Revenue receipts in Raleigh on Monday amounted to $579.46.

Charlotte Observer: Charlotte has contributed in all $325 to the yellow fever sufferers in the Southern cities. Of this amount $125 was contributed by our Jew-

Raleigh Observer: There is a protracted meeting going on at Cool Spring (Methodist) Church, four miles west of this city. Revs. Messrs. Crowder, Branson and Whitaker, of this city, officiated there Sunday. The meeting will extend through this quite freely and retail at $1 per bushel

Raleigh Observer: The Governor yesterday pardoned M. C. Dixon who was convicted of an affray at the spring term of Guilford Superior Court and se stenced FormerLow Prices, of Guillord Superior Court and se itenced to ten days' imprisonment. He appealed to the Supreme Court but the judgment was affirmed.

Raleigh News: A noticeable thing here is the fact that several darkeys are losing their black color, and gradually paling. It is said to be due to the fact of the pecusuch goods have touched for the past year, liarities of drinking water. The water of the well in the yard of Mr. J. P. Prairrie produces this effect, it is said.

> Raleigh Observer: Ez-Governor Hold-en fainted in the First Baptist Sunday School, Sunday morning, and had to be carried home in a carriage. We are gratified to hear that the Governor's indisposition is not serious. He was up yesterday, though not at his office in the morning.

Raleigh Observer: It was reported here yesterday that one of the stages of Messrs. Venable & Brown, between Henry's | since the advent of the new moon, which and Asheville, capsized Saturday last, according to weather prophets, is a dekilling an old lady, the mother of Col. J E. Brown, of Charlotte. No definite particulars of the ascident could be horn down letting all the water out.

Raleigh News : The authorities at the Penitentiary discharged, on Saturday last, Andrew Rountree, (col.) convicted in Wilson county of larceny, and sentenced to the penitentiary in November, 1876. He is about 62 years old, 5 feet Wilmington Cotton Mills, 41/2 cents pr yard. 51 inches high, black hair and eyes, and weighed when admitted, 143 lbs.

> Charlotte Observer : Col. John E. Brown, of this city, has two varieties of the almond tree in his garden-the soft shell and hard shell-both of which have borne well for the past two years. The trees are young but seem to be as hardy as a peach tree, which they resemble in Sunday next. appearance and growth. The fruit is as good in all respects as that imported.

Lumberton Times: Some scoundrel or scoundrels, not having the fear of God or man before them, attempted to wreck a train on the C. C. Railroad near here, last Saturday night, by placing a cross measure three feet. Some of the tie on the track. The train ran into it, ing ones said it was a moccasin. but fortunately no damage was done. Suspicion rests on two or more persons that live near, but we withhold their names for want of sufficient proof.

Hillsboro Recorder : We saw a day or two ago two straw hats made by a daughter of Mr. George Pickard of this county remarkable for their beauty of shape and comeliness of handwork. They were youd any doubt a true and faithful photemade of selected wheat straw, and one of graph of the deceased. Every feature is them was equal to the best Mackinaw we so strikingly portrayed that it is difficult have seen during the summer. The other was of somewhat coarser material. It would be faint praise merely to say the work was creditable to the young lady. It was really superior, and would do credit to the most skilled workmen. Let us have more of them.

Monroe Enquirer: The frog-like child of Jackson Township, of which some mention has already been made, was seen by Dr. I. H. Blair a few days ago, and from him we learn the following: It is now four years old; its back and legs very much resemble those of a frog, while its arms and head are human in shape. It has very good sense but does not talk much. Its crying resembles the croaking of a frog, and its movements somewhat resem bie the jumping of one. Its parents, who are colored, moved to this county not long since, from Kershaw county, S. C., where the child was born.

Charlotte Observer: During the heavy rains of the latter part of last week, two culverts on the Western North Carolina | ing at 7:31 o'clock : Railroad, about six miles from Morganton and within a half mile of each other, were washed away, and with them conanother on either side of the washouts. This causes a delay of about an hour, but the connections at Statesville and Salisbory are still maintained. Raleigh News : The rain which fell on Saturday afternoon in the Southern portion of this county was the heabiest ever known there. On Black creek there are several mills. The stream rose very quickly to a great height, and in the space of two hours caused the complete destruction of three mill dams. These were the fine one of Mr. Alfred Myatt, which had stood the floods of fifty years without damage. But it was swept away. The wife of Mr. Myatt came near losing her life. On the bank was a large quantity of lumber, and this was all carried off. Two other dams were totally ruined-those of Wm. I Rowland and Marion Partin. The total damage is over $3,000. The land suffered great damage by reason of the washing power of the water, which tore away the soil.

Retirement of Col. Taylor.

Col. John D. Taylor, the recent incumbent of the office of Superior Court Clerk for this county, yesterday retired from the office, and his successor, the newly elected Republican, candidate, entered upon the duties of the same.

It is hardly necessary to say that we part with Col. Taylor with regret, for he is the first and only Democrat that has filled the position since the days of reconstruction. But indeprudently of this it is a source of deep regret on personal grounds.

Col. Taylor has filled the position satisfactorily and acceptably to all classes of our citizens and with credit to himself and the friends who placed him there. He is an accomplished gentleman, a gallant soldier and a faithful, tried and trusted

Another Election Case.

The board of County Commissioners of Robeson county refused to allow Mr. J C. Hedgpeth, the recently elected Republican Register of Deeds of that county, to qualify, on the grounds that 'the election law did not provide for the election of a Register of deeds. The matter was argued by counsel. Application for a mandamus before Judge Buxton has been made to compel Commissioners to qualify Mr. Hedgepeth to the office to which he was elected. The case will be heard at chambers in Lumberton at an early date.
