Lace will be all the rage this Fall. Plush fabrics will be much worn. Caravan cloth will be much worn. Blue is a favorite color for coatings. Scuppernong grapes are becoming more plentiful. Don't forget that Col. Waddell speaks tomorrow evening. The Greenbackers held a meeting at the Court House last evening. Canteloupes are about "played" and watermelons are scarce and high.

Through an oversight the dates for a part of yesterday's issue of the REVIEW were not changed and the "before" remained the same as "Tuesday's." Such an accident will occur occasionally in the best regulated offices.

Hymenial. Mr. John W. Reilly, son of Major James Reilly, of this city, was married at Dougleston, L. I., on Thursday last, to Miss Katie T. Scott. The happy couple arrived here last evening and are now the guests of Major Reilly.

The Hunting Season. The time for quail shooting now approaches. Sportsmen will be pleased to know that the season gives promise of being a fine one, as young birds are abundant. The dry weather of June and early July gave them a good start, as rains at that time drove them out. Coveys of young birds are very numerous.

A Mistake. Hon. J. L. Robinson and V. V. Richardson, members elect to the General Assembly, are both State directors in the Western North Carolina Railroad Company. They are ineligible to seats in the Legislature.

This is the assertion of the Statesville Landmark. We do not know how it is as regards Capt. Robinson, but it is a mistake as to Capt. Richardson, that gentleman having assured us less than two days ago that he had resigned previous to his election.

Dr. Thomas F. Wood. We are pleased to learn that Dr. Thos. F. Wood, of this city, has been commissioned an Assistant Surgeon in the U. S. Marine Hospital Department, after having undergone a close examination. Dr. Wood has been assigned to duty at the Marine Hospital in this city, which will be conducted under his management, subject to the rules and regulations of the Hospital service. His appointment to this position will not necessarily interfere with his regular practice in this city.

Appropriate Honors. During the progress of the funeral obsequies yesterday, and, indeed, during the day, the flags of the British Vice Consulate, of the German Imperial Consulate, and the Norwegian, Swedish and Danish Vice Consulates, and the various flags on Front and Market streets, mentioned by us yesterday, were at half-mast in respect to the memory of Captain Grainger. The colors of the British ship North Carolina, George Datis, Resolute, Margaret Falconer Signal and Bat, were also half-masted during the entire day.

Caught at His Tricks. This morning the fish offered for sale by a monger were condemned and ordered out of the city limits. The man took the fish up and started off ostensibly for the purpose of complying with the instructions of the Health Officer. A short time thereafter information was lodged with the Clerk of the Market to the effect that spoilt fish were being sold in the Brooklyn Market. Officer Bender hurried over to Brooklyn and found the man, ordered from the lower market, offering and selling his spoilt fish. He was taken into custody and carried before His Honor, the Mayor, who imposed a fine of $25 or 30 days imprisonment. The fish was carried beyond the limits by one of the city carts.

Conveniently near the prominent business houses, all places of public interest and resort, and in the very heart of the best resident portion of the city, for good living, good treatment, and quiet comfort the Colonnade Hotel, on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, can be conscientiously recommended.

To Speak at Burgaw.

In accordance with request and with advertisement published elsewhere we state that Hon. A. M. Waddell will address the people of Pender county at Burgaw, on Monday next, September 2d, at 12 o'clock. As the Pender Board of Commissioners also meet them on that day and there is to be a big railroad meeting there then, Burgaw will be full of life next Monday.

City Court. The first case on docket this morning was that of a little colored boy by the name of John Neill, who was arraigned upon the charge of the larceny of certain bags. The evidence not being conclusive His Honor remanded the defendant to the cell until to-morrow. The next case was that of John Wesley Mitchell, colored, arrested for selling spoiled fish in Brooklyn this morning, knowing them to be spoiled. After hearing the evidence in the case, the Court pronounced a sentence to pay a fine of $25 or 30 days in the city prison.

Cape Fear Military Academy. Maj. B. J. Burgess, Principal of the Cape Fear Military Academy, returned last evening after an extended tour in the interest of the Academy. Capt. Washington Catlett and Prof. Horner are expected to arrive in a few days.

Maj. Burgess has recently furnished his school and recitation rooms with the most improved and comfortable desks and has a supply of new globes and other improvements in school paraphernalia. The sleeping apartments for his board are furnished with the best beds and bedding and particular attention will be paid to ventilation of the entire building.

We are pleased to learn that the prospect of a large school is very flattering. The time of opening the Academy will be announced by advertisement in the REVIEW.

The Thing Explained. An eminent colored citizen was discussing the fact that many of his countrymen are contracting the fever this year, in New Orleans and other Southern cities, when in the olden times they were considered entirely exempt. He explained the thing: "Yo don't know nuffin' bout dat. Hitts jest dis way. In de ole aunty belly days dese heah po' niggahs waz 'semp't, cuz de Yaller Jack didn't know de niggah from de odder stock. But in dese times sence de war, when Massa Linkum dun made de niggah jes de same as de white man, why dey had de same privum-lengess. Yeller Jack don't see no differumesses. Hit am de privilege of de day, and let me 'vise yo chile, don't yo go a fool'n roum' herroosts an water millions, an' risin in de maw'nin' n' shoutin' praises to de Lawd. Yo'd better go down on yo marrer bones an meditate on de jubilee. Dis aint no picnic, yo head me?"

Tribute of Respect.

WILMINGTON, Aug. 28, 1878.

At a meeting of the Vestry of St. John's Parish—called by the Senior Warden in the absence of the Rector—the following tribute of respect was unanimously adopted: Our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom has been pleased to call from His earthly career and labors, in the prime of life and manhood, our well-beloved brother and Vestryman, Isaac Bates Grainger, to a higher, nobler and better life; and while we do not mourn for him as those who have no hope, yet we do feel deeply and keenly the great loss that we as a Vestry have sustained. We feel that St. John's Parish has lost one of its best and most generous sons, the Church one of its truly conscientious and worthy members, his family a good and tender husband and father, and the city of Wilmington one of its most public spirited and active citizens. Resolved, That the foregoing feeble tribute to the worth of our friend and brother be entered upon the journal of the Vestry, and a copy sent to the family of the deceased. Resolved, That we will wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days, and we will attend his funeral in a body. Resolved, That in memory of the deceased his name shall be inscribed upon a blank page of the journal. The Vestry adjourned to attend the funeral. S. L. FREMONT, Senior Warden. J. W. GORDON, Secretary.

Tribute of Respect.

At a meeting of the Hibernian Benevolent Association, held yesterday evening, after the funeral of the late Capt. I. B. Grainger, the following preamble and resolutions were reported by a committee previously appointed and were unanimously adopted:

IN MEMORIAM. The ways of Providence are inscrutable and always beyond the comprehension of mortals. The heaviest inflictions at the hands of the Almighty often fall on the heads of those whom mortals deem the most worthy to be exempted. But the high and the low, the rich and the poor, are alike subject to the scythe which removes from earth its busy throng. Neither wealth, nor virtue, nor beauty, nor youth, can avert the sharpness of its edge.

It would be difficult, in the history of any community, to find an instance where judgment and expectation were ever more entirely set at naught than the recent event which now hangs the pall of gloom over this community, in the death of Captain ISAAC B. GRAINGER. This gentleman's death has created a vacancy which it is difficult to fill, turn which way we may. In the active marts of business and commerce, in the doubtful and uncertain ways of finance, in the ordinary business and social relationships of life, in acts of charity and benevolence, in all that goes to make up the truly worthy and valuable citizen, Captain Grainger was in this community pre-eminent. He came to this city eighteen years ago a penniless boy, and by his singular ability at once placed himself in positions of honor and trust, in all of which he invariably came up to the full measure of requirement and expectation. He died at the early age of 37 years; and through the energy of his character, his integrity, his honesty, his controlling influence over men and things, he began to rise from the commencement of his exertions in the active scenes of life. He was one of the most efficient Quartermasters of the Confederate service. His name has been prominently associated with every financial and business enterprise entered into by the citizens of Wilmington since the war between the States. And whether as an Alderman of the City, County Commissioner, President of the Real Estate and Loan Association, President of the Hibernian Benevolent Association, President of the Wilmington Building Association, Receiver of the Carolina Central Railway, President of the Bank of New Hanover, he was in each and all of these positions confessedly "the right man in the right place"—facile princeps.

Notwithstanding the active and busy part which he took in the ordinary affairs of life, he found occasion to devote much of his time to acts of benevolence, bestowing money and labor freely when either was needed. But there was no ostentation in these acts, and if the great number of those who were the recipients of his kindness were allowed to take part with us in this act of tribute to his memory, they would gladly join in all that we may say in praise of the many virtues of our departed friend.

But what power can measure the loss to us, the Hibernian Benevolent Association, by the death of Captain ISAAC B. GRAINGER, our late beloved President! He won our admiration by the splendor and depth of his great abilities, and held our hearts enchained by the magnetic influence of his noble Irish heart, and the gentle, kindly manner of his every-day life. His were talents so original as to rank him with the most prominent citizens of our State; and yet his was a generous, whole-souled disposition, that would lend the willing ear to the tale of the most lowly. Indeed, his were the attributes to make him dearly beloved while living, and deeply mourned when dead. This Society may justly and deeply mourn; it has lost more than member, more than friend; it has lost the shepherd of the flock, the keystone of the arch, the beacon light which called together and cemented with more than ordinary adhesion those exiles and descendants of dear "Old Ireland" who cherish and mourn the tender memories of their fatherland. He was an honor to his native land and a credit to his adopted country, and, above all, to us he was a true Irishman, who exerted the strength of his abilities and the power of his influence for the assistance, protection and elevation of his countrymen. "Old Ireland" never had a truer son, and the Irishmen of North Carolina never had a better friend; and while we mourn our great irreparable loss until we are gathered to the dust, we will cherish the recollection of his great abilities, his many virtues, and the generous impulses of his Irish heart, and we will continuously sigh for the cordial shake of his hand and mourn for the loss of his cheerful voice. Therefore, be it Resolved, That we deeply deplore the death of our lamented President, the late Isaac B. Grainger. Resolved, That, as a mark of respect to his memory, the hall which this Association proposes erecting shall be named and styled "Grainger Hall." Resolved, That we tender to the afflicted family of the deceased the deepest sympathy of this Association in their sad bereavement. Resolved, That the members of this Association wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days. Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the city papers, and that a committee of three be appointed by the Vice President, presiding, to deliver a copy of these resolutions to the family of the deceased.

Carolina Yacht Club.

At a meeting of this Club yesterday afternoon the Committee appointed at the meeting on Tuesday, to take action in regard to the death of Capt. I. B. Grainger, made the following report:

WHEREAS, Our beloved Commodore, Isaac B. Grainger, has been removed from time to eternity, we, the survivors of the Carolina Yacht Club, with deep emotion, deploring our loss, do resolve,

- 1st. That in the death of Commodore Grainger this Club has lost one of its most valuable and useful members, and it is with sadness that we mourn our bereavement.
- 2d. That our departed friend and companion, by his generous, aimable and manly characteristics, was endeared to us while living, and we will ever cherish an affectionate remembrance of him in death.
- 3d. That the members of the Club wear the usual badge of mourning for thirty days.
- 4th. That, as a tribute of respect, these resolutions be spread upon the records, and the Purser be requested to furnish a copy of them to the family of the deceased, and to the city papers for publication.

Grainger has been suddenly called from our midst by the unerring hand of death; and, whereas, recognizing, as we do, a duty which we owe to the memory of the deceased, for his many noble acts of kindness extended to our race, both in public as well as in private affairs, during his life time, be it Resolved, That in the death of the late I. B. Grainger this community has lost a faithful citizen; a man who stood ready at all times to further by his efforts the welfare and prosperity of all.

Resolved, That we recognize in the deceased a man whose character was free from stain or reproach, and whose private life was distinguished by honesty, integrity, and many noble acts of charity extended to the poor of all classes. Resolved, That, as a token of respect to the deceased, we hereby express our heartfelt sympathy and sincere regret, and condole in common with others in the irreparable loss. Resolved, That the Secretary of this meeting transmit a copy of these resolutions to the Star, Review and Post for publication. J. C. HILL, Chm. ALFRED B. LIND, Sec'y.
