WILMINGTON, N. C.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1878

FOR CONGRESS:

ALFRED M. WADDELL OF NEW HANOVER.

VIEWS AND REVIEWS.

The 20,000 volumes composing the library of the late Cardinal Antonelli are about to be sold.

The Prefect of Police in Paris is about to prohibit the sale of toy pistols with explosive compounds.

Three hundred Icelanders emigrated last month to Canada. In the last three years 1,500 Icelanders have repaired thither.

Wagner is at present engaged in re-writing one of his earliest works—a symphony, composed in 1832, and performed at Prague and Leipzig in 1833.

The last car festival at Juggernaut was a miserable failure. There were no large contributions by devotees, and the Rani (mother of the banished Rajah of Puri) had to bear all the expenses.

It is reported from Goa, the capital of Portuguese India, that in consequence of the unhealthiness of that place the Portuguese Government have decided to remove the seat of Government.

Gen. Skobeleff has openly declared, in the presence of the representatives of various European powers, that the Czar will keep 100,000 men in Bulgaria and 45,000 in Roumelia, despite the Berlin treaty.

Iowa Republicanism keeps without faltering, and its perennial ambition is to see Blaine President of the United States. Disappointed in that, it is prepared for a great northwestern bolt, and Blaine any how.

It is stated in Roman clerical circles that, even without establishing official relations with England, the Vatican has decided to send an Apostolic delegate or a Charge d'Affaires to London, and that a proposal to this effect will shortly be submitted to the British Government.

Lizards are very useful for the destruction of vermin in the tropics, and when a house in Manila is hired an agreement is always made that the proprietor shall stock it with lizards, if not already stocked. In some houses lizards will remain, much to the annoyance of the tenants.

To be able to work continuously for eleven days and nights is what is claimed by C. D. Sanders of Parkersburg, W. Va. He is between 50 and 60 years of age, and a tall, straight, robust man. He goes to bed at night in order to be out of the way but has not slept in fifteen years. Heavy opiates have no effect upon him.

A darkey who was stooping to wash his hands in a creek, didn't notice the peculiar action of a goat just behind him; so when he scrambled out of the water and was asked how it happened, he answered; "I dunno exactly, but 'peared as ef 'do shore kinder histed and frowned me."

The Captain of the schooner Vonin, which has arrived at Copenhagen from Iceland, reports that when on the 22d of last month he passed Cape Langanas, the wind being southwest, a heavy shower of ashes of a reddish-brown color fell for four or five hours, covering the vessel. It is believed that these ashes come from the volcanoes in Iceland.

An advertisement of "May Fisk's Troupe of English Blondes" is headed with the lines:

The devil fisheth best for souls of men When his hook is baited with a lovely limb; and at the bottom is the following: "Wanted, for the above company, two burlesque actresses. None need apply unless they are thoroughly respectable."

The North China Herald announces the death at Pekin of Mr. P. H. Hunt, who had been a missionary of the American Board for 30 years, 29 of which were spent at Madras and ten at Pekin. At both places he was superintendent of the mission press, and by his skill as a workman he did much toward the improvement of Oriental typography.

A constable in Fulton, N. Y., has distinguished himself. He observed that Frances Earl, a girl employed in a mill, was somewhat masculine in appearance. She wore her hair short, had large hands and feet, and was very independent. So he reasoned that she was a boy in disguise, and arrested her; but his error was soon proved, and Frances still wears petticoats.

Merchants in Atoy, China, say that they have discovered that the last harvest's tea has been adulterated beyond all precedent. Leaves of the willow are prepared for the purpose, and mixed with true tea. The consular body has laid the matter before the Chinese authorities, and the Governor of the province has published a proclamation offering a reward for information leading to the conviction of offenders.

POLITICS IN THIS DISTRICT.

Political affairs in this Congressional District appear to be somewhat mixed, just at this particular time. Thus far Hon. A. M. Waddell, the Democratic nominee, has no developed opposition, except in the case of Judge Russell, who nominated himself and who seems to be running on a platform made up of as many political inconsistencies and absurdities as we have ever yet seen bundled together in one batch. His chances, moreover, so far as we are able to understand them, seem to be the slimmest of the slim and we do not believe that they would sell at ten cents on the dollar. This is the only opposition to Col. Waddell which has thus far been developed in the district.

Mr. Hayes is going over to Orange county, Va., this week, to keep over the grave of President Madison. Perhaps some enterprising medium may be able to interview the spirit of Madison and let a wondering world know how he feels as he beholds the great fraud swarming over his crumbling bones.

The old dairyman who asked the Greenbacker if he could get any more cheese from his milk by watering it is still waiting for an answer. The wise maidens who kept their lamps trimmed and burning would appreciate the luxuries of gas, and Lot and cold water in their rooms.

It is believed that these ashes come from the volcanoes in Iceland. An advertisement of "May Fisk's Troupe of English Blondes" is headed with the lines: "The devil fisheth best for souls of men"

In 1792 the Crown jewels of France, now in the Exposition, were stolen. Two of the men concerned in the theft were captured, but the jewels could not be found. At the time these two were placed in prison one Lamieville was also there, but presently escaped. Soon after he called upon the jailer, who had been kind to him in prison, and told him that he had overheard the two jewel robbers talking, and learned that they had hid the jewels, and, sure enough, at the place designated they were found. Lamieville was subsequently made a military officer. In the reign of Louis XVIII. these jewels were valued at $4,200,000.

A writer in the London Times says that in Mr. Gladstone's notable article entitled: "Kin beyond Sea," the couplet from Heber's "Palestine" is strangely misquoted.

Instead of the lines, "No workman steel, no ponderous hammers rung, Like some tall palm the stately fabric sprang," as incorrectly given by Mr. Gladstone, they should read: "No hammers fell, no ponderous axes rung, Like some tall palm the mystic fabric sprang."

It is estimated that 550 publications, more or less concerning Dante have been issued within the seven years dating from July 1870 to July 1877.

POST PICKINGS.

Emperor William thinks he will be well enough by the 12th instant to relieve the Crown Prince and edit Germany himself.

The Administration is getting more and more emphatic in its demand for "honest money" in proportion as the pay roll of the thieves of the electoral vote grows longer and longer.

Blaine declares that a set-back like that in Maine is just what the Radical party needed to rouse it to action. It looks now, however, as if the stimulus would prove to have been a little too severe for the patient.

Boutwell says his fortune has diminished during the past fifteen years. He could take care of the National finances, but not his own. Therein he differs from John Sherman, who can take care of everybody's money and grow rich at the same time.

A Radical journal wants some authority to inform people how to talk to Greenbackers. If it desires to speak the truth it can say that it would like to favor greenbacks, but that the National bankers and money-lenders won't allow the party to do it.

The narrow escape of the Indian Bureau from transfer to the War Department has so opened the eyes of the chief that he finds crookedness and rascality where he formerly detected only virtue and integrity. This is his occasion of the new deal in letting contracts.

Mr. Hayes is going over to Orange county, Va., this week, to keep over the grave of President Madison. Perhaps some enterprising medium may be able to interview the spirit of Madison and let a wondering world know how he feels as he beholds the great fraud swarming over his crumbling bones.

MOONSHINE.

The wise maidens who kept their lamps trimmed and burning would appreciate the luxuries of gas, and Lot and cold water in their rooms.

Sitting Bull is to the West what George Francis Train is to the East, but neither of them begin to be the value of an ordinary wind mill.

The man-eater sharks are becoming numerous in the Sound. They are probably New York hackman thrown out of business by the elevated roads.

The tobacco crop of Connecticut has been damaged by wind storms. The result will be a less number of Havana cigars made in the State's prison.

Carl Pretzel says: Dink poety vell of a man dot vill stood by you when you vas in stormy vedder. Schwarums of insects vill sthyt round you when de sun shines ont.

[Petersburg Index-Appeal.]

A Remarkable Coincidence in Dreams. We hear of a very remarkable coincidence in dreams, which occurred in the household of a well known family in Chesterfield county, a short distance from this city, on Sunday night last.

In a flood in Austin, Texas, a man found himself left on a swiftly dissolving bank. He called to his son, who was on high ground above, to throw a rope. The boy did so, and the old man, as he took one end of the line in his hand, said: "Now listen to me, and do as I tell you. If you find you can't hold on when I commence to climb, let go. It's no use for both to drown, so don't let me pull you down. If you find you can't hold the rope, drop it, run down in the flat and grab for me as I float by." The boy braced, and the father was saved.

The great depression in trade now prevailing in India may be judged of from the fact that there are at present about 150 vessels lying in the port of Calcutta, only six of which have charters for a fresh voyage; the destination of the rest is uncertain—that is, the freights offering are so low that the owners or agents are obliged to decline them. A similar state of things exists in Bombay also.

BOILED DOWN.

Dean Stanley is of the opinion that the Quakers are not as bad as they are painted.

Prof. Max Muller, the distinguished polyglot, believes in the higher order of education for girls.

Rumors concerning the approaching marriage of the Princess Thyra and Prince Louis Napoleon are gaining credence again.

Mario, the poverty-stricken tenor, will receive enough from the subscriptions collected in his behalf to purchase an annuity of $30.

The Atlanta Constitution clears up a disputed point by remarking that "Wirt Sykes' female husband is known in Europe as Oliver Logan."

A husband may open his wife's letters in England—if he dares.

Butler is now thought to be the misleading statesman of the country.

If England goes to war with Afghanistan, we shall expect many Cabul dispatches.

The English Wesleyan Methodists report 83,969 church members connected with their foreign missions. The total church membership of the body is 486,083.

The Quebec policemen and firemen will probably resign, not having been paid for three months.

Lord Mayor Larpey, of Dublin, has a rock upon his armorial bearings, which the London World calls the "Tarpeyan rock."

Starving to Death.

Thousands of men and women are starving themselves to death. They dare not eat or drink this or that, fearing it will increase their flesh. Life depends upon continuous self-denial. The only safe and reliable remedy for this terrible condition is Allan's Anti-Fat. It is wholly vegetable and perfectly harmless. Its use insures a reduction of from two to five pounds per week. Sold by druggists.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 13th, 1808. TO THE PROPRIETORS OF ALLAN'S ANTI-FAT Gentlemen—The following report is from the lady who used Allan's Anti-Fat: "It (the Anti-Fat) had desired effect, reducing the fat from two to five pounds a week, until I had lost twenty-five pounds! I hope never to regain what I have lost."

Yours respy,
