LOCAL NEWS.

New Advertisements. Read M. M. Katz's double column ad on fourth page.

Bad day for the race. The beladcholy days have but. Dressed geese have put in an appearance.

Coffee, unlike music, is improved by grinding. The odoriferous Limberger is commencing to get in its work.

Venerable stove-pipe jokes are now elbowing their way through the country press. The handsomest compliment you can pay to a woman of sense is to address her as such.

To blow out a kerosene lamp with safety to yourself—get somebody else to do the blowing. A wise man reflects before he speaks; a fool speaks, and then reflects while his eye is getting well.

The most of our pleasures lie about us in youth. When we are grown we do our lying for ourselves. The Revenue Cutter Crawford is undergoing some repairs which will keep her in port for several days.

We have known many a man to sit around waiting for something to turn up until that something was his toes. A water moccasin was killed by a colored man this morning on Water street, opposite B. F. Mitchell & Son's office.

Bonnets are to be worn a trifle larger this season, and consequently will protect nearly an inch more of the wearer's neck. The man who can invent some kind of hold fast, warranted to keep the rear button on a shirt collar, will save much profanity and vexation of spirit.

The times are so tight now that if any one hears that a professional man has had any clothing stolen the idea suggests itself that he was taking a bath. A correspondent wants to know what a political offence is. We would suggest that taking a drink and then voting for the other man would not be a bad definition.

A white man by the name of Orrin Cumber, in the employ of the city, had his arm broken this morning by a heavy piece of coal falling on it as the coal was being dumped from a hod into a cart. Whether to treat to oyster stew and enjoy a blissful hour with his dulcinea or invest the capital in winter undershirts, is the problem now agitating the brain of the young man with small resources.

"Ike Wallis" is authority for saying that the human hair is worth $60 a pound. We trust hereafter that particular people will not be so disgusted in discovering a hair in the butter. This is a fine month for walking. A fine job of it can be done with comfort any day. People who have long been lazy from the heat may now venture out with perfect security to health and habits.

The Board of County Commissioners were to have met in regular session yesterday afternoon, but did not meet. Cause—A minority of the Board adjourned before a majority could assemble. A newly imported Hungarian employed on a farm hereabouts tilted up a beehive the other day to see what the bees were doing under there. He knows now. He says they were making chain lightning and had two thousand tons of it on hand, which exploded before he had time to let the box drop.

Travellers often wonder why their fellow-travellers are so loud in their praise of the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia but, after a visit themselves, they are satisfied of its famous excellence. Wood is very scarce and very high.

Unavailable.

The following unavailable letters remain in the Postoffice in this city, Oct. 22nd, 1878: Adjt.-Gen's Office, War Dept, Washington, D.C.; Violet Volens, Jesup, Ga.

The City Executive Committee have met, and—invited Judge Merrimon to speak sometime soon. The election is just two weeks off. What a thankless office, is that of a committeeman!

We are indebted to Alex Sprunt, Esq., for late British papers, among them the Edinburgh Daily Review containing a lengthy and full list of the stockholders in the broken City Bank of Glasgow, on whom the losses of the Bank will fall.

Col. Waddell. We are glad to be able to report an improvement in Col. Waddell's condition since yesterday. Hopes are now entertained of his early recovery, as he is convalescing quite rapidly, though he is still confined to his bed.

Meeting of Ward Committees. We understand that the Presidents of the different Wards, together with the Executive Committees of the same, will meet at Munds' Hall to-morrow evening, at 7 1/2 o'clock, for a joint conference, in order to decide upon something in the way of a campaign during the remaining time left before election day arrives.

The Sun. The Wilmington Sun made its first appearance this morning. It is a handsome 28-column paper, the size of the Star, and with a large variety of reading matter. Mr. Harris, the editor, seems to have fallen naturally into the harness again, the local columns are full and interesting and the market reports are very good. It hoists the Democratic banner and carries the names of all of the next Congressmen at its masthead.

But one case for the Mayor's consideration this morning, that of a colored individual who rejoices in the name of Richard Mallett, arraigned on the charge of being drunk and disorderly; sentence of the Court five days in the City Prison. Exit Mallett escorted by a policeman to his cell below.

Exchange Corner. Capt. N. H. Sprunt, proprietor of the fashionable millinery resort at Exchange Corner, appears before our readers to-day in a lengthy and attractive advertisement. He has everything in the way of millinery goods, gloves, hosiery, ribbons and fancy goods that any lady in Wilmington could desire and his goods are fresh from first hands. Just now he has all of his force employed in opening new goods and in preparing for his grand fall and winter opening and as his stock is so extensive it will take three days to show everything fully and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week are the days selected. The ladies will bear this in mind.

Floating Compresses. The cotton compresses erected some months ago on the marine railway of Messrs. Cassidy & Ross, by Capt. J. D. Stanley, who is the inventor and patentee proved to be practical in its working, and Capt. Stanley immediately commenced to have a large flat or float built for the purpose of making his floating compresses one of the institutions of the city. The float is now finished and the machinery is being placed in position. It is eighty feet long, thirty-eight feet wide and five feet hold. The presses, two in number, will be placed on the bow of the float and will be run by a twin engine (of fifty horse power) and gearing. The float will be propelled by an upright engine, the wheel being in a paddle-box in the stern of the float. Capt. Stanley tells us the presses will be ready to commence operation about the middle of November. We wish him much success in his enterprise.

Brown Bread. Three cups graham flour, one cup corn meal, two cups cold water, half cup molasses, two teaspoons DOOLEY'S YEAST POWDER, with salt to suit taste. Mix the powder with the flour and meal while dry. Bake an hour and a half in a slow oven, with paper over the top. Messrs. Cassidy & Ross, who have the contract for repairing Lightship No. 29 of Rattlesnake light, are busy at work getting out suitable timber for the repairs. The ship will be brought to this city in a few days.

A Day Behind.

Why don't Old Probs. send us notice of a storm a day or two before hand? Yesterday there was no storm flag flying. B-to-day, when the storm is here and will know it, the storm signal is dispelled. We are afraid Old Probs. has fowled the stampede of Mr. Hayes and fraudulent Cabinet, and left Washington to make campaign speeches in the interest of the Don Cameron faction in Pennsylvania.

Big Double-Column. The ladies, and all others interested, are respectfully invited to an examination of a large double-column advertisement of Mr. M. M. Katz, as published on the fourth page of this issue. It makes a magnificent showing and as Mr. Katz never does anything by halves (this a dole-half-column) his attractive advertisement will be read with interest by all. Wd'on't pretend to enumerate here—see the advertisement and read for yourself and that will furnish you with more particulars than we can begin to give you here.

Col. D. K. McRae. We are pleased to learn, as we do through a letter received here this morning that Col. Duncun K. McRae, the talented and eloquent North Carolinian, formerly a resident of Wilmington, but now of Chicago, has determined to remove to this city where he will practice his profession. The move will be made about the first of November when Col. McRae will bring his family with him. On behalf of our people we extend him a most cordial welcome.

The matrimonial market is excited and active. The day for hucksters and young ducs. Plenty of rain, but very little local news this morning.

Last evening we had a magnificent sunset, but to day, oh! what a day. The promiscuous shooting of firearms in this city at night should be put a stop to. The United States District Court will convene in this city on Monday, Nov. 4th, not quite three weeks off.

Physicians prescribe hartshorn for bee stings and whisky for snake bites. O, hang aboe sting! give us a snake bite. Hotel Arrivals. PUEBLL HOUSE.—Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 21.—Cobb Bros., proprietors—

General Brigade Orders. H'QRS. SECOND MILITARY DISTRICT, N. C. STATE GUARDS. WILMINGTON, N. C., Oct. 21st, 1878. General Orders No. 8.

The attention of commandants of companies in this Brigade is especially called to paragraph IX, of General Orders No. 27, issued by the Adjutant General of the State, dated Raleigh, N. C., October 1st, 1878, as follows: IX. "The attention of the command is directed to the following section of the act establishing the State Guard."

Sec. 15. "If it appears to the Commander-in-Chief that a company of the State Guard has failed to comply with the requirements of the law in matters of uniform, equipment, numbers, and discipline, such company shall be disbanded by the Commander-in-Chief."

"The requirements of the law in the matter embraced within the above section are these: 1st The members of each company must regularly enlist as prescribed by General Orders, Sec. 21st. The minimum number of a company is forty-five, non-commissioned officers and privates. All commissioned and non-commissioned officers and privates shall provide themselves with uniforms complete, of their own choice and fashion, subject to such restrictions, limitations and many order."

"All companies that shall fail or neglect to comply with the law above set forth, within ninety days from the day of this order, will be disbanded and disbanded, in accordance with the provisions of the act for the establishment of the North Carolina State Guards, Laws of 1876-77, chapter 272."

All commissioned, non-commissioned officers and privates not fully equipped within ninety days from the 1st October, 1878, in my command will be dealt with in accordance with the above orders, and no further grace asked; for by me, as ample time has already been given by the Commander-in-Chief. By order of MATTHEW P. TAYLOR, Brig.-Gen'l., Commanding 2d Brigade.
