The weather was real fallish this morning.
Fish will be scarce during the prevalence of the easterly wind.

The poufs and paniers on imported costumes are scarcely discernible.

Dark-colored mixtures are preferred for business coats and waistcoats.

Letter heads, bill heads, note heads and dead heads turned out at the REVIEW office.

The long twelve or six-button kid glove, with the opening at the side seam, grows in favor.

Mr. Ed. S. Nash, formerly of this city, but now of New York, is in the city on a short visit.

Persian brocades and old English and mediaval France brocade stuffs are revived for parts of costumes.

The latest breakfast caps are covered with a small embroidered handkerchief, and trimmed with ribbon bows.

Call and see specimens of our job work. We can beat the beater in a competition for prices and in quality of work.

Rev. S. Mendelsohn will hold services in the Synagogue this evening at 5:30 o'clock and to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The Spanish mantilla of black and white lace is to be worn as a part of the carriage costume proper this winter.

Dress hats for gentlemen have high slightly bell crowns, narrow brims, curled a la Beebe, or with a French set of the brim.

The Magistrates will bear in mind the meeting of their body which is to be held at the Court House to-morrow morning, at 11 o'clock.

The best job work in this city is now turned out at the REVIEW office. We don't offer this so much as a bait but as a fact and we can prove it, too.

Yesterday's blue skies and balmy weather is to-day simply a something to be remembered. Last evening heavy clouds came up out of the North and Northwest, and to-day feels like November.

Messrs. C. E. Burr & Co. are engaged in repainting the interior of the Opera House. The scenery will be retouched and Wilmington can again boast of "our beautiful little Opera House."

Mr. J. Frank Gause has resigned his position as Clerk of the Board of Audit and Finance, to take effect next Tuesday, October 1st. There are probably already between fifty and one hundred applications for the position. A successor to Mr. Gause will be chosen this afternoon.

A merchant who pays rent and taxes is not allowed to place boxes on the sidewalk for a longer time than it takes him to get the goods out. Then why is it that hucksters are allowed to keep boxes and barrels on the sidewalk week in and week out?

The residence of Capt. Allen Jones, a gentleman well known here and nearly related to some of our people, in Rock Hill, S. C., was destroyed by an incendiary fire on last Sunday night. Nearly all of the furniture was saved but it is not known if there was any insurance.

Rev. Dr. Patterson.
A letter has been received here from Rev. George Patterson, D. D., Rector of St. John's, this city, who is now in Massachusetts, stating that he hoped to be able to return to Wilmington and resume charge of his parish by the middle or latter part of October, most probably the former. We are glad to learn that the reverend gentleman's health has improved materially since he left us.

The Huckstaire.
Beware, boys, beware with care. Beware of the bargainsome huckstaire. Who on the sidewalk do congregate. When you go out for something to eat. The huckstaire pays no tax at all. And when you buy half you pay for all. Of the goods the huckstaires sell.

Look Out, Boys
Buffalo Bill and his genuine Indians will show here on the 3rd and 4th of next month. They will be followed by the Fay-Templeton Alliance. Louise Pomeroy is booked for the 19th, and the mid-eved clown of Cole's Circus will be jumping around about the latter part of October or the 1st of November.

The South-Atlantic.
The November number of this valuable Lome monthly has been laid on our table. As usual, it presents an excellent table of contents and one that should attract the eye of the most indifferent reader. An interesting announcement is made in this issue, relative to the new volume, which will open with the November number. In that issue, will be published the opening chapters of a new historical romance and the first act of a five-act play—a new feature, by the way, in magazine literature—and the first of a series of notes on Eastern travels. Published by Mrs. Cicero W. Harris, at Wilmington, at $3 a year.

Rosh Hashana, the Jewish New Year.
This evening, at sundown, begins the Jewish New Year, termed in Hebrew "Rosh Hashana." It is observed with solemn services by the people of that faith everywhere. During the period between sunset on Friday and the same time on Sunday, all business is suspended. The origin of the festival is given in Leviticus xxiii, the text reading: "And the Lord spake unto Moses, saying: Speak unto the children, saying: In the seventh month, in the first of the month, ye shall have a Sabbath, a memorial of blowing trumpets, an holy convocation. Ye shall do no servile work." Though not one of those great festivals of the year on which the male population of Israel is commanded "to appear before the Lord," it is nevertheless considered to be one of the principal holidays of the Hebrews. The observance will last until Sunday when the sun sets. The blowing of trumpets, strictly enjoined to the congregation, is observed as of old, and the hearing of the sounds is obligatory on all Jews. With the festival of the New Year begins the annual era known as the "Ten days of Repentance," terminating on Sunday week by the greatest of holidays, "Yom Kippur." According to Jewish faith and tradition, on "Rosh Hashana" the creation of the world was completed; on that self-same day the sacrifice of Isaac by his father occurred; and again, on the anniversary of these events, the Messiah will come. The festival is sometimes called "Yom Hadin," or Day of Judgment; for it is a Rabbinical legend that on that day the Almighty reviews the career of every creature, meting out its doom for the coming year. The ceremonies of the day are grand and impressive. At sundown the faithful assemble at the houses of worship and inaugurate the observance by solemn prayers and fast. They assemble on the following day at daybreak, and service is held until noon; the shofar, or trumpet, made of a ram's horn, being sounded, and the most orthodox Israelites refusing to partake of food until they have heard the reverberating but sacred sounds, which in time are to announce the Judgment Day is at hand. Genesis xxi and xxii, recording the birth and sacrifice of Isaac, and the first chapter of Samuel, will be recited.

We regret to learn of the severe illness of Col. E. D. Hall, who was taken sick on Tuesday last and has been confined to his bed ever since. We are happy to learn, however, that there is some improvement in his condition to-day, and it is now thought by his physician that he will soon be in a rapid way of recovery.

We were glad to meet and shake by the hand this morning our young friend, Mr. David B. Mitchell, who has just returned home looking well and hearty after a voyage across the Atlantic and a visit to the Paris Exposition.

His Occupation Gone.
Had the Arkansas "doctor" that "tapped" the fat man, thinking he had dropsy, but finding no water pronounced it "dry dropsy," lived to-day, he would, like Othello, find "his occupation gone," for Allan's Anti-Fat, a purely vegetable remedy, safely but positively, reduces corpulence from three to six pounds.

Business Firms Changing Quarters.
There will be a very general moving in business circles this year, while that in domestic circles will surpass any known in the past decade. Nearly everyone seems to have caught the moving fever, and the amount of rubbish which will be moved from house to house and from store to store will surprise an uninitiated beholder. Among the moves in business circles we have heard of the following:

Messrs. Chadbourn & Co. will move to the old office of Harris & Howell. Messrs. Kerchner & Calder Bros. will occupy the building now used by Messrs. Willard Bros. & Mebane. Messrs. Willard Bros. will move to the building occupied by Capt. Chas. D. Myers, and Capt. Myers to the store of E. Peschau & Westermann. Dix Bros. & Russell will occupy a store opposite F. A. Newbury's, and Worth & Coney will occupy the vacated building of Dix Bros. & Russell. Messrs. Wm. Blanks & Co. are occupying an office adjoining Capt. A. D. Cazaux's.

Messrs. Blackwood, Sanders & Co's. office will be in the old Vick & Mebane building, on Nutt Street, and the office of the Champion Compress Company will be at the entrance to the press buildings. Mr. John Meyer has moved to the corner of Chestnut and Water Streets, to the building formerly occupied by Mr. H. M. Watson. Messrs. Taylor & Giles have had an office erected in the vacant lot between the Murray building and Mr. John C. Heyers, store on Water Street. Messrs. Lilly Bros. will move; to the office now occupied by Mr. A. H. VanBokkelin and Mr. VanBokkelin will occupy the office of the late Maj. John A. Byrne. Capt. R. M. McIntire has leased a store in the Old National Hotel and the store adjoining will be occupied by Mr. I. Furmanaki as a barber shop. Messrs. Werner & Prempert will occupy the vacated stand of Mr. Furmanaki. The National Bank will occupy the old Cape Fear Bank. Boatwright & McKoy will move their store of liquors to their grocery establishment. Mr. S. G. Northrop has moved his stock of fruits and confectionaries to the old jewelry stand of Messrs. T. W. Brown & Son. The Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine office has been moved to Evans' Block on Princess street. Mr. Geo. L. Schutte is moving his stock of groceries to the store next east of his present stand and to the corner of Fourth and Walnut streets. Messrs. Behrends & Co. have rented the building on the northeast corner of Market and Second streets and will occupy it as a furniture house, also two halls in Currie's block which they will use as a ware house. Mr. Jno. Boyd will occupy the store vacated by Messrs. Behrends & Co. The above are all the changes we have heard of thus far but will keep the readers of the REVIEW posted as to any others.

Two Souls.
Our good friend, Maj. James Reilly, of this city, late of the C. S. A., was married last evening at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. Father Moore, to Miss Martha E. Henry, daughter of Wm. R. Henry, Esq., of Columbus county. Our best wishes are tendered.

Returned Home.
R. J. Jones, Esq., delegate to the meeting of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, held in Baltimore last week, has returned to the city. Mr. Jones was accompanied by some of the ladies of his family and took advantage of the opportunity to pay brief visits to Washington City, Annapolis and points of interest in those localities. He comes back to us from the meeting of the Grand Lodge as a member of the Committee on the History of Odd Fellowship, one of the most important committees in the Grand Lodge.

Personal.
Frank D. Koonce, Esq. of Onslow county, an Independent candidate for Congress, whom we think we have before spoken of in the columns of the REVIEW of late, called in to see us yesterday in a friendly sort of a way and not, we are happy to say, with any reference to matters recently in dispute. We were boys together and one of our most vivid recollections of our bolting neighbor is having seen him once parading the portico of the old hotel in Goldsboro, resplendent in straw-colored kids, a stove-pipe hat and a swallow-tail coat lined with white satin. Needless to say that swallow-tail coat was not on hand, or, rather, on his back, yesterday.

MARRIED.
REILLY-HENRY—On the 26th inst., at the residence of the bride's father, by the Rev. Father Moore, Maj. JAMES REILLY, of Wilmington, N. C., to Miss MARTHA E. HENRY, daughter of Mr. Wm. R. Henry, of Columbus county, N. C.

New Opera Kid Gloves, Fancy Goods, Hats, and Millinery.

Only one trifling case before the City Court to-day.

Brother McDiarmid, of the Lobesonian, was in the city to-day and favored us with a visit.

Enforce the cattle ordinance and thereby keep the streets looking less like a cow pen.

Some of the new linen cuffs and collars are hair-striped like the new history.

Mr. Noland, of the late firm of Hayes & Noland, will establish a junk store in this city on or about the 1st proximo.

The embroidered handkerchief cap worn over a round mob cap of Brussels net, edged with a fringe, are called "Crooke caps."

Col. Wm. L. Smith, the newly appointed County Commissioner, was to have qualified this afternoon at a meeting of the Board.

The very last lot of "watermelons" of the season were in market this morning. They were brought here on a flat from Pender and were retailing from the dock at the foot of Princess street for ten cents a piece.

A Wilmington Lady in New Orleans.
Capt. Wm. Smith, of this city, has received a letter from his brother-in-law, Mr. Charles T. Estlin, of New Orleans, stating that that gentleman's wife, Mr. Smith's sister, has been down with the fever but was considered as convalescent when the letter was written on the 20th inst. Mrs. Estlin is a native of this city, where she resided until her marriage, and has many friends here who will be rejoiced to learn of her safety.

Col. Waddell at Point Caswell.
We learn from Capt. R. P. Paddison, that Hon. A. M. Waddell was greeted by a large concourse of voters at the Point on yesterday, and that he delivered a fine and telling address. He will lose no votes at Point Caswell, so we are assured. He speaks at Harrell's Store to-day and we believe is to be replied to by Frank D. Koonce, Independent, of Onslow. Well, Koonce could not have started at a worse place for brindle-tails and the way the good people of Harrell's Store will "set down on him" will be a caution.
