's chagrin he will find that Democrats eat the watermelon, Republicans eat the rind; Bryan got elected. And left Wilson behind.

Snapping Turtles. Stacy VanAmring, the "regular" candidate on the Republican ticket for Clerk of Superior Court, effervesced in a circular yesterday and gave McQuigg, also a Republican nominee for Clerk, one in the political short rib. McQuigg "biled over" to-day and he came out in a circular this morning, and gave Stacy a plug on his political nose.

Cheering News from Duplin. We learn from a gentleman who has just returned from Kenansville that at a discussion between Mr. John D. Southerland, the regular Democratic nominee for Superior Court Clerk, and Mr. Henry R. Kornegay, Independent candidate for the same position, at the above named place yesterday, Mr. Southerland completely used his opponent up. We learn also from the same source that the other County Democratic nominees have every assurance of success and that when Old Duplin is heard from after the election it will be the same old story—gone Democratic by a handsome majority.

The Recent Cutting Scrape at Beatty's Bridge. The two Lewis brothers who were so desperately injured at Beatty's Bridge in Pender county a week ago by a negro named Underwood, an account of which was published in the REVIEW at the time, are, we understand, improving, and it is thought will probably recover. Two parties, one colored and the other a white man by the name of Overton, who were implicated in the affray, have been arrested and were being tried before Justice James Thompson, of Point Caswell Township, when our informant left there yesterday. But Underwood, who did the cutting, is still at large.

The Eclipse Yesterday. Contrary to general expectation, the uncertain clouds which hung over us yesterday until the afternoon, parted just in time to give us all a pretty fair view of the eclipse which was booked for the afternoon. The performance came off according to the programme, and although the sun was at times obscured by passing clouds, still we enjoyed, on the whole, a pretty fair view, and the various bits of glass were not smoked in vain. Nearly all of the sun's disc was obscured, only a slight strip in the shape of a crescent having been visible at one time. There were few in the city who did not avail themselves of a glimpse at Old Sol, as he hid his fiery eyes behind fair Luna's face.

Another Bow Wow.

Quite a large crowd, in fact we may say a very large crowd, assembled in front of the Market House last night to listen to the fine elocution and rhetorical efforts of the eloquent speakers of the Garrell-Heaton faction of disappointed office-seeking Republicans. The first distinguished speaker who electrified the large assemblage was James Heaton. This individual orated for the space of a half or three quarters of an hour, making some very good points as well as argumen's. After Heaton came the celebrated "Col." Tecumseh Cut-lar, but Cutlar was too drunk to furnish the usual amusement for the crowd; he got his tongue tangled and twisted up in such a manner that he couldn't say what he wanted to say, and his brains were so addled with Jersey lightning that he lost his bearings completely, left the political issues entirely, and commenced discussing the relationship existing between Owen Burney, his (Cutlar's) wife and Sol Nash. Several ineffectual efforts were made by the Chairman of the meeting to induce the eloquent speaker to make his bow to the audience and step down and out, but it was no go; the valiant Col. Cut-lar said he was entitled to half an hour's time and he intended to have it. We could not help thinking how terribly mortifying it must be to those fire tried partizans on the stand to have one of their illustrious speakers and influential partizans make such an exhibit of himself as Colonel C. did last night, but then his friends will be charitable, and will understand that it was the Jersey lightning that was talking and not Col. Cut-lar, and that the Colonel is in no way responsible for what the Jersey did or said. Finally there was a commotion in the crowd, which terminated in a regular stampede. Heaton said something to a noisy somebody, and the noisy somebody backed or squared himself off, and everybody thinking that there was going to be a fight with pistols and bowie knives, to say nothing of old worn out barbers' razors, scattered; there was not a word spoken but a general panic seemed to seize upon everybody, and there was a scatteration in every direction. "Such a getting up stairs you never did see." Those who were curious enough to try and see what there was to run for before participating in the general panic, were jostled from one side to the other; others were run over, hats knocked off and lost; and one gentleman, who was a quiet listener on the outskirts of the crowd, we understand, lost his watch, but afterwards recovered it. Then the band began to play and the delightful music seemed to soothe his savage breast and the Colonel, in this way, was finally silenced.

Duncan Holmes was the next speaker and he poured some pretty hot shot into ex-Mayor Canada, General Abbott and other shining lights of the "Great Republican Party." The meeting, we believe, finally adjourned about 11 o'clock.

If the crowd assembled last night was any indication of Garrell's strength, the new convert to Republicanism will stand a pretty good showing on Thursday next.

Arrest of a Noisy Republican. One Richard S. Martin, colored, a great musician who serenades the denizens of North Water street frequently with the dolorous notes of an accordion, was arrested last night in Paddy's Hollow and was being escorted to the guard house by a policeman, when suddenly upon reaching the corner of Second and Chestnut streets, he threw himself flat upon the ground and yelled murder several times at the top of his voice. The cries created considerable alarm in the neighborhood, awakening peaceful citizens from their slumbers and frightening women and children to a very great extent. Policemen's whistles were sounded from every corner, and for a short while it seemed to our understanding as though the graphic account of the author of Major Jones' Courtship in describing h-l broke loose in Georgia, had pictured the scene that was transpiring at the corner of Second and Chestnut last night to a nicety. The noisy and obstreperous individual was, however, finally conveyed to the lock-up and consigned to a solitary cell, where by direction of His Honor the Mayor this morning, he will remain for the period of ten days, or until the aforesaid Richard recovers and becomes himself again.

The fashionable style of bonnet is the close clinging shape. To be in the fashion the bonnet must cling to the head.

The Charlotte Grays Excursion.

The Observer says: The excursion party which went to Wilmington under the auspices of the Grays, returned yesterday morning, sunburnt and trown. The crowd was nothing like as large as was expected, but the company cleared about $75 by the enterprise; and then they all had lots and cords of fun. They were on or in the water nearly all the time, and being up-country people, of course were happy. Wednesday many went to the Sound, and on the following day there was an excursion down the river on a steam yacht. They were hospitably received and shown every attention. The Wilmington military expressed great regret that the company did not go as an organization, that they might be able to extend them formal courtesies.
