Weddings are always fashionable. The worst kind of sipping—gossiping.

Policemen assist each other by clubbing together.

Eggs are scarce at twenty-five cents per dozen.

All true women want to be patrons of husbandry.

The storm signal is flying in the breeze again to-day.

Milton Nobles is booked for Raleigh next Friday.

Uneasy lies the head that tells a good many of them.

Every dog has his day, but the nights belong to the cats.

Wind blustery and exceedingly disagreeable to-day.

Christmas trees are being brought into the city rather early.

Lotta—at the Opera House, Saturday night, December 14th.

There is scarcely any circumstance that may not have been worse.

Katie Putnam delighted the Petersburgers last Saturday night.

The Scientific American says one-half the vinegar sold is rank poison.

Col. W. L. Saunders, of the Raleigh Observer, is in the city to-day.

Soap boilers and men working in tanneries have proved exempt from yellow fever.

Large quantities of both live and dressed pork are beginning to come into market.

A mild winter for this latitude and no ice are the latest predictions of the wise-acs hereabouts.

Newspapers, clergymen, physicians, women and railroads, are the five powers which rule the world.

Judicious advertising in a largely circulated journal is one of the roads to prosperity and terrestrial bliss.

We hear of but few changes to take place in business circles in this city during the first of the coming year.

The small boy and the little girl are already talking about what they would like to have for a Christmas present.

Milton Nobles will rise, Phoenix-like, from his ashes at the Opera House on Monday night, December 16th.

The improved lamp post is padded about the height that a fellow wants to rest his aching brow, and is becoming popular.

"Let me kiss him for his mother" is the unspoken wish of many a fair girl, but how few boys ever want to kiss a girl for her father?

It speaks for itself; is what a lady said of Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup the other day, for a single bottle cured my child of a most dreadful cough.

There was a goodly number of ladies abroad to-day, notwithstanding the wind and the dust. Preparations for Xmas are in order now, you know.

The weather is decidedly disagreeable; too much wind and too much dust flying; consequently we consider it a very dusty day. No charge. This is, free gratis.

The father who won't let his daughter sit out on the front steps with her bean these cold nights, has no respect for the man who manufactures cough syrup.

"Dooley's Yeast Powder," said a lady, "has made itself indispensable in our kitchen. Our biscuits, cake, waffles, muffins, and such like things with its aid are always enjoyable and good. We would not be without it in our family. We have used it for over fifteen years, and it has never disappointed us yet."

Sampson Fair.

We learn that there was quite a large gathering at the Sampson County Fair last week, there having been as many as two thousand people in attendance. And in a pecuniary way, we are gratified to hear that our Sampson friends made quite a success of it. Good for Sampson; "God bless you!"

Grand Jury Adjourned.

The Grand Jury of the Criminal Court, after having completed their labors for the term, adjourned sine die on last Saturday afternoon. During the week that the jury was in session forty-five true bills were returned and nineteen that were not true bills; of this latter class eight were on appeals from Magistrates' Courts. The remaining eleven were cases that were sent regularly up by the trial Justices.

City Court.

Two very bad cases of drunk and disorderly, one white and the other colored, were up before the Mayor for his adjudication this morning. Five dollars fine or ten days in the city prison was the sentence pronounced in each case.

The pale face walked up to the Cap'n's desk and shelled out while the "Culud" individual, not being one of Judge Russell's Greenbackers, had to submit to the alternative of going to prison.

Superior Court.

The second week of the December term of this court commenced this morning; but shortly after the court convened, upon the suggestion of the Hon. George Davis that the court adjourn, to allow the members to pass suitable resolutions relative to the death of the Hon. Hugh Waddell, His Honor, Judge McKoy, ordered an adjournment until to-morrow morning at half past nine o'clock.

Some Old Bones.

It is known to but few that the track of the Wilmington & Weldon R. R. a short distance above the old Union Depot, and about fifty yards beyond the first mile post, was once an old Indian burying ground. Several gentlemen who were walking on the track through this cut on Sunday last were speaking of it when one of those in the party asserted that Indian relics were found there some thirty years ago, when he was a boy. This led to an examination of the ground when several pieces of bone, skull &c., were found there. Relic hunters are invited to call and examine.

Meeting of the Bar.

Superior Court, His Honor Judge McKoy presiding, convened at the usual hour this morning when upon the suggestion of Hon. George Davis, His Honor Judge McKoy adjourned the Court, to afford the bar an opportunity to take suitable proceedings touching the death of the Hon. Hugh Waddell.

On motion of Mr. Davis, Hon. R. S. French was called to the chair, and DuBrutz Cutlar, Esq., was appointed Secretary.

On motion the Chairman appointed a committee of five members of the bar, viz: M. London, Esq., Hon. Ed. Cantwell, Maj. D. J. Devane, Maj. O. M. Stedman and Hon. D. K. McRae, to draft suitable resolutions touching the death of Mr. Waddell, and to report to an adjourned meeting of the bar, to be held on Friday morning next, at 10 o'clock.

On motion adjourned to Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Wearing Flannel.

Hall's Journal of Health urges every body to wear flannel and to put it on at once. Winter or summer, it says, nothing better can be worn next the skin than a loose, red woolen flannel shirt; "loose," for it has room to move on the skin, thus causing a titillation which draws the blood to the surface and keeps it there; and when that is the case, no one can take cold; "red," for white flannel fills up, mats up and becomes tight, stiff, heavy and impervious "woolen," the product of sheep, not of cotton wool, because that merely absorbs the moisture from the surface, while woolen flannel conveys it from the skin and deposits it in drops on the outside of the shirt, from which the ordinary cotton shirt absorbs it, and, by its nearer exposure to the exterior air, it is soon dried without injury to the body. Having these properties, red woolen flannel is worn by sailors even in the midsummer of the hottest countries. Wear a thinner material in the summer.

The D'Este Benefit.

The performance at the Matinee on Saturday and at the regular performance on Saturdays night last of the Helen D'Este troupe were very fine and the attendance was good. We understand that they cleared about $200, enough to pay their way out of town. They left here on Saturday night, on the steamer D. Marchison for Fayetteville, where they play to-night and to-morrow night.

Personal.

We were pleased to receive a visit to-day from that brave old Confederate soldier and genial, whole-souled gentleman, Captain Swift Galloway, our worthy Solicitor of this Judicial District. We were glad too to see our friend look so well; hard work seems to agree with him, and he still speaks from the bottom of his boots.

We were gratified also to receive a call at the same time from Capt. Lav. Kaiser, of Sampson county.

The several cases of the city against property owners on Front street for expenses incurred in laying the Belgian pavement was on the calendar for trial in the Superior Court to-day but was continued until next term.

The Violette.

The German Barque Violette, which was kept at Quarantine last March and not allowed to come to the city on account of one or two of the crew having died with yellow fever on the passage, has again put in an appearance at this port, but this time with a clean bill of health.
