LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements. MUNSON—More of those Sackophones. P. HEINSBERGER—New Books. Geo. F. TILLEY—Oxlow Beef. J. C. MUNDY—Imperial Granium. S. JEWETT—Stationery and Fancy Goods.

Supposed Identification. The body of the colored man which was washed a shore near Council's Bluff, on the Cape Fear river, a few days ago, a report of which has been published by us, is supposed to be that of an old crazy man who has been missing from his home near the Bluff since Sunday last.

Paralyzed. We regret to learn that Mr. John B. Craig, of this city, was stricken with paralysis on Thursday night last. The whole right side of his body is affected. We hope to be able in a few days to announce his entire recovery, although at this time he is almost speechless and his condition is considered critical.

Gen. Gilmore. It is now said that Gen. Q. A. Gilmore, U. S. Engineer, did not go down the river at all during his recent visit. He stopped at Rocky Point on his stay here and from the city went up the river to the rock quarries in company with Mr. Geo. Z. French. It is shrewdly suspected that the object of his visit was to procure rock for the harbor works at Charleston.

The North Carolina. The British barque North Carolina, Capt. Buchanan, for Liverpool, is reported below. Mr. William Blanks, of this city, is a passenger on her. The North Carolina left Liverpool July 3d, and has had somewhat of a lengthy passage. She is expected to arrive at the city this evening.

Severe Pounding. Last night, between the hours of 8 and 9 o'clock, there was a large crowd of people assembled in front of the Rev. Dr. Burkhead's residence on Seventh street, between Mulberry and Walnut, who entered the house of the Reverend gentleman above mentioned, who it seems is absent from the city. The crowd, taking advantage of the Doctor's absence, proceeded to pound his family in the following manner: Each person carried a pound package of something good, which without any regard for the good lady's furniture they proceeded to pile upon the table until, it is said, it even groaned. Such visitations as these among our Methodist friends are becoming quite frequent. Those who did the pounding belong to that church in this city.

Drowned Near Sneed's Ferry. We learned this morning that L. V. Smith, the party who was arrested some two months ago in Onslow county and brought here for trial for the alleged murder of a man committed in Darlington, S. C., some two years ago, was drowned near Sneed's Ferry in Onslow county, on Thursday last. We have not been able to gather any of the particulars of the occurrence, but only heard that Smith took a small skiff on the day above mentioned and started to go fishing and later in the day the skiff was discovered bottom up, and that still later the unfortunate man's body was recovered.

A Robbery and an Arrest. Last night an unsophisticated individual from the rural districts in perambulating around on North Water Street in the immediate vicinity of Paddy's Hollow, encountered a character by the name of Frank Hargrave. The two suddenly became enamoured of each other. But to make a long story short, this morning Justice Hall issued a warrant for the arrest of the woman Hargrave on the charge of robbing this rural gentleman of his pocket knife, shirt studs, pistol, and pocket book containing $12.50.

Golden Cake. Two cupfuls of sugar, butter size of an egg, well mixed; the yolks of eight eggs beaten to a stiff froth, one cupful of milk, three cupfuls flour, with one teaspoonful DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER sifted through it, flavor, add the eggs last. Bake in small pans.

Stationery. FULL LINES OF STATIONERY AND FANCY GOODS for the House, the Desk and the School. No trouble to show goods, at S. JEWETT'S, Front Street Book Store.

Purcell House in Norfolk. We find in the Norfolk Landmark of a recent issue the following account of the Purcell House in Norfolk which, although somewhat lengthy, is yet so pleasantly given that we publish it here entire for the benefit of Col. Davis' many friends in this city:

This splendid establishment is situated at the intersection of Main and Church streets, and is convenient to the shipping offices, depot, Opera House and fashionable stores of the town. The street cars pass its front and every facility is offered to the traveler on business or pleasure. The proprietor, Colonel J. R. Davis, is known throughout the country as a man of remarkable administrative talent, and this is illustrated in every department of his hotel. The officers of the establishment are as polite and urbane as any in the United States, and Colonel Davis has none but the most attentive servants. None other need apply. The house itself has lately been remodeled from top to bottom at a large expenditure, and has been elegantly furnished throughout. It is provided with every convenience from an elevator down to the most minute articles and the whole machinery of the great hotel moves as if animated by one will and that one will bent on the ease and comforts of the guests. The table is supplied with all the luxuries in this and the Northern markets. The waters of Chesapeake Bay, Lynnhaven and Hampton Roads, the garden and fruit farms of Norfolk county, and the markets of New York and Boston are tributary to its table. When the municipal banquet was given to the Secretary of the Navy the elegant profusion of the entertainment was admired and approved by the most fastidious, and the bill of fare every day in the week shows a liberal expenditure, good taste and admirable management. For persons in transitu it offers special attractions, and for those who desire to remain in Norfolk for the benefit of their health, it affords the comforts and serenity of a home. On every side the guest or visitor sees evidences of the good administration already spoken of. "Cleanliness" is evidently held to be "next to godliness," and from the ground floor to the airy attics the scrubbing broom and duster are constantly brought into requisition. From the roof, or upper windows, beautiful views of our world-famous harbor are commanded, and more than one tourist has looked abroad over our twin cities and placid water courses from the lofty elevation of the roof, which is reached without fatigue and enjoyed as a beautiful surprise to those only familiar with the flat monotony of the surface of our town. The traveling public who are not already familiar with the interior, or the reputation of this fine establishment, may be interested to learn that it is provided with a supply of the best wines, liquors and cigars. We say the best, for it is a fact of common notoriety that Colonel Davis keeps a first-class establishment in all and every one of its various departments. Knowing the charms and advantages of the Purcell House to be all that is claimed for them, we can safely say that those who patronize it will not be disappointed. It offers the comforts and the luxuries of life in great profusion, and the proprietor might take this for his motto: "Order is our first law," for order and decorum reign throughout the large and sumptuous establishment. The rates are surprisingly low, when compared with the elegance of the entertainment, and are as follows, according to location: $3.00, $2.50 and $2.00 per day, with an elevator to obliterate distance in ascending to your room.

Why Longer Remain Fat? Obesity was considered by the ancients as evidence of coarseness. Even yet the slim forms of the Grecian goddesses are regarded as models of female beauty. Corpulence is now held to be a disease, and Allan's Anti-Fat has fully demonstrated it to be curable. The Anti-Fat chemical neutralizes in the stomach of all glucose, saccharine, and oleaginous substances, thus preventing the formation of fat. Its use insures a loss of from two to five pounds per week. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. Sold by druggists.

For Upwards of Thirty Years Mrs. WINSLOW'S SYRUP has been used for children. It corrects acidity of the stomach, relieves wind colic, regulates the bowels, cures dysentery and diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other cause. An old and well-tried remedy. 25 cents a bottle. d & w.

Consumption Cured. An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send, free of charge, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and using, in German, French, or English. Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers Block, Rochester, New York. aug 12-4w

Wilmington in 1862. MR. EDITOR REVIEW:—The fear of yellow fever visiting this place amounts almost to an epidemic. While the authorities should, (and are) taking all necessary precautions to guard us against the advent of the terrible scourge it is unseemly to give way to unnecessary fears.

I passed through the plague in our city in 1862, and in a few words will endeavor to compare our condition as then and now. In 1862, many families had left the city, leaving their domicils in the care of servants; many lots were full of weeds, dead cats and other filth; our turpentine distilleries were not running. There were encamped around the city at different times large bodies of men, who were removed suddenly by military orders, and who left the smell and filth of men and the dead carcasses of animals on and near their camping-grounds. The stench at several localities between here and the Sound was such that a rider passing the points would put his fingers to his nose and spurs to his horse until he cleared the deadly atmosphere, and the winds for weeks was from that direction, on this city. One of our most able physicians has since—in substance—remarked: "We would have had some deadly fever at that time, even if we had not had the yellow fever."

That malaria and death was in the atmosphere then, every reflecting man who passed through the terrible ordeal, now knows; the birds refused to sing and left us.

Our condition, at present, is entirely different. Our distilleries are mostly in full operation. Our city is as well policed as it can be (in the absence of a proper system of drainage) with no armies encamped about us, no steamers running the blockade, and with a sandy soil, absorbing superfluous moisture, keeping us clear of stagnant water.

Not being a professional man this communication may seem egotistical, I can only say let any one go through a yellow fever atmosphere in Wilmington once and he will know it again. We have not got the surroundings or the atmosphere here now.

In ending, I should like to pay a small tribute to one who died—a martyr—in Wilmington during the scourge in 1862, I have never seen any public mention of his service; he silently died at his self-assumed post and only those of us who were here know what he did for all, before he was carried to our "silent city of the dead." I allude to the late Dr. T. C. Worth. If any man deserves the hero's crown of immortality—so far as it can be made immortal by mortality—it is the quiet, brave man who gave his life to help his fellow citizens.

Onslow Beef. RECEIVED TO-DAY A DROVE of that famous Onslow County Beef, the best that has been here since last Winter. It will be on sale at my stalls in the Market House every day next week and I invite the public to call and see it and buy it. GEO. F. TILLEY, Stall No. 8, Market House.

New Books. A HEART TWICE WON; or Second Love. By Elizabeth Van Loon. Will be found to be one of the most charming stories of the day. It has a well contrived plot, all the characters being strong and worked out clearly. Like Sir Walter Scott's "Ivanhoe," there is not a page in it that any one would skip. The hero and heroine marry in the first chapter, and if you would know how A Heart was Twice Won, do not fail to read this strange, sentimental and absorbing story. It is just the book to create a sensation, and meet with a warm welcome from the public, if any book will. Complete in one volume. Price $1.50 in Morocco Cloth, Gold and Black. For sale at HEINSBERGER'S.
