The Greenbackers.

The long talked of Convention of the National Greenbackers in this Congressional district met in the Court House to-day about twelve o'clock and effected a temporary organization by calling Captain Frank M. Wooten to the chair. A committee on permanent organization was then appointed who reported in favor of Mr. W. L. Rivenbark. of Pender, as permanent Chairman and M. Moore, Esq., for Secretary. Speeches were made by several unselfish patriots and aspirants for Congressional honors, who seemed willing to serve the citizens of this district in Congress at the small sum of $5,000 a year, after which, upon motion, a committee was appointed to recommend a suitable person for the

The committee after retiring a short time returned and reported a majority in favor of the Grand Duke of Brunswick, ex-Judge Russell, late of the Radical party, as their choice. One county, Columbus, was said to be in favor of Tripler Child, but upon motion the nomination of the ex-Radical Judge was made unanimous by acclamation. Loud calls were then make for the ex-Judge who came forward in response to these calls and in his usual modest style, returned thanks for the honor.

The ex-Judge said among other things that he believed he could beat the two candidates now in the field, but if he was mistaken in this assumption he knew he could beat one of them anyhow.

The ex-Judge further gave expression to some few remarks that seemed to our understanding to place him in rather singular and anomalous position for one who is to represent the National Labor Greenback party, when he stated that he had never done a day's work with his hands in all his life and that if he was forced to take off his coat and perform manual labor for an existence, he would go to some place where he was not known. so that the people wouldn't laugh at him. This distinguished ex-Radical Judge then went on to make a still more astounding statement and said that if it had not been for the institution of slavery, he really believed he would now be ploughing a bull yearling at the rate of $6.00 a month for a living. Neither of which assertions do we feel at liberty to dis-

Our time being up, we were compelled to leave the gay and festive scene, and tear ourself away, and thus deny ourself the luxury of listening to the burning words of eloquence as they fell from the lips of the very distinguished, and soon to be extinguished Judge, late of the Radical party. The meeting was composed of about twenty whites, some of whom were Democrats, and the balance, numbering about one hundred and fifty or two hundred persons, were all colored.

The engine belonging to the C. C. R W. Company, which a few weeks ago jumped into the river at Meares' Bluff and which was afterwards raised by Messrs. Cassidey & Ross, was towed to the depot yesterday and in a short time will be again steaming along the road at the rate of twelve miles an hour.

Rules for Travelers.

The following rules are important to travelers, and are not as widely known as could be desired:

It has been legally decided that applicants for tickets on railroads can be ejected from the cars if they do not offer the exact amount of fare. Conductors are not bound to make change,

All railroad tickets are good until used and conditions, "for this day only," or otherwise limiting the time of genuineness;

Passengers are bound to observe decorum in the cars, and are obliged to comply with all reasonable demands to show tickets. AMONG THE STARS.

How and Where the Planets Appear in October.

Saturn will retain during the month the pre-eminence of being the most interesting planet among the brotherhood. Having so recently passed his opposition with the sun, he is still nearly in his brightest phase, and is also very favorably situated for observation. He rises now about 6 o'clock in the afternoon, and close of the month he will rise not far from 3 o'clock He is therefore visible throughout the whole night, and is readily recognized in the eastern sky, as soon

September-Mercury is the morning star until the 24th, and on the first of the month rises and sets at almost the same time with Venus, but is too near the sun to be seen. He was in conjunction with Mars on the 15th, in superior conjunction with the sun on the 25th, and in conjunction with the moon on the 25th; but as these phases are invisible, they are not of much practical importance. Mars is numbered among the morning stars, but as he rises about 6, he is still too near the sun to be seen in the morning twilight. At the last of the month he rises not far from 6 o'clock-nearly three-quarters of an hour before the sun
