Judge McKoy.

The name of this distinguished jurist is associated in the minds of our people with all that is high, dignified and exalted. Wise in his decisions, inflexible in his purpose of integrity, dignified in his demeanor on the bench, and courteous in his relations to all, he wears the ermine in the majesty of his purity, and reflects honor upon the judicial bench of North Carolina.

Tremendous Freshet in the River.

The old Cape Fear is on a tremendous rampage, a consequence of the heavy rains in the interior. The river is rising very rapidly, and when the steamer D. Murchison left Fayetteville yesterday morning it had risen 25 feet in twenty-four hours or at the rate of more than a foot an hour.

Appletons' Journal.

For October leads off with an illustrated paper under the Shakespearean title of 'The Multitudinous Seas,' which is accompanied with numerous illustrations, text and pictures treating of the phenomena and wonders of the great deep.

A Strange Rescue.

A party of six sailors, shipwrecked on a desolate island, were studying how to live three days on two pounds of flour. The mystery was solved on one of the sailors producing a can of DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER, which made such a large light biscuit, that the party were fat and hearty when rescued.
