Coroner Hewlett was notified this morning of the death of a small colored child in the south western part of the city, but up to the hour of our going to press we have been unable to find the Coroner and cannot give the name or circumstances connected with the death.

The River.

Capt. Green, of the North State, informs us that when he left Fayetteville yesterday morning the river had risen about 12 feet, which would give about 15 feet on the shoals at that place. When he left the water was rising very slowly and if there has been no further increase from the interior it is probably falling now. What is known as "a damaging We pause for a reply. freshet" is not apprehended.

City Court.

One old offender and a notorious character by the name of Wm. Phinnney was arrested yesterday on Water street by officer McMillan for disorderly conduct. It appeared in evidence before the Court this morning that the defendant resisted th policeman, and when taken to the guard house it was discovered that he had a razor in his pocket and an open knife with the blade pointing uwwards clasped firmly inside of his hand. Sentence of $25 fine or 30 days-in the city prison was pronounced, new dwelling within a hundred yards of the Court remarking that this habit of car rying a deadly weapon in the shape razors and resisting the police must be stopped.

Save Your Paper.

The following, clipped from an exchange, expresses an idea well worthy of attention: "It is well worth while to save your home paper and have it bound. A few years will make it the most instructive and entertaining volume that you can possess. All the laws of association make it more or less a history of yourself or friends. Names, dates, facts are preserved for you in the most acceptable manner; over it you may cry at your mistakes and laugh at your follies and rejoice in a review of those steps that have led you to prosperity. It gives the history of your town which is but an epitome of universal history.

The fact is, continued His Honor in the open Court, it is decided unwise at this season of the year we poor denizens of the city will never to remove the night soil. Disinfectants should be used pretty freely and these the city are ready to furnish whenever desired.

Relief for the Sufferers.

Our reporter made the rounds this morning of course visiting the most public places of resort to find whether there were any contribution boxes and what efforts had been put on foot to-day in aid of the sufferers by the fearful scourge of yellow and National Bank, there were no boxes; at the drug stores it was the same case, except at Messrs. Green & Fianner's, who apprised of the importance of taking in the suggestion of the REVIEW man, they immediately adopted the plan; at the Purcell House the same was the case and Mr. Howell Cobb immediately put the House the idea had not yet been acted upon but possibly would be. At the Burgaw down into Onslow will be coudifferent restaurants and saloons we found Captain Jim McGowan of the Mozart in the van, who had already collected some four or five dollars as early as 12 o'clock. Of the other saloons Mr. Harry Webb was the only one who put the idea into immediate practice. The idea is certainly a good one, for how many persons dropping in to buy even a cigar might drop in a nickle, and-how many are there who might not deny themselves one fine cigar, or one toddy a day, or even a glass of beer, or possibly a glass of soda water, or maybe a saucer of ice cream, simply to afford that much relief in buying a little ice or some cooling beverage or refreshment for a poor fever-parched dying fellow being !

And while we are upon this subject we will suggest another plan which has occur red to us. We know that in election times each ward in the city is divided and subdivided into different districts and committees appointed to see each man in the ward, about registration for instance, and in this way the entire census of the city is taken. Now, why cannot the same plan be carried out in this case? Remember that you know not where the fortunes of life may yet cast you, and it may be your lot to be caught in one of those plague-ridden cities upon just such an occasion. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," is a Divine command. Who will be first to obey it in this instance, and who will be first to move in this matter?

Improvements at Burgaw.

On a recent visit to Burgaw we noticed several substantial improvements which we are pleased to chronicle. The Academy building is nearly complete and it was in this that Hon. A. M. Waddell spoke on Monday last; Mr. I. H. Brown, Register of Deeds, has sold the pretty little house recently erected by him, about half a mile below the depot, to Sheriff A. H. Paddison, who it is said will reside there, while Mr. Brown is putting up a the Court House; Messrs, Tienken & Cowan have occupied their new store near the depot; Mr. R. H. Bloodworth has completed his new dwelling, and Mr. R. M. Croom, Chairman of the Pender Board of County Commissioners, has erected a very neat dwelling within the corporate limits.

The Crops.

We are glad to say that, from reliable reports received from our friends in the country, there will be good crops in nearly every locality. In very low lands they have been somewhat injured by the recent freshets, but in higher locations the vield in nearly all kinds of produce wil be rather above the average. It is true the season has not been so propitions as some would wish, but the average has been maintained notwithstanding the adverse conditions under which the labor has been performed. This has been accomplished, undoubtedly, by a better it is now, "How much can I make an acre produce ?" and when this latter idea becomes, as it should, the objective point in conducting an agricultural campaign, we shall see a prosperity and independence among the tillers of the soil such as know, however prosperous we may be.

Burgawand Onslow Railroad.

BURGAW, PENDER Co., N. C., Sept. 2, 1878. MR. EDITOR:—The very large crowd that greated Col. Waddell here to-day furnished an audience for the railroad meeting which adjourned at Jacksonville to meet here. This increased interest manifested and this universal desire to see fever. At the Bank of New Hanover this road completed, should animate and encourage our Onslow friends to determined efforts, as is the case in Pender. The meeting was called to order by placing Dr. Satchwell in the chair, and requesting D. J. McMillan to act Secre tary. A committee appointed as draft resolutions reported, through their chairman, Mr. Bruce Williams, the following, which was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That we are gratified and idea in practical form. Resolved, That the following Committee of Pender are hereby appointed as working Committees in their respective townships in behalf of the proposed road, and they are requested to agitate the question, solicit subscriptions and to report to an adjourned meeting to be held here on the 14th of October next, at which meeting a large delegation will be appointed to represent Pender in the large railroad meeting at Jacksonville on the first Monday in November:

Another Burglary.

Last night a house on Market, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, occupied by hundred and fifty thousand each. Now Betsey Adkins, was burglarized. The burglar effected an entrance into the Prairie, at work on the city market, one house through a window. A pane of glass was broken out of through which the thief put his hand and pulled off the and soon after obtained employment as a strip which holds the sash in position and lifted it out, placing it on the floor. While the thief was rummaging in a trunk the sash slipped making sufficent noise to awaken the inmates. The man, who is described as white with a full beard and long hair, tried to effect an escape through the window, but was headed off by Betsey Adkins, when he wheeled and made an exit through a door. An examination of the room proved that the thief had carried off fifty dollars in money and a quantity of clothing, and as his flight was precipitate it is thought he had a confederate outside who had the clothes at the time of the alarm.

Matters in Wilmington.

G. D. (Maj. Graham Daves?) writes a very interesting letter to the Raleigh Observer, from this city, in which the most prominent object spoken of is the cotton statistics of the port the figures having evidently been obtained from the table published by the Review on Monday Send in Your Claims. last, but which the correspondent neglects to state. But we are so used to this sort of thing in our exchanges that we don't mind it much. Only yesterday we found in the Robesonian two articles, side by side, one from the Wilmington Star, and credited to that paper, (of course) and the other from the DAILY REVIEW and without a word of credit. But this is a di- to have the same audited. gression. We only wanted to copy here a paragraph from G. D's. letter to the Observer relative to a "paint stone" now in the possession of Rev. A. A. Watson, D. D., of this city :

There is in the possession of the Rev. Dr. A. A. Watson of this city, what is called, for want of a better name, a paint stone. They-for there are several specimens-are small in size, of several shades, of a dull reddish brown color, rather smooth to the touch, and are apparently hollow. Upon one of their sides is a small hole, through which, when the stones are shaken, falls a fine dark colored powder. This, when mixed with oil forms, it is said, a very fair pigment. varying in color according to that of the stone from which the powder is taken. Stones of this kind are quite common in Moore county, where, report says, they have been made use of for certain kinds of painting. Somebody in Luck.

We copy the following from the Raleigh News of yesterday's date. The John O'Brien spoken of is well known in this city where he resided for several years. He is a tall, muscular man and is not related, it is said, to any of the various O'Brien now in the city. We can only hope that his luck will prove substantial and not altogether a newspaper myth. Here is the article from the News

One of the wealthiest men in the counfirm of Flood & G'Brien, of California. Some time past Mr. O'Brien left this world for another. He left his immense fortune to various friends, relations and charities. To the two daughters of a brother whom he thought to be long dead were left two comes the curious part of the story. In 1870 there was in the employ of Mr. J. P. John O'Brien. When that building was completed O'Brien left for Wilmington. In the autumn of 1877, he came back here carpenter, at the Insane Asylum. Last spring he was taken has since been on a sick bed. It seems that he divulged the fact at some time that he was the brother of the California O'Brien, and one of his attendants wrote to that State, and spoke of the fact. Not long ago a lawyer came here from California, to investigate the affair. He returned satisfied with the proof, it appears, and those who are attending Mr. O'Brien here have received instructions to show him every attention, while funds sufficient for all purposes have been sent. It is said that the wife and two daughters of the sick man are in New York an affluent circumstances. knowing nothing of his condition, nor even of his being alive.

Body Found.

The body of the little colored urchin who was accidentally drowned from Market Dock a few days ago, due mention of which was made at the time in the RE-VIEW, was this morning discovered by Captain Jones, of the little schooner Sunny South, floating along side of his vessel in front of Messrs. Hall & Pearsall's on South Water Street. The body was immediately secured by means of a rope. Coroner Hewlett was notified who impanelled a jury which rendered a verdict of accidental drowning. The body after that was taken below the dram tree and interred at high water mark in the neighborhood of the
