For other local see fourth page. Big crowd about the Court House to-day. The Knights of Honor meet to-night. The market was abundantly supplied with hucksters this morning. The weather wise are predicting cold weather for to-morrow. To-day is the Jewish New Year, and all the stores kept by the Israelites of the community are closed. The Planets in October. Saturn is very favorable for observation. He rises at 5 p. m., and reaches the meridian at 11. Jupiter remains during the month and evening star, and the most brilliant object among the myriad stars that stud the sky. Venus still leads the morning stars, and is fast approaching the sun. She rises now about half-past four. The October moon will full on the 11th. The Performance To-morrow Night. As there seems to be some misapprehension, or, perhaps misunderstanding, in regard to who will play at the Opera House to-morrow night, we have been requested by Mr. Will. J. Duffy, Treasurer of the Fay, Templeton Star Alliance troupe, to state that his Company have secured the Opera House for this evening and to-morrow evening also, and will give a performance on each occasion, as already previously announced in the advertising columns of this paper.

Criminal Court. The Fall term of the Criminal Court of New Hanover county convened this morning, His Honor Judge Meares presiding. The following are the grand jury for the term: Robt Lee, Foreman, J. H. Sutherland, Saml Northrop, Louis LeGrand, N. H. Sprunt, Jno R Melton, Caleb Richardson, Alex Mallett, Charles Murphy, Saml Farrow, Halifax Leonard, Jr, Elias Halsey, Robt D Davis, Jno C Borneman, David Pigott, J. H. Lane, Harding Johnson Geo D Waters. His Honor Judge Meares, charged the jury on such cases as would in all probability be brought before them. The remainder of the morning was taken up in calling and swearing witnesses.

The Pawnees Visit the Sound. The Pawnee Indians who are traveling with the Buffalo Bill troupe had never seen the ocean and so their guide, or guard, took them down to the Sound in an ambulance yesterday, and then had them transported to the banks in a sail boat, but whether they were transported with delight or joy or whether they were impressed with the awful grandeur of the scene as the broad Atlantic burst upon their view as they clambered over the hillocks on the ocean beach, it was impossible to tell (so we are informed) from a casual or even a close scrutiny of their inflexible countenances. It is a part of the Indian nature and one of their chief characteristics to betray no emotion whatever on such occasions. They gazed long and earnestly, however, at the blue water as it rolled into shore and watched the breakers as they capped and foamed when they broke upon the beach. The party returned to the city last night, the Indians bringing with them quite a number as well as quite a variety of shells which they had gathered upon the sea-beat shore. Farmer's Fruit Cake. Two cups of sugar, one cup each of butter and sweet milk, five eggs, three and a half cups of flour, three teaspoonfuls DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER, half of a nutmeg, one pound raisins. Flavor the icing with rose water and vanilla.

Freak of Nature. We have in our office a peach blossom taken from a tree in the yard of Mrs. Thomas Smith, on Red Cross near Second street. The tree from which the blossom was taken has already borne one good crop of peaches this year, and this is a second blossoming. Fish are getting more plentiful and of larger size.

The Brunswick Election Case. Col. Best, of the Raleigh Observer, who has been in attendance at Brunswick Court, writes to his paper a full report of the Brunswick election case, the result of which we gave in last Friday's issue. We publish here an extract from his letter: The mandamus cases excited quite a considerable amount of interest. It was agreed to try only one of the five cases, making it a test case; this was taken up and argued at length on Wednesday, and for the information of the thousands of readers of the Observer I will make a full statement of the case, as it is I think the first one under the present existing election laws: On the 15th of June last the Board of Magistrates for Brunswick county met and ordered a new registration in three townships: Town Creek, Northwest and Smithville. New registrations were made in the two latter, but the Registrar, John B. Evans, who was appointed for Town Creek Township, failed and refused to take the new registration on the ground that the reason requiring it ceased to exist. The old registration books supposed to be mutilated and destroyed were found in good condition. When the election took place the first Thursday in August the returns were forwarded to the County Board of Canvassers as the law required, the second day after the election. It being made to appear before the Board that no new registration had been made in Town Creek township, the Board opened and canvassed all the other townships, but rejected and threw out this one, which gave the Democratic candidates a majority of the votes canvassed. The defeated candidates brought an action of mandamus against the Board of Canvassers to compel them to re-assemble and count the votes, including Town Creek township. This proceeding was returnable before Judge R. P. Buxton at Chambers at Fayetteville on the 30th of August. The defendants there appeared through their counsel, John D. Bellamy, Esq., and demurred to the jurisdiction of the Court on the ground that the Judge could not make his Chambers outside of the county where the mandamus was instituted. The Judge sustained the demurrer and dismissed the action. The plaintiffs, through Judge D. L. Russell, their counsel, moved to amend the proceedings and make them returnable before Judge Buxton, at Chambers, in Brunswick county, at the time of the Superior Court, which convened in Smithville, September 30th. On the 2d of October the case was heard again before Judge Buxton, at the court house in Smithville. Judge D. L. Russell representing the plaintiffs, and John D. Bellamy, Maj. D. J. Devane and C. I. B. K. Moore, the defendents. The defendents resisted the mandamus upon the ground: First. That the Board of canvassers were invested with judicial powers, and a mandamus would not lie to compel them to perform a discretionary act. Second. That the Board of canvassers, when it met on the second day after the election, after completing their duties and adjourning sine die, from that moment became defunct, and no power of the courts could re-create the Board Canvassers and compel it to re-canvass the votes. Third. The registration not being had as required, vitiated the election in that township. In the arguments of the counsel for the defendants there was a display of talent and research that showed they had maturely considered the matter and were not at a loss in presenting the points under discussion. JUDGE BUXTON'S DECISION. This morning at the opening of the Court Judge Buxton read the following decision: "In the case of Samuel P. Swain, Clerk, vs. James D. McRea et al., Board of County Canvassers, and M. C. Guthrie.—Application for mandamus. This coming on to be heard upon complaint and answer, and being heard after argument on both sides: The court doth declare that it is precluded from a consideration of the case upon its merits for the reason that it considers the remedy by mandamus inapplicable and so adjudge; because the Board of County Commissioners is not a continuing body, but created for a single purpose which has been accomplished, and there is now no longer any such board which can act. The application for mandamus and the auxiliary remedy of injunction is denied, but without prejudice to the rights of the plaintiff in respect to the subject matter of the suit." Judgment against plaintiff for costs. Signed R. P. Buxton, Judge Presiding. From this decision the Clerk, Sheriff, Register, and Treasurer plaintiffs, appealed to the Supreme Court. This action sends the Democratic member to the House of Representatives in the next Legislature, unless that body, after investigation, should decide against him and seat the other man.

Diphtheria. We learn that this fearful disease is showing itself in different parts of the county. Every case of sore throat is not diphtheria, but, for fear it might be, our people should take active steps to relieve a patient with any kind of sore throat. A correspondent sends us the recipe for the sulphur treatment as practiced, it is claimed, with never failing success by an eminent physician. We published this plan of treatment some time ago, and presume most of our readers understand it. If any treatment proves successful, we hope it will be reported, and let everybody know how to contend with this terrible disease. Light for the City. Among the bids put in under the advertisement of the Mayor, a few weeks ago, we learn that Messrs. Chen, Corley & Co. have put in a bid to light the city with an oil lamp. It is claimed that the light from this lamp is superior to Gasoline lamps, and stands the roughest winds and storms without being affected in the least. It is in use in a number of cities and towns, and these gentlemen refer to those places for the efficiency of the light. At the price the city is now paying for gas this bid will reduce the price of light for the first year, nearly fifteen hundred dollars, and for each succeeding year about two thousand dollars. If the city can make a saving in light by accepting this, or any of the other bids offered, the tax payers will not object to it. May Cody, or Lost and Won. The closing performance of this thrilling drama took place at the Opera House last Saturday night, and as is usual when entertainments are given on that night, there was a slim audience in attendance. The parts in the play were generally well sustained, and the thrilling scenes with which it is mainly composed were happily relieved by enough of fun to relieve it from monotony. After the rendition of the play there was a display of the habits, customs and ceremonies of the Indians of the Far West by a group of the Pawnee and Nez Perce tribes which were quite interesting. It was a pleasant entertainment, and the fact that there was not a word or act which could be construed into vulgarity should commend it to public patronage. General good order prevailed, and the only violation of decorum may be charged to a lot of young colored people in the gallery.

The Day of Atonement. This day is known among those of Hebrew birth and faith as "Yom Kippur," or the Day of Atonement, and is one of the most important of the Jewish holidays, and is more generally respected, by people of the Hebrew faith, than any other day. The origin of the festival may be found in Leviticus XVI: "And it shall be unto you a statute forever; in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, you shall afflict your souls and do no work at all." The day is observed by fasting and prayer and the confession of sins and invocation of the Divine mercy. It is also a time when parents bestow benedictions upon their children, and when those who have quarreled must become reconciled. On this day the Hebrew is commanded to afflict his soul—the affliction, according to tradition, consisting in abstinence from eating and drinking, bathing, perfuming, wearing shoes and indulging in the sensual pleasures—for he is this day to divest himself of all earthly passions and thoughts, and is to prefigure to himself a future state of blessedness and purity. In the observance of the day those who worship in the Hebrew faith, in this city, have kept their places of business closed, and services appropriate to this occasion have been held the entire day in their Synagogue on the corner of Market and Fourth streets. The Festival held last week for the benefit of the sufferers, in the City Hall, by the various colored churches in this city, was a very successful one, the amount realized having been $58.48. The manager of the Festival, Geo. W. Robinson, informs us that he forwarded $40.23 of this amount to Rev. W. E. Baggs, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Memphis, and that the balance will be forwarded in due course. This information was furnished us for Saturday's Review, but was inadvertently left out.
